

THE GAZETTE.

SATURDAY EVENING, NOVEMBER 2.

THINKS HE WILL EXPLODE.—The case of Henry Keppe, who was arraigned in the Insane Court in Chicago on Thursday, is a peculiar one. Keppe is probably insane, and one of his delusions is that he is full of bombshells and powder, and may at any time explode. The judge heard the witnesses, and then turning to the patient, said: "Henry, are you insane?" "I am not, sir," promptly responded the man.

"What is the matter with you, then?" "It is a sad story, your honor, but I will tell you. My enemies have filled me with explosive, bombshells, you know, and I may blow up at any time. But the worst of it is the people won't be careful, they will burn matches around where I am, when they know I might explode."

"Well, Henry, I know a good place where everybody is careful, and I think it is just the place for you. Would you like to go there?"

The patient consented to go to any place where he was sure that there were no matches, and that people would not run against him. The jury found him insane, and sent him to Kankakee.

MEDICINAL.

SKIN CANCER.

Several years ago I was called to see a colored woman who had a malignant form of cancer on her foot. The cancer grew under the prescribed treatment, and the toe and one side of the foot were cut length entirely away. The patient could not have survived much longer, but I cured her with Swift's Specific, and it cured her sound well. Three years ago, and there has been no return of the disease. I regard Swift's Specific as most excellent medicine for cancer diseases, as its tendency is to drive out the poison.

Mathewville, Miss. Wm. E. Szabo, M.D.

CANCER OF THE TONGUE.

For four or five years ago, an eating cancer on my tongue made a considerable hole in it. I became lame in its progress, and went to Atlanta for treatment. The result was that I commenced the use of Swift's Specific, and the sore was soon gone, without a trace of it left. Thomas, Ga. Geo. W. Lewis.
