WEATHER PROBABILITIES.—For this section fair and continued cold tonight. Thursday fair; light to fresh westerly winds.

The Weather and the River.

The mercury in the thermometer at 7 o'clock this morning stood at 22°; it was at 8° yesterday morning at the same hour. Later the temperature rose somewhat, but a cold northwest wind set in which prevented it from rising above the freezing point. In places where the sun rays exerted their power partial thaws took place. The streets, however, and sidewalks on the south side of streets extending east and west are still covered with ice.

The ice in the river is almost as firm as ever. The B. & O. transfer tugboat Major Brewerton was engaged this morning in breaking a track from the Wilkes street slip to Shepherd's. Her progress was exceedingly slow and there was but little likelihood of resuming the transfer service today.

Government tugboats made trips up and down the river today. The steamer Norfolk, of the Norfolk and Washington line, arrived up this morning about three hours late.

The Weems line steamers are endeavoring to open up their routes. The steamer Middlesex left Baltimore yesterday for the Rappahannock; the Anne Arundel, for the Potomac as far as she can, and the Chivert for the Patuxent river.

Police Court.

[Justice H. B. Caton presiding.] The following cases were disposed of this morning: William Maddox, arrested by Officer Roberts charged with disorderly conduct and fighting, forfeited $5 collateral; failing to appear, and W. H. Hansborough, arrested by the same officer charged with similar offenses, was fined $2.50.

Benjamin Christman, colored, arrested by Officer Lyles charged with stealing sundry articles from the Hotel Rammel, was fined $50, and in default of payment will be sent to jail for six months. Robert Campbell, Israel Turner and Robert Carroll, all colored, arrested by Officers Lyles, Beach and Allen charged with being parties to the theft, were dismissed.

Walter Clark, colored, arrested by Officer Beach charged with destroying the property of Lizzie King, was fined $5.

Edward Bradley, arrested by Officers Allen and Beach charged with disorderly conduct, was dismissed.

Opera House.

A fair size audience was at the Opera House last night to witness the presentation of "Lady Audley's Secret" by the Tempest Dramatic Company. The show was by far better than Monday night and was greatly enjoyed by those present. The absence of two of its members, who arrived in this city late yesterday evening, tonight "The Lighthouse Tragedy," a comedy-drama, will be presented, with a cast of characters which will include every member of the company. An excellent comedy-drama is guaranteed, full of good situations. The plays by this company have not been of the "blood and thunder" variety, but good dramas, and the rest of them are expected to please any one. A guarantee that all will be pleased or money returned is given by the manager.

Fined Fifty Dollars.

Officers Lyles, Beach and Allen yesterday arrested Benj. Christman, Robert Campbell, Israel Turner and Robert Carroll, all colored, charged with stealing sundry articles from the Hotel Rammel. The first-named had been employed at the hotel, and the others were suspected of being parties to the theft. The officers captured nine empty bottles which had contained whisky taken from the hostelry, about eight pounds of butter, some coffee, sugar, tobacco, cigars, cigarettes, etc. Christman will be fined $50, and in default of payment he will serve six months in jail. The other three men were dismissed for want of evidence.

Suit for Divorce.

Raymond C. Phillips, yesterday began proceedings in the Supreme Court of the District of Columbia to have annulled his marriage to Flora Schooler, alias Flora Davis. It is explained that the couple were married in Baltimore January 14 last, and that immediately thereafter discovered that the defendant was the legal wife of Sephaus Schooler, whom she married in Washington June 10, 1901, and from whom she had been divorced. Phillips says he never lived with her or recognized her as his wife, but took her to her home and left her as soon as he learned that she had a husband living.

Visitation.

The Alexandrians were cordially greeted by their Washington brethren, and a most enjoyable evening was experienced. The hosts spread a bountiful collation for their guests, and during the evening evening speeches were made. The Alexandrians returned home about midnight much pleased with their visit.

Shortly after 3 o'clock this evening the kitchen of the house occupied by Mr. John Eberts, on Fairfax street, between King and Prince, caught fire by the explosion of a gasoline tank, but the flames were soon put out with an extinguisher by Mr. John Griffin, of the Relief company. Mr. Eberts had his face and arms quite painfully burned.

ROPES TAMPERED WITH?

At the coroner's inquest which was held in Washington yesterday in the case of Frank Hamby, a painter, who fell to his death at the Cairo Apartment House Monday, the testimony indicated that the ropes which held the swinging ladder on which Hamby was standing had been tampered with. It was found that the ropes had been saturated with a substance similar to carbonic acid. The jury rendered the following verdict:

We, the jury, find that Frank Hamby came to his death at 8:30 o'clock on February 14, at the Cairo Hotel, as a result of injuries received from the fall of a scaffold near the cornice. From testimony we are of the opinion that the accident was the result of the ropes breaking, which, in our judgment, were defective. We recommend that the grand jury investigate the circumstances of said death.

As soon as testimony was given by witnesses Coroner Nevitt informed Captain Boardman, of the local detective bureau, and men were immediately assigned to the case. Several witnesses were interviewed by them.

Hamby was a non-union man and was in the employ of a firm who are said to have been listed as "scabs." The testimony showed that several accidents were narrowly averted only by the watchfulness of the men. While working at the Lafayette Apartment House sometime ago, ropes belonging to the firm and attached to swinging ladders were found half cut. The firm and its workmen had been threatened. Two members of the firm in charge of the work at the Cairo testified that the ropes which were used on the ladder were perfectly strong. Coroner Nevitt expressed his opinion that the ropes broke as a result of coming in contact with some corrosive substance, probably carbonic acid.

Men from headquarters have been assigned to the case and are collecting evidence to be presented before the grand jury.

Believed to Have Been Murdered. It is now believed that Captain Carl Swenson and two seamen belonging to the coal barge Gaston were murdered at Newport News December 29. On that date the captain and his men started ashore from the barge, which was at anchor in the harbor of Newport News, during a violent storm. They were never seen again and it was generally supposed that their dory capsized and they were drowned. The dory was never found, but several days ago workmen discovered a pocketbook floating near a Chesapeake and Ohio pier. The purse proved to be the property of Captain Swenson, and it contained numerous valuable papers, but no money. It is suggested that Captain Swenson and his men reached the shore in safety and met with foul play.
