

FRIDAY EVENING, SEPT. 4, 1908.

From Washington.

Washington, Sept. 5. November 9th is the day set for the launching of the battleship North Dakota, which has been in process of construction for the past 11 months at the Fore River Shipbuilding Company's yard at Fore River, Mass. The record for speed of this vessel has been surpassed in the history of modern battleship building but once and that was by a ship of a sister type of the English Dreadnought. A fierce rivalry has been on by the Fore River Company and the Newport News Company which has been engaged upon the Delaware, a ship of similar size and power but the work on the Dakota is in advance of the Delaware and five months in advance of similar construction in any American ship yard on battleship work. The allowance of time specified by the government in advertising bids for vessels of this type was 36 months, and all indications point to the completion of the work upon the North Dakota many months before this time.

The steamer Cymric which sails from Boston, next Saturday, for Liverpool will carry back seven more Mormons whose cases, investigated by the immigrant officials, have disclosed conditions which make it impossible for them to land. Orders for their deportation were sent yesterday from Washington following an exhaustive examination into their cases and appeals. Several more Mormon cases are to be acted upon and it is likely a few more may be denied permission to land.

Claiborne M. Cley, a colored convict, from Danville, made his escape from the Virginia penitentiary Thursday night. He was serving a term of seven years for felonious assault. He was employed with the penitentiary on a building job and he made a hole large enough to crawl through. He was seen by a guard on the road and he fled. He is now being sought by the police.

One of the cleverest pieces of fraud in the annals of the State has been unearthed with the arrest of David Buchanan, postmaster, and Elijah Stacey, his assistant, at Golden Springs, Buchanan county, on a charge of obtaining goods under false pretenses, and using the mails for the purpose of fraud. These men, it is alleged, ordered goods from the mail order houses of Chicago for the last two years. When the articles arrived a cheap imitation was secured and mailed back to the house, with a letter claiming that the company had not sent what was ordered. The substitution of a paste diamond ring for a real one led to their arrest. The two men, having complete control of the postoffice under their charge, had been doing a big business under this scheme.

Three thousand people are homeless, a score or more are injured, several seriously, and the entire business section of Rawhide, Nev., is burned, as a result of a destructive conflagration that started in the basement of the Rawhide Drug Company's store, in the heart of the business section yesterday, and did not cease until it had burned itself out. The loss will aggregate $750,000, without a dollar of insurance. Citizens of Rawhide met today and prepared to rebuild. Undaunted by the fire, which swept the place, and caused $1,000,000 losses and left 3,000 homeless and facing starvation the inhabitants have adopted the words, "watch us grow" as their slogan.

Today's Telegraphic News

Crash of Balloons. New York, Sept. 5.—Winging their way through the air at a terrific speed while the white-faced passengers clutched frantically at the rail frame and as terror-stricken awaiting the catastrophe, two airships were crashed together in the first air collision in the history of aviation. Speeding at different angles two monsters of the air smashed together and the fragments dropped on the roofs of the sleeping city below. It happened at the Hippodrome and as a result the opening performance of the big spectacle "the battle of the skies," billed for tonight, has been postponed for a week and a hundred men are busy repairing the big air craft. The smash took place early today during the closing dress rehearsal of the new show and though no one was seriously hurt a number of the occupants of the ship were badly shaken up and Edwin Clark, baritone of the Hippodrome was only saved from serious injury by his lucky grab of a trailing rope ladder as he fell.

Attack on the Prince. Glasgow, Sept. 5.—With cries of denunciation against the city corporation officials for their extravagance in giving an elaborate luncheon today in honor of Prince Arthur, while thousands of the citizens are in want, a crowd of socialists and unemployed attempted to mob the prince and to storm the hall where the luncheon was served. Warned of the attack, a heavy guard of police was at the station when the prince arrived and an escort surrounded him as he was driven to the city hall. All along the route the mob jeered and booed the prince and the police, the latter being compelled to best off the crowd on numerous occasions. A number of persons were injured by the fierce tactics that the officers were forced to adopt. After the prince entered the hall the mob attempted to break in, but hundreds of extra police fought the infuriated men back. The demonstration was the fiercest yet made by the socialists and unemployed.

The Algerias Treaty. Paris, Sept. 5.—The foreign office announced today that it had received information that every power included in the Algerias treaty had notified Germany that they would not consider the latter's proposal for the immediate restoration of Moulai Hafid, as sultan of Morocco, until the joint note of France and Spain, mandatories of the powers in Morocco, is formulated.

In the notes received from the signatories, the foreign office says, there is a unmistakable intimation that the powers decline to identify themselves with Germany's discourtage and treachery. The foreign office mentions only England and Italy as replying to the German note, but realizes that all signatories, excepting Germany, have signified their intention of ignoring the Kaiser.

As soon as Spain finally approves the terms of the joint note, it will be communicated to the powers.

Incendiary Arrested. New York, Sept. 5.—In the capture of John McNally, who says he has been delegated by the Almighty to destroy Manhattan, the police here today believe they have traced the origin of a score of incendiary fires which have for weeks brown the East side in terror and have destroyed thousands of dollars worth of property besides endangering the lives of hundreds. When McNally was arrested in a hallway near the section recently visited by a score of tenement fires, his pockets were full of matches and his clothing reeked with smoke.

"I just went in," the hallway to protect all these children," he said when arrested. "I have just come from visiting President Roosevelt and am about to fulfill the commands of the Almighty by destroying New York."

Arrest at Atlantic City. Atlantic City, N. J., Sept. 5.—Jesse Jackson, the negro chair pusher in charge of the chair containing Charles G. Roberts and Mrs. W. S. G. Williams, the principals in the boardwalk shooting mystery, was placed under arrest today and held in $500 bail. The police intimate that some sensational developments are pending. Although Jackson declined to talk today Chief of Detective Whalen stated that Jackson swore to him that the interview published this morning in which he (the negro) was quoted as repudiating the highwayman theory, was absolutely false, Jackson said he never made any such statement.

Act of Frenzied Father. Genoa, Sept. 5.—Distracted at the sight of his little son Anton being run down and killed by an automobile today in which were the Marchionesses of Revidim, Angel Galloni, an engineer living on the outskirts of the city, drew a revolver and shot the chauffeur dead and fatally shot the younger sister. The automobile, becoming uncontrollable, upset, fatally injuring the elder marchioness. Both of the sisters are dying in a local hospital. Galloni is under arrest.

The tragedy has caused intense excitement throughout the city. The little boy was playing in the roadway when struck by the machine, which the father says was going at terrific speed.

Racing in New Jersey. Long Branch, N. J., Sept. 5.—Charges that betting is going on freely at the Elkwood Park races here today stirred the attorney general of the state who put the matter up to the prosecuting attorney of Monmouth county, declaring all forms of race track gambling a plain violation of the New Jersey constitution and calling for action. There being no races at Sheepshead Bay yesterday it is declared that the New York racing contingent rushed here and held a perfect carnival of wagering. The bets, it is said, were oral but plentiful. Today there will be seven races at Elkwood. It is expected that the authorities will move to make gambling difficult if not impossible.

IN MEMORIAM. In memory of my dear mother, MARGARET V. CARTER, who died September 5, 1907. Day by day I saw her fade And greetly pass away. Yet often in my dreams I prayed That she might linger stay. If love and care could death prevent, Her presence would not soon be spent; She suffered long and murmured not, Though far away she is not forgot. The Lord does all in His best way, And took her home with Him to rest. FROM HER DAUGHTER.

The Ohio Republicans.

Youngstown, O., Sept. 5.—The republican campaign in Ohio opened here today. The streets are crowded with marching clubs, politicians, bands, automobiles and plain people. The city has spent $25,000 to make the affair a success and the weather is good. Up to the last minute efforts were made to get Forsker here but he declined. Some of the committeemen think there would have been a better showing of harmony if Taft and Forsker had come; others are glad Forsker kept away. Governor Hughes, of New York, was the first speaker to arrive. Senator Beveridge came with the American Club of Pittsburgh and Governor Harris with the Tippecanoe Club of Cleveland. At 11 o'clock the parade moved. The speaking will begin at 2 o'clock in the park. Congressman James Kennedy is temporary chairman and Arthur I. Verry, Taft's manager, in the state, the permanent chairman. Rev. W. G. Scarborough, a negro, President of the Wilberforce University, will deliver the invocation. Governor Harris is the first speaker and will be followed by Governor Hughes and Senator Beveridge.

The speeches by Governor Hughes, of New York and Senator Albert J. Beveridge, of Indiana, sounded the key note of the national contests, while an address by Governor Harris, of Ohio, explained why he thought the republicans should be continued in power in the state. Governor Hughes confined himself principally to a discussion of the policies of the two dominant parties. He declared for prompt revision of the tariff, strict laws to insure purity of elections and for legislation to protect the small business man and the laborer. Senator Beveridge restricted his speech largely to a comparison of the qualifications of the two candidates. He condemned Bryan as a dreamer who has never solved one great problem, and lauded Taft as the candidate who has done all. One represents theory, the other practice, he declared.

Bank Suspends. Pittsburg, Pa., Sept. 5.—The Cosmopolitan National Bank of Pittsburg closed its doors today by order of the Comptroller of the Currency who appointed Robert Lyons receiver. He is already acting as receiver of the Allegheny National Bank. The resources and liabilities on July 15 was $1,912,520. The federal officials in charge of the closed bank refuse to throw any light on the reasons leading to the step further than to declare the institution has been found to be insolvent.

The bank officers are indignant, declaring that the step is a highhanded outrage and utterly uncalled for. The deposits aggregate in round figure $700,000 and there is $100,000 each of government and state funds each covered by bond.

Killed Wife and Self. East Bridgewater, Mass., Sept. 5.—While believed to be in a crazed by sickness and despondency, as he had been ill for some time previous, Kimball E. Sheldon, aged 76, formerly of the firm of Rogers and Sheldon, and one of the wealthiest and most respected citizens of his town, best his wife's brains out with an iron bar last night and this morning was himself found asphyxiated in the bath room of his home. The victim was 73 years old and had been married over 50 years. The crime had been carefully planned, evidently, for a special delivery letter, mailed last night was delivered this morning to Dr. A. L. Thirley, of East Bridgewater, notifying him of the double tragedy and directing what action be taken. It was about 8 o'clock when the physician broke into the house and found the two dead.

Bill Not There. Middletown, N. Y., Sept. 5.—Hunted for two weeks through the forests of two states, twice wounded, twice captured and twice escaped, had Bill Moore who assaulted six members of the Dio family at New Paltz has blossomed forth as a faithful outlaw. Pilgrims to the Orange county fair last Thursday discovered a notice pinned to a tree which read: "I will be at the fair Thursday. There is a reward of $500 for my capture. Come and get me. Bill Moore's." Every sleuth for miles around was at the fair but there was no sign of "Bill."
