Pan-Americanism a Failure. A dispatch from Chicago says: Anselmo Morago, who represented Chile at the Pan-American Congress, arrived at the Grand Pacific Wednesday evening.

"The Pan-American Congress," he said, "will not do this country one bit of good. It was a foolish expenditure of Uncle Sam's money, and it might as well have been saved. Look at the intended trip through the South. Just one delegate would have gone. We have seen enough of this country and want to get home. We are more than satisfied that the United States does not want the trade of the Spanish countries. Some of the merchants are in sympathy with us but they are powerless. Your government does not want to trade with us, and if we had known that eight months ago the invitation to look over your industries would never have been accepted. To-day the United States stands with a massive stone wall around it. We see no place to enter, and we can't very well tear it down to bring in our goods."

"The cry of 'Protection' has heartily disgusted all of the Spanish delegates, and they will be only too glad to get home and begin the work of bettering our trade relations with foreign countries. We do not ask you to allow manufactured goods to enter free of duty. Free trade, in every sense of the word, would be injurious to the United States and almost as bad as the present state. I do not think that Chile will feel quite so friendly to this country after this. Our government has taken off all duties on all kinds of machinery, and every week mining machinery from this country is shipped to Chile. We do not charge you a duty, yet when we try to send our wool here you shut out our trade by a high tariff. We are not going to force our trade upon you."

"We feel sorry that the expensive trip over the United States will not be worth two cents to the people who so royally entertained us, but that is not our fault. It lies entirely with your government. If your tariff laws had been amended before we came then the result would have been totally different. We have seen what a grand country you have here, but before the government gets ready to trade with us it is possible we will have forgotten you."

180,000 DEAD CATS.—A shipment of 180,000 cats—in a mummified state—has been received at Liverpool from Egypt. The pussies were knocked down within a few days of their arrival at $20 a ton to a local fertilizer merchant by an auctioneer, who used a cat's head as a hammer. Once highly revered and even publicly worshipped in temples erected in their honor, they were borne to their tombs in the rock caves of Beni-Hassan, just 4,000 years ago, by the processions of white-robed priests with chimes of cymbals and chants by the choirs of Isis. During the forty centuries which have elapsed since then the cult of the cat has gone out of fashion except in the cases of spinners who continue to worship them when living, and of epicures who pay homage to them after death—when stewed "en gelatine." Nevertheless it is a terrible reward of fortune for these feline gods of the ancient Egyptians to be shipped across the seas and to be pounded up into a compost for the artificial manure of British mangold warts.—N. ESTABLISHED 1800. The Alexandria Gazette Publishes in condensed but comprehensive form news from all parts of the world, and daily lays before its readers an epitome of whatever is going on around them. THE GAZETTE enjoys unsurpassed facilities for procuring ALL THE NEWS, and that, too, often twelve hours earlier than the morning papers; its telegraphic columns being kept open till late each evening in order to receive the very latest dispatches, so that whatever may occur, whether in this or other lands, is almost sure to find its way into its columns the same day. Its correspondence is newsy and accurate, and its miscellaneous department is conducted with an eye to the enlightenment and pleasure of its readers, and no pains are spared to make it attractive in every feature. Its commercial columns are edited with care and precision, so that the merchant and the farmer can always rely upon its market reports. As an advertising medium it has few, if any, superiors in all this section of country, having an extensive circulation, not only throughout Virginia, but in nearly all the States and Territories.
