

ALEXANDRIA. SATURDAY EVENING, NOVEMBER 30.

THE MUSICIANS of New York are organized. There are many of them, and their votes count. They supposed that the "Little German bands" that play on the streets were competitors of theirs and got some of their work. They therefore demanded of the Board of Aldermen of New York that the bands referred to be prohibited from playing on the streets. Their request was, of course, granted. But as it would have been too glaring an inequality to have done otherwise, the organ grinders were also included in the prohibition. And so thousands of poor people were prevented from making a scanty, though by no means necessarily a dishonest living, by the selfishness of one set of men acting upon the selfishness of another set in dread of the former's vote. The outrage was so patent that it raised a great clamor, and now, under the greater dread of that clamor, the Aldermen have revoked their order so far, at least, as it related to the larger number of the sufferers, who have the most votes, the organ grinders.

THIS IS the only government in the world that imposes a duty on raw wool; and yet it has an immense surplus revenue. There is no duty on raw cotton. New cotton manufacturers are springing up all over the country, at least all over one part of it, and the owners thereof are making money. Woolen manufacturers, on the contrary, are not only diminishing in number, but they are suspending operations, and their owners are breaking. Nor do the number of sheep, nor the profits of sheep raising, increase under the alleged protection afforded by the tariff. Indeed, so injurious has the high tariff on wool proved to both wool growers and wool manufacturers that large numbers of both have united in a petition to Congress for the removal of that tariff, so that they may at least be put upon an equal footing with the cotton growers and cotton manufacturers.

AS MR. REED was from the first in the lead for the speakership of the U. S. House of Representatives that will commence its session next Monday, and as a large majority of the republican members of that body were looking out for themselves rather than for the country, and therefore desired to be on the strong side, his election is only what was expected. His avowed rivals were Messrs. McKinley, Cannon, Burrows and Henderson. As all are sectional and not national politicians, are governed by their sectional ignorance and prejudice, and as their previous action shows they would not hesitate at the perpetration of hardly any legislative outrage upon the South, it made very little difference to the people of this section which one of them was selected. All were bad enough, and in respect of them, at least, there was no choice of evils.

THE BALTIMORE American, republican, not only favors proposed measures that would promote sectional animosity, but even goes so far as to desire to stir up ill feeling between the adjoining States of Maryland and Virginia. It says: "A sufficient force should be dispatched immediately to Hog Island flats to afford security to Maryland citizens in the exercise of their rights, and prevent further outrages." Maryland is classed among the southern States; its republicans are therefore southern republicans; and nothing seems to afford most southern republican greater delight than strife and commotions with their southern neighbors. They know they have injured the latter, and therefore, in accordance with human nature, hate them.

THE Lynchburg News says: "We have always felt that an egregious mistake was made when the late General Assembly peremptorily declined to hold the matter of a new settlement in abeyance until Mr. Royal could communicate further with his clients; and it seems to us that a settlement should be effected, if it can be, which will satisfy the creditors and cause a cessation of hostilities."

That's the way to talk. The Petersburg Index Appeal and several other newspapers in the State are talking the same way. The democrats now have undisputed control of the State, and can settle the debt, if they choose, with no fear of the negro vote. They will never have a more favorable opportunity.

FROM WASHINGTON. (Special Correspondence of the ALEX. GAZETTE.) WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 30, 1889.

A delegation of Virginia republicans, composed of ex-Congressman J. R. Brown, Judge Blackwell, and Messrs. Graveley, Patterson, Griggs, Pleasants and others were at the Postoffice Department to-day to urge the appointment of Mr. Johnson as postmaster at Danville.

Nothing was done at the democratic caucus of the House last night because a quorum of that body was not present. An adjournment therefore took place until ten o'clock on Monday next. At that caucus all the present officers of the House will receive the compliment of a renomination. Should there be any spare time, Mr. Oates, of Alabama, will introduce two resolutions, one for the appointment of a committee of fifteen, to be divided into five sub-committees of three each, to which all matters of a political nature introduced in the House shall be referred, and the reports of which shall govern the action of the democratic members of the House; the other, to the effect that the democratic members of the elections committee shall report to the caucus the seats of such contested cases as fairly and legally belong to democrats, and that the democratic members of the NEWS OF THE DAY.

Pugilist Kilrain left Baltimore to-day for Purvis, Miss., to stand trial for fighting Sullivan. The proposition to create a national park near Washington will be pushed before Congress. The President has completed his message which will on Monday be sent to Congress in manuscript. Matthew Banks, colored, 16 years of age, was hanged at Elizabeth City, N. C., yesterday, for a criminal assault on a white girl.

A company has been formed in New York to manufacture and deliver soap in bottles regularly or to order, from house to house, as is done with milk. Four little girl children of Hugh Dunn were killed on Wednesday by the explosion of a keg of powder in an abandoned coal mine at Elliottville, W. Va.

Ex-President Cleveland has refused a handsome offer for his Oak View property, near Washington, and says he expects to return there some day to live. At the investigation of the wreck of the Germania at Long Branch one of the rescued seamen yesterday swore that in his opinion the vessel was purposely lost.

President Harrison has appointed Beckford Mackey, of South Carolina, U. S. Consul at San Jose, Costa Rica. He was transferred from Paso del Norte, Mexico. It is said that the investigations of Dr. Domingos Freire of Rio Janeiro have demonstrated that the human system can be protected against yellow fever by inoculation.

More alibis were disproved in the Cronin case yesterday. A detective swore he found Dr. Cronin's knives on Coughlin when he arrested him. State's Attorney Longenecker began his address to the jury.

Mr. Johnson Davis is said to have been in a critical condition last night. The stomach could retain nothing but beef tea, and it appeared impossible to get him to take enough to maintain strength.

A fire at Bournemouth Beach, Florida, Thursday night destroyed the Burnside House, the Palmetto Hotel and one beach pavilion. They were summer resort houses on the Atlantic coast, about twenty miles from Jacksonville.

There is considerable jealousy in Germany over the work of Stanley, the explorer, in Africa, it being claimed that he is working in the interest of Great Britain. There is talk of enlisting the services of Emin Pasha in the interest of Germany.

The Korean government has decided to dispense with the services of Col. Cummins and Major Lee, American officers who went to that country several years ago to organize the military forces of the nation. Col. Dyar, at one time chief of police in Washington, D. C., will remain in the service of Korea.

The Redding and Weaverville stage was robbed a few miles from Redding, Cal., on Thursday night. The highwayman armed with a shotgun and pistol, compelled the driver to throw out Wells, Fargo & Co.'s treasure box and the mail pouches. There was but little money in the express box, but the robber secured considerable registered mail.

Hank Pritchard, of Gallipolis, Ohio, a white "stoker" on the steamer Telegraph, crazed with liquor, seized a meat-axe and ran amuck among the deck hands last evening while the boat was opposite Columbia, Ohio, on its way up the Ohio river. Richard M. Curry, a colored roustabout, was almost decapitated by the infuriated man, and James Butler received a cut on the top of his head which it is thought will prove fatal.

Eighteen men and boys connected with the Oleson lynching at Whitehall, Wis., have been arrested on a charge of riot. They are out on bonds. Six have left the State and the other six, it is thought, will be arrested. Many of the best families in the town of Preston are implicated. Four boys in jail here have made a confession detailing all the incidents of the hanging and making public the names of all connected with the affair.

SETTLEMENT EFFECTED.—A dispatch from San Francisco, Cal., announces that a settlement has been reached between Arthur C. Williams, who has been in considerable trouble since his arrival in California, and his alleged father, Arthur C. Gorham, the Boston banker, whereby Williams receives $1,000,000 in bonds, eight acres of land in Kansas City and a half interest in certain iron works at Birmingham, Ala. Williams, who is now in San Francisco, stated that this was on condition that he renounces all claims to being Gorham's son. Young Williams, or Gorham, often laughingly refers to his escapades at Los Angeles, where, as the gallant of Mrs. Patellford, the actress of the Conried Opera Company, he cut such a figure before he got into trouble. He says, however, that he does not think enough of Los Angeles to go there again.

KILLED AT SEA.—Captain Justice A. Bailey, of the American ship Southern Cross, was arrested yesterday in New York, on the arrival of the vessel from Hong Kong, charged with the murder of Ah Low, the vessel's Chinese steward, on the voyage between New York and Sidney. Captain Bailey's story is that the steward ran short of opium, which rendered him delirious, when he barricaded himself in the fore-castle and opened an indiscriminate fire on the crew, seriously wounding two of the men. Captain Bailey and the mate then fired two shots each through the door of the fore-castle for the purpose of intimidating the Chinese man, but when the door was broken down he was found shot through the heart.

Farmers frequently kill their own calves and sell them to a country butcher, who does not know the value of sweetbreads, for which a city customer must pay from forty to seventy five cents a pair. They are easily cooked, and most delightful when prepared properly. Soak them in a bowl of cold water for an hour; pull off the skin and fat; parboil for twenty minutes in water with a little salt; throw in cold water for five minutes and then press between two plates with a weight on top until perfectly cold. Dip in beaten egg and bread crumbs, and fry in hot dripping. They are especially nice with green peas served in a circle around them.

AN EX-JUDGE'S DESPERATION.—Ex-Judge Robert B. Tripp committed suicide in his law office at Atlanta, Ga., yesterday by shooting himself through the head with a revolver. He had been out of money and practice for some time, and it is supposed that this was the cause of his suicide. A year ago Judge Tripp eloped with Miss Winter, a 16-year-old pupil in the girls' High School, taking her direct from the school building. The young wife is now left with one child of her own and three step children by a former wife of Judge Tripp.

A large number of dudes collected at an exposed corner last Sabbath, where the wind was high, and caught cold. Each little darling was speedily cured by Dr. Ball's Cough Syrup.

VIRGINIA NEWS.

Three hundred and thirty-one cattle were on sale in Warrenton Friday morning. Mrs. Lucy Steptoe Marshall, wife of Capt. James Marshall of Warren county, died last week of apoplexy. Three sportsmen killed in one day in Rappahannock county one hundred partridges and twenty five rabbits.

Mr. Newton Laws, an old and highly respected citizen of Fauquier, died at his home, near Catle's on the 18th inst. An English company has purchased, for something over $60,000, the Laird farm of 450 acres, near Buena Vista, Rockbridge county.

Commissioners sold last Monday in the case of Oinger vs. Tackett 30 acres of land in lower Fauquier to Robert Drysdale for $7 per acre. Mr. C. A. Taylor's appointment as general traffic manager of the Richmond, Fredericksburg and Potomac Railroad takes effect on Monday.

R. E. Lee Camp, Confederate Veteran, of Richmond, met last night and adopted resolutions of sympathy to be forwarded to Hon. Jefferson Davis. Mr. Ois H. Russell returning to Richmond from Washington yesterday afternoon with his commission as postmaster, and at once procured as such giving bond in the sum of $200,000.

The board of State canvassers met in Richmond yesterday but adjourned over till to-day without action, the Scott county case, where the republican clerk refused to sign the returns, going over with the other matters. The Virginia American says: "With the Baltimore foot-ball team beating our eleven by the monstrous score of seventy-two to nothing, and a Virginia naval boat sinking a Maryland oyster vessel, it is about time for this State to rise and do something."

Christopher Thomas Sutherland, one of the most prominent citizens of Halifax county, died Thursday night at his home in Brooklyn, in that county. Mr. Sutherland was known all over the State as one of the most prominent of lay workers in the Baptist Church of which he had been a member since 1836. He was in the seventy-first year of his age and leaves a wife and three children.

Amanus Brown was before the policeman of Richmond yesterday for throwing red pepper in the eyes of Annie Pollard. The testimony brought out showed that the accused was jealous of the Pollard woman. She called at the house of her rival last night, and when she came to the door, threw a handful of red pepper in her eyes, inflicting injuries which may cause the complete loss of Annie Pollard's sight.

MONEY AND COMMERCIAL. NEW YORK, Nov. 30.—There was an extremely lively business at the opening of the stock market this morning. There was considerably less animation in the latter portion of the hour, but an active trading was maintained throughout. First prices were generally but slightly changed from those of last evening. Most of the list were quite strong in the early dealings, and though a few stocks shaded off slightly, it was generally followed by a full recovery, with something in addition. At 11 o'clock the market was comparatively quiet and barely steady, generally at small fractions better than the opening prices. Money 4.6.

POSTSCRIPT.

ASSOCIATED PRESS DISPATCHES. The Republican Caucus. WASHINGTON, Nov. 30.—The floor of the House presented a busy scene this morning as early as ten o'clock, although noon was the hour fixed for the meeting of the caucus which was to decide who should preside over the deliberations of the House during the 51st Congress. The first of the candidates to put in an appearance was Mr. Cannon, of Illinois, who took possession of the larger of the two rooms occupied by the Committee on Appropriations. Mr. Reed was the next candidate to reach the Capitol, and in his old seat received his supporters. Mr. McKinley directed his canvass from the room of the Committee on Rivers and Harbors. The Michigan delegation secured the room of the Committee on Naval Affairs for its candidate, Mr. Burrows. Mr. Henderson, of Iowa, was the neighbor of Mr. Cannon, occupying the smaller room of the Appropriation Committee. About ten minutes before twelve the doorkeepers began to clear the floor of the House of all persons not entitled to be present. Just before the caucus met the air was thick with rumors of combinations and agreements. Promptly at noon the caucus was called to order by Secretary McComas. Mr. Cannon, of Illinois, holds over as chairman of the caucus, but in view of his candidacy for the Speakership he retired and Mr. Henderson, of Illinois, was elected chairman. The roll call developed the presence of 165 members, 4 less than the entire republican strength in the House. Mr. Mudd, the contestant for Mr. Compton's seat from the 5th Maryland district, occupied a seat on the floor but took no part in the proceedings. The first business transacted was the adoption of a resolution that the balloting for the Speakership should be open. The first ballot resulted: Reed, 78; McKinley, 39; Cannon, 22; Burrows, 10; Henderson, 16. On the stamped to Reed enough changes were made to elect him, and on the second ballot: Reed received 86 votes, thus receiving the nomination. The second ballot was: Reed, 86; McKinley 36; Cannon, 19; Burrows, 15; Henderson, 9. So Mr. Reed was declared to have received the caucus nomination.

Voting down a motion to take a recess until evening, the caucus immediately proceeded to select a nominee for Clerk, and the various candidates were presented in short speeches. The result of the first ballot was the election of Mr. McPherson, of Pennsylvania, who received 116 to 50 for Carson, of Pennsylvania.

A. J. Holmes, ex-representative from Iowa, and A. H. Reed, of Minnesota, were the candidates for Sergeant-at-arms, and Mr. Holmes was selected.

Mr. Adams, of Maryland, was nominated for doorkeeper, and Rev. Mr. Wheat for chaplain.

Horrible Fate of an Aeronaut. CHICAGO, Nov. 30.—Clarence Ashford, Attorney general of Honolulu, was in the city last night and told the story of the fate of an aeronaut known as Vantassel, on the 16th of this month. "Vantassel made a balloon ascension and parachute leap," said Mr. Ashford. "When he was carried up in the air the conditions were such that all thought he would alight on land. When he was being carried to the clouds he shouted 'I'll not land more than a quarter of a mile from the starting point.' To a height of about 1,000 feet the balloon ascended steadily, then a fatal upper current blowing seaward took the air ship over the water. When the balloon was carried over the bay he natives were quivering with fear. The excited people crowded around the few who had telescopes and glasses and propounded all sorts of questions. Suddenly the parachute was let loose and the bag of gas shot up in the air. Like a well regulated umbrella the parachute opened and the man descended gracefully toward the water nearly a mile from shore. When about 100 feet from the surface of the bay a concerted wail shriek was given by the hundreds of natives. Their keen eyes had discovered some danger in the water where the man would alight. It was a school of sharks. Just before Vantassel struck the water, two mammoth man-eaters rolled on their backs and opened their jaws. One of the sharks grabbed Vantassel almost before he touched the water, and in a couple of gulps the man was swallowed. No sooner had he left his car than a crew from the steamer Zealandia started out to pick him up. They had to pull some distance and arrived at the spot only to see the poor man eaten alive. The heavy parachute went to the bottom at once and nothing was left of the unlucky aeronaut save a small piece of cloth from his coat sleeve and one of his thumbs. It was the most awful sight I ever witnessed."

Dom Pedro in Portugal. LONDON, Nov. 30.—The Portuguese steamer Algoas, with ex-Emperor Dom Pedro and his party on board, arrived at St. Vincent to-day. All the members of the party are well. Upon the arrival of the Algoas an attempt was made to interview Dom Pedro concerning the events that had led to his disposition and exile. He declined, however, to enter into any discussion relative to the revolution, but stated that he had been treated with the utmost kindness throughout. The Algoas will proceed for Lisbon to-morrow. The Algoas was conveyed four and a half days from Rio Janeiro by a Brazilian man of war. The war-ship was much slower than the Algoas and the latter's passage was consequently much longer than it would otherwise have been.

The Boston Fire. BOSTON, Nov. 30.—The police and firemen kept up their lonely vigil in the burned district all last night and there was a continual but fruitless search for the bodies of the four lost firemen. Some believe the men were cremated in the frightful heat and that no trace of them will ever be discovered.

STRIKES AND THEIR FRUITS.

CHICAGO, Nov. 30.—The 15th annual convention of the railway passenger and freight conductors mutual aid and benefit association began here yesterday. Frank Champin delivered his annual address. On the subject of strikes and lockouts Mr. Champin said their utility was emphasized in a recent report issued by the bureau of statistics on labor troubles in the United States for a space of six years. From 1881 to 1887 there occurred 22,286 strikes in which 1,323,203 men were engaged. The losses to the strikers amounted to $51,814,725 and to the employers $30,705,555. These strikes resulted in a loss of employment to 30,000 men. Labor troubles were not to be profitably settled by strikes and lockouts.

The Dressed Beef Investigation. WASHINGTON, Nov. 30.—Senator Vest's committee, which has been investigating the dressed beef business of the country for some months, having visited the centers of that business during the recess of Congress, resumed the examination of witnesses in the room of the Senate Committee on Commerce this morning. Among the witnesses was Mr. P. D. Armour, the Chicago beef and pork packer, whose presence the committee failed to secure at its sittings in that city.

Fire. ALBANY, N. Y., Nov. 30.—Fire broke out in the Delevan gas house this morning and the flames gaining headway communicated to the paper house of Jacob Leonard & Son, and Albany ca-ket company. Both were a total loss. Several other buildings were damaged and the loss will reach $75,000.

Telegraphic Brevities. The fishing and grocery firm of James Mansfield & Sons, the oldest establishment in Gloucester, Mass., has failed.

Simon Pokagon, the chief of the Pottawatomie tribe of Indians which inhabited northern Indiana when it was first settled by the whites, will shortly receive for distribution among his people the sum of $200,000 from the government in full settlement of all the claims of that once powerful tribe.

Two thousand cats which had been sent to Niblo's Theatre, New York, in answer to an advertisement, were turned loose yesterday morning to find their way home. Each had a tag on its neck announcing a performance to take place at that theatre.

An old fashion Methodist revival is in progress in the Cincinnati jail. Band all the prisoners in, holding meetings there, aided by the jailer.
