

THURSDAY EVENING, MAY 3.

THE NEW YORK Herald, next to the republican newspaper of the North, has been and is one of the most earnest supporters of the President's re-nomination and re-election.

Mr. Fuller is the most striking and original discovery of the administration. We do not refer to this as a criticism, but as a conspicuous illustration of what Mr. Cleveland evidently regards as a wise policy.

The President now takes little or no heed of the advice or desires of his party. His acts prove that he thinks he is not only stronger than his party, as the Herald says, but that he is better than his party.

THE DEMOCRATS OF WISCONSIN, in convention assembled, have declared for:

"The reduction of war tariff taxes, now retained only upon the every day necessities of the farmer, the artisan and the laborer; those on incomes, bank capital and bank checks of the rich having long since been removed. They also denounce a system of tariff taxes that, while it creates a danger of annual surplus in the national Treasury of $155,000,000, at the same time indirectly taxes the farmer for the sole benefit of protected manufacturers $9 for every $1 goes into the Treasury. They also declare that the burden of taxation should rest upon those who use luxuries, rather than upon those who use only necessities of life; that taxation should be limited to the requirements of the Government; and that a greater tax is robbery under a form of law. They, therefore, demand that taxation be limited to the needs of Government economically administered, and be levied upon the luxuries rather than upon the necessities of life."

This is a platform which all men who are democrats from principle must endorse, and upon which all right thinking, intelligent men, having the welfare and prosperity of the people of the country at heart, can stand. And yet the Roanoke platform declared for the repeal of the tax on whisky and the retention of the tax on the necessities of life.

MR. GREENHOW, treasurer of the city of Richmond, says that his refusal to levy for taxes after a tender of coupons for the same was in accordance with the advice of the Attorney General of the State; that the question was whether he should obey the law, as laid down by the U. S. Supreme Court, or violate it, and that he preferred to do the former. That is a plain and simple statement of the case, and how any right thinking Virginian can blame Mr. Greenhow, or any other treasurer in the State who has done in the matter as he has, is hard to tell.

PROF. LANGSTON, the colored republican candidate for Congress in the Petersburg district, who recently kicked severely against General Mahone, accusing him of selecting delegates to a party convention at his own house previous to the meeting of the convention, and threatening him with the election of the democratic municipal ticket in Petersburg, and with the loss of the negro vote of the State in the Presidential contest, has suddenly become entirely subdued, and is now working as quietly in the General's traces as any of the others in the team. For ways that are dark and tricks that are vain the General is eminently peculiar. His "methods" are effective, and his "malign influence" immense.

THE PRAYER of all wise Virginia democrats is that the national republican party shall not nominate Mr. Blaine for President and a Southern republican for Vice-President, for, as matters now stand, if it shall, Mahone or anti-Mahone, tariff or anti-tariff, Blair bill or anti Blair bill, and with or without Mr. Barbour at the head of their party, they will have to sweat both blood and money in order to retain their State within the democratic column. With Sherman and another South-hater, the task that now seems to be set for them will be much easier.

GENERAL MAHONE is the recognized head and front of the republican party in Virginia. The New York Tribune is the recognized exponent of the national republican party. General Mahone says that Virginia must send a solid Sherman delegation to the Chicago convention. The Tribune says "Virginia republicans will do well to take very little advice from General Mahone hereafter as to their conduct in national politics." You pay your money and take your choice.

It is reported that the President wants Governor Gray, of Indiana, to run with him on the next national democratic ticket. If this be so, all the numerous other prominent democrats in the country who are quiet aspirants for the honor of a Vice Presidential nomination may as well withdraw, for to the modern leaders of the democracy the President's pleasure is the highest law.

From Washington. (Special Correspondence of the ALEX. GAZETTE.) WASHINGTON, D. C., May 3, 1888.

In the Senate yesterday Mr. Daniel called up and passed the bill appropriating an additional sum for the improvement of the bill for a light house at Newport News Middleground was also concurred in so that bill will be a law. The amendment struck out the appropriation, as under the rules, that must be provided by the appropriations committee. The bill for the relief of the legal representatives of H. H. Sibley, of Fredericksburg, was also passed. Mr. Mitchell, of Oregon, asked for the consideration of the bill for the relief of Laura E. Maddox, of Alexandria, widow of the late Joseph H. Maddox. Mr. Mitchell said the bill had been reported favorably unanimously by two claims committees of the Senate. Mr. Cockrell objected, and said the bill had been twice reported adversely, and that an attempt to pass it then when no quorum was present, should not succeed. Mr. Mitchell then hoped Mr. Cockrell would look into the merits of the bill. He then withdrew his motion, but gave notice that he would renew it this week. In the House Mr. Browne, of Virginia, presented a petition for the relief of Wm. H. Vaughn, of Caroline county, Va.

Senator Voorhees has not appeared at his desk in the Senate since his late speech in that body, in which he afforded another patent instance of the enduring efforts of early associations. It is reported that he left the city on the night of the unfortunate speech.

Representative Wise of Virginia, is booked for a speech in favor of the Mills low tariff bill on Wednesday next. The speech is already prepared, reads well, and will be delivered in Mr. Wise's usual earnest and forcible style. It is not probable he will be interrupted in its delivery by Mr. Boutelle.

Representative Benton McMinn, of Tennessee, has accepted an invitation to address the Virginia democratic association of this city at their regular weekly meeting tomorrow night.

Representatives Bowen and Brown of Virginia, in a talk with the GAZETTE'S correspondent this morning, said nearly all the counties in their districts had elected Mahone delegates to the republican convention of their State, and that they thought the General's supporters would have a large majority in that convention. They did not have a definite idea as to who would be the delegates at large from their State to the national republican convention, except that Gen. Mahone would head it. The one from their section of the State, they thought, might be Col. Watts. They seemed to be confident that their party would carry the State next November, by which time they believe all the troubles in it will be healed.

When informed that Prof. Langston, after denouncing the party's management the week before, had made a speech endorsing it to Petersburg, they said the General's influence was really wonderful.

Several bills for the benefit of Virginia and Virginians have passed the Senate at this session, owing to the efforts of Senator Daniel, who though a new member is treated with great consideration by his republican colleagues, especially those on the committee of which he is a member. As soon as the blockade of legislation in the House, caused by the tariff bill, shall be removed, the Virginia members of that body will try to have the bills referred to passed by it also.

The House to-day at an early hour resumed the consideration of the tariff bill, Mr. Wilson, of West Virginia, leading off in an able and eloquent speech in favor of that bill. The Senate after the morning business resumed the consideration of the bill to forfeit certain railroad land grants, after which Mr. Chase will endeavor to have taken up the copy right bill.

The friends of the River and Harbor bill have agreed to make an effort to call up that bill on Monday next. And if they do what they may succeed, as the republicans will assist them, the policy of the latter being to assist every measure that will either take money out of the treasury or delay action on the tariff bill.

PROPERTY SALES.—On Saturday John A. Rinker, auctioneer, sold for Mr. J. B. Beverly, agent for the heirs of the late Robert W. and Mary E. Gray, the brick dwelling house and lot on Cornwell street, in this town, for $2,250.—Mrs. H. W. Claggett, purchaser.

Also the four acre lot in the northern suburbs of the town, and fronting on the Point of Rocks road, for $700.—Wm. H. Thomas, purchaser.

W. S. Summers, auctioneer, sold on Monday for C. P. Janney and J. W. Foster, commissioners in the cause of Shryock vs. Shryock, a tract of 189 acres of land near Old Farmwell for $7 per acre.—J. W. Hamerly purchaser.—Loudoun Mirror.

MAHONE AND THE NEW YORK TRIBUNE.—The New York Tribune and General Mahone, of Virginia, are at odds. In a recent interview Gen. Mahone said some uncompromising things about Whitelaw Reid, editor of the Tribune, and quoted from editorials which appeared in that paper to prove that Mr. Blaine's record made him an unsuitable presidential candidate. The Tribune says it confessed its error long ago in regard to Mr. Blaine, but declares that what was its common belief has now become a settled conviction, that General Mahone "is a selfish and malicious trickster, unfit for the leadership of any cause which has not for its sole motive and object the elevation of Wm. Mahone."

Women as Lay Delegates. The report of the committee on the eligibility of women as delegates of the Methodist Conference in session in New York says "that after serious discussion they have become convinced that with the rule passed relating to the admission of the lay delegates to the General Conference the Church contemplated the admission of men only as lay delegates. Under the constitution and laws women are not eligible, and the committee agreed that the protest against the ladies should be sustained and that the conferences from which they were sent be notified that the seats were vacant."

AFTER CAPT. KIDD'S DEPOSIT.—By his and starts men with leisure time in their hands and of imaginative temperaments have dug here and there along the Hudson's shores for treasures which tradition says Pirate Kidd buried deeply and securely in the days of long ago. For several years the favorite digging ground has been near secluded coves, in the town of Esopus, that can be seen from the passenger coaches of the West Shore Railroad. It is a very unsatisfactory summer for the oldest inhabitants who live near the home of John Burroughs, when they are not able to relate how at night they saw a rickety looking schooner heave to, and then later on men come to the shore in row boats, and then how still later on the sound of pick and shovel could be heard, likewise strange oaths, and also the glitter of lanterns could be seen in the hillsides. This spring the crazes has broken out in High Falls, where Benny Havens, O' long sold to West Point cadets beverages that inebriated and cigars that were rank in the extreme. The new discoverer of Capt. Kidd's treasures is one Jacob Blanch, of "The Falls," and he means to begin active operations at once. Mr. Blanch has known of the actual location of the gold and silver and precious stones for years, but, presumably, has been too busy to attend to digging up the treasures. In an unguarded moment, recently, Mr. Blanch confided to a man, supposed to be a New Yorker, where the plant was located, and he, not Mr. Blanch, on Thursday of last week, visited the spot and dug up and took away exactly $15,000 and 50 cents in gold. It is stated that Mr. Blanch has formed a party to dig up the remainder of the estate of the late Mr. Kidd. The arrival long shores of the party or its agents or the "New Yorker" with the $15,000 and 50 cents is anxiously looked for by men who are out of a job just at present in Newburg and vicinity.—Kings-ton Freeman.

A GREAT TUNNEL.—The great tunnel through the Cascade Mountains on the Northern Pacific road will let daylight through the rock to-day. The crowds of workmen who have been working from both sides are now within hearing distance. The tunnel, which is 9,900 feet long, is through solid rock nearly all the way, and has been finished as the work proceeded. When the final piercing has been finished there will be nothing left to do but to lay a track. Trains will be running through it within two weeks. The tunnel was begun early in 1886, and the contract was for about $2,000,000. When the work was begun there were no roads leading into the mountains, and all the heavy machinery had to be hauled in on wheels and then transferred to runners. In some places the pressure of the mountain is so great that clay is forced up from the bottom, and an inverted arch of stone had to be constructed to keep the clay down. The work has been carried on by electric light, power which is supplied by a small mountain stream which flows down the mountain and falls directly over the mouth of the tunnel.

TWO GIRLS FIGHT A DUEL.—A duel took place a few days ago between two lovely Mexican maidens at a small Mexican settlement in Luna Valley, New Mexico. They had become enamored of the same youth, James Whitman, a cowboy, and a Gentle. Their names are Sarah Bolton and Mary Leemore, aged sixteen and eighteen years. They were always friends up to the time of their love affair. They met a short time before the duel in the adobe tabernacle in the hamlet, and had a fight right then and there. This increased their hatred and, from that time up to the day of the duel, each went armed with a revolver. They finally met by mutual agreement on the outskirts of the small village and proceeded to fight a duel. There were no attendants. They measured off about twelve paces, drew their revolvers, turned their backs toward each other, then wheeled, and fired shot after shot. The firing attracted the attention of some farmers working near by who rushed to the scene of the duel. When they arrived Miss Bolton was lying on the ground screaming, with blood flowing from an ugly wound in the shoulder. A few feet from her lay her revolver in the dust. Miss Leemore stood like a statue about a rod away, looking silently at her prostrate rival, with her revolver still smoking in her hand. When the man approached to disarm her she fled, and shrieked: "Yes, I have killed her, and I am glad of it." Miss Bolton was carried to the nearest house, where her wound was dressed. She was found to be seriously though not fatally wounded. No arrests have yet been made.

Methodism. The address of the Bishops in the Methodist Conference at New York yesterday shows, as stated in yesterday's GAZETTE, that during the past four years nearly half a million new members were added to the rolls of the church, and to-day the total membership is over two millions. The educational equipment includes 12 theological seminaries, 54 colleges, 120 seminaries and academies, with buildings and endowments and other property amounting to the value of twenty million dollars. The missionary work demands an outlay of $1,200,000 a year.

COMMUNICATED. Will the enterprising reporter of the GAZETTE please give us the address in full delivered by the newly elected President of the Corn Exchange before the committee of notification. "CICERO."

[A reporter of the GAZETTE has the full text of the address, but learning that Mr. Robinson would deliver it as a campaign speech at a mass meeting to be held shortly, refrains from giving it publicly at present.]

MONEY AND COMMERCIAL.

NEW YORK, May 3.—The stock market was stronger at the opening this morning than at the close last night, and prices were from 1/2 to 1/4 per cent. higher. The market displayed the same unsteady and feverish tone which distinguished the dealings yesterday, however, though this gave way to decided weakness in a very short time, and fractional declines followed. Richmond and West Point being one price. There was some reaction from the lowest prices late in the hour but at 11 o'clock the market was active and unsettled at fractional declines from opening figures. The bulk of the business done was confined to a dozen of the leading stocks, the remainder being dull and uninteresting. Money easy at 2 1/2.
