Local Matters.

Sun and Tide Table. Sun rises tomorrow at 5:20 a. m. and sets at 6:40 p. m. High water at 11:45 a. m.

Weather Probabilities. For this section fair tonight and Thursday, cold tonight with temperature about the freezing point; fresh northerly winds.

"The Witch of Bramble Hollow." The entertainment at St. Mary's last night was certainly one of the best efforts of home talent ever presented in this city.

The pupils of the school appeared in a pretty little drama, which they presented in a manner that showed much as well as careful training. Only at 8 o'clock the curtain opened on a scene of loveliness—20 young ladies costumed amid artistic ones. It was the opening scene of a beautiful play, "The Witch of Bramble Hollow," and from the opening "Joys of Spring," to the last "Fading, Still Fading" the audience delighted.

Followed the ceremony of the betrothal, in the person of Miss Eliza a dress of loveliness as, surmounted by her devoted subjects, she wore a crown of roses that her love had

Miss Sallie Patterson then rendered Valse op. 34 No. 1 Chopin which received the applause it deserved.

Act 2, scene 1, at school, introduced some lovely characters, Agnes Glynn, as Sister Angela, made an excellent teacher while her pupils were equally interesting. In this scene Miss E. Willis and F. Cowling sang a charming duet and here, too, the plot of the play began to unravel. The trio from Behr, with Misses T. Crilly, L. Hill and Evelyn Wiley at the piano was ably rendered.

Scene 2 was by many declared the prettiest of the evening, as Gyp, the little gypsy dancer, completely won all hearts. This role was ably carried by little Madge Clark who, by her amusing remarks, deserved the rounds of applause she received. Misses Josephine and Margaret Daly then rendered "King of the Carnival," by E. Deshayser, in a faultless manner.

Act 3 introduced Catherine Birrell who, as the "Witch of Bramble Hollow," was faultless. The scene was touching in the extreme when she made herself known to her daughter Maurine. Then came the gypsy band with Nancy Greon as queen. Their costumes were in deed typical and the whole scene was one of intense interest.

The violin trio of Misses A. Desio, M. Faber and N. Groh was well received.

Act 4, the death of Lady Hardgrave, the "Witch of Bramble Hollow," was a sweet picture of repentance. Little Gyp, now the restored heiress to the wealth of her dead parent, Maurine, daughter of Lady Hardgrave, Sister Angela and the queen of the gypsies made this act thoroughly beautiful as they knelt about the dying witch.

Misses F. Cowling and E. Willis then played a piano duet, "Galop de Concert," by Mori in a truly creditable manner. The play closed with a reunion in the home of Maurine and Gyp of all the old pupils now grown to womanhood; in this scene all connected with their early life appeared and an artistic grouping was made as they gathered around a statue of the Mother of God and sang an evening hymn to the Virgin Mary.

The people of Alexandria and friends of the Institution responded so generously to the appeal of the sisters that crowds had to be turned away for lack of room. To give those holding tickets and all others who may wish to see the play an opportunity, it will be repeated tonight at the same hour, 8 o'clock.

Counter Charges.

Late yesterday evening a young man named L. D. Moore, of Richmond, but who recently lived in Fairfax county, telephoned to the station house that a young man named Mary Kane, living with family on King street, had stolen five-dollar bills from him. Lieutenant Smith arrested the woman, and at the man in whose house the accused lives swore out a warrant against her charging him with having committed a criminal assault on the defendant. The case was examined in the vice court last night, when Moore testified that he had known the woman for the past six months and had been in company on Alfred street on a previous occasion; that he met her standing at the side of her home about 4:30 o'clock evening and upon her invitation entered the house with her; that he gave her $2, and later missing $40 he returned and demanded that she return the money. The young woman denied having the money and her arrest followed. The woman in her statement said that she was sitting in the front room of her home when Moore entered; that he locked the door, seized her and pulled her upstairs into her room; that she never saw the man before in her life; that she screamed and endeavored to extricate herself from him, but that he put one of his hands over her mouth, and that her assailant subsequently left the house. Justice Catton dismissed both charges, there being no evidence to substantiate the allegations of either the woman or the man.

Sent on to the Grand Jury.

H. B. Dameron, who had been arrested in Lynchburg on suspicion of stealing a gold watch, chain, diamond ring and $110 from W. H. Truett in this city about a year ago, was brought here yesterday by Officer Young who had been sent to Lynchburg for that purpose. The accused was arraigned in the Police Court this morning, when Truett positively identified the watch and chain which had been recovered by the Lynchburg police as his property. Dameron in his defense denied having stolen the articles, and said he advanced a man $50 on the watch at the union station in this city last July, and that having owned a friend to Lynchburg $50 he gave him $10 and the watch in payment. Justice Catton sent Dameron on to the grand jury.

W. C. T. U.

The regular business meeting of the W. C. T. U. will be held tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock at the Children's Home on Duke street.

The regular weekly prayer meeting will also be held at 7:30 o'clock at the Children's Home on Duke street.

Personal.

Col. L. S. Brown, general agent of the Southern Railway, is ill with blood poisoning at his apartments in the Sterling, in Washington. He has been ill a week, and his condition occasions alarm to his family and his associates in the railway service.

Mr. H. M. Fitzhugh, of Fairfax Court-house, employed in the assessors' office at the District building, in Washington, who has many friends in this city, was stricken with paralysis yesterday morning while at work at his desk. His entire left side was paralyzed. He was taken to his home in Washington by Mr. J. W. Daniel, a fellow-clerk.

Police Court.

[Justice H. B. Catton presiding.]

The following cases were disposed of this morning:

William Speakes, colored, arrested by Special Officer Thomas Carter and Officer Arrington for disorderly conduct on the fair grounds, was fined $2.50.

Henry Simpson, arrested by Officer Henderson for drunken and disorderly conduct, was fined $5.

Mabel Baker, arrested by Officer Henderson for disorderly conduct, was fined $5.

H. B. Dameron, arrested by Officer Young charged with stealing a watch, ring and $110 from W. H. Truett, was sent on to the grand jury.

Bullet Extracted.

Mr. Howard W. Smith, counsel for William Midgots, who is in jail here under sentence of death for killing Charles Smith, of Alexandria, came here Tuesday morning with an order from Judge Louis C. Barley, judge of the Corporation court of that city, to extract the bullet from the leg of Midgots. Midgots was brought to the office of Dr. W. J. Chewning and a ball extracted which weighed 71 grains, while that of a 32-calibre weighs 88 grains. The object in taking out this ball is for evidence in a proposed appeal, as the defense claimed he was shot with a 38-calibre ball.

Death of Mrs. Walton.

Mrs. Anna S. Walton died at her home near Woodlawn Mansion, in lower Fairfax county, this morning, at 3 o'clock, aged 73 years. Mrs. Walton was the widow of Walter Walton and came to this section of the country in 1846 with the first Friends who settled in the Woodstock neighborhood at that time. Throughout life she enjoyed the confidence and respect of all who knew her. She leaves two children—Mr. Edward M. Walton and Miss Sarah Walton.

Another Chicken Story.

A gentleman living on south Fairfax street contributes the latest chicken story. On Sunday last he killed a rooster for dinner, which caused a Minorea hen considerable distress. The latter moped about the yard disconsolately after the slaughter of its mate, and this morning was found dead by its owner, the hen having hanged itself on an iron hook during the night.

Old Papers.

Mayor Paif today received a letter from Mr. J. C. Cartledge, of Elmira, N. Y., enclosing two old letters written in 1779 to G. W. Fairfax and to Col. J. C. Carlyle. These letters, Mr. Cartledge says, he took from a house in this city while he was quartered here with the federal troops in 1862 and he now wishes to restore them to their rightful owners.

The George R. Hill Memorial.

The building committee of The George R. Hill Memorial Building, to be erected by the Washington Street M. E. Church South, met last night and accepted the plans and specifications furnished by the architect, Mr. W. Leon Clark. Bids will be received and considered, and the contract awarded without delay.

The Candidates.

The time for filing notices of the candidates for Congress for this district expired today. Only Messrs. Carlin, Ryan, Wood and Gordon filed such notices, so they will be the candidates in the primary to be held June 19. Col. Hoop, of Loudoun, decided to withdraw from the race.

Circuit Court for the County.

[Judge L. C. Barley, presiding.] Davis vs. Board of Supervisors, an appeal from the decision of the Supervisors not to pay a bill, case thrown out of court on a technicality and sent back to the Supervisors for action. Court adjourned till tomorrow.

Registrar Appointed.

The Electoral Board has appointed Mr. E. J. Fleming registrar for the Third ward in place of Mr. Augustus Nagel, who resigned some months since.

His Dear Old Mother.—"My dear old mother, who is now eighty-three years old, thrives on Electric Bitters," writes W. B. Brunson, of Dublin, Ga. "She has taken them for about two years and enjoys an excellent appetite, feels strong and sleeps well." That's the way Electric Bitters affect the aged, and the same happy results follow in all cases of female weakness and general debility. Weak, puffy children, too, are greatly strengthened by this. Good relief also for stomach, liver and kidney troubles, by E. S. Leadbeater & Sons, druggists, 50c.

Royal Arcanum.

About 100 officers and delegates from all parts of Virginia are in Danville in attendance upon the twenty-fifth session of the Grand Council, Royal Arcanum of Virginia, which convened there yesterday afternoon.

The opening session was called to order by Grand Regent William Bickers, of Richmond. The address of welcome to the visiting delegates was delivered by Rev. J. Cleveland Hall. The address of Mr. Hall was responded to by the grand regent.

The business transacted at the session yesterday afternoon was merely of a routine nature. Last night the organization was perfected by the election of the following officers: W. M. Bickers, of Richmond, past grand regent; Howard G. Avery, of Norfolk, grand regent; James McCreeley, of Roanoke, grand vice regent; James B. Blanks, of Petersburg, grand secretary; A. B. Botts, of Fredericksburg, grand treasurer; W. T. Dabney, of Richmond, grand orator; H. K. Field, of Alexandria, grand chaplain; Minnetree Fuiks, of Richmond, grand guide; E. C. Stem, of Richmond, grand warden; S. H. Ayres, of Hampton, grand scribe.

Harry Kemp, of Richmond, grand scribe for the past year, declined nomination as grand warden.

Mr. Bryan.

With William Jennings Bryan as the chief attraction, the democracy of Brooklyn last night, in observance of the anniversary of the birth of Thomas Jefferson, engaged in an enthusiastic democratic reunion and demonstration. The function was the annual dinner of the Brooklyn Democratic Club.

Mr. Bryan was given a splendid reception, and delivered a characteristic discourse, taking for his subject "Thomas Jefferson."

Bryan's boom for the presidency was given impetus when Edward M. Shepard declared in the name of the club, the hope that the Nebraska would lead the party in 1908.

George Fred Williams declared mere Government regulation of railroads impossible and inexpedient.

Former Governor Tyler of Virginia said, the people of the South are practically united for Bryan, and that the mention of his name is as potent in inspiring a magic spell of enthusiasm as it was in 1896. He believed that millions of American voters would never forsake the banner of Mr. Bryan.

Agricultural Board Meets.

The first meeting of the State board of agriculture was held in Richmond yesterday, the three appointees of Governor Swanson taking their places. W. W. Fater was again chosen president. The executive committee is as follows: O. W. Heater, W. H. Eggborn, A. R. Scott, A. O. Mauck, and J. H. Beverly.

The State test farm at Saxe was discussed by Dr. T. W. Magruder, but no action was taken. H. O. Marshall is now superintendent of the farm. The following committees were named: Immigration, J. H. C. Beverley, A. R. Scott, and J. W. Churchman; test farm, M. B. Barker, T. J. Arvin, B. D. Adams, and G. W. Kolner; farmer's institute, J. H. C. Beverley and A. R. Scott; Norfolk experimental station, O. W. Heater, W. H. Eggborn, O. A. Mauck, and J. H. Beverly; tag counting, A. R. Scott and W. H. Eggborn.

Notice of Removal

We desire to announce to our patrons that we have leased for a term of years the building at the corner of King and Pittstreets, formerly occupied by the Goodloe Co., and that after extensive improvements we will move into that building, where we will have more room, good light and better facilities in every way for the conduct of a first-class dry goods house. Our business makes this change inevitable, and it is our aim to give the people of Alexandria and vicinity a much better and larger store than we now have.

Previous to our moving we desire to greatly reduce our stock, and will begin our first big REMOVAL SALE Saturday morning, April 20, at nine o'clock.
