CORRECTED INTO MARRIAGE.—A few days ago Mayor Lord, of Vineland, N. J., was called upon to marry a pretty little girl, Tillie Jenone, to Frank Deluca. The mayor was skeptical about the girl's age, but her parents, Rocas Jenone and his wife, said she was 15 years old, and she expressed a willingness to be wedded. Now, the mayor has written to Prosecutor of the Pleas Logue to see if the marriage cannot be annulled, as the child is but fourteen years old. Her brother, Persquali Jenone, a prosperous bottler in Vineland, says she was forced into the alliance, having been locked in a room by her parents for three days when she refused to wed the man who had courted her three weeks. On Saturday last the little bride fled for protection to her school teacher, Miss Jessie Barton. After consulting the girl and offering to keep her if she could, the teacher consulted the mayor and a lawyer. Mayor Lord says he is sorry that he married the couple. Deluca and the parents pursued Tillie to Vineland, and finally, after a long search, located her at the home of the school teacher. The party surrounded the house and the husband demanded the girl. Miss Barton finally decided to give her up, but when she returned to the room Tillie had fled. She was discovered in hiding and her parents took her home. Tillie's brother says her parents threatened her with bodily injury if she refused to live with her husband.

FITZ'S LION ELECTROCUTED.—Bob Fitzsimmons's pet lion came close to being the death of the big puglist at Cleveland, O., last night, but was only the death of himself, although Fitz is seriously injured. After the show at the Star Theatre Fitzsimmons went to a Turkish bathroom and chained his pet on the roof, where there is a sort of roof garden. When he went to remove him about midnight the chain came in contact with an electric wire and the lion received a severe shock. He sprang at Fitzsimmons, but the chain became entangled with the wire and the electric current did its work. Fitz endeavored to free his pet, but only succeeded in burning his hands badly. The night before the lion, in a fit of playfulness, bit his master, and he was again urged by friends to give him up, but replied that he would not sell the beast for $10,000.

APPOMATTOX MILITARY PARK.—A dispatch from Petersburg says: On April 1 Representative Low, of New York, introduced in the House of Representatives a bill to establish Appomattox Park. The bill provides for an appropriation of $250,000 for the purchase of ground for the park. Mr. Edwin Estes, of this State, one of the commissioners appointed to select grounds for the proposed park, was interviewed recently as to the location of the park. He said it would include the battlefields in front of Petersburg, extending from Appomattox river out as far as the National Cemetery in Dinwiddie county. It will also include all the territory between the Baxter Mill road, in Prince George county, and the Norfolk and Western Railroad. Monuments will be erected all through the park to mark the spot where each regiment was engaged in battle just as they were at Gettysburg. All the old breastworks now extant will be preserved, and those that have been demolished will be restored. A soldiers' home and museum, to cost $15,000, will be erected on the Crater farm, where one of the fiercest battles of the war was fought. When the park is finished it will be turned over to the United States government and will be under the control of the Secretary of War.

Marvelous Results.

From a letter written by Rev. J. Ganderman, of Dinwiddie, Mich., we are permitted to make this extract: "I have no hesitation in recommending Dr. King's New Discovery, as the results were almost marvelous in the case of my wife. While I was pastor of the Baptist Church at River Junction she was brought down with pneumonia, succeeding La Grippe. Terrible paroxysms of coughing would last hours with little interruption and it seemed as if she could not survive them. A friend remarked that Dr. King's New Discovery; it was quick in its work and highly satisfactory in result." Trial bottles free at Ernest L. Allen's Drug Store. Regular size 50c and $1.

THE BREATH OF A CHRONIC CATARRH patient is often so offensive that he becomes an object of disgust. After a time ulcers set in, the strong bones are attacked, and frequently destroyed. A constant source of discomfort is the dripping of the purulent secretions into the throat sometimes producing influenza, which has been known to kill. The brilliant results by its use for 30 years properly designate Ely's Cream Balm as by far the best and only cure.

Henry Ward Beecher once informed a man who came to him complaining of gloomy and despondent feelings, that what he most needed was a good cathartic, meaning, of course, such a medicine as Ayer's Cathartic Pills, every dose being effective.

For Over Fifty Years

AN OLD AND WELL-TRIED REMEDY.—Mrs Winslow's Soothing Syrup has been used for over fifty years while teething, with perfect results. It soothes the child, softens the gums, success. It cures pain, cures wind colic, and is the best remedy for Diarrhoea. It is pleasant to the taste. Sold by Druggists in every part of the world. Twenty-five cents a bottle. It is inestimable. Be sure and ask for Dr. Winslow's Soothing Syrup and take no other kind. jan17 eod&w17

BATTLE WITH A GAME BULL.

A bull fight that would have driven a Spanish crowd of spectators wild with delight occurred without previous announcement on the Bishop farm, near Charleston, N. J., Sunday. The beast was finally killed, but before he died he had two fighters, George and Albert Bishop, low with bad horn thrusts. The beast was a big 3-year-old, with a vicious temper, and had caused the Bishops a good deal of trouble. He stood in a field near the barn Sunday. When George entered the inclosure old Taurus made a savage break for him, bellowing wildly and tearing up earth as he ran for the farmer. The latter pluckily stood his ground, although he had nothing with which to defend himself, but his bravery cost him serious injury. The bull caught him and tossed him with terrific force over a fence. The fence proved the farmer's salvation, for the maddened brute made frantic efforts to reach him as he lay groaning on the other side. Albert Bishop hastened to his brother's assistance, carrying a club, but the bull paid no heed to the blows rained upon him. Albert was caught and gored badly in the side. The cries of the brothers reached several farm hands, who ran forward with pitchforks. The angry beast roared terrifically and made desperate lunges at the men who surrounded him with the ugly forks. At every prick of the tines his rage increased, and with his flanks and shoulders streaming with blood he made a bold stand, defying his tormentors. Thus the fight lasted for the larger part of an hour, first the bull and then the farmers gaining advantage. The men were compelled many times to flee for their lives, but they managed finally to drive the bull into a small inclosure. There he was killed. The Bishops were badly hurt and are suffering greatly from shock.
