WEATHER PROBABILITIES.—For this section, fair tonight and Thursday; light variable winds.

SHOT BY A COLORED MAN.—Considerable excitement was caused throughout the city early last night by a report which rapidly spread to the effect that Wilmer L. Griffin, a well-known young man, son of Policeman James Griffin, had committed suicide. It was soon learned, however, that such was not the case, but that he had probably been fatally shot by a colored man named Robert Johnson, watchman at the John Hay Industrial School, in the extreme northern part of the city, and that the shooting was the result of an attack made on Hopkins by Griffin at the southeast corner of Duke and Washington streets. Griffin has been of late addicted to periodical sprees, and yesterday it is said he was drinking at intervals all day. Shortly before 7 o'clock he left the house of his mother-in-law, Mrs. Turner, 424 south Washington street, with Samuel Cuvillier and a youth named Joseph Lawler. When Griffin was in front of the Washington Public School he discarded his coat, and upon arriving at the intersection of Washington and Duke streets he met Hopkins. Without any apparent cause Hopkins became aggressive, demanding Hopkins' name and occupation. Hopkins told his name and stated that he was the watchman at the John Hay School. Griffin then struck him a violent blow which knocked him down and stunned him for about two minutes. Hopkins revived and regained his feet when Griffin followed him up. Hopkins claims he threatened to kill him and Griffin's companions attempted to take him away. He broke from them and again ran up at Hopkins, who drew a pistol and fired. Hopkins then left the scene of the fracas, going to the home of Magnus Robinson on south Washington street. Griffin was immediately picked up by several people who happened to be in the vicinity and was taken into the office occupied by the late O. C. Whitley. The police station was at once notified by telephone of the shooting and Policeman Bettis was shortly afterward on the scene. A wagon was summoned and Griffin was placed in the wagon and conveyed to the infirmary. At the infirmary Dr. Purvis pronounced the bullet wound was under the influence of the ball was bandaged up and the patient was placed under the influence of the doctor thinks that in his course it passed the stomach. Griffin was in a dazed condition when shot, and did not seem to know who shot him. He at first told several conflicting stories. He did not give a very clear account of the affair. Mr. Griffin is twenty-eight years of age and conducts a dairy at the northwest corner of Prince and Fayette streets. He is a son of Policeman Jas. Griffin and is well known in this city. He lives at the above named corner with his wife. Hopkins is about fifty-five years of age and is well known in this city. He is considered harmless and inoffensive. J. D. Damon and S. C. Cline, who board at Mrs. Turner's, 424 south Washington street, corroborate the account given above. These two men were nearby when the shooting occurred. A crowd gathered at the station house this morning when it was supposed the Mayor would examine into the matter. Material witnesses, however, were absent and at the request of Capt. G. A. Muebach, counsel for Hopkins, the examination was postponed to November 2. Griffin's condition was unchanged this morning.

CHARGED WITH ROBBERY FROM THE PERSON.—Robert Johnson, colored, was arrested this morning charged with robbery from the person. It is alleged that he took money, a breastpin and a watch from W. S. Doman while the latter was asleep. The case will be examined by the Mayor tomorrow morning.

DEATH OF MRS. LEACHMAN.—Mrs. Bettie Leachman, wife of Mr. Thomas Leachman, died this morning at her home near Wellington, Prince William county, aged 78 years. She was Miss Lewis and had a host of relatives and friends in this section of the State. She leaves a husband and several children.

LOCAL BREVITIES. A 30-foot sloop, with all sails set, bearing the name Alexandria, was found on the beach near Old Point by a colored man yesterday. It is believed that the occupants of the boat were drowned. A number of beer bottles were found in the sloop.

Two young women were before the Mayor this morning, one charged with obtaining goods under false pretenses and the other with abusive language. It was a family jar and the accused were dismissed with an admonition.

Faonie Kimball, a resident of north Lee street, was before the Mayor this morning charged with vulgar and abusive language toward certain neighbors. She was fined $5.

Norman, the eleven-months-old son of Mr. Charles Haines, died at his parents' residence, on north Royal street, yesterday.

Eight lodgers were at the station house last night. The will of Basil B. Gordon was admitted to probate in Baltimore yesterday. His brother, Douglas H. Gordon is named as executor. He leaves $5,000 each to his two sons and brother-in-law, $5,000 to his friend, Mr. A. H. Taylor formerly of this city. One third of the residue of the estate was left to his widow and the other two-thirds to his children.

The Metropolitan Museum of Art will now get about $5,000,000. A half million is left for the lawyers and the State. The relatives contested the will and they claim that Rogers and his two brothers agreed to keep their wealth in the family. They say the brothers kept the contract at their deaths.

General Lee will arrive there today and review the regiment tonight in the armory. Thursday afternoon he will receive an informal dinner in the Democratic club, and be taken to Daly's Theatre Thursday night, and Wallace's Friday night. A pumpkin raised by Mr. Geo. Auld in Fairfax county, near this city, and shown in the office yesterday, weighed 70 pounds.

The President at Yale. New Haven, Conn., Oct. 23.—New Haven and Yale today greeted President Roosevelt. Over a hundred years ago Yale bid welcome to P. Sident Washington, and other President have since come to New Haven. After a quiet day in Farmington, at the home of his sister, the President came to the scene of bustle and excitement. Crowds pressed for a glimpse of him as slowly to the procession of academic notables he wended his way, arm in arm with the President of Yale to the Hyperion, where at noon Yale bestowed upon him the degree of LL. D.

New Haven, Conn., Oct. 23.—On the arrival of President Roosevelt at the station a big crowd was gathered to greet him. The police had made arrangements to prevent any one getting within unpleasant distance. As the President stepped from his car, he was greeted by Mayor Studley and President Hadley of Yale, who welcomed him and escorted him to the carriage. As a guard of honor, the entire second regiment, the Governor's Foot Guards, and the Governor's Horse Guards were drawn up in front of the station. Headed by the band the procession started for the campus. The streets were crowded with cheering citizens whom the President was obliged frequently to salute. The mounted police rode near the President's carriage. At the Phelps Gateway the President was greeted by members of the Corporation. The party proceeded directly across the campus to Dwight Hall, where President Roosevelt donned the academic robes, preparatory to taking part in the Centennial Commemorative function at the Hyperion. Shortly after 10 o'clock the academic procession to the Hyperion was begun. The militia companies had formed in two lines as a guard of honor on Elm street and the procession passed out of the Elm street gateway and moved to the green, diagonally across the square, back to the Phelps Gateway and through the campus again to the Hyperion. President Hadley and President Roosevelt occupied seats together on the front of the platform, the remainder of those in the procession being seated in order.

Shortly after eleven o'clock the ceremonials began with the rendition of an overture. President Hadley, introduced Edmund Clarence Stedman, the poet, who read the memorial poem. President Hadley introduced Justice Brewer, of the United States Supreme Court who delivered the commemorative address.

At the appointed time the President took his position in front of President Hadley and the assemblage arose while he degree of Doctor of Laws was formally conferred upon him with appropriate remarks. President Roosevelt, after receiving the parchment, made a suitable response in which he freely referred to Yale for its encouragement during his struggles in life.

Czizgoz. Auburn, N. Y., Oct. 23.—Invitation to witness the electrocution of Czizgoz will be issued by Warden Meade in a day or two. The Warden has the list ready. He is daily besieged by requests from women to witness the death scene. A Polish priest visited Czizgoz yesterday at the request of the priest and the assassin proved unsatisfactory to both. The assassin said that he had abandoned the church early in life and had lost all faith in its teachings. Czizgoz refused to witness anarchy. The priest left him with the understanding that if he would renounce anarchy he would return and give him the consolation of the church.

Czizgoz sat silently in his cell today pondering over the advice given him yesterday by the Polish priest he had summoned. It is plainly evident that he is greatly worried over his spiritual welfare. To heed the words of the priest he must accept Christianity, and that means the principles of anarchy must be renounced. There is every evidence that he is in terror of death, but he is still inclined to cling to the anarchistic theories.
