MEDICINAL.

"WHIZ!! WALK A MILE"

Is a laconic definition of a toboggan ride. It's quick work going down the slide, but it's a long climb back to the starting point. It is very much that way with health; it is quickly lost and slowly regained. When the first symptoms of failing health appear, proper care may prevent the descent to utter weakness and debility. Usually the complication of disorders known as general debility has its origin in a diseased condition of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition. These diseases are perfectly cured by the use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It cures through the stomach disorders which have their origin in a diseased condition of the stomach.

There is no alcohol in the "Discovery," neither opium, cocaine nor other narcotic. "I was all run down; had no strength; had sharp darting pains all through me; head and back ached every day," writes Mrs. Frank Caswell, of Salamanca, N. Y. "I was also troubled with a distressed feeling in the stomach and pain in front of the hip bones. I had a severe cough and it nearly killed me to draw a long breath. I was so sore through my lungs. "I wrote to Dr. Pierce and my symptoms as near as I could. He sent me a very kind letter, advising me to try his medicine, which I did, and before I had taken them a week, I was decidedly better. I took two bottles of the "Golden Medical Discovery" and two of the "Pain-Expeller" and am sure I never felt better in my life than when I quit taking them." For Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are a cure for biliousness.

MAN TURNING TO STONE.

George W. Lewis, of Cross Keys, N. J., is gradually turning to stone, and might in one sense be called a walking monument. Mr. Lewis, who is forty-five years old, realizes that there is little hope for him, and is making the best possible use of what little time there may be yet for him in which to move about. His case is a remarkable one, and has thus far baffled the skill of many physicians of New Jersey and Pennsylvania.

Mr. Lewis about seven years ago found that his fingers were beginning to get stiff and that he could move them only with a difficulty. The stiffness began to move up his arms, and soon from the elbow down, the flesh began to harden.

The arms are now useless. The skin is drawn tightly over the bones, the sinews are contracted and the hands are like marble. The prick of a pin or needle is not felt, neither does a cut show any blood whatever. In fact, Mr. Lewis has little blood, and his flesh is nearly white, with a marble cast.

Mr. Lewis' feet and lower limbs began to stiffen and harden two years ago, and also are gradually becoming useless. The skin on his face is also drawing tightly over the bones and at the present rate of progress of the disease, Mr. Lewis says, he will soon turn to stone.

Mr. Lewis attributes his condition primarily to nervous trouble, but is not positive on this point. He was an inveterate smoker some years ago, and thinks this may have been the cause of his nervousness. While he still suffers from nervous trouble he believes his condition in this respect is not so bad as it was two years ago.

Another remarkable fact about Mr. Lewis is that he does not sleep, and, indeed, does not seem to need it. For weeks at a time he does not close his eyes. During the day his attention is occupied by happenings at his store, and at night he sits up and reads. He says he has gone a month without a moment's sleep.

Before his feet began to stiffen, and in summer weather, he would go out for walks at all hours of the night. He now eats as little as he sleeps; is never hungry, and can go several days without food.

Mr. Lewis has been in several hospitals, where, after, thorough examination, he has been told there is no hope for him. Neither could the doctors enlighten him as to his condition.

Mr. Lewis' mind is not affected in the least. He is a ready conversationalist, and is well versed on topics of the day.

WANTED HIS PRESENTS BACK.

Quite a ripple of excitement was occasioned at the Bow County Court, London, last week by a man who, having been jilted by the lady of his choice after he had purchased many of their household goods, proceeded to bare his grief in rhyme. To the amusement of those in the courtroom the sorrowing wain said: "I bought the goods, the house to pack she broke it off, my goods I now want back." Despite the plaintiff's unique manner of pleading his case, the unfeeling judge cruelly decided that the lady need not return the gifts involved. The unexpected verdict completely overwhelmed the unhappy man for a few moments, and then he said: "Why, your Honor, for three long years we courted, and then she threw me over," and was ready to spring more in a similar strain, but the stern judge just then cried, "silence!" and the man was hurried from the room.

LOST $11,000 AT STUD POKER.

Bookmaker Donald Mitchell, who operates at race tracks, played stud poker one night last week in San Francisco and when he left the table he was $11,000 to the bad. Two other bookmakers, Billy Shannon and Joe Harlan, were in the game, and they divided Mitchell's money between them. The bookmaker's set down after dinner and the click of the chips was heard all night. The ante was $25, but this was a small item compared with some of the bets made while the cards were being turned. Mitchell had two pairs beaten several times, and each time it cost him a bunch. Harlan took several raises of $200 on almost nothing, got his card and came back heavily. Mitchell made a fortune running a gambling house at Dawson and thought he could beat any one in San Francisco at stud poker, but Shannon and Harlan made him change his opinion.

THE QUEEN'S WILL.—A dispatch from Cowes says: The Queen's will has been opened. Her wishes regarding the funeral have been learned and will be carried out to the letter. The amount of her private fortune will be kept a state secret. The Princess Beatrice is the principal beneficiary. It is reported that the will provides for the payment of the Prince of Wales's debts, and it is believed these amount to a million or more pounds. It will be read by the King and other members of the royal family. Princess Beatrice gets Osborne House and a considerable share of the estate. The Duke of Connaught gets Balmoral Castle and the Scottish estates.

The Mother's Favorite.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is the mother's favorite. It is pleasant and safe for children to take and always cures. It is intended especially for coughs, colds, croup and whooping cough, and is the best medicine made for these diseases. There is not the least danger in giving it to children for it contains no opium or other injurious drug and may be given as confidently to a babe as to an adult. For sale by Richard Gibson, druggist.

A remedy for Nasal Catarrh which is drying and exciting to the diseased membrane should not be used. What is needed is that which is cleansing, soothing, protecting and healing. Such a remedy is Ely's Cream Balm. Price 50 cents at drug stores, or it will be mailed by Ely Brothers, 56 Warren street, New York. The Balm when placed into the nostrils spreads over the membrane and is absorbed. A cold in the head vanishes quickly.

Persons who suffer from indigestion can expect to live long, because the exact food required to nourish the body and the promoters of the undigested foods they eat poison the blood. It is important to cure indigestion as soon as possible, and the best method of doing this is to use the preparation known as Kodol Dyspepsia Cure. It digests what you eat and restores all the digestive organs to perfect health.
