flag in those islands, and the flag will stay there. * * * Where wrong had been done by anyone, the wrongdoer shall be punished. This of course, so far as Mr. Roosevelt is concerned, will dampen all hopes which the Filipinos entertained of acquiring their independence—that for which they have been at war with Spain for centuries.

FROM WASHINGTON

Correspondence of the Alexandria Gazette, Washington, D. C., May 3

Senator Hoar, though old, is as lively as ever and wants no public business transacted unless he is on hand. He wished to be absent from Washington for about a week and introduced a resolution providing for an adjournment of the Senate from the first of the month to the sixth for "spring cleaning purposes." The Sergeant at Arms said he had no idea of doing any extensive spring cleaning and much to Senator Hoar's surprise the resolution was not voted upon but was allowed to die in committee.

It is said here that President Roosevelt wants his secretary, George Cortelyou, to be a member of his Cabinet, and will tender him the secretaryship of the Department of Commerce if it is established by Congress. The President is anxious that the bill creating the new department shall become law, and the republican leaders of both houses have assured him that they will push the bill.

Sergeant Halleck of the 26th Infantry was before the Senate committee investigating affairs in the Philippines this morning. He testified to witnessing the infliction of the water cure on twelve natives. They had been accused of roasting a U. S. Soldier over a slow fire whom they afterwards beheaded, and under the water cure torture made a confession.

The President today sent to the Senate the nomination of H. Clay Evans, of Tennessee, to be Consul General of the United States at London.

Minister Conger sent the State Department the following cablegram today from Peking: "There are serious disturbances in the southern portion of Pe-Chih. Imperial troops have been sent to the scene. The Viceroy, however, has sent a force deemed sufficient to suppress the disorder."

General Chaffee sent to the War Department today announcements of the surrender of different Filipino leaders and their commands. The general says the largest force now opposing the U. S. troops, which he estimates to be about 10,000 men are in Leyte.

The first thing in order, in the House after the adjournment of the Senate Monday, will be the consideration of the bill admitting New Mexico, Arizona and Oklahoma to statehood. There is much opposition to this measure on the republican side but it is expected that the bill will pass the House. The Senate will be expected to hold it up quietly, but effectively. The bill providing for the coinage of subsidiary coin from the bullion sent apart for the coinage of silver dollars will follow.

The House passed the anti-conspiracy bill reported from the judiciary committee without a word of debate. It came up rather unexpectedly under the consideration of the bill for the District of Columbia appropriation bill had been disposed of. Mr. Littlefield, of Maine, who had filed a minority report on the bill and who had intended to offer some amendments, came in just as it was put upon its passage, and the vote was taken before he understood what was going on. The amendment providing for the enforcement of the personal tax law of the District of Columbia passed in 1878 was placed on the District appropriation bill as a rider, and the bill was passed. The bill to provide diplomatic and consular officers for the republic of Cuba also was passed, as was the bill to regulate injunctions. The bill regulating the island of passports to residents of special order, in the opinion of changing the date of the President's inauguration was further discussed by the House judiciary committee yesterday, but no decision was reached.

THE MEMORIAL BRIDGE.—In the consideration of the sundry civil bill in the Senate yesterday evening this paragraph was reached:

Memorial bridge across the Potomac river: To enable the Secretary of War to begin the construction of a memorial bridge connecting the Potomac Park with the Arlington estate property, $100,000; provided, That so much of the said amount as may be necessary may be expended for the purpose of securing and determining the proper plans for said bridge, and location and plans to be in accordance with the recommendations of the Secretary of War and to be subject to the approval of the President and Congress; and provided further, That the cost of said bridge and the approaches thereto shall not exceed $2,500,000.

Senator Platt, of Connecticut, asked if the appropriation of $100,000 was intended to be expended on beginning the construction of the bridge. If so, he said, he would oppose it, because he did not want construction commenced until the plans were fully approved.

Senator Allison explained that none of the money would be devoted to beginning the construction of the bridge, but was for the purpose of securing plans, which, in turn, must be approved by the President and Congress.

With this understanding, the paragraph was agreed to.

CONGRESSIONAL.

SENATE.

The Senate listened yesterday to a discussion of North Carolina politics, precipitated by Senator Pritchard's assertion that the American army was not more responsible for isolated cases of water-cure in the Philippines than the military and naval forces, the cruelties, the killing cure, the sand cure, the whipping cure, and the red shirt cure in the campaign in North Carolina in 1838. Senator Simmons answered Mr. Pritchard and there was a hot debate, which was almost personal at times.

An agreement has been reached to dispense of the Roubidou Indian reservation bill today and the sundry civil bill will be considered. It is not likely that the Philippine civil-government bill will be taken up.

TO-DAY'S TELEGRAPHIC NEWS

Foreign News.

Amsterdam, May 3.—There is great depression at the headquarters of Dr. Leyds, the Boer European agent, growing out of the conviction that the Boers in the field intend to make peace without consulting the agents in Europe.

Liverpool, May 3.—It was announced today that the British government promises to protect British shipping by "subsidy if it becomes necessary to fight the shipping trust. Oden Mills, the New York banker, who arrived here today, says the combine was formed to foster trade, and not in hostility to British shipping.

Rome, May 3.—The Pope will receive Bishop McDonnell, of Brooklyn, and five priests of his diocese tomorrow. It is rumored that Bishop O'Gorman, of Sioux Falls, S. D., is now in Rome in the strictest incognito as the forerunner of the Taff mission to the Vatican.

Southampton, May 3.—Field Marshal Lord Wolseley, Dr. Jameson, and Rudyard Kipling arrived here today from the Cape.

Venice, May 3.—The U. S. cruiser Chicago, which prepared to leave for Trieste yesterday, did not finally clear the harbor until six o'clock this morning. As the cruiser sailed out, she was given the usual salutes by the vessels in the harbor. The cruiser San Francisco is expected here shortly.

London, May 3.—The Pall Mall Gazette today states that W. K. Vanderbilt has offered $175,000 for R. S. Sievier's record-breaking mare Sceptre that won both the 1,000 and 2,000 guineas races at Newmarket this week. Mr. Sievier, the paper says, refused to offer, saying that he would not sell the mare for $300,000.

Hamburg, May 3.—It is stated that J. P. Morgan has offered Herr Ballin, director of the Hamburg American line $1,000,000 a year to manage the shipping trust but Ballin declined the offer.

The Metropolitan Handicap.—New York, May 3.—The official list of entries for the opening of the Morris Park track show 24 starters for the Metropolitan Handicap. Of these, about fifteen will probably go to the post. The field is a hard one to pick and no one horse is a paramount favorite. Water Color was the favorite in the early betting today, at 4 to 1, but there are several other candidates for the rich stake. A heavy rainfall during the night put the track in a sloppy condition today. As further rain is threatened, it looks as if the heavy prizes will be contested for in heavy going.

With clear weather this afternoon forty thousand persons will be run over the track. The race is a distance of one mile and is worth over $10,000 to the winner. It is estimated by a well known bookmaker this morning that over $1,000,000 will be wagered on the race today.

More Fighting.

Manila, May 3.—Brigadier General Davis in a report today says the American outposts in Mindanao were fired upon this morning. The troops were sent forward and shelled a Moro fort. An infantry charge followed and the Moro garrison, numbering 300, surrendered. Another fort near by was then surrounded and shelled. General Davis says that as he sent the dispatch there was heavy firing at the scene of the outbreak. First Lieutenant Wagner, of the 14th Infantry, was seriously wounded, two other officers slightly wounded and twenty enlisted men were wounded. The ultimatum sent by General Davis was not answered.

The Market.

Georgetown, May 3.—Wheat 80 3/4.

TELEGRAPHIC BRIEVITIES.

The decline in stocks continued on the New York Stock Exchange today and the losses run into the millions.

The Kentucky Derby will be run at Louisville this evening. The announced starters are Abe Frank, Alan-Dale, The Royal and Inventor.

A market higher in prices than any known in the history of the Chicago packing house products is expected next week by retailers and jobbers. The members of the alleged trust have practically boycotted the buying pens of the stock yards. The trust controls the situation and is gouging the public in retaliation for the agitation against them, declared a jobber.

Robert J. "Doc" Slater, one of the best known sporting men in the United States, died this morning at his home in Baltimore, of nervous prostration and general debility superinduced by tumor trouble in the throat. He was 63 years of age, and was at one time a leader in local politics. He formerly conducted gambling houses in Saratoga, N. Y., New York City, Long Branch, Cape May, and Washington, as well as in this city.

No unsatisfactory results, so far, have followed the meetings of the consolidation committee of the national federation of labor and the committees of the mines and operators, and no one seems to know whether or not a strike will be declared.

DEATH OF DR. PACKARD.

The venerable Rev. Joseph Packard, D. D., Professor Emeritus at the Theological Seminary of the Protestant Episcopal Church, near this city, died at his home, "Melrose Abbey," Seminary Hill, this morning. He had been failing in health during the past fall and winter, but about three weeks ago was taken with an attack of grippe from which he never rallied, owing to his great age. Dr. Packard came of a prominent New England family and was born on the 23rd of December, 1812, at Wiscasset, in the State of Maine. Consequently he had attained the patriarchal age of eighty-nine years and three months. He was the son of the Rev. Ezekiel Packard, an eminent Congregational minister in his day, and who when quite a youth served in the Revolutionary War. It is remarkable that this gentleman was one of ten children whose ages averaged eighty-years each, dying himself at the age of 87 years.

Dr. Packard received his early education from his father, and afterwards studied at the celebrated Phillips Academy, Andover, Mass. He passed from that place to Bowdoin College, Maine, entering the Freshmen class in September, 1827, two years after the famous class of 1825, upon whose list was enrolled Franklin Pierce, afterwards President of the United States; Nathaniel Hawthorne, Longfellow, John S. C. Abbott and others whose names stand high on the pages of American history. While Dr. Packard was a student at Bowdoin College, Longfellow was appointed professor of divinity, and made him his assistant librarian. He had always determined to become a clergyman, and during this period of his life was so attracted to the Episcopal Church, that he made up his mind to enter its ministry. After teaching for a time, he became a student at Andover Theological Seminary, now one of the oldest theological institutions of the Congregational Church in New England. Dr. Moses Stuart was professor of the sacred languages at Andover then, and through his great influence as a teacher, no doubt led Doctor Packard's mind in the direction which qualified him for his life-long work at the Virginia Episcopal Seminary. Shortly after leaving Andover, Mr. Packard, as he was known then, was appointed Professor of Latin, Hebrew and some other branches of learning at Bristol College, near Philadelphia. During his short life of four or five years, it met with great success, but failed for want of proper financial support. While teaching at this college the Doctor was elected in April 1836, professor of Sacred Literature in the Theological Seminary of Virginia. The Rev. Charles B. Dana, then rector of Christ Church, in this city, and one of the trustees of the seminary, had been at Andover, and wrote to Prof. Stuart concerning Mr. Packard. Thereupon was very favorable, resulting as has just been stated in his election. He accepted the position, went at once to Andover to equip himself more fully for the place, and was ordained deacon by Bishop Griswold in St. Paul's Church, Boston, on July 17, 1836. He left for Alexandria early in October of that year, and arrived at the Seminary on the 14th of the same month, a few weeks after the beginning of the session. His associates in the faculty were the Revs. Benel Keith and E. K. Lippitt. The Seminary was at that time in its 13th year, and from that date Dr. Packard's life and work were coincident with its history. He was advanced to the priesthood in the basement of the old Seminary building by Bishop Meade on the 29th of September 1837, as there was no chapel at the Seminary then, and no regular Sunday services until 1840. The students walked regularly to this city to church.

Since Dr. Packard's arrival at the Seminary as professor, almost 66 years ago, he had seen the following professors appointed: Revs James May, D. D., William Sparrow, D. D., Cornelius Walker, D. D., J. J. McElhinney, D. D., Kinloch Nelson, D. D., Carl E. Grammer, S. D., Angus Crawford, D. D., S. A. Wallis, D. D., B. W. Micou, D. D., R. K. Massie, and the Rev. Berryman Green, of Christ Church, Alexandria, as adjunct-professor. Of these Professors May, Sparrow, McElhinney and Nelson have passed away, the Rev. Prof. Grammer is now rector of Christ Church, Norfolk, Va., while the rest are at the Seminary. Dr. Packard had therefore been associated with all the professors of the Seminary, and all those who were his colleagues during his lifetime. The following have had the privilege of studying under him at the Seminary: Professors Walker, Kinloch Nelson, Carl E. Grammer, S. A. Wallis, R. K.
