THE POTOMAC.—Advices received yesterday afternoon and last night showed a second rise in the Shenandoah and upper Potomac. At Cumberland the rise during the day was about six feet. The Weather Bureau report at Harper's Ferry reported that a serious rise was indicated. The rise was expected to reach Harper's Ferry about midnight and was expected at Alexandria this morning. Should the rise in the Shenandoah be as great as indicated, the water was expected to reach a higher stage than on Thursday. The river front and parts of Union street were quagmires this morning from the effects of yesterday's high tide and rains. Chips, fragments of bark, &c., were to be seen well into Union street at several places, where they had been left by flood. The tide did not make as high during the night as had been anticipated, nor did it reach the mark attained yesterday at noon. The current is still strong in the channel and the tide made high again today, but it is thought the water is over. The steamer Washington, which arrived up this morning from Norfolk, reported encountering the current from the mouth of the river up. Up to midnight the river had not risen to the flooring of the Long Bridge. The water rushed beneath the bridge about a foot beneath the flooring, and surged in and out of the supports of the structure at a great rate. The highest point reached by the water at Washington, as announced last night at 9 o'clock, was seven and one-eighth feet above the usual level. From each a rise the water fell during yesterday afternoon a little over one foot.

WHISTLEBLOWING.—Shortly after eleven o'clock last night many people were awakened and those who were awake had their attention attracted by the whistle of a locomotive which sent forth a steady blast for about thirty minutes. As it showed no indication of stopping, most people supposed a fire had broken out and listened for the whistle and bell-ringing incident to such occasions. One of the fire engines, however, proceeded westward to the neighborhood of the Southern Railway, the direction from which the sound was coming, but found no fire, but learned that the whistle of one of the passenger engines had gotten deranged and could not be shut off. Passenger train No. 37 left Alexandria at 11:10 o'clock, and when it approached the first crossing the whistle was sounded, but when the engineer attempted to close the valve he found himself powerless to do so. The train kept on a short distance when it was stopped and every endeavor was made to silence the prolonged blast. The Chesapeake and Ohio passenger train was to follow in a few minutes, and it was determined to sidetrack the Southern train and allow the former to go by. The whistle in the meantime continued its hoarse blast, with no indications of coming to a stop until all the steam was out of the boiler. In the meantime messages were sent to the depot and another locomotive, No. 307, was sent to the rescue. This engine was attached to the train and it proceeded south about half an hour late. The whistling engine was taken to the depot and finally silenced.

THE RAILROADS.—Trains on the Washington-Southern Railway are arriving and departing about on time, the recent rains, so far, not having materially interfered with traffic. The Southern Railway is intact as far as Danville. At different points South, however, floods and high winds have caused trouble and north bound trains are more or less late in arriving here. The Washington and Ohio Railroad has suffered no material damage and trains are running without interruption. The trains on the electric railway are running today on time. The bridge at Riverton, on the Manassas Branch of the Southern Railway, has been damaged, and passengers are being transferred at that point.

STREAMBOAT BURNED.—The steamboat Florence which had been burned on the Delaware river was running at her dock Thursday night near the Delaware and Baritan Canal locks at Bordentown, N. J. The origin of the fire is unknown. It belonged to the Philadelphia and Philadelphia Transportation Company. The loss is said to be $10,000, partly insured. The Florence at one time ran on the route between Alexandria and Washington.

STOPS THE COUGH AND WORKS OFF THE COLD. Laxative Bromo-Quinine Tablets cure a cold in one day. No Cure, No Pay. Price 25 cents.

PERSONAL.—Miss Annie Richardson, daughter of Representative Richardson of Alabama, is visiting the Misses Lindsey, at their home on Braddock Heights. After a pleasant visit of several weeks to friends in Alexandria and Washington, Miss Annie Lindsey has returned to Leesburg.—Leesburg Record. Mrs. Stephen Swain, who has been recently indisposed at her home on Wolfe street, is improving. Mrs. Margaret Gentry, who was recently confined to her home by sickness, is improving. Mrs. Mary E. Glover has been confined to the house, 420 south Washington street, by sickness during the past week or ten days. Rev. O. F. Obermeyer of St. Louis, Mo., is visiting relatives in this city, and will preach the German service in the Lutheran Church tomorrow morning. Mr. J. Fred Birrell has been appointed substitute clerk at the postoffice in this city. Mrs. Wm. H. McQueen is confined to her home on north Alfred street by sickness. Mr. John A. Griffin is confined to his home on Duke street by sickness. Mr. Griffin is probably the oldest printer in Alexandria, having worked in the Gazette composing room half a century ago. General William H. Payne, of Warrenton, spent Tuesday and yesterday in the city. On Tuesday he was the guest of Senator Daniel. General Payne was accompanied by his son, and the two left yesterday afternoon on their return to Warrenton.—(Lynchburg Advertiser.)

CHARLES N. CURTIS, son of Mr. Norman Curtis, is very sick with typhoid pneumonia at his home, 1806 Duke street extended (West End). The Spanish War Hall Association held a meeting at the Hotel Apich yesterday. After the transaction of business of a private nature and participating in an elaborate dinner, the members, about thirty in number, returned to Washington. Mr. John Dove, living in lower Fairfax court, left home this morning with a load of wood for this city. His team stuck in the mud a few miles below this city and he had to throw the wood into the road in order to release his wagon. Rev. C. M. Sanford, of Allentown, Pa., and Rev. S. E. Davis, of Coma, Pa., are assisting at the protracted meetings in the Free Methodist Church. Meetings tonight and tomorrow at 11 a. m. and 2:30 p. m. Love feast at 7:30 p. m. Rev. John Cavanaugh was reinforced this morning by a brother itinerant who operated on a concertina. They appeared on King street, in Market alley, and at other points during the morning. Among those reported killed in the Colorado snow slide at John Fort, and it is feared by his relatives here is John Powell, a son of the late Cuthbert Powell, formerly of this city. Mr. George Mortimer, living near Ballston, Alexandria county, died yesterday. He leaves a widow and ten children. He deceased was a brother-in-law of Policeman James Howson. A meeting of the Association for the restoration of historic Alexandria was held yesterday evening at Miss Burke's Studio, but no business of importance was transacted. Owing to the late inclement weather the discount sale at Tackett, Baker & Co.'s will be continued until nine o'clock Monday night. Mr. J. W. Green has sold to Mr. Henry Bader a lot in the rear of the latter's store on King street for $350. A postoffice has been established at Alexandria County Court House, under the name of "Overlook."

Work on the new road house at the Southern Railway depot in this city has been commenced. Mary Mason, colored, aged 23 years, died at her home, 608 Gibbon street, yesterday. The ferryboat Belle Haven has resumed her trips between this city and Washington. March came in like a lamb and—look out for squalls. The boys are inaugurating kite-time.

WILL PROBATED.—The will of the late Mr. Beool Wheat was admitted to probate today. The deceased, after making bequests of certain furniture, silverware, jewelry, &c., to his two children, and leaving his interest in certain real estate in this city to them, divides the remainder of his estate into three equal parts, leaving one part each to his widow and two children. He names his son, Mr. H. F. Wheat, as executor, and directs that no inventory be made and no bond required. The estate is valued at $55,000, and Mr. H. Wheat today gave his personal bond in the sum of $75,000, when he qualified as executor.

NARROW ESCAPE.—What might have proved a serious conflagration was narrowly averted at 322 north Patrick street yesterday, the premises occupied by Mr. William Arnold. Some clothes which had been ironed were on a rack near a hot stove, and a little child who had just learned to walk being left in the room either fell against the rack or pushed it on the stove. The clothes took fire and when discovered the flames had reached the ceiling. They were extinguished after considerable difficulty, but not until much of the woodwork of the room had been damaged.

WOULDN'T OPEN THE HATCHES.—A small schooner, the first for several weeks, arrived here yesterday with a load of oysters. When it was noised around a number of would-be customers repaired to the wharf anxious to replenish their stocks. To their disappointment and chagrin, the captain positively refused to open the hatches, giving as the reason for his singular procedure that it was Friday, an unlucky day, and he did not propose to tempt Providence. The customers were compelled to wait until this morning for supplies.

THE MARKET.—There were more people in market this morning than on last Saturday, the weather being more propitious. The attendance, however, on the part of buyers and sellers was not so numerous. The supplies were about equal to the demand, and prices were about unchanged, except for eggs, which declined to from 25 to 30 cents a dozen.

FARMER'S CLUB NOTES.—On account of the inclement weather there was no meeting of the Woodlawn Farmers Club on the 22d instant, at Sherwood Hall, though quite a number of young folks gathered there and a pleasant evening was spent in spite of the storm. The time and place of the March meeting will be announced later.

GREAT CLEARANCE SALE OF ladies' wrappers at Schwarz's, 518 King street, next week. This is your chance, you cannot afford to let this opportunity go by. Read their advertisement, its to your interest.

THE GAS PLANT.—The chairman of the committee on light last night called a meeting of that committee to meet Mr. Frank Goldborough, formerly of this city, but now of New York, who wished to present a proposition, looking to the purchase by New York capitalists of the gas plant in this city. Mr. Goldborough was unable to reach here, however, on account of illness, and the meeting was postponed. So far as known the city has no intention of selling the plant.

PROPERTY SALES.—Mr. S. H. Lent sold at auction today the privileges of the fish wharf for the ensuing season to Mr. Theo. Ballenger for $350. Capt. R. F. Knox sold at auction today the Rodgers property situated on the east side of Lee street, between Prince and Duke streets, to Mr. John R. Zimmerman for $1,800.

A colored man who gave his name as L. Jackson was arrested this morning for assaulting a white boy named Charles Irby with a brick. Jackson left $10 collateral for his appearance Monday.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

There was more rain, some thunder and lightning last night, but they did no rage long, and later the temperature fell slightly. This morning broke fair and pleasant. A young man was fined five dollars in the Police Court this morning for drunken and disorderly conduct. It was a chronic charge against the defendant, and in default of payment he will probably be sent to the workhouse. During the burning of Shadrach Jackson's house on south Fairfax street Wednesday night two sets of communion services were destroyed. One belonged to Zion Church and the other to a colored congregation in another part of the city. The literary department of the Epworth League of the Methodist Episcopal Church South held a meeting in the lecture room of that church last night. Brief addresses were made by members of the league and vocal solos were rendered by Miss Rebecca Pollard and Mr. Kenneth Ogden. The survey for the double track of the Richmond, Fredericksburg and Potomac Railroad has been begun. Engineers are now at work on the route between Richmond and Ashland, and have completed their work as far as Glen Allen. This is the beginning of the survey for the entire road from Richmond to Quantico.

The Spanish War Hall Association held a meeting at the Hotel Apich yesterday. After the transaction of business of a private nature and participating in an elaborate dinner, the members, about thirty in number, returned to Washington. Mr. John Dove, living in lower Fairfax court, left home this morning with a load of wood for this city.
