WEATHER PROBABILITIES.—For this section fair tonight and Tuesday; light to fresh southerly winds.

Death of Capt. William H. Fowle.

Capt. William H. Fowle died yesterday at his home, 2401 Pennsylvania avenue, northwest, Washington. Capt. Fowle was sixty-four years of age. He was a son of the late William H. Fowle and was born and reared in this city. He was undergoing a business training in the house established by his father in Alexandria at the outbreak of the civil war, and he enlisted in the Confederate army and left Alexandria as a lieutenant of Company H, of the Seventeenth Virginia Regiment. At the close of the war he had risen to the captaincy of that company. At the cessation of hostilities he returned to his old home where he has engaged in commercial pursuits. Twenty-eight years ago the deceased was one of the Delegates from the city and county in the Legislature, his colleague having been Mayor Simpson. He had previously been a member of the City Council. During Mr. Cleveland's first term as President he was deputy collector of internal revenue for this district, and later succeeded General Fitzhugh Lee as collector. The remains of the deceased will be entered in Ivy Hill cemetery tomorrow morning.

Memorial Services.

Memorial services of the late Rev. Henry C. Slaymaker, who recently lost his life on the Congo river in Africa, will be held in the Second Presbyterian Church next Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock, and his friends, fellow-citizens and all other denominations are cordially invited to unite with his church in paying this more than well merited tribute to his memory. A memorial offering will be made at that time to repair the loss occasioned by the accident to the steamer Lapsley. The Lapsley was the missionary steamer that plied between Leopoldville at Stanley Pool and Luebo, some eight hundred miles up the Congo and Kasai rivers. Mr. Slaymaker was on board this steamer when she was capsized and was drowned. His friends propose to make the first contribution toward a new steamer as a memorial to him. They feel that, as he was an Alexandrian and spent his whole life among us, those outside his church will feel it a privilege to unite with them in raising a sum that will fitly express the high esteem in which Mr. Slaymaker was held by this entire community.

Cutting Affray.

Maria Beach, colored, was arrested on Saturday night last by Officers Smith and Mayhugh charged with cutting Kate Hughes, also colored, in front of a saloon at the northwest corner of Cameron and Fayette streets. The trouble was superinduced by jealousy. The Beach woman, it is alleged, has been alienating the affections of the husband of Kate Hughes. The two women met late Saturday night in front of the saloon where the assault occurred when the Beach woman produced a knife and made an ugly wound in the upper part of her antagonist's arm. The victim of the assault was attended by Dr. Johnson, who was compelled to take several stitches in dressing the wound. The woman who used the knife was brought before the Mayor this morning and fined $20.

River Notes.

It is said that parties residing in the northern neck of Virginia have recently inspected the old steamer Phlox, now lying at the foot of King street with a view to purchasing her and converting her into a freight boat for use on the Potomac. It is proposed to cut her down to her main deck, removing all the old house now standing and to equip her with a gasoline explosive engine of sufficient power to give her a speed of six or eight miles an hour. She will, if converted into a freight boat, run wood and lumber cargoes. The tug Peerless arrived a day or two ago with the barge Carolina loaded with fertilizer for this port and later sailed with the light barge Cecil for Norfolk.

Death of H. C. Winship.

Mr. Henry C. Winship, for many years one of the largest soft coal shippers of Washington, died Friday night of a complication of diseases. Mr. Winship was a native of Washington, and was sixty-three years of age. Soon after the close of the civil war he engaged in the commission business in this city, during which time he was prominent in politics, being a member of the republican party and taking an active part in the issues incident to reconstruction days. His wife (Alice, daughter of the late C. C. Berry, of this city), two sons, two daughters, three sisters and two brothers survive him.

Concert Tonight.

The appearance of the Students' Concert Company of the Ithaca Conservatory of Music at the Opera House this evening will be one of the brilliant social and musical events of the season. The name of this company has preceded it, as critics have everywhere been enthusiastic in the praise of these young people. That they give a fine musical entertainment, varied by an elocutionist of great ability, is attested by an unbroken series of most flattering press notices. The concert will be given under the auspices and for the benefit of the First Baptist Sunday School.

Police Court.

[Mayor G. L. Simpson Presiding.] The following cases were disposed of this morning: A white man, who had been arrested by Officers Roberts and Allen for being drunk and disorderly in the street, was dismissed with an admonition. Kate Hughes, colored, arrested by Officers Smith and Mayhugh, charged with disorderly conduct, was dismissed. Maria Beach, arrested by the same officers charged with cutting Kate Hughes, colored, was fined $20.

Yesterday

The weather yesterday was crisp and seasonable. The usual Sunday quietness prevailed. The churches had average congregations and at night many persons attended the memorial exercises conducted at the Opera House by Alexandria Lodge of Elks.

ELKS' MEMORIAL SERVICE.

Large Gathering at the Opera House—Impressive Services—Animating Addresses—Enchanting Vocal and Instrumental Music.

The anticipation of the memorial services of Alexandria Lodge, No. 758, B. P. O. Elks, at the Opera House last night, was eclipsed by its realization, and it was unanimously admitted by those present that the experiences of the evening were most interesting and refreshing and of a nature long to be remembered. The auditorium and gallery were packed to overflowing, and by the time the exercises commenced nearly all standing room had been preempted. Notwithstanding the proportions of the assemblage the best of order was preserved and nothing occurred to interrupt the services. Those who participated were "at their best" and spoke from the soul. The members of the lodge, numbering over a hundred, were seated on the stage amid a bower of palms, the officers of the lodge and the speakers of the evening occupying the front row with the exception of the three vacant chairs, typical of the three departed members—W. L. Hayes, George F. Steiner and Champe Walker. On each of these chairs a memorial wreath, lighted with three white and two purple incandescent lights and tied with purple ribbons, was placed, and as the name of each departed member was called by the secretary the lights were extinguished and a tiny star appeared at the rear of the stage, the rest of the house being in darkness. When the third star had appeared a male quartet sang softly "The Vacant Chair," and a large floral emblem, representing a cross and crown and lighted with white and purple incandescent bulbs, was slowly lowered into view just above the three stars. Services proper subsequently began, and were conducted according to the programme published in Saturday's Gazette.

All who participated performed well their parts, and it would be difficult to determine who was the most entertaining. Those who rendered the vocal instrumental features of the programme showed proficiency in their respective parts, while all the speakers were eloquent, their addresses having been well conceived, abounding in pathos and originality. The eulogiums of Judge Barley, Mr. C. C. Carlin and Mr. Morris Shepard, the latter of Texarkana, were listened to with close attention. The latter's was one of the most scholarly and fluent heard in this city for a long time. Mr. Sheppard succeeded his father in Congress, and is one of the youngest members of the House. The committee having the exercises in charge are to be congratulated upon the success of the committee: Donald McLean, chairman; Geo. T. Caton, secretary, and Messrs. Harry Fleischmann, R. E. Knox, Jr., W. A. Arnold, Robert Wenzel, C. C. Carlin, L. C. Barley, H. H. Kelly, Thomas A. Hulfish, Harry B. Caton, Frank M. Hill, T. Alton Moore and August Pohl.

Circuit Court for the City.

[Judge C. E. Nicol presiding.] The docket was called and cases set. Frank Zell vs. Brenner & Knight; suit for $1,000 damages for injury; case fixed for trial Wednesday. Thomas J. Johnson, admr., vs. Southern Railway Company; dismissed by order of plaintiff's counsel. John L. Stearns vs. Cuthbert Powell et al.; chancery; cause dropped from docket. W. B. Jackson vs. James E. Hibbs; chancery; dismissed by plaintiff's attorney. Wm. E. Barton vs. Fannie B. Betts et al.; chancery; cause referred to E. B. Taylor, commissioner, to settle accounts of John M. Johnson, admr., of Eliza D. Barton. R. B. L. Fleming vs. Alfred W. Fleming; chancery; final decree. A certified copy of the will of the late Mary E. Fleming was filed for probate and ordered recorded. Arguments to demurrer in the chancery cause of Charles E. Evans vs. Alexandria Perpetual Building Fund Association and German Co-operative Building Association No. 5; demurrer overruled. At 3 o'clock this evening the court took up the case of Ellerson vs. Davis, from the county, a motion for the abatement of an attachment, and the case was in progress when this report closed.

Corporation Court.

[Judge L. C. Barley presiding.] Lansburgh et al. vs. Lansburgh et al.; chancery; decree confirming report of Commissioner Sinclair, and James R. Caton, Charles Bendheim and Robt. A. Hutchison appointed special commissioners of sale to sell certain property at Potomac City, Va.

Watch Recovered.

While Mr. Edward Cornwell was engaged in adjusting a switch near the intersection of Duke and Henry streets this morning his watch fell from his waistcoat pocket. The timepiece was picked up by a colored man who walked away with it. When the owner discovered his loss he started in search of the darkey, following him some distance in the country and finally coming up with him at a house in the northern part of the city. He demanded the watch of the negro and the latter surrendered it.

Tax Sale.

Mr. P. F. Gorman, Collector of Taxes, offered for sale in front of the City Hall at 10 o'clock this morning certain property upon which taxes are due. Since the publication in the Gazette of the list of pieces to be sold numbers of the delinquents had come forward and settled their bills. Such pieces as were not redeemed were knocked down to the city. It was the first tax sale ordered by the city for two years and the list the smallest.

Funerals.

The remains of Mrs. Sarah Frances Barber, a former resident of West End, who died in Washington Friday, were brought here yesterday afternoon and interred. The services were conducted by Rev. Mr. Dolly, of Washington. The funeral of Lillian Louise, the little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Padgett, who died Friday night, took place yesterday afternoon. The services were conducted by Rev. Mr. Ewell. An engine attached to a north bound Chesapeake and Ohio passenger train broke down on Long Bridge at an early hour this morning and delayed travel for several hours.

ROSENFELD'S DRY GOODS STORE. ONE PRICE TO ALL. 240 Union Novelty Waists.

49c For Waists that were 60c and 79c. 75c For Waists that were 99c and $1.19. $1.19 For Waists that were up to $3.00. Materials fancy, waisting wool, crash, mohair, madras, poplin and saten. The finer Waists came one in a box all ready for Christmas. It is a credit to the Union Novelty people that we have this news to tell—a credit to their energy, their progressiveness, their strenuous ways. They have one of the largest waist factories in the country—340 machines or so. They have made their trade mark as valuable to their product as sterling is to silver. They work full steam in dull times or bustling times, making waists the best they know how, not bothering about selling them. This policy is their success. Now and again they over-produce, but what of that? Forget the loss and begin again, they say. The 240 waists are an over-production this year. Their machines are working on spring orders and they want these out of the way. Rosenfeld's 518 King Street, Alexandria, Va. Schwarz's Old Stand.

Death of Miss Lind.

Miss Alice M. L. Lind, daughter of Mr. E. G. Lind, of Nashville, Tenn., and sister-in-law of Rev. Wm. Ladd, died at the Alexandria Hospital yesterday. The deceased during the past two years had been one of the teachers at the Arlington Institute in this city and had greatly endeared herself to the large number of pupils and patrons of that institute. Her remains were shipped to Baltimore today by Mr. Wheatley, where the funeral and interment services will be conducted.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

The mercury last night touched 18°. Three lodgers were at the station house on Saturday night and ten last night. The firing of guns at Indian Head this morning was distinctly heard in this city. John, the little son of Mr. Jacob Brill, was run over by a wagon on Prince street on Saturday evening. He received some bruises. The regular monthly meeting of Mary Custis Lee Chapter, U. D. C., will be held tomorrow (Tuesday) morning at ten o'clock, in Lee Camp Hall. A marriage license was issued in Washington on Saturday to Ernest G. Petit, of the District of Columbia, and Lottie Byrne, of Alexandria. Mr. Hiram Bayless died at his home, 517 north Alfred street, on Saturday evening last. His remains were today sent by Mr. B. Wheatley to Franconia, Fairfax county, for interment. An alarm of fire was sounded about 3 o'clock this afternoon, caused by the partial burning of a small frame house on Peyton street, between King and Prince. The house was occupied by colored people.

BIBLE IN THE SCHOOLS.

Judge James P. Harbeson, of the Circuit Court of Brooksville, Ky., has rendered a decision in the case where the Rev. Thomas Hackett, a Catholic priest, through an injunction suit against the school trustees of Brooksville, asking that they and the teachers in the public schools be restrained from reading the Bible and offering prayers in the schools on the grounds that it was a violation of the constitution. Judge Harbeson dismissed the petition at the cost of the plaintiff and in unequal terms says that the Bible is the foundation of all Christian governments and he does not see where it is sectarian to read it in schools. An appeal was asked for and granted.

Testimonial Concert.

At the Opera House in this city on December 10, a grand concert will be given by the best local talent in the city, assisted by first class talent from Washington. The object of this concert is to assist Mr. Timothy White, a blind man, who is worthy of anyone's charity. Tickets for this testimonial can be procured from any of the local preachers. The concert will be under the supervision of Manager Harper.

Bilious Colic Prevented.

Take a double dose of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy as soon as the first indication of the disease appears and a threatened attack may be warded off. Hundreds of people who are subject to attacks of bilious colic use the remedy in this way with perfect success. For sale by Richard Gibson.

Fight Will be Bitter.

Those who persist in closing their ears against the continual recommendation of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, will have a long and bitter fight with their troubles, if not ended earlier by fatal termination. Read what T. R. Beall, of Beall, Miss., has to say: "Last fall my wife had every symptom of consumption. She took Dr. King's New Discovery after everything else had failed. Improvement came at once and four bottles entirely cured her. Guaranteed by E. S. Leadbeater & Sons, druggists. Price 50c and $1.00. Trial bottles free.

Kodol Dyspepsia Cure

Digests all classes of food, tones and strengthens the stomach and digestive organs. Cures Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Stomach Troubles, and makes rich, red blood, health and strength. Kodol Dyspepsia Cure rebuilds and restores the stomach. Gov. G. W. Atkinson, sweetest of Virginia, says: "I have used a number of bottles of Kodol Dyspepsia Cure and have found it to be very effective and, indeed, a powerful remedy for stomach ailments, recommending it to my friends." Sold by all druggists.
