DOCTORS MISTAKES

Are said often to be buried six feet under ground. But many times women call on their family physicians, suffering, as they imagine, one from dyspepsia, another from heart disease, another from liver or kidney disease, another from nervous prostration, another with pain here and there, and in this way they present alike to themselves and their easy-going or over-busy doctor, separate diseases, for which he, assuming them to be such, prescribes his pills and potions. In reality, they are all only symptoms caused by some uterine disease. The physician, ignorant of the cause of suffering, keeps up his treatment until large bills are made. The suffering patient gets no better, and the doctor, in the wrong treatment, but probably worse, prescribes medicine after medicine, for which he has entirely removed the disease, thereby dispelling all those distressing symptoms, and instituting comfort instead of pain. It is made of native American medicinal roots and is perfectly harmless. In fact, a disease known as half cured.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is a scientific medicine, carefully devised by an experienced and skillful physician, and adapted to woman's delicate system. It is made of native American medicinal roots and is perfectly harmless. In fact, a disease known as half cured.

As a powerful invigorating tonic "Favorite Prescription" imparts strength to the whole system and to the organs distinctly feminine in particular. For overworked, "worn-out," run-down, debilitated teachers, milliners, dressmakers, seamstresses, "shop-girls," house-keepers, nursing mothers, and feeble women generally, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the greatest earthly boon, being unequalled as an appetizing cordial and restorative tonic.

As a soothing and strengthening nerve "Favorite Prescription" is unequalled and is invaluable in allaying and subduing nervous excitability, irritability, nervous exhaustion, nervous prostration, neuralgia, hysteria, spasms, St. Vitus's dance, and other distressing nervous symptoms commonly attendant upon functional and organic disease of the uterus. It induces refreshing sleep and relieves mental anxiety and despondency.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets invigorate the stomach, liver and bowels. One in three a dose. Easy to take as candy.

THE TRIAL OF MADAME STEIN-HEIL.

That Mme. Steinhell, aided by some unknown accomplice, murdered her husband so as to obtain her freedom to wed the wealthy and infatuated Maurice Bordenel, but that the killing of her stepmother was unpremeditated, and merely incidental to the tragedy, is the theory of the state as outlined by Trousard Rielle, the judge advocate, in opening the argument of the prosecution in Paris yesterday afternoon.

Driven to desperation by her financial and domestic situation, the judge advocate contended Mme. Steinhell saw in Bordenel a savior with whom, once rid of her husband, she could live in luxury as wife, if possible, or mistress. Seeking to simulate in a graphic manner that her husband had been assuaged by burglars, who had bound and gagged herself and her stepmother, he argued, the defendant had brought Mme. Japy to her home, but in the feverish haste the binding of her mother had been overdone and the murderers found her dead when the slaying of Steinhell had been accomplished.

Just as the prosecution was closing its evidence the prisoner declared the implied threat she had several times made to breach scandal that would involve persons of high standing, but again, as on the previous occasions, Judge De Valles' invitation to proceed with her "revelations" was met with silence. Yesterday in a flash of passion she cried out, "My past contains interesting chapters."

Judge De Valles, unmoved by the interruption, promptly and sternly replied: "You are at perfect liberty to say anything that you please."

Mme. Steinhell, however, went no further. The prosecutor general reviewed the entire life of Madame Steinhell, reviling her for her illicit relations with her various lovers, and animadverting at length on her unfaithfulness to her husband, which, he said, led to the murders. He made no mention of the late president of France, Felix Faure, although he spared none of the less noted lovers of Madame Steinhell. He charged Madame Steinhell with being the principal author and accomplice in the murder of her husband. He withdrew the charge of murdering her mother. He argued that Madame Steinhell wanted to get rid of her husband in order to marry Bordenel. She brought her mother to the house to act as a witness to the drama. She had an accomplice who was to enter, tie up the two women and kill Steinhell.

But, according to the advocate general, when this accomplice had tied up the mother tighter than was intended Steinhell awoke, came upon the scene and was killed. Then it was found the Madame Japy had died of fright and the excessive tying up.

The advocate general argued that her father's anger against the accused proved that she had miscondacted herself as a young girl. He said he was convinced that she was a money lover. This was shown by her numerous liaisons. Steinhell, the advocate general said, was a complaisant husband, who was aware of his wife's conduct.

That the verdict will favor Madame Steinhell is the belief of those who have watched the trial from the beginning. The judge advocate will conclude his argument this afternoon. M. Aubin, counsel for the defendant, will follow, and a verdict probably will be rendered tomorrow.

BRIDE BETRAYS HUSBAND.

Following the arrest of Pasquale Roman on a murder charge in Youngstown, Ohio, Sunday, an hour after his marriage to Miss Elizabeth Andrews, it developed Monday that the new-made bride had betrayed him to the police. The man was taken from the railway station just as he and his bride were boarding a train for their future home near Cleveland. He was taken to jail on word from Brownsville, Pa., that he was wanted there under another name for a murder committed four years ago. Later developments show that the girl told the police that it was Roman who was wanted by the Pennsylvania courts, and a reward of $600 was on his head. "He forced me to marry him," said the young woman; "he told me he would kill me." She later employed attorneys to defend the man and declared her intention of remaining with him to the end. She said she was sorry she had betrayed him. Her parents, who are well-to-do, have urged her to stay with Roman.

Fifty years' experience of an Old Nurse—Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup is the prescription of one of the best female physicians and nurses in the United States, and has been used for fifty years with never-failing success by millions of mothers for their children. It relieves the child of pain, cures diarrhoea, griping in the bowels, and wind colic. By giving health to the child, it rest the mother. Twenty-five cents a bottle, net 20 cents.

KNIGHTS OF LABOR.

The Knights of Labor in Washington yesterday adopted the report of General Master Workman Simon Barnes, censuring the American Federation of Labor and its leaders, but that part discussing socialism went over until the next meeting.

Recommendation was made that a bill be drafted and submitted to Congress proposing the addition of a new feature to the judicial system of the country by which it is proposed to authorize the president to appoint a court of arbitration consisting of three members whose determination in all strike and corporation matters submitted to it would be final.

It also was proposed that efforts be made to have a law enacted making all federal, state and municipal election days holidays.

Resolutions were introduced and adopted for a genuine compulsory liability set, it being the sense of the convention that the present law was entirely inadequate to meet the situation.

Next to the indorsement of the Barnes report, the most important business transacted was as to what should be done with the bureau of immigration and naturalization. The delegates reaffirmed their action of Wednesday and went on record as being thoroughly in sympathy with the work of the bureau.
