

Alexandria Gazette.

FRIDAY EVENING, JAN. 16, 1903.

LOCAL NEWS.

Sun rises tomorrow at 7:16 a. m. and sets 5:46 p. m. High water at 10:24 a. m. and 10:43 p. m.

WEATHER PROBABILITIES.—For this section fair tonight. Saturday increasing cloudiness, probably rain in the afternoon; light variable winds.

Secured a Site.

The Emerson Steam Pump Company, recently chartered by the Corporation Court of this city, has secured three squares of ground at Colross, including the mansion, from Mr. Wm. A. Smoot upon which to locate their plant. The negotiations were conducted by Mr. Samuel H. Lunt, real estate broker. The company will as soon as possible begin the erection of buildings suitable for their purpose. This announcement will be read with pleasure, as all rejoice in the healthy growth of Alexandria as a manufacturing centre, and the additional impetus the Emerson Company will give the city is well understood. The pumps will be manufactured in this city and a large force of skilled mechanics will be employed in the works. The Emerson steam pumps are gradually achieving an international reputation, as orders for them from foreign countries are being received occasionally. Mr. Lunt has been working assiduously for months in endeavoring to find suitable accommodations for this company, and has, with the officers, visited a number of places in the city. The Colross property seemed from the first best adapted for the use of the company, and Mr. Wm. A. Smoot, public-spirited as he is, realizing the importance of locating the company here, has not held his property for fancy prices, but has accepted conservative propositions, which has resulted in bringing a large manufacturing plant to Alexandria.

A Comedy of Errors.

Between two and three o'clock this morning while a young man named Leonard Wheatley, night messenger at the Southern Railway depot, was passing up Patrick street he saw Officers Lyles, Mayhew and Garvey under the shed in front of Mr. Wm. Cook's store on the northeast corner of Cameron and Patrick streets, and concluded they were suspicious characters who were preparing to break into the store. He proceeded to the freight office of the Washington-Southern Railway, a square away, and informed his convictions to Mr. Brooke Arnold, the night clerk. The latter telephoned to Mr. L. O. Hardin, special officer at the Fayette street depot, and he started in the direction of Mr. Cook's store. Young Wheatley then emerged from the freight office and walked down the square to see the outcome. In the meantime the policemen, seeing the messenger in the street again, concluded he was reconnoitering for the purpose of committing burglary, and they separated, going toward different points of the compass for the purpose of heading off and capturing the supposed house-breaker. Officer Garvey ran down an alley westward and was soon close on young Wheatley's heels. The latter started to run when the officer called to him to halt. The young man failing to obey the order, Mr. Garvey fired three shots from his revolver over his head which brought him to a standstill. Messrs. Hardin and Arnold came up in the meantime, together with Officers Lyles and Mayhew, when explanations followed. The incident caused considerable excitement in the neighborhood.

Who Is Responsible.

About fifteen years ago the United States government graded and macadamized a roadway from Alfred street to the National Cemetery and put down a brick sidewalk with substantial curbing on the north side of the street, thereby affording a great convenience to persons who desire to visit the sites of the dead. Previous to that time the route to the cemeteries in bad weather was through mud and mire. After the completion of the work the government announced its intention of keeping it clean and in repair from Payne street west and suggested that, inasmuch as the work had cost the city nothing, it would assume jurisdiction over the eastern portion to Alfred street. The city authorities, however, refused to act on the suggestion, some of them assuming that the government should keep the entire work in repair, and as a result many places in those squares have needed repairs for a long time. About a year ago the Alexandria Water Company opened the roadway in the square bounded by Henry and Fayette streets for the purpose of laying pipes to the water tower of the Southern Railway. They filled the trench with broken stone and formed a hillock which has remained there ever since. It is unsightly and in reality ruins part of the roadway. The city authorities seem to have washed their hands of the responsibility of compelling the water company to place the square in the condition they found it in. The War Department in Washington will certainly make no movement in the matter. Hence there is a probability of the roadway remaining as it is.

Cameron Run Club.

On Wednesday night last witnessed a delightful dance at the Cameron Run Club, the first of a series to be given there. Mr. and Mrs. Courtland Smith were entertained in honor of their guest, Miss Dorothy Henry, of Clarke county. The club house was very artistically decorated with evergreens, Japanese lanterns, parasols, etc., the ten room being especially attractive with numbers of soft red lights. At midnight a delicious supper was served, the guests being seated at small tables. Among those present were: Mr. and Mrs. Courtland Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Carter, Miss Dorothy Henry, Miss Sara Howard, Miss Catherine White, of Maryland; Miss Rust, Messrs. Hooff, Lawson, Breckenridge, Rust, and others.

Funeral.

The funeral of the late Mrs. Hannah Desmond, whose death occurred early Wednesday morning, took place from St. Mary's Church this morning. The funeral was attended by a number of the friends and acquaintances of the deceased. The services were conducted by Rev. Fathers Cutler and Walsh and the interment was in St. Mary's Cemetery. The pallbearers were Messrs. Edward Hughes, M. Igo, John Harlow, C. Cummings, John McKenna and Terence McGowan.

But two lodgers were at the station house last night.

Confederate Veterans' Banquet.

The committee of arrangements having in charge the banquet to be given Monday night by R. E. Lee Camp of Confederate Veterans have about completed their arrangements, and there is every assurance that another interesting occasion is in store for all who will be present. As heretofore stated, Senator Daniel, Senator Berry, of Arkansas, and other thrilling orators will be among the guests. Those who may desire to attend the banquet can procure tickets from any member of the committee. Their sale is not limited to ex-Confederates, and the members of the camp will be glad to welcome any of our citizens who desire to be present Monday night. Mrs. G. A. Appich will be the caterer for the occasion and Odd Fellows' Hall, on north Columbus street, will be the scene of the festivities. The following compose the committee: Thomas Perry, G. W. Ramsay, E. Warfield, A. C. Wyckoff, P. F. Gorman, F. J. Davidson and E. C. Graham.

Assault With a Club.

A young man who is a clerk in a store in the western part of the city made an attack on an employee of the Southern Railway Wednesday night and after a short fistfight encounter procured a club and followed the railroad man into the depot. He attempted to enter the office where the object of his vengeance was employed and broke in the panel of the door with his cudgel. The offender was subsequently arrested by Officer Allen and the case came before the Mayor this morning. The assault was fined $20 and made to give bond in the sum of $100 to keep the peace for six months. The trouble was the outcome of a police case a month or two ago when a locomotive was standing in the street with its cylinder cocks open. The owner of a wagon alleged his horse was scared by the escaping steam and he and his clerk became involved in a difficulty with the railroad man.

Personal.

Mr. Champ Walker, who has been quite sick, is improving. The reception to be given by Rev. and Mrs. Gammon, missionaries from Brazil, by the missionary societies of the Second Presbyterian Church, of this city, will be held at the manse on Tuesday, January 20, instead of Saturday, the 17th, as was at first proposed. Miss Carrie Bernheimer has gone to Philadelphia to visit relatives and friends. Mrs. Chas. H. Lee, of Loudoun, and Miss Mary Curtis Lee are guests of Mrs. P. T. Yatemann on Washington street. The condition of Mr. I. W. Rudd continues unchanged.

Duckers in Peril.

Four duckers of this city—Messrs. Davis, Greenwood, Hufty and Pettit—who were in skills in Hunting creek yesterday morning, were blown out into the channel of the river by the strong northwest wind prevailing at the time, and their boats becoming jammed in ice floes it became evident that their frail boats would soon be crushed and the occupants thrown into the water to drown. While in this precarious situation the steamer Estelle Randall, on her way down, went to their rescue. The men were lifted aboard the steamer and their skulls pulled on deck after them. The rescued parties and their outfits were landed on Fort Foote wharf.

Death of an Unknown Man.

An unknown colored man went to No. 1210 Princess street yesterday and asked permission of a colored woman who lives in the house to stay there during the night. The stranger carried a satchel. His request was granted and this morning when the woman went to call him she was startled to find that he had died during the night. There was nothing on his person or in the satchel by which he could be identified and Dr. Purvis, the Coroner, was notified. [Since the above was written it is said that the deceased has been identified as Armistead Bundley, of Fairfax.]

Club Meeting.

The Martha Washington Club, of Washington, held its annual meeting at the Hotel Appich Wednesday night and elected the following officers: President, Mrs. John Vogt, of Washington; vice president, Mrs. Wm. Helms, of Washington, and secretary, Mrs. M. Schuler, of this city. After the meeting the club partook of luncheon, and later left on a special train for Washington.

The Weather and River.

The ice in the river is about broken up and it offers no impediment to steam navigation. The present mild weather is improving conditions every day. There is nothing of special importance to report on the river. The steamer Washington of the Norfolk line arrived up on time this morning. She reported seeing a sand scow adrift in the ice and unmanageable off Indian Head.

Meetings.

The directors of the Citizens' National Bank at their meeting yesterday elected Mr. E. L. Daingerfield president and all the old officers. The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Knights of Columbus Building Company was held in this city today.

COUGHS AND COLDS IN CHILDREN

Recommendation of a Well Known Chicago Physician. I use and prescribe Chamberlain's Cough Remedy for almost all obstinate, contracted cough, with direct results. LOCAL BRIEVITIES.

The union services tonight will be held in the Second Presbyterian Church when Rev. J. P. Stump will deliver an address.

In the suit of Benjamin P. Finerigan against the Washington and Great Falls Electric Railway Company to recover $10,000 as damages for being ejected from one of the cars of the defendant, the jury in Washington yesterday returned a verdict for the railway company. The railway company proved at the trial that the plaintiff was riding on the front platform of the car in violation of the rules of the company and was required to move from the platform.

The free demonstration of Malta-Vita has proven such a drawing card at the M. Schuler Beef Co.'s store in the numbers of persons yesterday partaking of the delicious food served free there. The demonstration will close tomorrow night.

The horse supposed to have been stolen from Mr. Peter Hall Wednesday night was found yesterday grazing on a common in the northwestern part of the city. The animal had left the stable during the night and strayed away.

At a meeting last night of Andrew Jackson Lodge of Masons the Master, on behalf of the lodge, presented Past Master C. B. Marshall with a life-membership in the Masonic Home in Richmond. Mr. Marshall made an appropriate response.

Alexandria Lodge of Elks held another interesting meeting last night. Among those present were Past Exalted Ruler Frank Cunningham, of Richmond, and State District Deputy, Philip G. Kelley, also of Richmond. Justice Hagner, in Washington yesterday, signed a decree granting Annie L. Kerby a divorce from Francis A. Kerby on the ground of desertion. The parties were married in this city about twenty years ago.

Mr. Harry Stevens, of Washington, has been engaged by "Sharps and Platts" to sing the leading tenor role in the "Little Tycoon," which will be rendered by that organization in February.

There were several minor cases on the docket of the Police Court this morning which were disposed of according to their importance.

A marriage license was issued in Washington yesterday to Rufus H. Gray and Addie Potter, both of Fairfax county.

Sheepshead, bass, salmon trout and round-heads will be for sale by Mr. Robert Travers in market tomorrow.

Mr. Edward Hughes last night entertained a number of his friends at a supper.

AN ANSWER TO WISE.

In the course of an address on "Who Are the Imperialists?" before the literary section of Vassar Institute, at Ploughkeepsie, N. Y., Tuesday night, Captain J. S. Wise, of Virginia, pictured the democrats of the south as intense imperialists in their own localities, while they, at the same time, assailed the expansion policy of the republic.

He contended that the cry of imperialism comes with bad grace from people who themselves trample under foot the laws they should uphold, and have subverted republican institutions in their own neighborhoods. He said the election machinery had been tampered with in the south to secure election results.

After Wise finished, Richard E. Connell, a reporter on the Poughkeepsie News Press, arose and ridiculed his arguments, eloquently defending the south in this vein:

"I have been proud of the south as a section of my country. I know it had given us great Presidents, and whose administration the republic took life and strength. I know that the south had rebelled, and that it had accepted defeat as no other people on the earth ever did. I know that it had come back into the union out of the desolation of destruction, and in less than a generation had given a Joe Wheeler and the first blood of the new war for human freedom under the banner of the union. I did not suspect this people of imperialism until I night, and I can hardly suspect them now.

"I thought the imperialists were the ones who invaded the south with bayonets; went behind election returns; overturned the will of the people, and committed the most godless political crimes in history—the theft of the presidency of the United States. I had imagined that the imperialists were those who took up the war for human rights and pledged a nation's faith to the principle that acquisition of territory would be criminal aggression and then proceeded to turn it into a war of conquest and subjugation. I thought these were things which the imperialists had been doing in all the ages."
