

THURSDAY EVENING, MAR. 8, 1894.

BEFORE Mr. Cleveland's second inauguration the wiser men of his party advised him to call an extra session of Congress as soon thereafter as possible, in order that a low tariff bill might be passed and its beneficial effects be experienced and appreciated before the next congressional election. That advice was not taken. When an extra session was called last August, with the idiotic idea of improving business by the repeal of the silver purchasing bill, the same men advised that it should be continued, so that the passage of a low tariff bill might be expedited. Their advice was again rejected. Nominations for the next Congress are already being made, and it now looks as if any tariff bill, let alone a low one, will hardly be passed before the election be held—certainly not in time for any of its possible good effects to be appreciated previous to that election. But wise men no longer rule the democratic party. State or national.

A LADY after hearing General Gordon's lecture on the last days of the Confederacy, in Louisville one night last week, remarked to her husband, when leaving the hall in which it was delivered, "I think it was too much reconstructed." "There is no doubt of it. The South was whipped, and her people have accepted the result, as they would any other misfortune for which they were not responsible. They are even the friends and well-wishers of their conquerors, and have forgiven the authors of the dire evils that afflicted them. But, being human, they still live in the 'shadows of memory's pain,' and it is at least not pleasant for them to hear one of their own people narrate, to unsympathetic ears, the stories of their sufferings, and laud the 'magnanimity' of the North, which was so glad the war was over that it would have granted them better terms than those they received, if they had asked for them.

THE FACT that in the general defeat the democrats of New York sustained at last Tuesday's local elections, the democratic tickets at Elmira, the home of Senator Hill, and at Troy, that of Senator Murphy, were successful by large majorities, in spite of the combined opposition of republicans, mugwumps and anti-snappers, looks as if the democrats of those two cities were not allowed the prevailing disaffection in their party to affect their loyalty to their old leaders.

THE LEGISLATURE has been guilty of many sins of commission as well as of omission, but the people will be disposed to condone both sorts, if it shall abide by the constitution, and not meet again for two years. The less of legislatures the better for the States, and the less of Congress the better for the nation.

Congressional.

As stated in the GAZETTE of that date an exciting debate was precipitated in the Senate yesterday by Mr. Harris's motion for the second reading of the Bland seigniorage bill. This was opposed by Mr. Sherman, who moved its reference to the finance committee, and, in the course of his speech in opposition to the bill, said that its object was to divert a trust fund from its legitimate purposes—a thing which in Ohio would be a penitentiary offense. His motion was defeated, and the bill taken up as unfinished business, and almost before any one was aware of what had happened, it passed its third reading and was on the point of passing the Senate. Then its opponents recovered from their surprise, and endeavored to prevent its passage, and, on request of Senator Sherman it went over until to-day.

After five days of debate, the pension appropriation bill, carrying $51,000,000, was passed in the House without division. All the amendments to the bill save one—that of Mr. Pickler, to make the reports of examining surgeons open to the inspection of the applicant or his attorneys—were defeated. The one which attracted most attention was that of Mr. Enloe, to repeal a portion of the provision included in the act of last December, to prevent the suspension of any pension except on thirty days' notice, so as to permit the suspension, in case of plain prima facie evidence that the pensioner had procured his pension by forgery, perjury or other palpable fraud. This amendment was offered at the suggestion of Commissioner Lochren himself, who, under the opinion of the Attorney-General, declared that if the act of last December stood, over $900,000 would have to be paid out to suspended pensioners who were proven beyond all question not to be longer entitled to the pensions they had been drawing.

FROM WASHINGTON.

(Correspondence of the Alexandria Gazette.)

WASHINGTON, Mar. 8, 1894. The new tariff bill, as prepared by the sub-committee of the Senate finance committee, was reported to the full committee this morning at a called meeting, and subsequently given to the press. When it will be reported to the Senate is unknown, but another special meeting of the full committee has been called for Saturday next. The bill as reported is vastly different from what it was when referred to the committee, being decidedly more of a revenue measure, reducing the duty on some of the most protected articles, and imposing duties on articles that were on the free list. A duty of one cent a pound is laid on raw, and of three-eighths of a cent on refined sugar; the duty on barley and malt is raised five per cent; the whiskey tax is raised to a dollar and a half; and the bonded period is extended to five years. The duty on cigars is $5 a thousand, and on cigarettes in paper $1 a thousand, and on cigarettes in tobacco 50 cents a thousand. The income tax remains. Raw wool and lumber remain on the free list. There is a duty of 40 cents a ton on soft coal and iron ore, and the duty on manufactured goods is reduced. The bill is to go into operation on the 30th of June, but, judging from the talk at the Capitol to-day, it will not be a law at that time. It is reported that all the democratic Senators will vote for it. Senators Hill and Daniel, when asked to-day if it was satisfactory to them, replied to the effect that they had not yet read it through, and, of course, could not tell whether it was or not. By the terms of the bill the treaty with Hawaii will be terminated.

The following changes in the fourth-class postoffices of Virginia were made to-day: Cooper, Middlesex county, W. W. Pitt, appointed postmaster, vice L. S. Bristow, resigned; Glade Springs, Washington county, J. D. Williams, vice John Farris, removed; Parr, Botetourt county, S. G. Taylor, vice G. W. Parr, resigned; At Forestville, Prince George's county, Md., Mrs. E. E. Nye was appointed postmaster, vice Edward Reilly, removed.

The Senate military committee heard arguments this morning on a bill granting the Washington, Alexandria and Mt. Vernon electric railroad the right of way through the Arlington reservation. The committee referred the bill for a report to a sub-committee consisting of Senators Palmer, Hawley and Manderson.

General Fitz Lee was here to-day, it was reported, in the interest of a gentleman who is an applicant for the Norfolk customs house, but the truth of the report could not be ascertained. He probably came to attend the marriage of his cousin.

Captain Jack Hudgin, recently appointed to the post office for the eastern district of Virginia, was here yesterday. It is reported that some of the bondsmen he offered were not entirely satisfactory to Judge Hughes and that his business related to that matter. His chief deputy will be Mr. Cogbill of Caroline county, who was a postal inspector during Mr. Cleveland's first administration.

People from the 8th Virginia district, here today, say the friends of Mr. Jeffries, of Fauquier county, and Colonel Gibson, of Culpeper, are advocating the respective claims of those gentlemen for the democratic congressional nomination in their district.

Congressman Turner, of Virginia, went to the Postoffice Department to-day and had the old postoffice at Jordan's Springs, Frederick county, re-established, with Cleary Jordan as postmaster. Congressman Meredith also went there to see when the Alexandria postoffice case would be taken up. Mr. Bissell told him he had been indisposed for some time and was not feeling well now, but would inform him by letter when he would be ready to consider that case.

Some naughty free trader has played an awful trick upon the protectionists, by sending out Chairman Wilson's tariff speech to republican voters, under a cover purporting that it had been delivered by ex-Speaker Reid.

Shea's Hall, on the 3rd floor of a building on the south side of Pennsylvania avenue, a few doors east of 7th street, occupied by the Knights of Jerusalem, was on fire this morning, and was badly damaged.

Congressman Jones of Virginia, who was one of Virginia's counsel in the recent oyster case before the State and Maryland before the U. S. Supreme Court, says that judging by some of the questions asked by the court, the decision will be in favor of Virginia.

The bill to afford shade and herring a spawning ground in the Potomac river, by prohibiting seine, net and trap fishing in the waters of the District of Columbia, passed the House this morning, and all it needs now to become a law is the President's signature, as it had previously passed the Senate.

Senator White of Louisiana will take his seat in the U. S. Supreme Court next Wednesday. But then the court will be full, as Justice Jackson is sick with rheumatism in Florida. The fact that Mr. White has continued to act as Senator after his confirmation as Justice is not without precedent, as Chief Justice Marshall retained the State portfolio long after his appointment to the Supreme Bench.

Fauquier Notes.

Mr. Jasper Stribling, of Morrisville, and wife celebrated their silver wedding the 14th of Feb. A large crowd was present and the young people enjoyed themselves very much. Many and rare were the presents to the bride and groom.

Mr. William Latham, of Hume, met with a very painful accident Sunday evening. He was trying to get his horses in the stable, and picked up a piece of plank when one of the horses ran against the plank which struck Mr. Latham and broke his jaw bone.

Mr. Hugh Hamilton, treasurer, has declined to receive and distribute the small balance of the direct tax fund left in the hands of Capt. Sheppard who has given up the position, and the Governor has appointed Wm. C. Marshall to disburse the fund. Mr. Hamilton's friends entirely approve of his course in not accepting an empty courtesy after all of the emoluments of the place have gone elsewhere.—Warrenton Virginian.

Ex-Senator George A. Pearre, of Cumberland, was in Baltimore yesterday looking up data in connection with the final disposition of the $5,000 which, as bond for his brother, J. Graham Pearre, charged with alleged criminal assault upon Mrs. Estelle Kirkland, he forfeited because of the flight of the accused. There is a bill before the legislature for its refunding, and it was stated at Annapolis that no record of its payment to the State by the sheriff of Baltimore could be found. Ex-Senator Flederman states that the money was paid into the State Treasury and accounted for in his report. Mr. Archer was treasurer at the time.

Blanchard, who by reason of his long service in Washington, is one of the best known public men in the State. Congressman Blanchard has served longer in the House than any congressman elected from Louisiana since the war. He is now in the 14th year of his service, Judge Elam having been his predecessor.

Mr. Lawrence Taliaferro yesterday notified Mr. O. D. Foster, of Frederickburg, that he will institute suit for slander against him in the Circuit Court of that city. This action grows out of the late trouble in the postoffice while Mr. Foster was postmaster and Mr. Taliaferro was his assistant. The amount of damage is not named in the notification.

LEGISLATIVE.

In the Senate yesterday a message was received from the Governor through Private Secretary Chesterman vetoing the bills to incorporate the Northern Neck Railway Company and the Virginia and West Virginia Railway Company on account of the wide powers conferred. The bills in question were laid on the table. There are some half a dozen or more bills similar to those which the Governor would have vetoed, but as they reached him so late in the session he decided to withhold them. No action being taken on them they will, of course, not become laws.

Senator Stubbs offered a resolution to rescind the resolution adopted a few days ago prohibiting the transaction of any business yesterday and it was agreed to. He then introduced a bill to make a verbal amendment to the bill enlarging the oyster navy. It was adopted.

The Senate adjourned until to-day.

There were about a dozen members of the House present when Speaker Ryan at 11 o'clock called that body to order. A message was received from the Senate that that body had rescinded the resolution as prohibiting the transaction of any business yesterday. The House concurred in this action. Another message was received from the Senate announcing the passage of a bill making a verbal and consequential amendment to the bill enlarging the oyster navy. The House passed the Senate bill regulating the practice of dentistry.

The resolution passed Tuesday night by the Senate directing that suits be brought against Ex-Attorney General Ayers for the amount he is alleged to be due the Commonwealth was referred. The House tendered its thanks to Hon. J. F. Ryan for the firm, courteous and efficient manner in which he has performed the duties as Speaker of that body.

The House at 12:30 adjourned until 11 o'clock to-day.

The legislature did not adjourn to-day.

Prentis, Suffolk, alternate. A resolution was adopted requesting that the Supreme Lodge hold its sessions biennially, and change the law so as to make females eligible to membership. The body adjourned to meet next year in Richmond.

The meeting was the largest and most enthusiastic of the order ever held. Belle Haven Lodge, of this city, is next to the Banner Lodge in the State.

The vestibule train on the Norfolk and Western railroad, from Washington to Chattanooga, was wrecked at 6:40 this a. m. by a landslide, 45 miles north of Roanoke. TO-DAY'S TELEGRAPHIC NEWS.

The Breckinridge-Pollard Case. WASHINGTON, Mar. 8.—Congressman William C. P. Breckinridge, of Kentucky, was placed on trial to-day in the suit which Madeline Vinton Pollard has brought against him to determine whether he shall pay her $50,000 for alleged seduction and breach of promise. He stands charged by Miss Pollard with having accomplished her ruin when she was a school girl of 17 and he a man nearing the half-century mark; with being the father of several children born to her, and with making and breaking a promise to marry her. On the other hand Col. Breckinridge denies that he at any time attempted to take advantage of the youth and inexperience of the plaintiff or that he seduced her. He also denies that there was at any time any engagement of marriage between them. The trial is being held in the City Hall and the spacious courtroom was packed. The counsel for the plaintiff is Hon. Jere Wilson, an ex-member of Congress and one of the ablest lawyers of the country, and Calderon Carlisle, who stands high at the bar. Col. Enoch Totten, the principal attorney for Col. Breckinridge, is ill in Florida, and will not be back in Washington for a week, but Col. Phil Thomson is here to look after the interest of his client. Wm. F. Mattingly, of this city, has also been retained by the defence. It was 10:10 o'clock when Judge Bradley, who will preside, entered the court-room. The regular circuit jury will hear the case. Mr. Breckinridge was the centre of attraction in the court room, but Miss Pollard was not present. Mr. Mattingly opened the proceedings with an inquiry relative to depositions taken in Kentucky and Ohio, which have not arrived. He thought they should not be admitted until the defendant had an opportunity to examine them and to call evidence in rebuttal. Judge Wilson gave notice of an objection to the depositions, because, he said, they contained much matter that was merely hearsay and wholly irrelevant. A recess of twenty minutes was taken at this point while the clerk arranged the jury poll. When the jury had been sworn, Col. Thompson of the defence told the judge that a mass of testimony in depositions had just arrived by mail and been delivered to him, and after a consultation with the counsel on the other side they had agreed to a postponement until to-morrow morning to enable counsel to read the depositions. "Some of the counsel on this side," said Col. Thompson, "have just been called into the case on account of others who are sick. Major Ben Butterworth was only employed last night. We think time can be saved and the trial facilitated by an adjournment." At 10:55 the court adjourned until to-morrow to allow the new counsel in the case to familiarize themselves with it.

LONDON, Mar. 8.—Mr. Gladstone's condition is slightly improved this morning. His cough and catarrh have almost ceased to annoy him. Nevertheless, his physicians advise him to remain in bed to-day.

LONDON, Mar. 8.—The first council of Lord Rosebery's cabinet was held to-day. The principal business of the council was the drafting of the Queen's speech to be delivered at the re-opening of Parliament. The dissensions in the anti-Parnellite ranks continue and the followers of Healy are reported to have reached a decision that Lord Rosebery failing to give satisfactory assurances in regard to home rule they will oppose the government.

The cabinet this afternoon formally approved the draft of the Queen's speech to be read at the re-opening of Parliament.

ROME, Mar. 8.—Mr. Wm. Potter, ex-U. S. Minister to Italy, who has just been succeeded by Ambassador McVeagh, had an audience with King Humbert this afternoon and presented to his majesty his letter of recall.

Alabama Politics. MONTGOMERY, Ala., March 8.—The People's Advocate, the populist organ, says it has discovered a scheme to defeat Senators Morgan and Pugh and fill their places with Secretary Herbert and Congressman Oates, both favorites of the administration. Money was to be used and the administration was to lend its helping hand. The combination was to work as follows: Judge Richardson, of Huntsville, was to withdraw from the race for Governor and throw his strength to William C. Oates, who was to be nominated by fair means or foul and counted in if necessary. A majority of the legislature was to be counted in who could be controlled by the administration. These should elect Secretary Herbert in the place of Senator Morgan. After serving one term as Governor, Oates was to withdraw and throw his influence to Richardson who in turn was to help Oates defeat Pugh, Alabama's junior Senator. The safety of Herbert first was insisted upon by the President.

Captain Lee's Marriage. WASHINGTON, Mar. 8.—Robert E. Lee, jr., of Romanecke, Va., and Miss Juliette Carter, the daughter of Col. Thos. H. Carter, of King William county, Va., were married at 10:30 o'clock this morning at the residence of Mrs. Rozier Dulany, the sister of the bride, on Washington Heights, this city. The wedding was very quiet, only relatives and intimate friends of the Lee and Carter families being present. There were no attendants and the simple ceremony of the Episcopal church was performed by Rev. Dr. McKim, of Epiphany parish. Col. Carter gave his daughter away. After the ceremony there was a wedding breakfast, and later Mr. and Mrs. Lee left for New York. Among those present were Gen. Fitz Lee, Mrs. W. H. F. Lee and her sons, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Nelson Page, Miss Mildred Lee and Mr. Thos. Carter, the bride's brother.

The Manassas Trial. MANASSAS, Va., Mar. 8.—After the GAZETTE's report of the White trial closed yesterday evening the prisoner was arraigned, and refused to plead on the ground that this court had no jurisdiction. The court entered a plea of "not guilty."

The jury was then chosen, the venire being exhausted in getting the requisite number.

At 4:30 an hour's recess was taken, and upon reassembling court adjourned until 10 o'clock this morning and the prisoners were put under guard in the Cannon House. In addition to the guard in the court-room a heavy patrol was kept around the jail.

The case was taken up again this morning at 11 o'clock under the usual military guard. Mr. Thornton made the opening statement, being interrupted several times by the counsel for the defense who objected to any reference being made to the former case. Mrs. Elliott was the first witness and her testimony was the same as the last trial, and many of the audience were visibly affected as she told the story of the brutal outrage that had been perpetrated upon herself and sister-in-law at the dead of night and during the absence of her husband. A rigorous cross examination failed to shake either her evidence or that of Mrs. Hefflin who followed her. Mr. Mayhugh, the neighbor to whom they first gave the alarm, was the next witness and he was followed by Mr. Lion and Mr. Payne. Many of the questions were objected to and the prosecution had all questions that were excepted to ruled out. At one o'clock the prosecution rested the case and court took a recess for an hour, the prisoners being put under guard in the jail. The militiamen are behaving well and all are in good health except Private Harvey Smith who was taken ill last night but is better this morning although still in bed.

Court reassembled at 2:40 and the defense greatly surprised the large crowd by refusing to put a single witness on the stand, and by an agreement of counsel each side took 10 minutes for statements. Mr. Campbell did not ask for acquittal but for 20 years imprisonment and pleaded the youth, ignorance and previous good character of the prisoner. Mr. Jeffries followed him and sustained his reputation for eloquence. At 3:06 the case was given to the jury and at 3:19 the jury brought in a verdict of guilty as indicted and punishment fixed at death. White received the sentence apparently unmoved.

The Light Infantry and the prisoners will return to Alexandria to-night on a special train, arriving there shortly after seven o'clock.

MONETARY AND COMMERCIAL. NEW YORK, Mar. 8.—The selling movement in sugar made further progress after the opening and the stock was forced down to 89 1/2, a decline of 4 1/2 for the first hour of business. The transactions for the time named were 86,392 shares. The story is that the refiners will not get the duty they have been looking for. Houses with Washington connections were the heaviest sellers. The drop in the stock affected the whole list, and near 11 o'clock the market was weak. The decline in the general list ranged from 1/4 to 1 per cent. At 11 a. m. the market was weak.
