Caught on a Bare Hook.
She boarded a Broadway car at the Postoffice. She was young, good looking and vivacious. She was also a typewriter. The car was crowded and every man sitting down had his eyes glued to a newspaper. As the car started the girl bumped against a man who was also hanging to a strap and her voice reached everybody's ear as she said:
"Now, do please excuse me, won't you? The car is so crowded you know."
A young man sitting just opposite her looked up and began to climb out of his seat.
"Oh! no, no, no," she said, as she waved her hand at him in the cutest sort of fashion. "Please don't think of it. I have been sitting all day and it is really refreshing to stand."
The man on the right had determined not to give up his seat to his own mother, but that arch smile and delicious voice caused him to lift himself. "I couldn't think of it—couldn't possibly think of it!" she protested as she placed a hand on his arm to stop him.
The next man found his heart beating faster than usual, and he began folding his paper and shuffling his feet.
"How kind of you, but I can't permit it," she exclaimed the sweet girl as she motioned him to keep his place.
The fourth man was short and fat, with an iron jaw and a belligerent nose. He hadn't offered his seat to a lady since July 6, 1872, but in this case it was a handsome girl who had refused three other offers and there would be no risk. He rose up, lifted his hat and offered his seat.
"Thank you," she murmured, as she slid into it and opened a novel and began to read at page 40.
The man turned red as he looked around the car and saw everybody smiling and nodding at him when she made for the door. He thought he was going to get away all right, but a big man hanging to a strap suddenly slipped, his leg uttered a hoarse chuckle and said:
"I've been a fishing a good many times in my life, but that's the first time I ever saw caught on a bare hook!"—N. Y. Herald.

A LEGEND FOR THE TIMES.—We have an Arab legend which has a moral of some present value in countries which do not believe in Mahomet. A devout marabout was on a pilgrimage to Mecca and was overtaken on the road by a greenish complexioned cavalier draped in white. Questioned by the pilgrim, the stranger said he was the Cholera, and was on his way to Mecca, but as he was of a benign humour he would be content with fewer victims than ordinary. A hundred would satisfy him. The pilgrim tremblingly asked would he not be satisfied with fifty. "Yes," he said: "I will give you my word on it." At the gate of the Holy City they parted.
In less than eight days there were 5,000 deaths in Mecca. The alarmed marabout took flight, and outside the walls caught up to the sinister horseman. "Ah! my Lord Cholera," he cried, "it was not fair of you to break your word." The other replied that he had not broken it—only 50 had fallen under his scythe. "And the 4,950 others?" "Ah! They died of fear."

ABDUCTED BY CHEROKEES.—Geo. Corbell, of Livermore, Ky., arrived at English, Harrison county, Ind., a few days ago, in pursuit of a band of Cherokee Indians who had abducted his 7-year-old daughter. He overtook the fugitives in camp eight miles west, and recovered the girl. Corbell immediately returned with his child to her mother, after three weeks' absence. Nellie, an only child, is large for her age. She was furnished with $8 and sent to an aunt, near Henderson, to attend school. The Cherokees are "fake" doctors and well known about Livermore. Nellie was induced to accompany them and learn to be a doctor. She soon wearied of the life and begged to be returned, which they promised to do. Soon they returned north, and her next plea was answered with threats of death. In this Harrison county, where her tears and their threats won the sympathy and confidence of an old negro, who posted letters for her aunt and father. The abductors are known as the Miller gang.

Of course everybody in Washington knows that we give money back for all work not exactly right.
Some people wonder how we can afford to do it; they think half our business must be refunding money.
Not at all. Take our $8 teeth, for instance: in ninety-nine cases out of a hundred we couldn't try them back for ten times that amount. People don't give up good things so easily.
You are invited to come in and look at samples of our work and incidentally inspect the most complete dental office that money can procure.

MORE NEW GOODS
Miller's.
We called your attention some time ago to a new line of CHAMBER SETS we had received and which we invited you to inspect. That they fully realized our expectations is verified by the fact that they sold so fast; that not until this week could we get duplicate orders filled at the factory. We inform you now that we have just received a NEW LOT, containing the best of the last patterns ordered, besides another new shape and decoration never offered before. The prices are way down, and if you need anything in this line you should call early, as they will undoubtedly sell on sight.
We also sold our entire line of BANQUET LAMPS, but have received a larger lot this time in Onyx Bases, Gold and Silver, Brass and Copper Relief. We have exclusive control of one of the largest factories' productions in this line, and guarantee you prices on them.
Have you seen our $3 BANQUET LAMP? A complete line of SILK SHADES for Piano and Banquet Lamps.
Examine our $3 all-Silk Shades.
Among other goods we call attention to new arrivals of HAVILAND TEA SETS, HAVILAND and CARLSBAD DINNER SETS, Cracker Jars, Fancy Cups and Saucers, Biscuit Jars and Candelabra.
That you have appreciated our endeavors to sell you the newest goods on the market at the lowest figures is verified by the fact that for some days we were entirely out of fine Tea Sets, and that our entire stock of Brass Goods in Afternoon Tea Stands and Chafing Dishes was exhausted, though orders were at the factory as soon as we saw how fast they were going off. We are constantly adding to our stock, and will continue to add to the same by the newest productions. No trouble to answer goods. Prompt attention shown and prompt delivery assured purchasers. Store open at night.

FLOUR.
IN FLOUR,
If you want entire satisfaction, you want
TENNEY'S BRANDS.
They are as near perfection as it is possible to make Flour.
We recommend our Flour for the reason,
1st, That it is made of Best Southern Wheat.
2d, That it is made by the Best Improved Process.
3d, That the Grades Run Uniformly.
These are the most important factors in the manufacture of the Best Flour and the most necessary in the making of Good Bread.
Our different brands are for sale by all Alexandria Grocers.
