JUDGE MILLER ON SUNDAY DRUNK.—Walter Lewis, a Washington negro, came to this city on Sunday and got drunk. When he went back to Washington he was arrested for disorderly conduct...

that he was then paying for his fun. "This is a thing that happens almost every Sunday," said the judge. "People go to Alexandria on Sunday and then come home in the afternoon drunk, so that ladies are almost prohibited from taking the pleasant trip it ought to happen only once." A fine of $10 or thirty days was imposed.

THE OPERA HOUSE.—The Bernhard Listmann orchestra, one of the finest musical organizations in the country, with Miss Lillian Carl Smith as soloist, will appear here in concert to-morrow night. The New York Herald says of this organization: "We have had no such excellent chamber music in New York for a long while. The playing of the String Quartette was delightfully delicate and finished, full of sentiment, and at the same time never wanting in breadth or power, and showed that here was a body of musicians most admirably equipped for giving chamber concerts."

REDFLEET FAIR.—The fair of Osceola Tribe I. O. R. M. was well attended last night, and all who attended spent a pleasant evening. The following is the result of the vote for the different articles to be disposed of: Ladies' gold watch—Edith Pettit, 3; Annie Lyons, 3; Lillian Simpson, 5; Edith Smith, 10; Foster's pin—Thos. RECEPTION.—A reception was held at the residence of Rev. Dr. Angus Crawford, on Seminary Hill, yesterday evening in honor of Rev. and Mrs. E. T. Helfenstein, who were married at the Seminary last week. The interior of the mansion was the scene of a brilliant gathering. In the music-room where the entertainment was served, there were elaborate decorations of palms and lilies. Mrs. Crawford, the hostess, was assisted in receiving by Mrs. Charles Brown, Miss Brown, the Misses Packard, Miss Risdon, the Misses Elliott, Miss Johns, the Misses Hoxton and Miss Walker.

THE MEAT INSPECTOR.—Mr. D. W. Chichester, who was recently appointed by Judge Norton meat inspector for this city, today qualified by taking the prescribed oath, and will to-morrow enter upon the duties of the office. No bond is required. There is some talk among the meat dealers of suing out an injunction to prevent Mr. Chichester from inspecting their meat or interfering with them in their business in any way. They say that Judge Hughes having decided the meat inspection law unconstitutional they will protest to the end against its enforcement.

I. O. O. F.—The State Grand Lodge of Odd-Fellows met in annual session in Roanoke yesterday. The report of the Grand Master was very encouraging, showing that five lodges were instituted during the fiscal year, and a marked increase in the membership all over the State. One hundred and fifty delegates were present. The visiting brethren were banqueted by the two Roanoke lodges Monday night.

A telegram received here to-day says Dr. R. Stansbury, of Potomac Lodge, No. 38, of this city, was elected Grand Warden of the Grand Lodge.
