

SATURDAY EVENING, SEPT. 19, 1908.

Standard's representatives in the upper branch of Congress, but up to this time Forsaker's name had never been mentioned, even remotely in that connection.

Forest fires have been reported in the close vicinity of Jamestown, N. Y., for some days past, causing a loss of several million dollars.

Though he is just out of danger Orville Wright is already planning to build a new aeroplane to use when he is able to fly again.

Mrs. Ellen French Vanderbit yesterday applied for a final decree in New York in her action for a divorce from Alfred Gwynne Vanderbit.

Mrs. Alice German, wife of Lester S. German, well-known spokesman and representative of the DuPont Powder Company, died at her home in Aberdeen, Md., yesterday morning, having been a victim of heart disease.

The Bureau of Engraving and Printing at Washington is turning out new emergency notes under the Aldrich-Vreeland law at the rate of about $3,500,000 a day, and new vaults must be built to store them in.

J. O. Eberhard, thirty-five years old, a patient at the Government Hospital for the Insane at Washington for more than eight years, escaped from the institution on Thursday night.

Forty-eight more army officers of field command grade, including majors, lieutenant-colonels and colonels, who are on duty in the War Department or in the District of Columbia directly under the War Department, received their "riding orders" yesterday for the 90-mile horseback march.

The Maryland Bankers' Association of Baltimore yesterday adopted a resolution launching a new fight for a State banking department and another looking toward a uniform and equitable assessment of bank shares.

Twenty members of the choir of the fashionable Woodlawn Park Methodist Episcopal Church, at Chicago, left the choir left last Sunday at the beginning of the service because Mrs. Alta Beach-Edmonds, the new leader, wore a big hat, heavy with plumes, despite the objection of the other woman singers to wearing hats at all.

The jail at Oass, Pocahontas county, W. Va., was partly destroyed by fire yesterday, and Mary Tysing, colored, the only prisoner, was burned to death.

In the face of a stiff breeze, which blew from the south, making an aerial trip dangerous, Lieut. B. D. Foulis and Sergt. Edward Ward, of the aeronautic corps, took the Baldwin dirigible balloon out for its first trial trip in St. Joseph, Mo., yesterday evening.

While in a jealous rage William Reinert, a steel worker, yesterday shot and killed Mrs. Sarah Boyer, his boarding house mistress, at South Bethlehem, Pa., and then killed himself by firing six shots into his body.

L. W. Brown, aged 50 years, of Fairmont, W. Va., was killed on the race-track yesterday. While he was driving a young horse the lines became entangled under the animal's tail, and in trying to extricate them Brown was caught between the wheel of his sulky and the shaft. The horse kicked him in the forehead and dragged him half a mile.

Unless the long-standing wage dispute is settled 200,000 cotton operatives will be locked out today. The employers proposed to reduce wages 5 per cent, but they finally consented to postpone this reduction until January 1 of next year.

Dr. J. F. Schaffer, jr., physician and druggist, died at Winston-Salem, N. C., yesterday, aged 70. He joined the Confederate army as assistant surgeon of the Seventh, Twenty-first, and Thirty-third regiments; was promoted field surgeon of the Thirty-third and Fourth regiments, and was finally made brigade surgeon of Branch's and Rameyer's brigades.

The body of Miss Alice Pair, of Washington, who was drowned with six other persons by the capsizing of the yacht Minnie Belle, of Oak Island, on the night of September 10, was found yesterday by Capt. George E. Haskell, and Irving Gove, of Deer Isle, Me. It was identified only by the clothing and laundry marks. This is the first body to be recovered since the night of the tragedy, when two were found.

While driving yesterday at Berryville, Miss Minnie Brouse, a schoolteacher, of Washington, was thrown from a vehicle and badly hurt. She was accompanied by Prof. Joseph Kastar, of Washington, who has a summer home in the Blue Ridge Mountains. The horses became frightened and ran off, throwing both occupants into the street. Miss Brouse was knocked unconscious and several deep gashes were made in her head.

New York, Sept. 19.—With the reptile house at the Bronx Zoo here a wreck today all the attendants of the park are entered upon the biggest snake hunt in New York's history. That is, all except those who are trying to hold down Luna, a big elephant. Luna, who was recently brought from Coney Island, went bad yesterday and charging upon the park caused panics in which several women and children were hurt.

Thousands of people from all sections of southern Maryland attended the tournament held at Indian Head, Thursday, the proceeds from which will be applied for the erection of a Catholic church at that place. Eighteen knights entered the contest, which resulted in Childs Barnes winning first honors. Mr. Barnes crowned Miss Alma Lyon queen. John Lyon came second, and crowned Miss L. Berry first maid. Third-place was won by Paul Robey, who crowned Miss Edith Lyon, and fourth place by R. S. Dement, who crowned Miss Hannah Roblar.

Virginia News.

Col. John S. Mosby spent several days in Warrenton among his old friends this week.

On Tuesday, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Chalmers, at Houston, their daughter, Miss Daisy Edmunds Chalmers, became the bride of Henry Edmunds Coleman.

Governor Stuart and his staff, of Pennsylvania, arrived in Winchester at 11 o'clock today for the unveiling of the Pennsylvania monument in the National Cemetery there.

In the United States court at Lynchburg, yesterday, Jack Royalty, a youth of that city, was found guilty of taking a letter from the postoffice at Peaksville, and was sentenced to twelve months at hard labor.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Campbell Maloney, of Lynchburg, announce the engagement of their daughter, Florine Royal, to Benjamin Thomas McBryce, of Washington. The marriage will take place October 29.

John Henry Smith died suddenly Thursday night at his home in Savage Crossing, near Suffolk, aged 74 years. He had planned to attend a revival meeting yesterday at Bethlehem Christian Church, but, instead, his remains were carried there yesterday afternoon for interment.

Majr Heth Tyler, after a visit to southwest Virginia, where he was the guest of his father, former Governor J. Hoge Tyler, brings back to Norfolk candidates that the democratic congressional candidate, Mr. Byrns, has a splendid chance to defeat Bascom Slem, the lone republican congressman from Virginia.

Charles L. Werth, a well-known farmer living near Waynesboro, has been arrested on a charge of attempting to assault Viola Painter, a twelve-year-old girl, living near Loud, not far from Stanton. He was given a preliminary hearing at Waynesboro, and was held for the grand jury, bail being fixed at $500. Werth, who is forty-six years old and married, denies the charge.

A disastrous fire swept the northern residential section of Portsmouth yesterday evening, entailing a loss of at least $20,000 to residences, and several thousand dollars' worth of household furniture was also destroyed by the flames. The fire was under control within an hour after it was discovered, and within that brief period five residences had been consumed.

Fire was discovered yesterday afternoon in the warehouse of the Golden Lin Weaver Carriage Company, at Harrisonburg. In the warehouse were more than 100 buggies, besides many large farm wagons. About 50 buggies in crates were carried out. The firemen were retarded in their work by poor equipment, the hose bursting. The insurance is $7,500, and the loss is estimated at $5,000.

Wholesale criticism is being heard today of the conduct of the recent army maneuvers in Alsace-Lorraine as a result of which 21 soldiers have died and nearly 200 are still in hospitals. Either the discipline and standard of living in German army are sadly at fault, or the maneuvers were conducted with unwarranted and criminal rigor.

The national party is the largest group in the Philippine assembly, and it, according to Mr. Barretto, is unanimously opposed to Mr. Taft's selection. Mr. Bryan made his first speech of the day at Stamford where he took on anti-imperialism and the labor platform. He was greeted at nearly every point by good crowds. At New Haven he visited the grave of his late friend, Alexander Troup, and placed a wreath of flowers there.

Today's Telegraphic News.

New York, Sept. 19.—The startling discovery was made today that the federal grand jury here has been investigating the management of the General Electric Company and a half dozen other electric concerns with a view of establishing the existence of an unlawful trust.

It is said that enough evidence has already been secured to warrant the indictment of a half dozen "masters of finance" in the electric world.

Astonishing revelations are hinted at. The government is convinced that the electric street railway and electric light business of the country are absolutely controlled by the trust.

The investigation was begun upon the order of President Roosevelt and is now being pushed at his command, notwithstanding the emphatic personal opposition of men high in the industrial and political world.

The advocates of temporary delay take the ground that inquiry during the heat of a presidential contest may work untold injury to the party. They have tried to impress upon the president that his motive will be misconstrued.

They have told Roosevelt that he will "catch it going and coming."

The president, so the authority for this story says, has met these entreaties with the declaration that he will not permit the mixing of politics and business.

London, Sept. 19.—One of the most startling developments in modern English history is foreshadowed in the coming recommendation of a committee of peers, under the chairmanship of Earl Rosebery, that an increase in the percentage of elective peers in the House of Lords be made.

The committee, after a careful study of the form of English government and the needs of its expansion, made an announcement last night of a recommendation that will make parliament reconvene.

Nothing could have created more consternation and today politicians are discussing nothing else than the sweeping provisions that it contains.

The committee tacitly admits that the existence of the House of Lords as a hereditary body is threatened.

The committee was appointed under the premiership of Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman and was in response to a widespread clamor against hereditary legislators.

The recommendation is sure to precipitate one of the most vital discussions in parliament of late years and its adoption is doubtful.

New Haven, Conn., Sept. 19.—Invading republicans New England in the hope of strengthening the cause of the local democracy in Connecticut and Rhode Island, Wm. J. Bryan today reverted to the "paramount issue" of the organization of 1900 and discussed independence for the Philippines at half a dozen points.

Shortly after leaving New York Bryan gave out an interview, replying to the statement of Mr. Taft given in his written interview of September 15, to the effect that the "independents" prefer a republican victory to Mr. Bryan's promise.

When this appeared, Mr. Fiske Warren, of Boston, Bryan said, cabled to Mr. Alberto Barretto, of Manila, and received the following reply: "Nationalist party, with immediate independence declared, prefers triumph of the democrats. General convention of the twelfth of July agreed unanimously to join enthusiastically Bryan's platform."

"ALBERTO BARRETTO, president." The nationalist party is the largest group in the Philippine assembly, and it, according to Mr. Barretto, is unanimously opposed to Mr. Taft's selection.

Mr. Bryan made his first speech of the day at Stamford where he took on anti-imperialism and the labor platform. He was greeted at nearly every point by good crowds. At New Haven he visited the grave of his late friend, Alexander Troup, and placed a wreath of flowers there.

Senator Forsaker.

Cincinnati, O., Sept. 19.—Public records of Ohio dispute Senator Forsaker's declaration that his employment by Standard Oil was of common knowledge. The records of the supreme court don't show a single instance in which Forsaker appeared as attorney of record for the company.

How successful Forsaker was on every project concerned in the Archbold letters is shown by the record. Judge Burckett, of Lima and Findlay, who was one of the supreme court justices, who gave the decision stopping Monnet's counter suits against Standard Oil, was reconvinced as Archbold sought.

Smith W. Bennett, brother-in-law of Monnet, active in Standard Oil prosecution, was badly defeated when he stood as a candidate for the attorney generalship in 1903 and his name was not offered to the convention. Archbold wrote to Forsaker against Bennett's candidacy.

With every labor organization in Ohio backing him, Bennett was defeated for nomination this year by a combination led by Walter Brown, of Toledo, and U. G. Denman was named.

A bill similar to the Price bill of 1900, which Archbold wrote to Forsaker, was offered at the last session of the legislature by Foster, democrat, of Hancock county, and defeated. The purpose of the Price and Foster bills was to compel the publication of the names of stockholders and corporations. Had the Price bill passed it would have exposed years ago that Standard Oil controlled a swarm of so-called independent oil companies of Ohio, which have since been ousted and are doing business under the right name as Standard companies.

Fear Uprising in India. London, Sept. 19.—As a result of the imminent danger of a general native uprising in India, the British war office has begun preparations for keeping a strong force of European troops in constant readiness for dispatch to Asia. Arrangements for the maintenance of 20,000 soldiers at Aldershot, for this purpose, were responsible for the recent rumor that the men were to embark at once.

The report was not quite accurate in detail, but it develops that it was founded on fact. Lord Kitchener, commanding the English military force in India, believes an uprising inevitable and has insisted that he is strong enough to suppress it, providing the native troops remain loyal. The army now at Kitchener's command includes 75,000 English and 140,000 native troops, with which he must keep a population of nearly 300,000,000 in order.

Mr. Kern. Baltimore, Md., Sept. 19.—John Kern, of Indiana, vice presidential candidate, arrived in Baltimore this morning. He was met at the station by State Chairman Vandiver and many other leading democrats and drivers to the Hotel Kennert.

Mr. Kern came to this city on professional business. Mr. Kern is scheduled to speak at West minister tonight, and will return to Baltimore early Sunday morning. He is expected to stay in Baltimore Sunday, and on Monday night will speak at Elkton, the home town of Governor Ornters. Arrangements are being made to have him speak at least once in Baltimore city, before his departure on Tuesday next.

TELEGRAPHIC BREVITIES. The democrats made big gains in the elections held in Indiana yesterday to fill vacancies in the legislature. A fast train on the Chesapeake and Ohio railroad between Newport News and Richmond was wrecked 25 miles from Richmond this morning. Several persons are reported injured.

Archbishop Bourne of London will, in all probability, be the next Catholic prelate to be elevated to the cardinalate. The rumor concerning the elevation of Archbishop Farley, of America, is again heard in Vatican circles.

A slight cessation of the wind caused a check in the rapid spread of the fire that is devastating nine counties of Maine today, but there will be no hope of extinguishing them until rain comes to aid the hundreds of men fighting to save their homes. At present all efforts of the fire fighters are bent to keep the flames from the towns in their course.

At the final meeting of the general committee on arrangements for the reception to be tendered Cardinal Gibbons on his arrival in Baltimore from his trip abroad, it was decided, after a heated debate, that the Naval Academy Band, which had been protested against by the musical union, should not march in the parade on October 10. The decision was arrived at by General O'Grady after he had heard the pleas of the adherents of the union bands.

ACTOR SHOT AND BEATEN. In a pitched battle Thursday last and between five young men of Rome Ga., members of the Majestic Musical Comedy Company, Orio Knight, tenor and comedian of the company, was shot in the arm, hit in the mouth with a brick and frightfully beaten. The affray took place after midnight at the boarding house where the chorus girls were stopping. The young men had followed the girls home after the show and were found in their rooms by the male members of the company when they arrived.

This enraged the male members of the company and they attacked the young men. In the battle that followed the actors were getting the best of it until the Rome men drew pistols and began firing. The shots caused a panic and the young men of the town escaped.

Comedian Knight is dangerously wounded and may not recover. No arrest have yet been made. Should Knight die the arrests that will be made will cause a social sensation, his assailants being among the best known men in the city's professional circles.

IT IS A PARASITE That Causes Itching Scalp, Dandruff and, Finally, Falling Hair. The itching scalp, the falling hair and the dandruff that annoys are the work of a parasite hidden in the scalp. That parasite must be killed to cure dandruff; and the only preparation that will do that is Newbro's Herpicide. "Destroy the cause, you remove the effect."

C. H. Reed of Victor, Idaho, says: "Myself and wife had dandruff and falling hair several years. Two bottles of Newbro's Herpicide completely cured us, after several other preparations had failed to do good." Makes hair grow glossy and soft as silk. Hundreds of other testimonials just as strong. Sold by Ernest L. Allen & Co., agents. Two sizes $2 and $1.00. Send 10c in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich.

Statement From Senator Forsaker.

Cincinnati, O., Sept. 19.—Senator Forsaker gave out the following statement at noon today: "The production by Mr. Hearst of the letter of Mr. Archbold to me dated January 29, 1902, referring to a certificate of deposit enclosed for $50,000 and expressing hope that the transaction may be satisfactorily concluded, illustrates how unreliable is the memory and how easily appearances can deceive."

"When I first read the letter I could not recall that I had ever received any such letter or any such certificate. I at once called up my house in Washington and had a search made, with the result that a proposed transaction was recalled that had gone entirely out of my mind."

A friend of mine informed me that he held an option on the Ohio State Journal to purchase it, according to my present recollection, for $145,000. He applied to me to help him. For the sake of having the paper in friendly hands, I was willing to advance part of it. I applied to a number of friends to see if they would not make up the balance of the amount. Among others, I applied to the Standard Oil Company.

They first agreed to the loan to the newspaper $30,000, according to my present recollection, the same to be secured by stock of the newspaper company. Somebody who was expected to go into the enterprise dropped out and that made it necessary for all the others to increase the amount they were proposing to advance.

The Standard Oil Company did accordingly increase their amount from $35,000 to $50,000 and sent me the letter with certificate enclosed as stated. It was thought at that time that the transaction would be immediately closed, but there was a delay and at the end of that delay the whole transaction fell to the ground, because other people stepped in and purchased the property. Thereupon I returned the draft to the Standard Oil Company. I had no employment in the matter and never derived a cent of profit from it and never made any charge on account of it to anybody.

"I do not remember to have received the letter relating to the bill introduced by Senator Jones, of Arkansas, but whether I received such a letter or not I had no reference to any employment of any kind from the Standard Oil Company or anybody else nor did the letter about Smith Bennett and Judge Burckett, read by Mr. Hearst at Columbus have any reference to any employment. I favored the nomination of Mr. Bennett, notwithstanding Mr. Archbold's objection to him and would have favored Judge Burckett's nomination even if I had not heard from Dr. Archbold. Judge Burckett was a personal as well as political friend of many years standing."

"I can only repeat, the only employment I ever had by the Standard Oil Company was, as set forth in my statement published yesterday, as advisory counsel as to respect to their interests in Ohio. * * * The company finally concluded, as a result of all the investigations, consultations and advice, to reorganize by incorporating under the laws of the state of New Jersey, and then my services ended. I have never had any relations whatever with the company since."

"Any letters Mr. Archbold may have written me on any subject since that time have been written only as any citizen might write to any legislator with whom he was acquainted concerning pending legislation that affected him or his interests, and from the time my services ended I have never been under any obligation to the company nor the company under obligations to me."

"Neither the Standard Oil Company or any other company or individual has ever paid me a cent on account of any public service nor has that company or anybody else ever suggested to me any compensation or reward of any kind in consideration of support for any bill or opposition to any bill, or to for any action of any nature whatever."

Senator Forsaker concludes with a copy of a letter he wrote to Mr. Archbold February 4, 1902, enclosing him a draft for $50,000 as repayment of money advanced by Archbold on a proposed transaction at Columbus.

Desperado Captured. Waukesha, Wis., Sept. 19.—After holding a posse by all night, barricaded in Mrs. Julia Grabow's farm house, George Smith, aged 60, who shot three persons, was captured early today. The victims are Mrs. Julius Grabow, her daughter, Olga, 14, and Sheriff George D. Winnell. All are severely wounded. Smith, employed on the Grabow farm, is believed to have been impelled to the shooting by his rejected love for Olga. Sheriff Winnell was shot while attempting Smith's arrest after he had shot the woman and girl. Deputy sheriffs watched the house all night but made no further effort to arrest Smith.

AIDED IN ESCAPE. Once more Frank Brown, jr., son of the City Collector, of Baltimore, is said to have taken part in an escape that is causing a great deal of talk. It is said that on Thursday evening, with a couple of friends, he visited the Mount Hope Asylum and helped a friend to escape from that institution. His friend is Lester Breese, a son of the late Edward Breese, who had been an inmate there for nine weeks. The friends of Breese are now making strenuous efforts to locate the escaped man. Young Brown was reported last night to be in his father's home, at the southwest corner of Charles and Read streets.

MR. BRYAN IN NEW YORK. Mr. Bryan spoke to an audience that was packed to the rafters in Carnegie Hall in New York last night. He also talked in the street near the hall to an overflow meeting.

It was a defense of his cause that Bryan announced to be the keynote of his address before the New York audience. In his speech he said: "A distinction ought to be drawn between Mr. Roosevelt's popular policies and his unpopular policies."

"The popular policies are those which have been borrowed from the democrat party; the unpopular are those upon which the republican party has a patent."

"I have never endorsed Mr. Roosevelt, but I have endorsed things which he has said and done, just as I have criticized things he has said and done."
