A DISMAL TWENTY-SECOND.

The weather today has been exceedingly uncomfortable, and those who had anticipated the Twenty-second of February in which outdoor programmes were doomed to disappointment.

The falling weather of yesterday continued throughout the night and the streets this morning were covered with snow and water, or, as rivermen call it, "snow brot." By yesterday afternoon the intersections of many streets were almost impassable except to those wearing gum boots or others who were willing to wade.

On some streets the water overflowed the gutters and was washed with the pavements, and encroached upon the "crowns" in the center of the thoroughfares.

The water in many gutters rushed as strong as that in mill-races and roared as it poured into the sewers. By night the conditions grew worse. The rain continued to fall, while the wind came in fitful blasts from the northeast and cloud chased cloud about the heavens.

The streets were almost deserted, only an occasional pedestrian being seen, and he or she was making laborious strides, slipping, sliding and jumping gutters in proceeding homeward.

The trams on the electric railway caused balls of fire to emanate from the wires, and the electricity snapped and danced almost all the time the cars were in motion.

The loom, dreary night brought no relief and this morning it was seen that the conditions were in no wise different from those prevailing when people fell asleep. Rain was still falling, the wind was holding from the same unpropitious quarter and the gutters and streets were flooded.

There was a split of snow about 12 o'clock. Business throughout the day has been materially interfered with, and comparatively few people have been moving about. As is the custom in this city, the bells of the city were rung at noon in respect to the memory of Washington.

REINICKER LECTURES.—The first course of Reinicker lectures for the season of 1901-'02 will take place at the Theological Seminary, and will be delivered on Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday, February 24th, 25th, and 26th, in the Seminary chapel.

The second course of lectures will be delivered by the Rev. Francis L. Patton, D. D., president of Princeton University. The subject will be announced later.

KILLED BY A TRAIN.—Pleas Hayes, colored while walking along the tracks of the Southern Railway Company near Clifton station was struck by northbound passenger train No. 36, and fatally injured. The accident occurred at 8 o'clock last night.

FLAG RAISING.—Under the auspices of Mary Washington Council, Daughters of America, a flag was raised on the school house in West End, at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon. The ladies were assisted in their work by Mount Vernon Council, and three councils of Junior Order of United American Mechanics of this city.

NEGRO LABORER DROWNED.—The body of William Washington, a negro laborer who fell from the deck of the tug J. O. Carter, one of the fleet engaged in clearing the river of ice, about 1 o'clock yesterday morning and was drowned opposite Jones's Point Light-house, has not been recovered, although efforts were made to do so.

JIM CROW CARS.—Many street railway men of the State were in Richmond yesterday to oppose the bill of Mr. Catton, of Alexandria, providing for separate cars on all the trolley lines in Virginia.

DEATH OF A FORMER RESIDENT. Coroner Nevitt investigated the circumstances attending the death of Matilda Cross, at 810 Four-and-a-half street southwest, Washington, at an early hour yesterday morning.

NAME CHANGED.—The legislature yesterday by action of the Senate re-enacted the act of incorporation of the John Hay Normal and Industrial School. It will hereafter be known as the William McKinley Normal and Industrial School.

POLICE COURT.—In the Police Court this morning the case of Mills, Richards and Bright, three young white men, and a colored man named Grady, suspected of robbing Mr. E. F. Tucker's store, was continued until Monday morning.

THE MARKET.—The market this morning was very slimly attended by both buyers and sellers. Eggs were being held at 40c a dozen and butter at 30c a pound.

PERSONAL.—Mrs. Margaret Gentry is quite sick at her home, on North Payne street. Her son, Captain Gentry, is also sick with the grippe.

LOCAL BREVITIES. Revival meetings continue at the Free Methodist Church. The solicitor in Washington states that the anti-smoke act does not exempt government buildings from its operation.

WIRE DOWN.—While the prevailing weather has not materially damaged telegraph wires in this city, the running of Alexandria to Richmond, Lynchburg and other points south have in many instances been prostrated and much inconvenience has resulted.

HOUSE ON FIRE.—A house occupied by Mr. Arthur Ball on the Samuel Stone farm, in Fairfax county, near this city, now belonging to Mr. John A. Marshall, caught fire Thursday, and for a time there was a likelihood that it would be consumed.

THE RIVER has undergone a marked change since yesterday. Instead of masses of moving ice in the channel the stream proper in front of the city is clear sheet of water.

MASONIC BANQUET.—Alexandria Washington Lodge of Masons will give their usual banquet in honor of their 100th birthday on Monday night, February 24th, at the Hotel Richmond.

STUCK BY A LIMB.—Mr. Harry Brown, engineer on the Manassas branch of the Southern Railway, was painfully injured on the head last night while on an engine running between Lorton and Markham.
