MEDICINAL.

THE OLD-FASHIONED STYLE of pills gives you a feeling of horror when you see it and when you feel it. Like a former decade it is big and clumsy, but not effective. In this century of enlightenment you have Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets, which cure all liver troubles in the most effective way. They're not easily seen for they're small as grains of mustard seed, but the effect is lasting and the cure complete. For Indigestion, Constipation, Bilious Attacks, Sick and Bilious Headache, nothing has been found to equal these pills of Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. They give such complete relief that their makers promise that they'll give satisfaction or your money will be returned.

A plain statement of fact made by the promoters of Dr. Sago's Catarrh Remedy is: "If we can't cure your Catarrh, no matter how long your case, we'll pay you $500."

DENTISTRY.

IS IT WISE?
It is wise to dismiss an uninvestigated statement by saying, "It isn't possible?" Is it?
People sneered at Fulton, laughed at Morse, and looked at Edison. They think that good dentistry is necessary high-priced, but the ocean steamer is here, the telegraph and the phonograph, so is "scientific dentistry at moderate prices."

With gas or zinc.....50 cents

MOLASSES AND PETROLEUM.—Almost all the molasses which come from Cuba to the United States is brought in the same tanks in steamship that are used to carry petroleum as a return cargo. The ship's tanks are about sixteen feet deep and have a neck seven feet deep. They are pumped full of oil at Brooklyn or Philadelphia, then taken to Havana, and the oil is pumped out into the tanks of the refining plants there. Molasses is brought from the interior of the island in huge hogheads, which are emptied into the storage tanks. A suction pump drawing about 10,000 gallons an hour fills two feet of the top, that amount of space being required for the expansion of the molasses. It might be supposed that the petroleum would have a bad effect on the molasses, but it has been shown that the contrary is the case, and as nearly one-half the importation is made into rum and the balance refined into sugar, a little oil is not of much account. The tanks are cleaned after the molasses has been pumped out by turning in a powerful steam jet, which washes down the sides and liquifies whatever molasses may be left in the bottom of the tank and the suction pump finishes the work. A cargo of molasses, which formerly required ten or twelve days, can now be unloaded in forty-eight hours, while the difference in cost of handling, to say nothing of the saving of time, amounts to a large sum. Since the present system of dividing a vessel's hold into tanks was devised and put into practice on steamers the profits of the trade and the steamship companies have largely increased. — N. Y. Tribune.

A REMARKABLE MAN.—A letter from Comora, King George county, says: "Among the very oldest citizens of this county who have never relinquished their hold on life's active business affairs on account of old age is a farmer in this immediate vicinity already past three score years and twenty who labors day by day all the year round. Although the possessor of teams and vehicles, he frequently walks 20 miles to visit some friend or relative. This winter he is spending his 'leisure hours' in mauling rails for the fences about his snug plantation, and said the other day that he made 1,200 rails the week before, while his younger neighbors were waiting for good weather. His second marriage took place when he was past three quarters of a century, and being now a widower, he is one of the spryest and liveliest courtiers characters in his neighborhood. During all his long, laboring life he was never sick but once, and then took his own remedies. He is an avowed foe to medicines and doctors, and attributes his wonderful longevity to constant hard work, the inveterate use of tobacco, and his antipathy to doctors and drugs. He expects to live 50 years longer, and hopes to raise another large family."
