MAN AND SUPERMAN.

Then rose the cry of women shrill, As Goshawk's whistle on the hill. Things down at the Naval Academy at Annapolis have been lively of late, and to a looker-on in Vienna reminds one of that rather cynical author, Bernard Shaw, in his novel "Man and Superman" and the play taken from the same book and bearing the same title.

It seems that on last Thursday the cadets, or rather the midshipmen, as they are usually designated now-a-days, were gully of what is considered by the management of the academy a gross act of insubordination, called the "act." Having been marched, as is the custom under command of a lieutenant, into the dining hall, and taking their seats, they maintained one and all a profound silence, not even opening their mouths to insert food, sitting bolt upright, sullen and defiant. After waiting awhile the commanding officer marched them out again and back to quarters, whereupon, Commandant of the Academy Bowyer by way of punishment escorted the entire battalion to remain within the grounds, indefinitely. Now comes the fun. It is the practice to have a hop Saturday evenings and these embryo admirals, commodores, et cetera, had, notwithstanding the restrictions of last, observed by society generally, invited as partners hundreds of their girl friends and acquaintances from other stations and cities. But also, slack-a-day, when the time came to rally forth and bring in their respective fair ones, all dressed up and waiting, the marine guard at the gate with crossed and ornate bayonets, silently forbade. Here was a dilemma, sure enough. All of these fair creatures sitting around in private houses, boarding houses and hotels, waiting and sighing for their true loves, these haughty dear Misses who would not talk or eat, but who preferred like little "Jack Horner" to sit in a corner, and sulkily suck a thumb. Nothing daunted, though, these enterprising young women soon got on to the racket, and marched in a body down upon the naval grounds and by the marine guards, entered the gates, and like embryo snuffgettes, demanded their rights, claiming one little Missie apiece, if not two. And it goes without saying they got their rights all that was "coming to them." And here we have "Man and Superman" again. The next day being Sunday and the cadets having been marched outside the grounds to the chapel, the girls took care to be on hand then, and proceeded to follow the column back into the enclosure, so as not to be chested out of the accustomed after church walks and flirtations not they. "So there," Commandant Bowyer, you may discount your Missies, but when it comes to "Superman" down you go.

CHARGE DISMISSED.

Frederick Mertens, jr., general passenger agent of the Mount Vernon and Marshall Hall Steamboat Company, whose father is a prominent and wealthy resident of Comberland, Md., was arrested yesterday afternoon by Officer Roberts charged with violating a city ordinance which requires persons who act as guides in Alexandria to pay an actual license tax of $5. The young man declined to deposit a witness bond, where he would be detained until either the collateral or bond was forthcoming. Later Mr. James B. Oaten became responsible for his appearance in the Police Court this morning. When the case was called it was shown that Mr. Mertens was simply acting as host for a party of excursionists and was discharged.

The Lycium basketball team will go to Washington and play the quint representing Carroll Institute. The Lycium team has a clean record for the season, having played and won fifteen games, which is a showing to be proud of. The Carroll Institute boys are determined to try to break the Lycium's victories, while the latter are out to keep their record clean, and a lively game may be expected. The United States Patent Office team and the St. Dominics will play in a preliminary game. A large delegation of Alexandrians are expected to witness the game.

ANNIVERSARY OF POTOMAC LODGE.

The exercises in connection with the seventy-first anniversary of Potomac Lodge, No. 38, I. O. O. F., took place in the Young People's Building on south Washington street last night. At the conclusion of the exercises the car returned to Washington street where the guests were taken aboard and accompanied by the committee returned to Washington, expressing themselves as highly pleased at their visit to this city and at the enjoyable evening spent with Potomac Lodge in their anniversary celebration. The committee very handsomely entertained their guests on the car both in coming over and returning.

The following interesting programme was well-rendered, all who participated their respective parts in a creditable manner:

Selection, Caldwell's Orchestra; invocation, Rev. Edgar Carpenter; selection, orchestra; address, "Our Fraternity at Home," W. W. Millan, Grand Representative, D. C.; selection, orchestra; Philharmonic Quartet; "Welcome, Fraternity Bldg.," address, "Our Order in the State," Hill Montague, Grand Representative, Va.; selection, orchestra; dramatic reading, John M. The Peruvian government has notified the government of Chile of the withdrawal of the Peruvian legation at Santiago because of the recent expulsion of Peruvian priests from the provinces of Tacna and Arica. Peru's action was probably hastened by a note which Chile sent to that government declaring her intention of retaining possession of Tacna and Arica. The Chilean authorities have maintained that the Peruvian parish priests in the province of Tacna have been carrying on a propaganda against Chile, and as a result of their preaching, disloyalty was being spread broadcast. A dispatch from Lima says the Chilean government has withdrawn its legation at Lima, and the Chilean charge.

Fifty present and former members of Silect and Common Occellus of Pittsburg, Pa., under indictment on a charge of bribery, and 10 more with suspended sentences and held in $500 bonds upon their own confession of sharing in a pool of $102,000 to influence the votes of the municipal bodies was the result of yesterday's probe of the grand jury, following the sensational confession of Capt. John Klein, former member of Occellus, who, as the chief distributor of the fund, characterized himself as "the scapegoat of the executive." In most instances the amount of money they accused confessed to accepting as a bribe was not over $100. One man got $500 and another $200, while others got but $21.10.

Order Your Overland Now Delay Means Disappointment

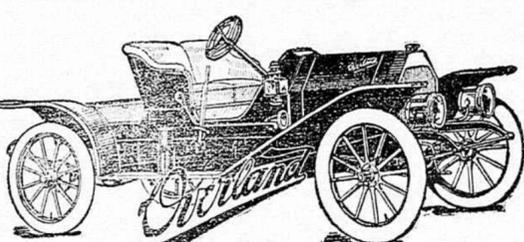

Last season there were over 8,000 people whose orders for Overlands were received too late. Our factory can build only 20,000 cars this year. Every single car has been contracted for. When our allotment is filled we cannot get more at any price. Half the people who want to buy Overlands here will be unable to get them. Get yours now.

The tremendous demand for Overlands has practically swamped the factory. Orders are piling in at twice the rate of production. Even with five times the factory facilities of last year, the output is daily falling further behind the demand.

Every Overland put into an owner's hands sells four others like it. Sixteen thousand 1910 Overlands were contracted for last August, simply on the record of the four thousand 1909 cars. Every new Overland that appears on the road creates further demand for this wonderful car.

The reason behind this unheard-of demand is sheer merit—nothing else. Up to January, 1910, the car was never even advertised. But the Overland proves so reliable, so simple, so trouble-proof, so economical that now everybody who hears the fact wants one of these matchless cars.

Men who never before thought of buying cars are buying Overlands. Men who have owned other cars are buying them for their mechanical correctness. Wealthy men buy them because of their handiness. Poor men buy Overlands because they are the first good cars at a moderate cost.
