WEDDING. The marriage of Miss Mary Robertson Lloyd, eldest daughter of the bishop coadjutor-elect of Virginia and Mrs. Arthur Selden Lloyd, and Rev. Edmund Pendleton Dandridge, formerly of Shepherdstown, but now of Lewisburg, W. Va., was celebrated last night at 8 o'clock in Christ Episcopal Church.

The bride was assisted by the father of the bride, assisted by Bishop Peter, of West Virginia. The bride entered the church and was given in marriage by her brother, Mr. John Lloyd, of the University of Virginia. Her only attendant was her sister, Miss Elizabeth Blackford Lloyd, and the groom was attended by his cousin, Mr. Edmund Pendleton Dandridge, of Pittsburg, as best man. The ushers were Rev. John J. Gravit, jr., of New York; Rev. Clinton Quinn, of Kentucky; Rev. Henry Lane, of Warsaw, Va.; Mr. John Lloyd Uhler, of Pittsburg; Dr. Edward Armstrong, of Baltimore, and Mr. Lewis Franklin, of Fishing, L. I.

The church was beautifully decorated with palms, autumn leaves and chrysanthemums by the members of the church chancel guild, and presented a pretty picture. As the bride party entered the church to the strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march, played by Mrs. Charles Leason, when the couple reached the chancel they were met by their respective attendants. The bride wore a gown of white chiffon satin, with train, and a bridal veil, caught with orange blossoms and carried a bouquet of lilies of the valley. The bride's attendant wore sprigged colored messaline and carried pink roses. The bride's mother wore a handsome gown of garnet crepe cashmere and carried orchids, and the groom's mother was dressed in black lace and carried a bouquet of the same flowers. Immediately after the ceremony a reception was held at the residence of Bishop Lloyd, corner of Alfred and Cameron streets, and later Mr. and Mrs. Dandridge left for the north to spend their honeymoon. Among the out-of-town guests present were Mrs. Portia Baldwin, of Berryville; Miss Marie Lightfoot, of Richmond; Miss Marion Lane, of East Orange, N. J., and Miss Myers, of Norfolk, friends of the bride, who had been her guests for several days, and Mr. and Mrs. Dandridge, father and mother of the groom; Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence, of Fishing, L. I.; Rev. Meade Clark, of Richmond; Mr. and Mrs. Pelham Blackford, of Richmond; Mr. and Mrs. Windsor Blackford, of Baltimore; Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Pendleton, of Pittsburg, and Miss Gordon, Mrs. A. K. Selden, Miss Ann Selden, Dr. and Mrs. Wythe Cook and Mrs. Milson Greenhaw and daughter, of Washington; Miss Emily Gravit, of Richmond; Mr. and Mrs. William Hoge, of Washington; Mr. Robert McBlair and Mr. William Lee, of Norfolk; Mr. Grant Bell, of East Orange, N. J.; Mr. Tom Nelson, of Ellcott City, Md., and Mr. Charles Faulkner, of Boydton.

The bride and groom were the recipients of a large number of beautiful and useful presents.

WOMAN'S HOME MISSION SOCIETY. The woman's home mission society of the Washington district M. E. Church, South convened in annual session in The Young People's Building last night.

Miss Grace J. H. is secretary of the district society, presided. Addresses of welcome were made by Mrs. Rodgers, president of the local auxiliary, and by Rev. Mr. Bull, the pastor. Miss Jeffries responded to the welcome in appropriate words. Rev. P. W. Jeffries spoke most instructively on the work of the home mission society. The choir of the church furnished music for the occasion. At the close of the session the company lingered for a social half hour. The meeting began at 9:30 this morning. A number of delegates are in attendance. Among the visitors present are Mrs. Amelia Evans, of Kenosha, W. Va.; Mrs. Laura J. Greer, of Baltimore, Md. At the meeting tonight Mrs. Henry Kowles, president of the conference society, and Mrs. J. T. Williams will make addresses.

DEMOBILIZATION CONFERENCE. A conference of Virginia democrats was held at the Raleigh Hotel, in Washington, last night. Among those who attended were Senator Martin, Representatives Carlin, Glass and Hay; Judge R. H. Tebbe, of Loudoun county; Judge Louis Barley, of Alexandria, and Messrs. William H. Gaines, of Warren county; Richard Moncre, of Alexandria county, and several democrats from the Shenandoah valley. Plans were discussed for making an active campaign. Senator Martin predicted that Judge Mann will be elected by 30,000 majority and that the republicans will poll less than 45,000 votes in November.

ROSEMONT NOTES. The artistic station building at Rosemont has been outlined around the roof with electric lights, and at night presents a beautiful fairy like effect, and illuminates the eastern end of the subdivision. Gas street lights, and electric wires for house current and a special telephone cable will be installed within the next few weeks, and the work of graveling the surface of the streets will be started next week.

Goodyear Gold Seal Rubber Boots and Shoes can be had at 422 King street. J. A. Marshall & Bro.

OPERA HOUSE.

The usual excellence of the performances at this popular playhouse is ably maintained in the bill for Saturday matinee and when Miss Adelaide Stevens and company will appear in the 3 act classical comedy "Between the Acts." Miss Stevens is a charming actress supported by an excellent company of players that are eminently fitted for the roles they portray. "Langh and the world laughs with you; weep and you weep alone." This is the way the old poem goes. The world has certainly laughed in the past at the scenes that take place in "Between the Acts." All sorts of complications, afford lots of amusement. The play is sparkling with fun, bubbling over with wit and replete with catchy melody. In order to provide amusement from the beginning to the end of the performance Mr. W. S. Lent, the manager, will offer a selection of vaudeville features of distinctive merit and every act on the bill, which is entirely new here, will be introduced during intermissions.

RIVER NOTES.

A thick fog hung over the river early this morning which impeded navigation for a time.

The schooner Five Sisters, from the lower Potomac with lumber to W. A. Smoot & Co., has arrived.

The schooner James R. Tarkins, from the Severn river, with sand to the Bell Pier Glass Works, has arrived at W. A. Smoot & Co's wharf.

The schooner Clarence arrived at this port today from the Eastern Shore of Maryland with a cargo of sweet potatoes for Mr. E. E. Lawler. In the olden times most all the sweet potatoes disposed of in this city arrived here in vessels, and this is the first cargo to arrive at Alexandria for many years. While near this port a small screw steamer collided with the Clarence during the fog and slightly damaged her stern. The captain could not remember the name of the steamer.

The Virginia division of the United Daughters of the Confederacy met yesterday in Lexington for their fourteenth annual convention, and are being entertained by the Mary Custis Lee Chapter. More than a hundred delegates are present. Mrs. C. B. Tate, the president, called the convention to order. Addresses of welcome were made by Gen. Nichols, of the Virginia Military Institute; President Denny, of Washington and Lee University, and Mayor Walker. A business meeting was held yesterday afternoon. Last night a reception was held in the university library. Tonight a historic session will be held. The convention will adjourn tomorrow.

The Knights of Columbus are making great preparations to celebrate the 217th anniversary of the discovery of America by their patron, Christopher Columbus, which will take the form of a concert by the choir of St. Paul's Church of Washington, under direction of Prof. Winchester, and an address on Columbus by Rev. J. P. Barney, C. S. P., of St. Thomas' College, Catholic University, an eminent speaker and scholar. The performance will be up to the usual high standard of all the Knights' entertainments and will be complimentary.

SURPRISE THEATRE.

Crowds continue to throng at the Surprise Theatre and always get their money's worth. Commencing tonight and continuing for the last three nights of this week the following excellent talent will hold forth: Leaning La Vone, assisted by Miss Norma Drew, in a rare novelty; Park Hunter, a banjoist of rare ability, and Bob Deming, who appears as the "Tramp." He will be remembered as the star in the "Me, Him and I Company." Entirely new pictures.

REAL ESTATE ACTIVE.

Business is brisk in real estate this fall, Mr. F. L. Slaymaker reports having sold this week, through Harlow & Co's. Washington office, one block of thirteen lots in Park Addition to Braddock Heights, and a few weeks back four other lots in that subdivision and two lots in Braddock Heights proper. There is also much interest being manifested in Rosemont, a number of purchases pending both for lots and houses.

PURYEAR-STRATION WEDDING.

A quiet marriage took place at noon, yesterday, at the home of Mr. R. B. Stratton, in Lynceburg, when his daughter, Miss Bona Peyton, became the bride of Mr. Benjamin Dallas Puryear, Dr. J. D. Paxton, performing the ceremony. Immediately afterward, Mr. and Mrs. Puryear took the C. & O. train for Richmond and other points east. The bride has many friends in this city where she lived for several years.

TOOK BUCKET OF PROVISIONS.

An able individual known as Joe Adams, who occasionally figures in the Police Court, was taken before that tribunal this morning charged with appropriating to himself a bucket containing provisions which a young colored woman named Minnie Bowman had brought home to her children. He was fined $5, and in default of payment will serve a term on the chain gang.

ALLEGED COCAINE PEDDLERS.

CIVIC IMPROVEMENT LEAGUE. A very interesting and important meeting of the streets committee of the Civic Improvement League was held at the rooms of the Chamber of Commerce at 10:30 o'clock this morning. Misses Oarlin, Watters and Bush and Messdames Watkins, Paff and Oton being present.

Seven new members of the league were reported. The committee has just reason to feel encouraged over the work accomplished since the organization of the league, seven months ago. Marked improvement has been noticed in the condition of many streets and alleys throughout the city. During the summer the market house has been flushed and scrubbed twice, thereby adding much to the attractiveness of that place.

It is hoped by the league that in the near future the City Council will place boxes on various street corners for the reception of paper, fruit skins and other waste which is so often carelessly thrown into the streets or on the sidewalks.

With property owners, housekeepers, merchants and all citizens cooperating, it is hoped that civic pride may soon win for Alexandria a reputation for cleanliness and beauty.

FANCHON CLUB.

The Fanchon Club opened their season last night with a beautiful dance at McBarney's Hall, which was largely attended, many out of town people being present. The music was by Cohen's band of Washington, and after the dance a supper was served by Rammel Bros.

The message of the violet is a simple token of love and enduring faith. Furry and exquisite language repose in the snowy depths of the lily. The beautiful red petals of the rose exude an exhilarating color from the Garden of Paradise. "Let me and the world live mine," said Mr. Einstein on the occasion of his first visit to the A. M.
