

MEDICINAL.

Well Preserved

Women often astonish new acquaintances, who are introduced to a large family of strong boys and healthy girls, who call this young looking woman mother. It is popularly supposed that maternity is the foe of beauty, and the worn and faded face of many a mother seems to warrant the belief. But it is hard to believe that nature should compel a woman to sacrifice the rightful dower of her beauty in order to carry out a natural function of her being. And nature does not. The pains and sufferings incident to motherhood, to a large extent, unnatural.

This is proved by the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, which prevents and cures nausea, tranquilizes the nerves, encourages the appetite, induces refreshing sleep, and makes the baby's advent practically painless.

Mrs. Orrin Bates, of Downing, Dunn Co., Wis., writes: "I have been intending to write to you ever since my baby was born in regard to what your 'Favorite Prescription' has done for me. I cannot praise it enough, for I have not been as well for five years as I am now. In July last I had a baby boy, weight 11 lbs., and I was only sick a short time, and since I got up have not had one sick day. I have not had any uterine trouble since I got up. I was not only surprised myself but all my friends here are surprised to see me so well."

"Favorite Prescription" has the testimony of thousands of women to its complete cure of womanly diseases. Do not accept an unknown and unproved substitute in its place.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets clear the complexion and sweeten the breath.

GOV. TYLER'S MESSAGE.

As has been stated in the Gazette, the annual message of Gov. J. Hoge Tyler was sent to both branches of the General Assembly yesterday. It is a lengthy document and, as it is the Governor's last message, he reviews the four years of his administration, which, he says, have been filled with rapidly changing and important events in national affairs. He refers to the work of the constitutional convention and expresses the confident hope that the result of its labors will be to give a new impetus to the growth and development of the Commonwealth.

The financial affairs of the State, the Governor says, show a most gratifying improvement in the last four years. The State debt has been removed as a subject for legislative consideration. The total receipts in the State Treasury for this year amounted to $3,445,508, and the expenses were $3,024,537, leaving a surplus of over $400,000. The increased revenue was not derived from an increased tax on land, but comes from increased values.

The total debt of the State outstanding is $26,820,280, of which the century and Kildisberger bonds, or $24,295,824, bear interest at the rate of 3 per cent, and the remainder at the rate of 4 and 6 per cent. Deducting the bonds held by the literary fund, the debt is $21,500,768.

The Governor points with gratification to the work of the State Board of Fisheries, which demonstrates that the State has at last adopted a plan that is not only the best from a financial standpoint, but one that is eminently wise and just for the management of her great fish and oyster interests.

During the three and a half years of the operation of the law the net revenue to the State to October 1, 1901, was $103,572, which is an average of $29,506 per year, while for the four years preceding its enactment the average annual net revenue was only $3,686.

The last year under the old system netted a loss of $1,808.

There has been a large increase in the number of students at the educational institutions, and the different hospitals show an increase in the number of patients cared for. He recommends that the number of members for the boards of these institutions be made five instead of nine.

The fiscal affairs of the penitentiary are in a most satisfactory condition. The sanitary arrangements at the institution demand improvement, and if the penitentiary is to remain where it is at present located additional cell room is imperative. The Governor is convinced that it would be best for the State to sell the site of the present penitentiary and buy a large tract of land on which to erect buildings, and makes such a recommendation. The conditional pardon system continues to work satisfactorily.

Repairs to the State Capitol are earnestly urged, and they should be made as early as possible.

The Governor says the order of the State has been good, and it is a gratifying fact that the prevalence of that menace to civilization—mob law—has been notably less. With the exception of one or two localities the people of the State have been law-abiding and peaceful.

The strength of the uniformed State Guard is 2,334 officers and men. The volunteers are now much better and more completely equipped than they have ever been before in their history, having during the year been supplied with every necessary for service at home or in the field. The unattached companies of infantry it has been his purpose to form into another regiment as soon as a sufficient number of such companies were organized.

The appropriation made by the State for military purposes, and which constitutes what is known as "the military fund," amounts to about $11,000 per year. While the military force is now well organized, composed of excellent material, and is armed, equipped and in every way more abundantly supplied than it has ever been before, yet in the interests of discipline and of more thorough and advanced instruction it is believed that there should be an enlargement each year of the entire force of the State, and it is earnestly recommended that the subject of making suitable provision for such an enlargement be given serious consideration.

A great many valuable statistics have been compiled by the Bureau of Labor and Industrial Statistics and the department promises to be of great usefulness to the State.

In connection with primary elections the Governor says: "I respectfully call attention to the recommendation I made to the last legislature on the subject of electing United States Senators by direct vote of the people. I also earnestly recommend the enactment of a general primary election law, to embrace such officers as may be deemed expedient, so that the people have every safeguard they have in general elections to insure an honest count of their vote; otherwise these primaries will be in the hands of officials who have no legal responsibility for a dishonest administration of their office."

The legislature is asked to make pro-
