New Steamers.

At a meeting of the board of directors of the Norfolk and Washington Steamboat Company in Washington yesterday, it was practically decided to arrange for the immediate construction of one of the most modern all-steel boats for the day service between Norfolk and Washington which is to be shortly installed by the company. The decks and hull of the new steamer will be constructed of steel. It will be actually fire-proof, and will cost $400,000. The boat will run every other day, and if the traffic warrants it, still another boat will be put on.

At a meeting of the stockholders a resolution was adopted increasing the capital stock $100,000 and authorizing an issue of $300,000 in bonds for the purpose of purchasing the rights of the Alexandria Ferry Company, and the building of new wharves and boats for use between the two cities. The contract for the building of two steel ferry boats was awarded to the Harlan & Hollingsworth Company of Wilmington, Del. The boats are to cost in round numbers $140,000 each, and the first one is to be delivered, ready for service, in five months, the other to follow as soon as possible.

J. A. Seaton vs. M. L. Robinson; decree confirming report of commissioner and appointing J. M. Johnson commissioner to convey property.

The application of George Benson for a license to sell liquor at No. 114 north Fairfax street, will be heard tomorrow.

May Flies.

The advance guard of mayflies reached Alexandria a few nights ago. They have since received large reinforcements and are now fulfilling their short-lived mission. They will soon be moving in clouds over the tops of trees about dusk, and hovering around the electric lights, and store windows. On warm nights, when the wind is from the south, millions of these insects invade the city and become almost as numerous as raindrops. They spread over windows and pavements, and it is often necessary to sweep them from sidewalks in the same manner as a light snow is removed.

Black Patti Troubadours.

The Black Patti Troubadours will appear at the Opera House on Saturday, May 13. Sissieretta Jones, the Black Patti, has sung to the largest audiences that ever assembled in Madison Square Garden, New York city, and is the only colored female singer honored by royal command to sing before the former Prince of Wales, now King Edward VII. of England. Their revival of the sweet melodies of the South—reminiscent of antebellum days—the plantation, the cotton field and the levee is enjoyable.

Dropped as Deserter.

First Lieut. Alphonse Strebler, 47th Company, Coast Artillery, who disappeared from his station at Fort Hunt, below this city, three months ago, was yesterday dropped from the army register as a deserter. Lieut. Strebler was connected with the quartermaster and commissary departments and because of some deficiencies in his pay accounts was confined to his quarters at the time of his disappearance. He left when he found he was to be court-martialed.

The Double-tracking.

The work of preparing the road bed for the double-tracking of the electric railway between this city and Four-mile run has been practically completed. The ties have been distributed over the road, and the work of laying the rails will soon follow. With the use of the new track traveling facilities between Alexandria and Washington will be of course, rendered easy and rapid and all the inconveniences and delays incident to a single-track road removed.

U. D. C.

The regular monthly meeting of the Seventeenth Virginia Regiment Chapter, U. D. C., was held yesterday at the residence of the president, Miss Louie Smoot. The ways and means committee reported that "The Feast of the Seven Tables," held at Lee Camp Hall on Tuesday, May 9, had been a great success, both financially and socially. After business of a routine nature had been attended to, delightful refreshments were served by the president.

Sash Fell on Neck.

Some excitement was occasioned on Henry street, near Queen this morning by the screams of a colored boy upon whose neck a window sash had fallen. The boy, it seems, had been locked up in the house, and having had his attention attracted to something in the street, raised the window with the result given above. His cries attracted a crowd, some of whom forcibly entered the house and released him.

Sent Back Home.

There was but one case before the Police Court this morning, that of a colored boy, who gave his name as Herman Catlett, who was taken in charge yesterday at the request of employees of the Washington Southern Railway. The boy stated that he had been brought here on a train from a Dowell but it was since learned that he came from Washington to Alexandria. The boy was sent to his home by Justice Caton.

Continued Scarcity.

The local fishermen, whose nets and boats have proven an unprofitable investment this spring, have been indulging the hope that there will be a run of May shad to make up for the disappointments of April. So far their hopes have been vain, and some are inclined to believe that the run in May will be few and far between.

Mrs. Thomas Leadbeater and her daughter, Miss Mary Leadbeater, have returned from Atlantic City.

Mr. Richard Murphy, of this city, and Miss Nannie White, of Warrenton, were married yesterday morning in the latter place.

Man and Woman Fight.

A difficulty occurred today on Princess street, near Pitt, between James Price, alias "Crap," and Hattie Conway, both colored, during which the woman threw a brick at the man. The missile passed through the window of a bar-room when Price rushed at the Conway woman, knocked her down and kicked her on the head. Officer Beach came along and with the aid of Mr. Fred Garvey brought both to the station house.

Sturgeon.

Sturgeon has made its appearance in market. It brings 15 cents a pound. A dealer in speaking of the scarcity of this fish in late years and the consequent advance in price, said a large "cow" sturgeon would bring $90, the roe alone being valued at $1 per pound. In olden times an entire fish could be purchased for 50 cents. The roe, now so valuable, was their either thrown overboard or used as bait to catch other fish.

It is certainly a most wonderful liniment." For sale by Gibson & Timberman and W. F. Creighton & Co.

By direct order from St. Petersburg Count Cassini, the Russian Ambassador to the United States, will be relieved from duty in this country in June and assigned to Madrid as the Russian Ambassador to Spain. The reason assigned for the transfer is that the Count failed to check American sentiment against Russia. As stated yesterday Baron Rosen, a prominent member of the Russian diplomatic corps and formerly the Russian Minister to Japan, will come to the United States as successor to Count Cassini.

Defying the administration warning that railway men must bow to popular opinion in the matter of rate legislation, President J. C. Ramsey, jr., of the Wabash Railroad, threw down the gage yesterday at the hearing of the Senate committee on Interstate Commerce held in Washington. Mr. Ramsey contended that, despite the views expressed by President Roosevelt at Denver, and backed Tuesday night by Secretary of War Taft in his speech before the International Railway Congress, the railroad rates generally are reasonable, and the evils complained of amenable to existing statutes.

The cadet mess hall at the Virginia Military Institute was destroyed by fire yesterday. Heroic efforts were made by cadets and the Lexington fire department to save the building, but without success, as the fire had gained considerable headway when discovered. The origin of the fire is unknown. Temporary arrangements have been made for the accommodation of the 300 cadets. The building will be reconstructed.

At supper call at the Virginia Polytechnic Institute, Blacksburg, Tuesday night, the whole corps of cadets refused to go to mess. After the companies had formed the command "Fall out" was given and the corps broke ranks, most of the students retiring to their rooms. The action was a protest against the food furnished, the cadets claiming they could not stand it longer, and was taken, they say, to bring the grievance to the attention of the proper authorities.

Rev. Dr. Kinsolving Called to Richmond.

Word was received in Brooklyn yesterday that the Rev. Dr. Arthur B. Kinsolving, rector of Christ Church in that city, and formerly rector of a church in Baltimore, has been in invited to the rectorate of the historic St. Paul's Church, Richmond. This church is situated on Capitol Square, and is regarded as the strongest and most influential church in all the south. Rev. Robert Strange, now bishop of East Carolina, was the last rector of the church. It is also historic from the fact that here Gen. Robert E. Lee and Jefferson Davis had their membership and worshipped during the time of the Confederacy.

Dr. Kinsolving said yesterday that he had received the call, officially, since his recent return from his trip with the Ogdan party. The invitation came to him informally while he was at Columbia, he said, and it was a complete surprise. Of course, it was a matter which deserved and should receive earnest consideration, as it was a flattering call in the extreme. He had not, he said, come to any decision with regard to it, and he would not announce it for some time.

It is known that great pressure will be brought to bear to keep Dr. Kinsolving in Brooklyn, where he has done a great work in increasing the finances and membership, in clearing off the debt building a new parish house and securing the money to pay for it, and other good work which has made the parish the strongest now of any time in its history.

Diamonds.

Previous to the discovery of the Brazilian mines in 1727 diamonds were found chiefly in India and Borneo. The most valuable Brazilian diamond was the Southern Star, found in 1854, which weighed 254 carats in the rough and 124 carats after cutting. The South African diamonds do not equal the Brazilian for purity on the average. Other countries where diamonds are known are the United States, British Guiana, Russia, China, Sumatra and Australia. In the United States the stones are found only occasionally in alluvial material and drift. The great lakes region is one of the districts in which they are found.

Owing to the peculiar circular or oval form of the deposits in which diamonds are discovered in South Africa it is considered that these deposits mark the vents or pipes of ancient volcanoes, and it is therefore considered that the presence of diamonds is connected with volcanic activity, the stones either having been brought up from the interior of the earth or having been formed where found under the influence of molten rock in connection with carbonaceous shale.

Monkeys at Play.

"Nothing is more instructive," said the zoo keeper to a Baltimore Herald reporter, "than to watch young monkeys at play. These interesting creatures investigate everything with insatiable curiosity. They do things startling enough to convince me that they have almost human minds. 'I had in India a young monkey that learned to put the key in the lock and unlock the chain that fastened it to a pole. Near this monkey there always lay a brush with a handle that unscrewed. In time the monkey learned to unscrew the handle and then to screw it in again. 'A friend of mine had a monkey that he kept chained just out of reach of the hearth fire. This monkey learned to tear strips from newspapers, roll them into long tapers and light them in the flames.'"

A Colossal Idol.

Two miles from Kamakura and about twenty from Yokohama, in Japan, on a terrace near the temple sits the most gigantic idol in the world. It is the brazen image of a deity and dates from the reign of the Emperor Shomu, who died A. D. 748. The dimensions of this idol are colossal. His height from the base of the lotus flower upon which he sits to the top of his head is sixty-three and a half feet. The face is sixteen feet in length and nine and a half feet wide, the eyes are three feet nine inches from corner to corner, the eyebrows five and a half feet and the ears eight and a half feet. The chest is twenty feet in depth, and the middle finger is exactly five feet long. The fifty-six leaves of the lotus throne are each ten feet long and six feet wide.

Burning of the Vanities.

Savanarolo once marked his strong condemnation of luxury by collecting a large number of articles which he regarded as vanities during the carnival to be burnt in the Piazza della Signoria, Florence, on Shrove Tuesday, 1497. In this "burning of the vanities" were included fancy costumes, carnival masks, false hair and rouge pots, cards and dice boxes, books and pictures, together with casts and valuable sculptures of questionable character. Built up into a pyramid of seven stages—signifying the seven deadly sins—the pile was burnt by lightning fagots placed in the center, while children standing round sang hymns before the assembled crowds.
