

LOCAL NEWS.

TUESDAY EVENING, JANUARY 21.

For this section clearing, colder weather, with northerly winds.

PERSONAL.—Bishop Talbot, the Episcopal Missionary Bishop of Wyoming and Idaho, delivered an interesting address at Christ Church yesterday evening, and last night spoke at the Theological Seminary.

Mrs. Jones, of Norfolk, State President of the W. C. T. U. of Virginia, is in the city in the interest of that organization.

M. L. W. Corbett and Miss Rosa Powell are to be married at St. Mary's Church to-morrow.

Messrs. A. W. Armstrong, Edmund Burke and others went to Leesburg to-day to appear before Judge Keith in chambers in the prothonotary case of Fletcher vs. Fletcher.

Gov. Van Rensselaer, of the prominent New York family of that name, died yesterday in Washington in his 57th year. He had been in the city for some time.

Judge George W. Easley, State Senator from Giles county, who died yesterday in Richmond of pneumonia, was a son of Dr. John W. Easley, of Giles county, and was elected to the State Senate last fall by a large majority. His wife was Miss Minnie McCombs, a niece of Mrs. J. H. D. Smoot, of this city, and is well known here.

Rev. I. M. Mercer, who has been suffering with a gripe since last Thursday, died his ninth Sunday morning, but did not attempt to preach that night. He is still confined to the house but is gradually improving.

From an article headed "Eligible Young Men" in one of the Washington Sunday papers the following is taken: "Scarcely less of a matrimonial extra than the foregoing, from a pecuniary point of view, is Mr. Hal Dulany, who, with a million or more of money, adds the grace of a handsome person to charming manners. Mr. Dulany is six feet tall, has blue eyes and wavy hair, which, however, growing somewhat thin on the top of his head, although his companions do not charge the denuded state of his cranium to early piety. He is about thirty-eight years old, and his possessions of real estate in this city are very great; he also has lands in the District and farms in Virginia. His fortune came to him through a friend, a rich father, an English lady who never married, and being without near relations left her fortune to the eldest son of her old admirer. Mr. Dulany is the soul of generosity in his many relations who are not so well off in worldly possessions as himself. He is now in Paris, where he maintains an excellent style of living, and he comes to this making a tour of the world before coming home. Whether he will return a bachelor or the husband of a young lady is a question that is exciting not a few maiden hearts in the national capital."

Mrs. Lizzie Allen was taken quite sick in her school in Washington building this morning and her school had to be dismissed.

SOCIAL.—The Washington Capital of Sunday says: "Mrs. R. W. Wheat's hospitable mansion on Prince street, Alexandria, was the scene of a fashionable gathering Friday evening, on the occasion of a dancing party given by Miss Sue Lee Wheat in honor of her cousin, Misses Bacon and Page of Albemarle county, Va. In the broad hall and large double parlor there was a joyous throng of young ladies and gentlemen, while between the south windows stood the receiving party. Mrs. Wheat, the hostess, greeted her guests in a court dress of brocade olive, salmon and pink satin, diamond ornaments, and carried a bouquet of Waterville roses. Miss Page was attired in pale blue crepe, ornamented with sapphires and diamonds, while in her hand she carried an exquisite bouquet of carnations and white roses. Miss Bacon, in a dancing costume of white lace, wore ornaments, consisting of pearls and emeralds, and carried a bouquet of La France roses and white hyacinths. Mrs. Beverly Dougherty's gown was of yellow georgette, diamond ornaments and sprays of yellow roses to match her costume; Mrs. Johnson, navy blue velvet and point lace; Miss Moningerode, brocade petticoat, silk entrance, red roses; Miss Marion Beach, yellow gauze, corsage bouquet of La France roses; and Miss Johnston, white silk and natural flowers. Misses Florence Smoot and Maud Wheat served coffee, and Miss Etta Johnston distributed favors for the German. This was inaugurated at 1 o'clock, and dancing continued until 1 o'clock, Mr. Wm. Fendall leading.

THE TANNERY.—The Messrs. Smoot, as has been before stated, have determined not to remove their tannery (which was so badly damaged by fire last May) from this city, but are now engaged in rebuilding on the old site and will continue the manufacture of leather here on an extensive scale as heretofore while it is more than probable that they will increase their former facilities. Already some of the burned buildings have been rebuilt, others are in course of construction and the vats are being repaired and covered in. The manufacture of leather is one of Alexandria's oldest enterprises and the present firm, which owns the tannery, and their ancestors for three generations, have successfully conducted the business through a long number of years. The determination of the Messrs. Smoot to remain in Alexandria and continue their business here is of more than passing interest, for in the manufacture of leather a large number of men are employed and a large amount of capital required from which the community derives direct benefit. Alexandria is holding her own and will certainly soon join in the march of general prosperity which is shared by those cities which exert themselves and whose citizens show the usual amount of enterprise.

LAND TAX.—The question of the sale of lands for delinquent taxes is again claiming the attention of many land owners in the county. The County Treasurer now being engaged in preparing his list for advertisement and sale. The new code of Virginia makes a great change in the law as to the sale of land delinquent for taxes. Under the old law the legislature of the State had to order the sale of lands before the Treasurer could sell; under the new law the Treasurer is commanded to sell every two years, and on account of the increasing value of land in the county, taxpayers, especially non-resident land owners, are becoming much more prompt in the payment of their land tax for fear of clouding the titles to their property.

OPERA HOUSE.—To-night Mr. George H. Adams and Miss Tom Hanlon, aided by a good company of comedians will play here in the first time the comedy drama "He, She, Him, Her." In speaking of the play the Boston Traveler says: "He, She, Him, Her," is a piece brimful of fun and laughter. It is a succession of incidents which serve to introduce a company of excellent comedians in their specialties, all making an evening of unparalleled fun.

On Thursday next, Miss Adele Frost, aided by a very superior company of metropolitan artists, presenting in a matchless manner Ingomar, the Barbarian, will appear here. Their costuming, mounting and general representation, will be revelations in excellence.

SETTLED COMPROMISED.—The suit growing out of the sale of the W. O. R. R. has been compromised. It will be remembered that at the first sale of the road the purchasers failed to comply with the terms and a second sale was ordered by the Court. At the second sale the road brought about $150,000 less than at the first sale, and the creditors brought suit against the first purchasers to recover the difference. The suit was recently decided in New York in favor of the creditors, and now the matter has been compromised by the first purchasers paying $50,000 to the creditors. The old Farmers and Mechanics' Savings Bank of this city being one of the creditors will receive its share of this sum.

U. R. K. of P.—At a recent meeting of the Uniform Rank Knights of Pythias, Mr. S. L. Monroe was elected Captain. It is understood that a meeting of the rank will soon be held at which Lieut. Marbury and all the old officers will be re-elected. A few weeks since Gen. Carnahan of the order came here and straightened out all the differences that existed in the ranks and the re-election of the old officers is a result of his visit. Mr. J. C. DePuyron, who was a Colonel on the staff of General Canham, has resigned his position in the order.

DEFENSES OF WASHINGTON.—The engineering board on fortifications has been ordered to Washington to prepare a comprehensive plan for the defense of that city and the Potomac river. The entire river will be carefully examined and the best sites for fortifications selected, and plans of the works needed will be prepared. None of the present defenses of the city is up to modern requirements, and only the sites can be utilized.

SUIT.—Mrs. A. S. Mezeen, of Fredericksburg, is about to bring a suit against the Alexandria and Fredericksburg Railroad Company for $20,000 damages. Mrs. Mezeen was seriously injured by the railroad accident which occurred between this city and Quantico, on the night of August last. The Lance says: "She has been confined to her bed and house ever since and it is thought her injuries are permanent."

THE WHIPPING POST.—It is reported that during the last session of the grand jury of this city the question of reinstating the whipping post was informally discussed, and that on a poll of the jury every man composing it was in favor of such a law.

Nellie Bly En-Rou.—San Francisco, Jan. 21.—Miss Nellie Bly arrived here at 9:30 this morning on the steamer Oceanic. She at once boarded a special train and started on the overland journey for New York, to complete her voyage around the world.

FIGHT OVER A CORPSE.—A bloody riot took place between the two warring factions of the Polish church at Plymouth, Pa., yesterday evening. The Lithuanian faction endeavored to bury one of their number in the cemetery. The Poles resisted and a fierce battle took place, in which pistols, stones and clubs were used. During the shooting thirty men were prostrated by the wounds, and the ground near the grave was covered with blood. The coffin was upset and the body rolled out. The Poles were finally routed by a posse of constables and citizens. Anthony Alonzo and Joseph Luwisch were fatally injured. The ring leaders were arrested, and the body finally interred in the grave and is now being watched by a strong posse. The Poles are angry and threaten to dig up the grave.

Sight Restored. Mr. A. K. Hawkes: Dear Sir—About one year ago my sight began to fail, with the usual symptoms, viz: after reading for a short time my eyes became confused and there seemed to be a dimness before them, also accompanied with pains in the eye ball. Being satisfied that glasses were imperative I demanded, applied to you for them, and, I am happy to say, with wonderful results, for after having worn your crystallized lenses for a short time my eyes regained their accustomed strength, and I can now read the finest print for hours with perfect ease without glasses. MONETARY AND COMMERCIAL. NEW YORK, Jan. 21.—The strong tone developed by the stock market yesterday was continued this morning, and a general advance over last evening's prices took place. The trusts were less prominent in the dealings, but there was more animation among the leading stocks of the regular list, and during the first half hour there was a moderately active business. First prices were generally from 1/2 to 3/4 per cent. higher than last night's figures, and the subsequent improvement, which, however, in but few cases exceeded 1/2 per cent., extended to all portions of the list. Late in the hour a reaction, generally of small proportions, occurred, but at 11 o'clock the market was again extremely dull and firm at or near the best prices, the trusts being especially strong.
