

ALEXANDRIA, VA. SATURDAY EVENING, JANUARY 11.

THE ACTION of those members of the Southern Society of New York who resigned their membership thereof because they feared the resolutions of respect for that memory of President Davis, passed by that society, might injure them in their business affairs in that city, was an insult to all right thinking New Yorkers, and upon such people must have an effect directly the reverse of that intended.

TWO OR three days ago a negro so-called "labor agent" induced a large number of North Carolina negroes, about two hundred, to sell all their possessions and start with him for the paradise in Arkansas he had painted for them.

A DISPATCH to the New York Sun, from Atlanta, says that three prominent republican business men of the North, on their way from New Orleans, finding all the berths on the Pullman sleeper taken except those over three occupied by negro members of the Louisiana legislature, were compelled to take them, and that the effect has been to add three to the democratic vote of the North, as the negroes made them selves highly objectionable by their conversation and by taking possession of the wash room and stripping to the skin therein.

UNLESS Attorney General Miller shall dismiss the U. S. Marshal of Florida who has just been detected in an attempt to pack a jury that was to try a democrat charged with election frauds, with partisan republicans, everybody will suppose that the attempt referred to was made at his suggestion or at least with his approval, and that the marshal was conducting his office in accordance with the policy of the President, as the fact is well remembered that Mr. Miller removed a territorial judge for the avowed reason that his decisions were not in accordance with Mr. Harrison's policy.

ONE OF Mr. Wansmaker's negro post-masters in North Carolina has just been arrested and jailed for running away with every portable thing in his neighborhood that he could lay his hands upon, including a wagon load of cotton. The thief, of course, was a representative of the industry, thrift and respectability of the community in which he resided, for President Harrison is on record as saying that none other should be appointed to office in the South under his administration.

WE NOTICE that as the last desperate expedient to defeat Mr. Calvin S. Brice's candidacy for the United States Senate, after an absolutely fair caucus nomination, that treachery is commended in a proposed bolt. How abundantly applicable are the following lines from an author who weighed the traitor in a just balance.

"Is there not some chosen curse, Some hidden thunder in the stores of heaven, Red with one common flame, to blast the wretch, That owes his greatness to his party's ruin?"

FROM WASHINGTON. (Special Correspondence of the Alex. Gazette.) WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 11, 1880. Let the dead bury the dead. That Congress think so was shown to-day, for of the four hundred and thirteen members of that body, less than a score of Senators and only three or four score of Representatives attended the funeral services of the late Representative Kelley, held in the hall of the House. The funeral was not at all imposing. The only member of the cabinet present was Mr. Wansmaker. Mrs. Harrison and another lady and the President's secretary, Mr. Halford, occupied the President's ial bench in the gallery. The coffin was brought in the House and set on stands in front of the Speaker's chair by a squad of the Capitol police, preceded by Rev. Mr. Culbert, of the Baptist Church, and the chaplain of the Senate, Rev. Mr. Butler, of the Lutheran, and followed by the family of the deceased. Vice President Morton took a seat beside that of Mr. Speaker Reed, and at a single rap of the latter's gavel the services began. Each of the preachers read a chapter from the Bible and each offered a prayer; the benediction was then read, and then the coffin was taken out, followed by the family, and then the Senators marched out, each movement being directed by a single rap of the Speaker's gavel. The House then adjourned. The galleries were pretty full, but the funeral was by no means an imposing one. Mr. Kelley never was a great man, and such interest as might otherwise have been taken in his obsequies was lost by his having lagged so long superfluous on the stage. Such is human nature.

The Senate committee on public buildings and grounds at their meeting yesterday agreed to report favorably bills for the improvement of the public building at Petersburg, and for the erection of public buildings at Norfolk, Roanoke, Lynchburg and Newport News.

It having been definitely ascertained that the salary of Trotter, the negro recorder of deeds of this city, amounts to not less than twenty thousand dollars a year, he has been directed by the President to send in his resignation at once. A delegation of New Yorkers appeared before the Senate quadri-centennial committee to-day and argued in favor of New York as the site of the world's fair. Mr. Dewey made a strong and effective statement of the case. It is said that many members of Congress will be induced to vote for New York for the reason that if that city is selected the government will not be called on for a cent of the necessary expenses. At the meeting of the Senate committee on public buildings and grounds yesterday Mr. Stanford called the attention of the committee to the bill for a memorial bridge across the Potomac from Observatory Hill to Arlington, and in that connection referred to the proposition for the construction of an avenue from the south end of that bridge to Mt. Vernon. As Capt. Hains' report of a survey of the latter had not been received, it was determined to wait until it shall be before anything else shall be done in the matter. Not only Mr. Stanford, but several other members of committee, are heartily in favor of both the bridge and the avenue, and the prospect for both is decidedly more favorable now than it ever was before. Mrs. Grant is here, and she too, it is said, would be highly gratified by the construction of the bridge.

The following changes in the 4th class postoffices of Virginia were made to-day: Allisonia, Pulaski county, W. M. Taylor, appointed postmaster, vice W. W. Breeding, removed; Buffalo Gap, Augusta county, T. W. Spiece, vice T. W. King, removed; Cartersville, Cumberland co., C. D. Flanagan, vice Mrs. M. E. Palmer, removed; Crystal Hill, Halifax county, H. J. Covington, vice W. Woodall, removed; Tolvin, Wise county, W. F. Gibson, vice E. A. M. Wilson, removed; McConnell, Scott county, W. G. McConnell, vice H. G. McConnell, removed; Stone Mountain, Carroll county, S. J. Stanley, vice E. Marshall, removed; Wayland, Scott county, J. E. Lane, vice M. J. McConnell, removed.

Among the guests at the banquet of the business men of this city last night the Virginians present were Representative Lee, of the Alexandria district, and Messrs. Agnew and Reed, of Alexandria. The latter was the only one of them who made a speech. In it he said that if the world's fair be held in Washington, Mount Vernon avenue would have to be constructed. Mr. Reed's speech was one of the best of the evening.

A committee of the House was appointed some time ago to investigate the Foraker-Halested forgery, but its composition showed that it was selected to shield rather than expose the ex Governor, and that fact has been demonstrated by the other one of the committee has not yet commenced the work assigned to it.

Letter from Richmond. (Correspondence of the ALEXANDRIA GAZETTE.) RICHMOND, Va., Jan. 10.—The House Committee for Courts of Justice have not yet had the bill before them to establish the whipping-post law. The committee will be about evenly divided. The republicans in the Legislature will doubtless vote solidly against this measure if an opportunity is given them to vote at all upon the subject. I asked Mr. Dowling, of Warren, the patron of the bill, if he had talked with the other members in regard to it. "O, yes," said he, "and a large number of them favor it. The only argument that can be used against it is that to pass it will hurt the democratic party. My position is that it is right and just, and what is right and just is expedient." The following is a sample of the letters upon this subject which Senator Moore, of Fairfax, is receiving from his constituents: "Reestablish the whipping-post and lessen the criminal expenses. In Lynchburg the other day the Mayor sent a negro to jail for ninety days for wife beating. In Maryland they whip a fellow for whipping his wife. Give them thirty-nine and keep it up from day to day, if necessary, as in old times." Delegate Tyler's idea in regard to the debt question briefly is this: "I believe the legislature is bound to do something in regard to the debt. I was elected under a democratic platform which pledged us to the Riddleberger bill as a finality and the bill which I will advocate before the finance committee limits funding to January 1st, 1891." Mr. Tyler has devoted some time preparing himself to discuss this matter and his constituents in Prince William will hear from him upon the debt question not only before the committee but on the floor of the House of Delegates.

If Alexandria city consumes as much Western beef in proportion to Richmond and the bill which passed the House to-day becomes a law there will be created for Alexandria city an office of inspector of beef, which will pay at least $500 a month. The patron of the bill, Mr. Dowling, thinks the inspector should be well paid, and so do other members of the General Assembly.

The committee to investigate matters relating to commercial expenses of the Commonwealth will meet some time next week to take up this subject. The message which Gov. McKinney will communicate to the legislature to-morrow will be comparatively short. It will have something to say about the State debt, and is expected to file with his message a communication from the foreign bondholders.

DEATH OF A MIDGET.—Little Dollie Dutton, as she was known, is dead. Mrs. Alice M. Swain was her married name, and she was a native of Sudbury, Mass. It was some twenty-one years ago that she retired from the public gaze, after having been exhibited in nearly all the States of the Union. Her weight was fifteen pounds, and her height twenty-nine inches. She leaves a mother and brother, who reside in Hudson, N. Y.

Some genius proposes to introduce paper shirts. This might do for Japan, but would prove a "big thing" for the doctors, because rheumatism, etc., would become frequent. If, however, people would keep Salvation Oil convenient, paper shirts might still be a success. It costs only 25 cents.

VIRGINIA NEWS.

The bill to prevent the sale of unwholesome meats in this State was passed by the House of Delegates yesterday.

Senator Daniel has completed his oration on the life and character of Hon. Jefferson Davis and will deliver it at the pleasure of the General Assembly.

Washington and Lee University has had 205 matriculates thus far during the present session, an increase of 25 per cent. over the number of last session.

A Northern company has purchased four acres of the Hardy property, opposite the Norfolk and Western depot in Norfolk city on which to build a glass factory.

The heirs of Miss Mary Flanagan, who was drowned in the ferry dock, have brought suit for $20,000 damages against the city of Portsmouth and Norfolk county.

Mr. K. C. Murray, editor of the Norfolk Landmark, and Gov. McKinney's private secretary, has been appointed superintendent of public schools for Norfolk city to succeed Capt. Taylor.

Rev. V. W. Wheeler, the Methodist parson at Danville, was prostrated by an attack of heart disease while attending a convocation of Murray Chapter Thursday night. He is lying in a critical condition.

The bill incorporating the Grand Camp of Confederate Veterans, department of Virginia, has passed the State Senate. This organization is composed of representatives from the camps of the State.

The Legislature has passed bills removing the political disabilities of T. Spicer Curlett, of Lancaster, Overton Howard and P. B. Shield, of Richmond, and E. W. Early, of Albemarle, was passed by the Senate.

A bill has been introduced in the House of Delegates to incorporate the Industrial Institution for the Reformation of Delinquent and Wayward Boys at Hampton. Among the incorporators is Judge Hughes.

Fire destroyed a blacksmith shop at the Belle Isle iron works last night. Four men were hurt by falling timbers, one of whom is believed to be fatally injured, receiving wounds on the head and back. The loss is covered by insurance.

George H. Conston, a printer from Chicago, was arrested in Norfolk yesterday, and committed to jail for setting fire to and destroying a kitchen, then breaking the plate glass in the window of several large stores and stealing dry goods, clothing, etc. He claims to have been drunk.

A preamble and resolutions were adopted by the legislature yesterday setting forth that the monument to Gen. R. E. Lee is nearing completion; that sufficient funds have not been raised to pay for the same, and calling upon the citizens of the State to take measures to raise the necessary amount, understood to be about $8,000, for the purpose.

AN ADVENTUROUS VIRGINIAN.—Henry B. Edenborough, who died on Ward's Island, N. Y., Thursday morning, had an adventurous life. A native of Virginia, he was graduated at the naval academy in 1853 and began life as a midshipman. Two years later he joined the army of liberation under Garibaldi and had command of a battery during the siege of Rome. Returning to this country at the outbreak of the war in 1861 he made his way across the border and became a lieutenant in the Confederate navy, doing service principally on the James river. Subsequently he commanded the party that captured the steamer Roanoke. After the close of hostilities he went to Europe and became a colonel of artillery in Egypt and Turkey. His next service was in Russia, where he had charge of torpedo operations during the war with Turkey. The war between Peru and Chili found him in command of a gun boat in the Chilean service and thence he took his way homeward and received his last appointment and made his last voyage as paymaster's clerk in the United States navy. For two years past he has been an invalid and his death was not unexpected.

A JUDGE'S PERIL.—Yesterday evening Judge Thomas M. Cooley, of Anson, Mich., chairman of the Interstate Commerce Commission, was sitting reading in his library when his negro coachman armed with a double barreled shotgun, entered. The judge was satisfied from his appearance that he had become insane, but betraying no alarm he asked him what was the matter. The negro replied that he had decided to kill the whole family, as they talked too much and left him no time to think. The judge betrayed no alarm, and told him he agreed with him, and that he would attend to it. By the use of consummate tact the judge succeeded in mollifying the madman until he at last laid down his gun and at the judge's suggestion left the room. As soon as he was out of hearing the judge telephoned to neighbors, and in a short time a deputy sheriff placed the coachman under arrest. Doubtless a tragedy was averted by the coolness which the jurist exhibited.

DUEL TO THE DEATH.—The killing of Doc Bell, a prominent citizen of Heflin, Ala., Wednesday night by Sam C. Creamer, the marshal of the town, was a very sensational affair. It was a duel to the death in the street. There had been bad blood between them for a long time on account of a family affair, the men being related by marriage. Wednesday night they met face to face in the street for the first time in several months.

"I guess we might as well settle our little affair and be done with it," said Bell.

Stepping back a few paces and drawing a pistol he fired and Creamer fell to the ground shot through the shoulder. Bell continued to shoot and Creamer, raising himself on one elbow, drew his pistol and shot Bell four times, every ball passing through his body, killing him almost instantly. Creamer is badly wounded but will recover.

ASSOCIATED PRESS DISPATCHES.

The State Debt. (Special dispatch to the Alexandria Gazette.) RICHMOND, Jan. 11.—Gov. McKinney sent a message to the legislature to-day relative to the State debt. Accompanying the message was a communication from the foreign bondholders expressing the hope that the Governor will take an early opportunity to bring to the notice of the legislature the earnest desire of the bondholders to put an end to the protracted contest between them and the State, and alleging that the points of divergence upon which the negotiations in 1887 failed are not so great as to preclude a hope that the question at issue may be adjusted, &c. The communication also suggested a conference between the State and the bondholders to be held in London.

The Governor in his message sees no good reason for this and thinks that the State cannot go beyond the Riddleberger settlement. B. P. O.

Foreign News. MADRID, Jan. 11.—The condition of the King is more favorable this morning. He slept at intervals, and during the night took a small quantity of soup. A special mass for the recovery of the King was celebrated this morning in the the private chapel of the palace.

PARIS, Jan. 11.—A telegram received in this city from Madrid, declares that the King of Spain is suffering from tubercular meningitis.

MOSCOW, Jan. 11.—While engaged in leading a raid on a nihilist club in this city, M. Solotouchine chief of the secret police was shot by a woman named O. G. Charenko. The woman then committed suicide.

QUEENSTOWN, Jan. 11.—Maggie and Means Joyce, who were passengers on the steamer Servia on her last trip from New York, were arrested here for having in their possession a revolver and a quantity of cartridges. They were remanded for examination.

LONDON, Jan. 11.—One of the Messrs. Vanderbilt of New York, has purchased from the Earl of Dudley the famous picture, "The grand canal of Venice." The price paid for the painting was $20,000.

ZANZIBAR, Jan. 11.—The British squadron which has been assembling in these waters for several days sailed south to-day.

Mr. Kelley's Funeral. WASHINGTON, Jan. 11.—Long before the hour of noon the galleries of the House were filled with spectators anxious to do honor to the memory of Hon. W. D. Kelley. A few moments before the House was called to order the members of the Senate, without formal announcement, entered the chamber and quickly took seats in the body of the hall. A sable covered bier stood in front of the Clerk's desk and a handsome floral tribune was placed near by. At 12:10 the officiating clergymen, Drs. Butler and Cuthbert, entered the hall reading the beginning of the burial service. They were followed by the committees of the Senate and House having charge of the ceremonies, and then, amid a solemn hush, the magnificent casket containing the remains of Wm. D. Kelley was placed on the bier. The family of the deceased were then escorted to seats provided for them close to the casket. The burial service was read by Dr. Butler and prayer was offered by Dr. Cuthbert. Dr. Butler then read the 15th chapter of the first Epistle to the Corinthians, and followed his reading by prayer. Benediction was delivered by Dr. Cuthbert, after which the committee escorted the remains from the chamber. The Senators, headed by the Vice President, having left the chamber, the House, as an additional mark of respect to the memory of the deceased, at 12:40 adjourned.

The Montana Legislative Deadlock. HELENA, Mont., Jan. 11.—Yesterday afternoon Messrs. Sanders and Powers, who were elected U. S. Senators by the republican House and Senate, made application to Governor Toole for certificates of election. The request was denied on the ground that their election was illegal and also because of the fact that Gov. Toole had already given certificates of election to Messrs. Clarke and Maginnis, elected by the democrats. The legislative deadlock continues, and the republicans have decided to break it so far as the Senate is concerned, by unseating Mr. McNamara, a democrat, who, it is claimed, is ineligible because of his being a federal official. This will give the republicans control of the Senate.

The Louisville Disaster. LOUISVILLE, Ky., Jan. 11.—No more bodies have been recovered at the bridge caisson since that of Hamilton Morris was taken from the outer lock of the entrance shaft yesterday morning. Two other bodies were visible packed in the mud and sand and wedged between the trap doors of the middle lock, where they had met death after escaping from the caisson room beneath, and in their struggles to get up the shaft had jammed the traps and prevented their own egress. Another caisson will be sunk alongside the old one, and an effort will be made to reach the interior of the caisson room in which the fourteen workmen are entombed, by working from the new caisson.

World's Fair Arguments. WASHINGTON, Jan. 11.—The announcement New York, through her representatives would present her claims for the location of the proposed world's fair before the Senate special committee on the quadricentennial to-day was sufficient to attract a crowd to the Capitol. Mr. Dewey was the first speaker in behalf of New York. After the New York representatives had been heard Mayor Creiger, of Chicago, presented an argument on behalf of that city.

Funeral of Empress Augusta

BERLIN, Jan. 11.—The funeral of the Empress Augusta took place to-day. The weather was brilliant. Court chaplain Koegel delivered the oration in the chapel of the Schloss, where the remains were lying. His discourse was based on the dead Empress—"Be joyful in hope, patient in adversity, and steadfast in prayer." He exhorted her fear of God, her devotion to duty, her charity and sincerity, and her love for her husband and the fatherland.

At the conclusion of the services in the chapel the funeral procession started for Charlottenburg. Under den Loden, through which the procession passed, was profusely draped with mourning emblems. An immense crowd assembled to witness the procession. The imperial family accompanied the remains to the mausoleum.

La Grippe in New England. HARTFORD, Conn., Jan. 11.—Frederick W. Pimpton, treasurer of the company making government stamped envelopes, died to-day of pneumonia following the influenza. A great deal of serious sickness prevails. Doctors are sending out of town for nurses.

BOSTON, Jan. 11.—A cold wave has reached this city and it is thought la grippe will be weakened by the frost. Yesterday's returns show little change in the mortality, the record being 62, as compared with 63 for Wednesday. Up to last night the deaths for this week numbered 396.

Explosion of a Boiler. CHICAGO, Jan. 11.—A tremendous explosion yesterday evening wrecked a large five story building on Monroe street, occupied by Robert Morris, did great damage to surrounding property and injured perhaps fifty people. The explosion was the result of the giving way of a huge steam boiler, and although there were two hundred or more people in the building at the time no one was killed outright, but it is feared that three and perhaps four of those injured may die.

Tariff Hearing. WASHINGTON, Jan. 11.—The Ways and Means Committee to-day heard arguments from manufacturers and others on the subject of sundries. Alex. J. Wedderburn, of Alexandria, Va., appeared as a representative of the legislative committee of the National Grange and the farmers of the Virginia State Grange, to demand equal protection of the farmer with the steel, iron and wool manufacturers.

Naval Engagement. ANNAPOLIS, Md., Jan. 11.—A battle of two hours' duration took place off Annapolis this morning after two o'clock between the police boat Daisy Archer and the dredging vessel Virginia S. Lawson. Both cannon and rifles were used. The Lawson was illegally dredging on Thomas Point when sighted by the Archer which chased her several miles before capturing her. The captain will be tried this morning.

Disorderly Faith Healers. TUCUCOLA, Ill., Jan. 11.—The citizens living in the vicinity of the church where the Pentecost Band of Faith Healers hold forth having become provoked by their boisterous manner of holding meetings, yesterday had warrants issued for the arrest of some 20 of the band, including the Rev. Vivian A. Duke, the originator and founder, and a number of young women who travel with them.

Artists' Photographs. WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 11.—Assistant Secretary Tichenor has rejected the application of A. D. Johnson, of Washington, on behalf of his niece, Miss Marie Decca, a professional singer, for a refund of duties paid on photographs imported for advertising purposes.

Valuable Horses Burned. VERSAILLES, Ky., Jan. 11.—The stables belonging to Macy Bros. were burned this morning, destroying 35 out of 38 horses. Among those burned was the horse Bell Boy that was sold here at auction to J. C. Clarke for $51,000. It is said that Mr. Clarke had refused $100,000 for the horse.

Assignment. MADISON, S. D., Jan. 11.—The Bank of South Dakota has assigned. The assets are claimed to be $150,000; liabilities unknown. The assignment of the bank forced the La Belle Horse Importing Company to assign yesterday. The ranche's assets are about $150,000, mostly in land and horses. Liabilities about $60,000.

Baseball. BALTIMORE, Md., Jan. 11.—Messrs. Barrie and Vonderhorst, of the Baltimore club, have offered Mr. Hewitt, of Washington, $7,000 for his League franchise, but he is holding out for $10,000. The proposition to consolidate the clubs of the two cities in one organization has not yet been altogether dropped.

Will Probably be Liberated. KANSAS CITY, Jan. 11.—It is altogether probable that two women alleged to be Mrs. John and Kate Bender, who are now confined in the Laclede county jail awaiting trial for the murder of Dr. York, will be liberated in a few days.
