SMALLPOX BY WAY OF DIVERSION.

In a note to the editor of the Conservative, Nebraska City, Dr. George L. Miller, of Omaha, says:

Something like eighty years before Jenner discovered vaccination, which prevents and modifies the virulence of smallpox, Lady Mary Wortley Montagu introduced inoculation into England. In a letter from Adrianople, dated April 1, (O. S.), 1717, she describes the process of ingrafting smallpox into the flesh of the human system as practiced by a "set of bold women" in that country, who made it their special business to perform the operation "every autumn, in the month of September, when the heat is abated." I quote from her letter as follows:

"Anropos of distempers, I am going to tell a thing that will make you wish yourself here. The smallpox, so fatal among us (in England), is entirely harmless by the invention of ingrafting." Lady Montagu goes on to tell how people "send to one another to know if any of their family have a mind to have the smallpox and ask what veins you wish to have opened." The operation is to put "the best sort of smallpox" into several veins of the arm or leg, not more than can "be on the point of a needle." "The children or young patients play together all the rest of the day and are in perfect health to the eighth. Then the fever begins to seize them and they keep their beds two days, seldom three. They very rarely have but twenty or thirty spots in their faces, which never mark, and in eight days' time they are as well as before their illness. * * * Every year thousands undergo this operation and the French Ambassador says pleasantly that they take smallpox here by way of diversion, as they take the waters in other countries. There is no example of any one who has died with it and you may believe that I am well satisfied of the safety of this experiment, since I intend to try it on my dear little son."

This is the inoculation of our time.—[Omaha Bee.]

TRIED TO TAKE AWAY HER CHILD.

The divorce suit of Corinne Knickerbocker against her husband, William G. Knickerbocker, cashier of the Western Transit Company, came up at White Plains, N. Y., Wednesday in the Supreme Court before Justice Hirschberg. While Mrs. Knickerbocker, her brother-in-law, Ralph G. Knickerbocker, and her 13-year-old daughter Hattie were walking across the Court House lawn preparatory to entering the court a man named Cornell, who is a witness for the defendant, ran up behind Charles G. Knickerbocker and gave him a heavy blow on the head. As Knickerbocker turned around to face his assailant Cornell threw a handful of cayenne pepper in Knickerbocker's face. At the same time a companion of Cornell attempted to seize the child. The mother screamed and lawyers and others who were entering the court house crowded around the mother and daughter. Meanwhile Knickerbocker had cleared his eyes and had closed in with Cornell. There was a fist fight, which was stopped by Court Officer John C. Verplack. Cornell and his companion hurried out of the way.

When the case was brought up in court Mrs. Knickerbocker named a former servant of the family, Mary De Garmo, as a co-respondent. Ralph G. Knickerbocker, who is a pursuer on one of the steamers of the Western Transit Company, is named by the defendant as having been intimate with his wife. Justice Hirschberg reserved decision.

Spreads Like Wildfire.

You can't keep a good thing down. News of it travels fast. When things are "the best" they become "the best selling." Abraham Hare, a leading druggist, of Belleville, O., writes: "Electric Bitters are the best selling bitters I have ever handled in my 20 years experience." You know why? Most diseases begin in disorders of stomach, liver, kidneys, bowels, blood and nerves. Electric Bitters tones up the stomach, regulates liver, kidneys and bowels, purifies the blood, strengthens the nerves, hence cuts suffering afterwards. If you cannot do it, take KODOL Dyspepsia Cure. It digests what you eat, cures all forms of Dyspepsia and Indigestion. Edgar Wardlaw, Jr., corner King and Pitt streets.

MEDICINAL.

Did you ever see a snow storm in summer?

We never did, but we have seen the clothing at this time of the year so covered with dandruff that it looked as if it had been out in a regular snow-storm.

Ayer's Hair Vigor

melt these flakes of dandruff in the scalp. It goes further than this; it prevents their formation. It has still other properties: it will restore color to gray hair in just ten times out of every ten cases.

And it does even more: it feeds and nourishes the roots of the hair. Thin hair becomes thick hair; and short hair becomes long hair.

We have a book on the Hair and Scalp. It is yours, for the asking.

If you do not obtain all the benefits you expected from the use of the Vigor, write the name about it. Productive of some difficulty with our general system which may be easily remedied.

DR. J. C. AYER, Lowell, Mass.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy.

This remedy is intended especially for coughs, colds, croup, whooping cough and influenza. It has become famous for its cures of these diseases, over a large part of the civilized world. The most flattering testimonials have been received, giving accounts of its good works; of the aggravating and persistent coughs it has cured; of severe colds that have yielded promptly to its soothing effects, and of the dangerous attacks of croup it has cured, often saving the life of the child. The extensive use of it for whooping cough has shown that it robs that disease of all dangerous consequences. For sale by J. H. Janney, Druggist, 701 King St.

WINE AND LIQUORS.

As the season of the year when pneumonia, the grippe, sore throat, coughs, colds, catarrh, bronchitis and lung troubles are to be guarded against, nothing is a finer substitute, than Chamberlain's Cough Cure. That is one infallible remedy for all lung, throat or bronchial troubles. Insist vigorously upon having it if "something else" is offered you. Edgar Wardlaw, Jr., corner King and Pitt streets.

G. O. TAYLOR WHISKIES

Beware of imitations and diluted bottles of G. O. Taylor's Bourbon and Pure Rye Whisky. Ask for the "G. O. Taylor" and insist upon having it. It is "the leader" and physicians so regard it. C. H. Graves & Sons, Sole Proprietors, Boston, Mass., supply it to licensed dealers everywhere.
