

THE GAZETTE.

MONDAY EVENING, JULY 29.

THE BIGGEST BASS YET.—The other day Mr. Ben Benner, who lives a short distance below Shepherdstown, thought he would try his luck fishing in the Potomac. He used up the few bait he had without getting any fish. Then he noticed a big toad hopping about, and he determined to make use of the fat fellow. He caught it and ran his hook through it and started to slowly paddle across the river, leaving the line trailing after the boat. Whizz, whizz, whizz, whizz, went his reel all of a sudden. He grabbed his rod and tried to pull his fish in, but the bass that he had hooked was fit to be taken without a struggle. He pulled like a locomotive, and he just kept Mr. Benner in a lively state of excitement for a half hour or more. After the fish had exhausted all his efforts to get away he gave up, and allowed himself to be pulled up alongside the boat, where he lay like a baby on top of the water. He weighed seven pounds, and it is the big bass that has been caught in these waters of late years.—Shepherdstown Register.

ALL IN THE MOON.—Grandfather Smith, of Painsstaway, Pa., who was gathered to his fathers several years ago, used to say, after the great flood of 1861, that it was all in the moon. "Whenever," he said, "the moon changes at 11 o'clock and 59 minutes in the day time on June 1 you may look out for heavy rains and a big flood. I have seen two or three great floods during my life time and they were all caused by the change of the moon at this particular time.—11:59 June 1. When the change of the moon comes again at that time look out." Several of the citizens of that place remembered this, and, looking up the almanac, found that the change of the moon took place June 1, 1889, precisely at 11:59, and in consequence they marvel much.—Chicago Times.
