

WEDNESDAY EVENING, SEPT. 5, 1906.

From Washington.

(Correspondence of the Alexandria Gazette.) Washington, Sept. 4. The objection will be offered by the Sultan of Morocco to the return to this country of Paul O. Stensland, the defaulting president of the Milwaukee Avenue State Bank of Chicago, who is now in custody in Tangier. This information, it has been authoritatively learned, was received by the State Department this morning in a dispatch from United States Minister Gummere, who has conferred with the Moroccan authorities and found them willing to assist the U. S. in recovering the person of Stensland. It is believed that the actual method of getting Stensland back to the United States is still under consideration to some extent. Minister Gummere has been cabled for further information concerning the attitude of the Moroccan Government, some parts of his dispatch this morning not having been clear. As it was expressed by an official of the State Department who read Minister Gummere's dispatch, "He led us to believe that the Sultan had agreed to offer no objection to Stensland's return, but before we proceed further we desire an official confirmation of this fact in order that there may not be the slightest trouble of an international character. As soon as Gummere cables this confirmation we propose to take definite steps looking to bringing Stensland back for trial."

While Secretary Shaw will not admit that he has any plans in prospect it is confidently believed that if money conditions continue as they are now in New York he will, before the end of the week, come to the relief of the situation by facilitating the importation of gold from Europe. His method will be, as formally to deposit gold from the Treasury in national banks that have engaged gold for import thus making the money immediately available and saving the banks the interest during the time of the transit of the gold across the Atlantic. Secretary Shaw will leave on Friday on his speech-making tour through the South. Any action that he may decide upon will therefore probably be taken tomorrow or next day.

The Cuban legation in this city is without news from Havana regarding the revolutionary movement. Senor Prado, the charge d'affaires, is, however, at a loss to account for the presence in New York of M. C. Aldam, who is variously styled a commissioner of the government of Cuba and its press agent. He says it is strange that the Cuban government would send a commissioner to this country when it already has an established legation here and, in the absence of further information, he is disinclined to believe the report.

Civil Service Commissioner Cooley announced today that the commission has decided to permit applicants for federal offices in undergoing the civil service test to use either the old or the new form of spelling. "Every one will have two chances at the words which President Roosevelt has included in his list of 300 words," said Commissioner Cooley. "It will make it easier for some of those whom we examine."

George B. Matthews, an artist, swallowed thirty-six tablets of strychnine by mistake last night at his studio, 1420 New York avenue. He was taken to the Emergency Hospital.

After shadowing Syrian peddlars for months, officials of the immigration and naturalization bureau of the Department of Commerce and Labor have unearthed a scheme, whereby Syrians afflicted with dread disease and rejected at seaboard ports have been smuggled into this country from Mexico. Handcuffs are now in the United States, it is believed, in violation of the laws, and within the last 25 days twenty have been arrested and will be deported. The plot was revealed to the immigration inspector in charge at St. Louis, Md., by a peddler. He then confessed that after being refused passage on ships of America at Naples on account of the disease, he had been accepted as a passenger to Mexico, with forty countrymen. After landing at Vera Cruz, the Syrians made their way across the border secretly and then headed for St. Louis.

The Treasury Department today refused to buy any silver, the best offer made being 67.75 per cent. This is about one cent an ounce higher than the price at which the Department purchased last Wednesday.

COURT OF APPEALS. The Court of Appeals convened at Staunton yesterday for its fall session. Judges Keith, Whittle, Cardwell and Harrison being present. Judge Buchanan is at home on account of sickness. The docket is an unusually large one and will last probably for five weeks. A case in which the citizens of Staunton are much interested is the contest over the office of police justice. Mr. Joseph A. Glasgow, the incumbent, claimed that under the new Constitution he was entitled to hold the office until the general election in 1909, but the City Council recently appointed Col. Hampton H. Wray, of the Governor's staff.

Yesterday the case of Jerry Lewis against the Commonwealth was submitted on briefs. The Commonwealth against the Coast Line Railroad Company was argued and submitted. This case involves the two-cent mileage rate under the Churchman law.

Daughters to Meet. Daughters of the Confederacy throughout the State are interested in the approaching convention of the Virginia Division, which meets October 10, in Wytheville. Mrs. W. R. McKenny, of Petersburg, the president, will preside. The Virginia Division just now is interested in the plans for representation of the U. S. C. at Jamestown.

The officers of the Virginia Division are: President, Mrs. William R. McKenny, of Petersburg; Mrs. Charles G. Elliott, of Norfolk; Mrs. C. B. Tate, of Pulaski, and Mrs. Lucy Lee Hill Macgill, also of Pulaski, first, second and third vice-presidents; Mrs. Leiper Robinson, of Bowling Green, recording secretary; Miss Lillian Hixon, of Manassas, corresponding secretary; Mrs. James E. Alexander, of Alexandria, treasurer; Mrs. Cabell Smith, of Rocky Mount, fourth vice-president; Miss Elvira Jones, of Roanoke, registrar; Mrs. J. Enders Robinson, of Richmond, historian, and Mrs. J. H. Timberlake, of Aylee, custodian.

The August issue of the Jamestown Magazine says: "United Daughters of the Confederacy are among the most enthusiastic friends of the Jamestown Exposition, and will have an attractive building on the grounds. The site for their building has been selected by Mrs. Frank Anthony Walker, one of the most earnest workers of the 'Lost Cause,' the glory of which the daughters of the Confederacy so nobly perpetuate."

The heavy and continuous rains of the summer are said to have injured planted oysters in the upper part of the Potomac river, many of them being killed.

Governor Johnson and a ticket of "helpers" was put in nomination yesterday afternoon by the democratic State convention at Minneapolis.

The per capita circulation in the United States on September 1 was $32.59, which is the highest record mark. This is based on an estimated population of 84,897,000.

The British battleship Lord Nelson, sister ship to the Agamemnon, and second in size and armament to the Dreadnought, was successfully launched at Jarrow-on-Tyne yesterday.

Incomplete returns from every county in Vermont indicate that Fletcher D. Proctor, republican, is elected Governor over P. W. Clements, fusion candidate, by at least 15,000 majority, and that the entire republican State ticket is elected by about those figures.

Dr. Francis R. Beattie, one of the most widely known ministers in the Presbyterian church, and president of the Presbyterian Theological Seminary, died suddenly yesterday at his residence in Louisville, Ky., of heart disease. He was a native of Canada.

In the biennial election in Arkansas Monday for State and county officers, partial returns received by the Arkansas Gazette Monday night indicate that Congressman John S. Little, democratic nominee for governor, will have a majority of 60,000 over John I. Worthington, republican.

Three locomotives were badly smashed up and Hostler Smith was severely injured in a collision in the Southern Railway yards at Spencer, N. C., Monday night. A shifter in charge of Smith, running at high speed, crash into two engines on a siding. The members of all crews saved themselves by jumping.

According to the latest reports the democrats are certain to win in 37 congressional districts that are now represented by republicans and have more than an even chance of capturing the 20 other districts necessary for a majority in the new Congress to be elected this fall. The Senate is hopelessly republican.

A white haired man, who gave his name as Samuel Browning, and his residence as Kentucky, created a disturbance among the Bryan visitors in the lobby of the Auditorium Annex, in Chicago, yesterday afternoon, by brandishing a knife and demanding to see Mr. Bryan. He was arrested by the house detective and turned over to the police.

Postmaster General Cortelyou yesterday caused to be prepared a statement which would settle the question as to the attitude of the Postoffice Department toward the organization of unions by employees in the postal service. He says, in short, that the employees can form all the unions they desire so long as they are kept strictly within a purely fraternal or beneficiary character. But he warns all employees that he will insist on loyal service from each employee "as an individual and without any thought of his affiliations with any organization."

The body of a Sicilian, bearing eight stiletto wounds, was found in the woods near Jamaica, New York, yesterday morning. The police are positive that the man is a victim of the Black Hand society. The dead man was identified as Giacinto Adamo. There was a gaping stab wound in the back of the man's neck and in the right breast another. Both had been made with a stiletto like instrument. There was also a deep slash across the third finger of the left hand, as if the victim had struggled to save himself before he received his death wound.

The court of review which will hear the appeal of Rev. Dr. Algernon S. Crapsey, of Rochester, N. Y., who has been found guilty of the charges of heresy, met yesterday in the See House, in New York. Edward M. Shepard, of counsel for Dr. Crapsey, pleaded for an adjournment and this was granted. The court set October 19 as the date for the hearing. Edward M. Shepard and Congressman J. P. Perkins, of Rochester, N. Y., appeared as counsel for Dr. Crapsey, who was also present. John Lord O'Brien, of Buffalo, appeared as church advocate, representing the standing committee, which brought the charges.

Dr. Will Hatfield, superintendent of the Miners' Hospital at Welch, McDowell county, W. Va., yesterday shot and instantly killed Concord Woodson, a negro school teacher. Woodson was celebrating over the victory of Joseph Gans, and, walking down the street with pistol in hand, swore he would whip any white man living. Woodson crowded Hatfield, who was unarmed, off the street. Hatfield went to a nearby store, procured a Winchester rifle and went in pursuit of Woodson, and at first sight of the negro shot him dead. Hatfield is a son of Elias Hatfield, of feud fame, is the republican nominee for county commissioner of McDowell county and is prominently known. He has not yet been arrested.

The unanimous nomination of Hoke Smith for governor of Georgia and the endorsement of William Jennings Bryan for President in 1908 was the principal business transacted yesterday by the democratic State convention at Macon, Ga. The names of other candidates for governor were not placed before the convention. The platform adopted contains many radical recommendations and substitutes the majority vote in primaries for nominating conventions in gubernatorial contests. The State railroad commission is severely criticized, while two-cent railroad fares, State railroad control, lower freight rates, negro disfranchisement and increase in the size of the State Senate are demanded.

Rescue of a Merchant. A prominent merchant of Shomo, N. Y., J. A. Johnson, says: "Several years ago I contracted a cough which grew worse, until I was hardly able to move around. I coughed constantly and nothing relieved my terrible suffering until I tried Dr. King's New Discovery. Before I had taken half a bottle my cough was much better, and in a short time I was entirely cured. I surely believe it saved my life. It will give you the same remedy for coughs, colds, croup, asthma, and all the ailments of the throat and lungs. Trial bottle free."

Virginia News.

A boy baby, apparently a month old, was found alive in a stable in Elkton, yesterday morning. The child was well dressed, but there was no means of identification.

The new steamer of the State oyster navy, to be used as the flagship by Chairman W. McD Lee, of the Board of Fisheries, will be christened "Commodore Mary."

The death of Colonel Thomas E. Upshaw, which occurred in St. Louis on August 28th, will be regretted by a very large circle of friends throughout Virginia, his birthplace.

Mrs. Evelyn L. Hewitt, wife of Mr. Charles Hewitt, formerly of Falmouth, died Monday at her home in Washington after a long illness, aged 37 years. She was a daughter of Mr. Charles W. Roberson, of Falmouth.

Some excitement was created in Purcellville, Loudoun county, Saturday, by the robbing of the safe in the postoffice of that town between 1 and 2 o'clock that morning. The door of the safe was opened by dynamite and about $300 in stamps and money taken out.

Miss Charlotte Reed Poythress, daughter of Mr. Wm. P. Poythress, residing at No. 8 West Franklin street, Richmond, died suddenly yesterday at her residence in Louisville, Ky., of heart disease. She was a native of Canada.

In the biennial election in Arkansas Monday for State and county officers, partial returns received by the Arkansas Gazette Monday night indicate that Congressman John S. Little, democratic nominee for governor, will have a majority of 60,000 over John I. Worthington, republican.

Miss Elizabeth Wise, daughter of William T. Wise, was carried from Onancock to Baltimore last Sunday night suffering from appendicitis, and has since been operated on at St. Joseph's Hospital. Her condition is favorable. This is the sixth case of this disease within the town of Onancock and immediate vicinity during the past three weeks.

Gov. Swanson has ordered a special election to be held in the Fifth congressional district, on November 6, the day of the usual election, in order that the vacancy caused by his own resignation as a member of Congress may be filled. This means that the name of Judge E. W. Saunders, the democratic nominee, will appear on two tickets, that for the unexpired term and for the regular term.

Mrs. Virginia Guckenheimer, daughter of the late J. S. Gersl, of Danville, and Herman Myers, mayor of Savannah, Ga., were married at the Country Club, Danville, yesterday. Dr. George Salton, of Savannah, officiated. The marriage was kept a secret, and even the most intimate friends and relatives did not know of it until the ceremony had been performed. Mr. and Mrs. Myers left on the evening train for a bridal trip west.

Millions of tiny fish marked in a peculiar manner were seen yesterday swimming about in the water that fills 80 per cent of the cellars of Winchester. The water is due to the recent rains and cloudbursts that continued for three months. The fish average an inch in length. The upper part of the body is black and the tails are white. How the strange creatures got into the cellars is a mystery. Fifty years ago, according to old inhabitants, fish were found in the cellars of Winchester, and at that time a fatal epidemic of typhoid fever prevailed.

Charles E. Allen, aged thirty-four years, who has for several months been employed on the double tracking of the Southern Railway at Harts, near Danville, committed suicide at an early hour yesterday morning at the Hotel Morgan in Danville, by taking an overdose of morphine. The guests were aroused by his groans, but all efforts to save him proved futile. His home is in Little Hocking, Ohio. Allen was formerly employed as conductor on the Great Northern Railway in Montana and married in Danville. He and his wife had separated.

Defiant Female Employees. The revolt of the employees in the bindery at the government printing office against the recent orders looking forward to obtaining a greater amount of work out of the employees in the bindery led to the peremptory dismissal of a woman employed in the bindery yesterday. It seems that a day or two ago Miss Ellen F. Sydnor, who is a sewer in the bindery, was changed from time to piece work. Miss Sydnor objected vigorously. Yesterday she called on Public Printer Stillings and told him her grievance and demanded that she be returned to time work. Miss Sydnor told the Public Printer that unless she was reinstated in her old place she would "fight the matter to a finish." Miss Sydnor demanded immediate action, which Mr. Stillings would not grant, telling her that he must make an investigation before action. She replied that she would not wait for an investigation, that she would not work on piece work, that she would not resign, and she made threats that she would give trouble if she were dismissed. Under the circumstances there was nothing for the Public Printer to do but to dismiss Miss Sydnor at once.

The order transferring a number of the women in the bindery from time work to piece work resulted from the conviction that such a change would be to the material benefit of the printing office. It was found that the women who had been paid by the day, when paid by the piece earned on the first day about 35 cents. The second day showed some improvement, and gradually, as the women learned that their earnings depended solely on their industry, their earnings increased until most of them were making $1.75 a day, although, of course, their industry and activity was more pronounced than it had been when they were working under the time system. It is stated that the piece system entails no hardships for industrious workers, because many who have been doing piece work for some time are earning as high as $8 day. The objection to the piece system comes from the women who have been heretofore employed by the day.

In these days of rush and hurry courtesy is often forgotten. In the mad, pell-mell rush of our little life things are done to offend that we neither remember nor mind. A hastily eaten meal and its resultant headache may make us so ill that we are unable to do anything but lie in bed. The "Wig" man who is in the one who relieves little ills of our people by a little dose of Kistal for Dyspepsia. It digests what you eat. Sold by W. F. Creighton & Co., 401 King street.

Rescue of a Merchant. A prominent merchant of Shomo, N. Y., J. A. Johnson, says: "Several years ago I contracted a cough which grew worse, until I was hardly able to move around. I coughed constantly and nothing relieved my terrible suffering until I tried Dr. King's New Discovery. Before I had taken half a bottle my cough was much better, and in a short time I was entirely cured. I surely believe it saved my life. It will give you the same remedy for coughs, colds, croup, asthma, and all the ailments of the throat and lungs. Trial bottle free."

Today's Telegraphic News

Maynard Nominated. (Special Dispatch to the Alexandria Gazette.) Norfolk, Va., Sept. 5.—It will be the result of the primaries in the Second congressional district for the democratic nomination, which is regarded as equivalent to election. However, Congressman Maynard, the incumbent, with several practical misgivings, seems to have won by a small majority over Col. Cabell.

New York Politics. Albany, N. Y., Sept. 5.—Called for the purpose of sticking a political pin in the gubernatorial balloting of William R. Hearst and to prevent the "trusts from firing with Miss Democracy in the Empire State," democratic representatives met here today. The only democrat from Greater New York in the conference was District Attorney Jerome, of New York. No other democrats of the big city were invited. The invitations indicated the design of the meeting by stating that the meeting was to "save the party from the grip of selfish corporatism" or some unprincipled demagogue. No names were mentioned.

Only the conservative members of the democratic party in the State were present when the meeting was called to order. Before the conferees met every one was telling every one else that it was not a Jerome meeting, but the fact that the District Attorney was the only New York city democrat present indicated that his boom for Governor would be put overboard on the political seas today. Former Mayor Thomas M. Osborne, of Auburn, who brought the conference about, said today that the meeting was to prevent the splendid old democratic ship from going ashore on the shores of radicalism. He said there was serious danger of a split in the democratic party in the State at this time.

Binghamton, N. Y., Sept. 5.—After lieutenants of William R. Hearst had flooded the state prohibition convention with literature and buttons and the liveliest sort of an internal fight had been kicked up, over the proposed plan of endorsing the Independence League candidate for Governor upon the strength of his promise to fight the demon rum, if elected, the "prohibs" finally have got together and today Hearst is scratched out for blue ribbon honors. The logic which finally won for the enemies of Hearst was that as he was not a prohibitionist himself, to say nothing of a teetotaler, he would scarcely make an ideal prohibition candidate.

New York, Sept. 5.—Richard Croker is coming back to fight the battle for William Jennings Bryan to be President. The old Tammany Sachem will emerge from his political retirement and leave his country estate in Ireland and come here to make the fight for the Nebraska.

All the exhortations and blandishments of his friends in Tammany Hall to return and take up the political reins in this city have been met in the past with the flat refusal. Miss Anne E. Campbell, who returned on the steamship Carolla, told the newspaper men that she was a guest at a dinner given in Belfast, Ireland, to William J. Bryan and that in her presence Croker told Bryan that he intended to return here and work and vote for him. Mr. Croker told Mr. Bryan, according to Miss Campbell, that if Roosevelt were nominated for the presidency a democrat would be elected.

Charged with Embezzlement. Philadelphia, Sept. 5.—Upon warrants charging embezzlement and making false returns, sworn out by a depositor of the wrecked Real Estate Trust Company, Adolph Segal, promoter; Wm. F. North, the treasurer, and M. S. Collingwood, assistant treasurer of the wrecked institution, were arrested this morning and arranged before Magistrate Kochersperger at Central Police Court. Segal's bail has been fixed at $25,000 by the magistrate. The other two men will be required to enter $10,000 each.

Shortly afterwards Mr. Segal, and his attorneys appeared before Magistrate Kochersperger, and enter $25,000 bail, which was promptly furnished. North and Collingwood also entered $10,000 bail each. All three men will be given a further hearing tomorrow morning.

Bail was furnished for North and Collingwood by W. Sheldermire, a well known railroad man, and W. J. McCohan, millionaire sugar refiner. Morris Rosenbaum, manufacturer, entered bail for Segal.

Terrorist Outrages Anticipated. Warsaw, Poland, Sept. 5.—Wholesale terrorist outrages are expected to break out throughout all Poland in the very near future as the result of a new programme of action adopted by terrorist leaders here. Terrorists are no longer able to remain in the city with the impunity which they enjoyed for so many weeks. Every known terrorist has been marked for arrest, and scores have been taken into custody. As a result hundreds have been driven from the city and are now scattering throughout the country. All the terrorists who have been driven from Warsaw will act as agitators among the people of the smaller towns. The reign of police murders which was carried to such a terrible extent in the Polish capital will be established in every community where allies of the terrorists can be secured to carry out the attacks on police.

Soliciting Campaign Funds. Boston, Sept. 5.—Enemies of District Attorney Moran are making much of an accusation that one of his followers met Henry T. Schaeffer of Boston and asked how much he would give the state democratic campaign committee funds in case he were permitted to run for Lieutenant Governor on the Moran ticket. Mr. Schaeffer has made public a letter in which he informs Mr. Moran of this fact. The District Attorney's reply has been a challenge to Mr. Schaeffer to name the person who demanded the contribution and the declaration that if Schaeffer refused he would be summoned before the grand jury and forced to go to jail for contempt.

New York Stock Market. New York, Sept. 5.—Money was the only thing spoken of during the first hour and the loan crowd was a mass of borrowers looking for accommodations. The first offer made was $100,000 by Frank Harris, at 17 per cent. This was quickly taken and in a few minutes the rate advanced to 24 per cent, with only small amounts in sight, chiefly foreign balances. The opinion was freely expressed that Secretary Shaw will have to do something, and an idea prevails that action in the way of making heavy government deposits in the national banks will be announced. Price movements after the first few minutes were almost toward lower levels. Following some gains made just after the opening, practically everything traded in made some decline during the first hour, and the tone of trading was feverish and unsettled.

Nelson's Condition.

Goldfield, Nev. Sept. 5.—Battling Nelson is today the occupant of a dark room, shut off from all communication with the outside world and under the constant care of doctors. The Dane is in bad shape after his fight with Gans. His face is bruised and slashed almost beyond recognition and at times he is delirious. It will probably be several days before he is able to get away from Goldfield. Feeling against Nelson and Nolan is still high among the miners. While they saw a good fight, they still resent the conditions imposed upon Gans. Gans' declaration that he was offered $25,000 to throw the fight to Nelson has increased the sentiment against the Dane.

The Case of Stensland. Tangier, Morocco, Sept. 5.—Paul O. Stensland, president of the Milwaukee Avenue State Bank of Chicago, who was arrested here on Monday, will be returned to the United States without opposition from the Moroccan authorities. Although no extradition treaty exists between the United States and Morocco, it is charged here that the Sultan will agree to the return of the prisoner. It will require several days to arrange the formalities for the banker's return. Stensland, in the meantime, will be held as a prisoner in the American legation, where he has remained since his arrest.

Three Freight Trains in a Wreck. Cumberland, Md., Sept. 5.—A west-bound and east-bound freight train on the Baltimore and Ohio had collided at Sir Johns Run, 50 miles east of Cumberland today, blocking both tracks. A third freight train ran into the wreckage. Brakeman, W. J. Woods was killed. S. I. Snyder, engineer, F. McKeever fireman are frightfully scalded, and may die. The third train ran into the wreckage before the flagman could be sent back. It is reported that a boy who was stealing a ride, was caught under the wreckage. The road was completely tied up for some hours.

Home Reception for Mr. Bryan. Lincoln, Neb., Sept. 5.—An uproarous greeting is in store for William J. Bryan when he reaches Lincoln his home city, this evening, on his return from his world tour. Bryan's neighbors will be out in full force, while nearly every cross road town in the State will send delegations to take part in the reception and whoop it up for Nebraska's distinguished commoner. The city is a mass of flags and bunting, while pictures of Bryan are in almost every window. Lincoln is fairly tumbling over itself to give Mr. Bryan a glad hand-shake when he comes home.

Strike Nearing an End. San Francisco, Sept. 5.—The street car strike which has tied up all the lines of the United Railroads in this city for ten days, and caused immense loss to business men, is practically at an end, although cars may not be running for another day. The car men's union last night passed a resolution authorizing the executive committee to arrange for arbitration of all differences between the union and the company. The men will return pending settlement of the troubles.

Commemorative Tablet. Portsmouth, N. H., Sept. 5.—The bronze tablet commemorative of the signing of the Russo-Japanese treaty was affixed today to the wall of the now historic "No. 6" in the Kittery yard where the Russian and Japanese envoys held their sittings and where the treaty of Portsmouth was signed. The tablet was ordered by the Navy Department.

Fort Brown to be Abandoned. Fort Worth, Tex., Sept. 5.—Orders have been received at Brownsville, from Washington, for the immediate abandonment of Fort Brown. Contracts for extending and improving the fort, which are well under way are annulled. There is great indignation in Brownsville, over the government's action.

Submarine Explosion. Honolulu, Sept. 5.—Hilo experienced a severe earthquake last night at 6:40 o'clock, and soon afterward the beach was found to be lined with dead fish, which had evidently been scalded. It is believed to have been a submarine explosion. Such disturbances are thought to have caused the wreck of the Maschuria and the Sheridan.

Efforts for Peace. Havans, Sept. 5.—Congressmen Cruise and Lewa, peace commissioners, who either represent the government direct, or General Menocal, who has undertaken to end the revolution, are in conference today with insurgent General Cuzman, trying to arrange terms of peace under which the revolution can be ended.

Discussing Political Situation. Oyster Bay, N. Y., Sept. 5.—President Roosevelt is discussing State and congressional politics this afternoon with Representative Lucius M. Littauer. Mr. Littauer arrived on the 12:20 train, and was at once driven out to Sagamore Hill where he had luncheon with the President.

From Cuba. As days and weeks pass with no appreciable diminution of the revolution apprehension at Havana increases. The most conservative testimony from the country districts of the Provinces of Pinar del Rio, Havana and Santa Clara, is to the effect that two-thirds of the people in the country and small towns of these three provinces are insurgents in sentiment, if not in fact. The following are the demands of the revolutionists: To declare vacant the offices of president, vice president, all civil governors, senators and representatives "who should have been elected last December." Those senators elected in 1902 and representatives elected in 1904 to form a congress and call elections for president and vice president. Will respect life and property of foreigners and natives. Will avoid bloodshed except to overcome resistance of those defending the illegal government. Pledge to continue movement until "constitutional rights are restored to the country." Do not favor any special candidate for office.

DIED. Suddenly, this morning, ERNEST LEE SULLIVAN, aged 32 years, son of the late Edward and Margaret Sullivan. Funeral from the residence of his aunt, Mrs. Rachel Sullivan, No. 506 Prince street, on Thursday evening at 3 o'clock. Interment private.

Mr. Bryan.

William J. Bryan, as the guest of the Chicago democracy, delivered yesterday within eight hours two addresses. His first speech, which was made at a luncheon of the Iroquois Club, dealt with political issues and economic questions. The second, made at a banquet given in his honor by the Jefferson Club, was devoted to National Commitment Roger C. Sullivan, of Illinois, whose resignation Mr. Bryan demanded, but who, despite this, was indorsed by the recent State convention, which also declared itself in favor of Mr. Bryan as the next democratic nominee for President. Mr. Bryan not only scolded Sullivan and his political methods unmercifully, but informed the democrats present, many of whom were delegates to the recent State convention, that he would have none of the approval of the democrats of Illinois, and that he repudiated their recent indorsement of him.

In his afternoon address Mr. Bryan said, regarding his recent utterances in New York on government ownership of railroads: "I stated what I thought with the expectation that everybody would exercise the same freedom. I was led to my conclusions by the corruption of the people of the United States by the railroads. In my judgment we have had no more corrupting influence in American politics than the railroads. I have known conventions to be controlled by passes, I have known judges to be elected by railroads, and I have reached the conclusion that this corruption cannot be eliminated until these natural monopolies become the property of the government. I am opposed to centralization, and therefore should have the local lines owned by State governments, and only the trunk lines owned by the federal government."

TELEGRAPHIC BREVITIES. In the Roosevelt cup races of Marblehead, Mass., today the race was won by the Vim. The Caramba was second, and the Auk third, all American boats.

A sprained ankle is the full extent of the injury from which little Margaret Carnegie, daughter of Andrew Carnegie, is suffering. Owing to the injury to her ankle a report was circulated that she was afflicted with hip disease.

Undismayed by the attempt made upon his life two weeks ago, when a bomb was exploded in his villa, Premier Stolypin has decided to hold regular Thursday receptions at the Winter Palace where he has taken up his quarters.

All the section men on the Pennsylvania Railroad between New Brunswick, N. J., and Newark and the N. J. connected with the wrecking crew, struck this morning for higher wages.

The trial of Harry K. Thaw for the murder of Stanford White, in New York, will not be called until after election, and may not be reached before December.

Canon and Gompers. Speaker Cannon, in an address before a large audience in the Opera House at Norway, Maine, yesterday omitted State issues and announced he had come to Maine to help elect a republican House of Representatives and secure the indorsement of President Roosevelt. Aside from national politics, labor was the theme of his speech. He termed Mr. Bryan one of the set of professional politicians who never labored in the mills and factories. He criticized Samuel Gompers for giving out a statement that Representative Littlefield will be defeated, and added "God bless the Australian helms, where by the laboring men may vote as they pleased. Samuel Gompers, by the grace of God, these very laborers next Monday will put their foot on your prophecies because it is undemocratic and it is not according to the principles of your labor organization."
