Medicinal

Cold. Their Proper Treatment and Cure.

Commonly, the first symptom of a "cold" is a chilly feeling, accompanied by sneezing, or a tickling in the throat. The most frequent of external causes are draughts, wet or cold feet, or going from hot rooms suddenly into cold ones. More frequently there is an inner cause—namely the stagnation of the blood caused by constipation or biliousness. Almost the first symptom is the feeling of cold in the feet and increased discharge from the nose.

No one ever takes cold unless constipated, or exhausted, and having what we call mal-nutrition, which is attended with impoverished blood and exhaustion of nerve force. Tonics consisting of large portions of alcohol, iron or cod liver oil do not bring the desired changes in the blood, because they do not enter the system and are not absorbed into the blood, with the exception of the alcohol, which shrivels up the red blood corpuscles when it does come in contact with them. We recommend that botanical extract of Dr. Pierce because it contains no alcohol, and offers a reasonable and scientific method of treating the blood, by improving the nutritive functions of the patient. The "Golden Medical Discovery" accomplishes this, by first restoring the accomplished digestive organs, so that food, the natural tissue builder, will be digested and assimilated.

Accept no substitute for Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. There is nothing "just as good" for diseases of the stomach.

BURIAL OF ARCHBISHOP ELDER.

The funeral service for the late Archbishop Wm. H. Elder took place at St. Peter's Cathedral in Cincinnati yesterday. From the beginning, when the long line of clergy—archbishops, bishops and priests—marching in solemn column from the Cathedral residence around to the front entrance of the vast auditorium entered, chanting the Lauds, to the final act, when the five absolutions were given to the dead, one absolution by the highest authority of the church in America, this was the most impressive funeral service for a Catholic clergyman ever held in the United States.

From all parts of this country were assembled priests and prelates, while the people flocked to St. Peter's from every town within a radius of 10 miles and many came from points more distant. Long before the beginning of the service a crowd of thousands had assembled in the vicinity of the Cathedral. When the Cathedral doors were opened for those possessing tickets of admission, a steady stream of men and women poured into the edifice and the seating capacity of that auditorium was soon occupied. Thousands would have pushed their way in had it not been a physical impossibility for more than a few hundred to do so. Of those outside many remained for the conclusion of the service. All the clergy except Cardinal James Gibbons were garbed in black, with but a bit of purple to indicate the rank of the deceased. Cardinal Gibbons wore the purple of his exalted position, and occupied a throne on the epistle side of the building. The late Archbishop's throne, now rightfully the place of Archbishop Moeller, was vacant, draped in purple, and over the chair was thrown the cappa magna of the dead Archbishop.

The high mass of requiem had Archbishop Moeller as celebrant, assisted by Very Rev. Dr. Schoenhof, V. G.; Rev. August Quatman and Rev. William Hickey, of the Ohio diocese. Archbishop John J. Keene, of Dubuque, Ia., preached the sermon. In it he referred to the vow taken by the deceased, when he was ordained as a priest in Rome, and called attention to the conscientious faithfulness with which those vows had been kept.

Following the sermon came the five solemn absolutions given by Cardinal Gibbons, Archbishop Ryan, Bishops Maes, Hestin and Allen, each attended by two chaplains. The music of the mass was rendered by the students of St. Mary's Seminary, and was the first time in America that the complete Gregorian chant was given.

The final services at the grave were conducted by Archbishop Moeller, assisted by Revs. Nau and Dutton.

ELECTION TRAGEDIES.

Late Monday night, on Piney Creek, in the southern section of Raleigh county, W. Va., a general fight followed a political meeting addressed by local speakers, and when the fight was over two men were dead, four seriously injured, and two slightly wounded. The men were all intoxicated, the result of the free distribution of liquor, and it is estimated that fully forty shots were fired. Some six or eight persons who participated in the melee were uninjured. One man may die of his wounds. Several of those engaged escaped, while others have been arrested. More trouble is anticipated.

During an election brawl in the First precinct of the Second ward, in Wilmington, Del., last night, Harvey Miller, colored, was shot and killed by John Bell, colored. So far as can be learned it was not Bell's intention to kill Miller, but to shoot Thomas Rafferty, the democratic inspector. About a dozen negroes went to the polls ostensibly to witness the counting of the vote. They found the door locked. The democrats had a majority of election officers there, so the negroes forced open the door. Somebody kicked over the lamp and set fire to the room. During the confusion, it is alleged, Bell fired two shots at Rafferty. One of the bullets struck Miller in the breast and he died in a few minutes. Rafferty was unharmed. Bell was arrested by Patrolman Eaken. A chemical engine extinguished the fire and the ballot box was saved.

Two democratic election judges were killed in Cripple Creek, Col., yesterday, a Peabody deputy sheriff was mortally wounded and a number of democratic judges were beaten and thrown into jail. Ike Ideltolt and Chris Miller, judges at Goldfield, were shot down by one of Sheriff Bell's deputies. They had ordered the deputy out of the polling-place. He refused to go and, turning upon the judges, shot and killed them. At Midway Ed Doyle, a deputy sheriff, assaulted Mrs. Kennedy, a democratic judge, and in a struggle that ensued tore her dress and slapped her. Ed O'Leary, a democratic watcher, interloped and shot Doyle, fatally wounding him. O'Leary was arrested. James Wafford, the deputy who killed the two election officers in Goldfield, was a secret service man during the military rule in the district. Miller and Ideltolt were union men.
