A WEAK WOMAN AND HER STORY

In Floral, Ark., Lives a Lady Who Feels That Her Strength Was Restored by Cardui.

Floral, Ark.—"I must speak a good word for Cardui," writes Mrs. Viola Baker, of this place.

"About a month ago I was in very bad health. I was so weak and nervous that I was not able to do my housework.

"My husband bought me one bottle of Cardui, the woman's tonic. I took it according to directions and now I am in good health.

"I think Cardui is a fine tonic for weak women." And you are not the only lady who thinks so, Mrs. Baker.

Thousands, like you, have written to tell of the wonderful benefit Cardui has been to them.

Cardui contains no minerals, or other powerful drugs. It contains no glycerin or other medicinal, toxic ingredients.

It is just a pure, natural extract, of natural vegetable herbs, that have been found to regulate the womanly functions and strengthen the female system.

All druggists sell Cardui. See yours about it.

SEVEN CATHOLIC BISHOPS.

Significant of the growth of Catholicism in the New World was the splendid ceremony performed by Archbishop Ireland in St. Paul, Minn., yesterday, by which for the first time since the church came to America six bishops were consecrated simultaneously.

These new bishops of St. Paul province received their commission at the hands of their own venerable metropolitan, Archbishop Ireland, assisted by two of his remaining bishops, in the chapel of St. Paul Seminary.

The archbishop, his 9 bishops and his 600 priests out of 900 now in the province represented a Catholic population of 600,000. At the time the first bishop of St. Paul was consecrated, 60 years ago, there were only two priests and perhaps 1,000 members of the church.

The ceremony, conducted in the chapel of the St. Paul Seminary, was attended by Gov. Adolph O. Eberhart and his staff, the 600 priests, 50 bishops, 150 seminarians, and Mgr. Diomedea Falconi, apostolic delegate of the Vatican to the United States. Archbishop Ferguson Patrick MacEvoy, of Toronto, Canada, assisted in the consecration, as did Bishop James McGlockick, of Du'uth, and Rev. James Trobec, of St. Cloud, Minn. Rev. Francis Schuebner was master of ceremonies. The consecrated bishops were:

Rev. James O'Reilly, of Minneapolis, bishop of Fargo, N. D. Rev. John J. Lawler, Cathedral of St. Paul, auxiliary bishop of the archdiocese of St. Paul. Rev. Patrick R. H. Iron, rector of St. Paul's Seminary, bishop of Winona, Minn. Rev. Timothy Corbett, of Duluth, bishop of Crookston, Minn. Rev. Vincent Wehrle, of the Benedictine Order and abbot of the monastery at Richardson, N. D., bishop of Bismarck, N. D. Rev. Joseph F. Buech, head of the missionary band in the archdiocese of St. Paul, bishop of Lead, S. D.

A deed was recorded in the Corporation Court today from Lizzie O. Reed transferring to Mary K. Doherty a house and lot on the north side of Prince street between Lee and Union.

Clarence Grady, colored, formerly of this city, who was arrested in Washington, charged with causing the death of Isaac Hackley, also colored, by striking him on the head with a brick, was yesterday sent on to the grand jury in that city.

The strawberry festival held at the Parish Hall of Christ Church yesterday evening was well attended. It was given by the ladies of the Sunday school to raise funds for the installation of a new furnace in the church.

The ceremonies in connection with the laying of the corner-stone of the new Episcopal church at Colonial Beach will take place on May 26. The exercises will be under the auspices of the Masonic fraternity. It is expected that one of the bishops will be present, also several members of the Grand Lodge of Masons.

Investigation Closed. Washington, May 20.—The twelve congressional jurors in the Ballinger-Pinchot "trial" will quit seven to five for "acquittal" of Secretary of the Interior Ballinger. This is the line-up as predicted by those here, who have been following the case carefully. It is considered probable that in view of the fact that the case will close by the end of next week, that Senator Keot will cast his vote, although having left Washington yesterday.

Undoubtedly the minority will protest against this move, but it is equally certain that they will be out-voted by the majority on that point. Representative Madison, the republican insurgent from Kansas, it is believed will write the opinion for the minority—that is Senators Fletcher and Puroell, and Representatives James and Graham, all democrats. There is the remote possibility, however that Representative Graham who is best fitted of all the democrats, will write an extremely partisan and drastic opinion against Ballinger, which will represent the sentiment of those of his party, and Representative Madison may write a separate opinion against the secretary.

The evidence in the controversy was completed at 12:10 today. The evidence covers over 4,750 pages and there still remains the arguments and briefs of counsel for both sides and several letters have already been called for but not yet received.

The Comet's Tail. New York, May 20.—A comet's tail is as elusive as the Dutchman's flea, for the tail, as in the western sky shortly after sunset last evening, was according to amateur comet gazers, seen in the eastern sky at 3 o'clock this morning, doing all kinds of funny stunts.

The astronomers who first told us in reassuring tones that we had successfully passed through the comet's tail and later assured us just as positively that we hadn't passed through the comet's tail, and still later notified us that we wouldn't pass through the comet's tail at all, haven't yet worked in with their latest alibi. But to the unlabeled sky gazer, there is dawning a suspicion that maybe even the astronomer do not know as much about the comet's tail as they would have us believe.

Those who looked in the western sky just after sunset last night for the reappearance of Mr. Halley's kidding comet, found it not. Others who took up the dog watch report that they saw it moored in the same old spot in the eastern sky at the same old hour—3 a. m.

The early morning gazers claim to have observed a ribbon of light spread through the eastern sky, running from north to south, for 110 degrees, almost parallel with the horizon. Instead of being like a streamer, shooting up toward the zenith, as the astronomers had forecast, it has a long pennant stretching out of the south, growing dimmer toward the north.

The appearance, according to the amateurs, was that of the aurora borealis turned over on its side. By 3:30 the comet's tail—if it is a tail—had changed materially in form, the northern end becoming more slender and starting north of east. It spread out in increasing thickness toward the south and seemed to divide into two parts in the middle. The length was then 150 degrees.

The New York State Senate yesterday voted down the bill which provides for an appropriation of $2,500,000 to condemn property and pay the cost of improving and maintaining 100,000 acres of land offered to the state by Mrs. E. H. Harrison for an inter-state park on the west bank of the Hudson.

Because Simplifications, the leading comic political weekly of Germany published in Munich, has anticipated the Kaiser in almost brutal form, Wilhelm, a secret decree prohibiting every German officer from reading the paper, and ordering the officers to sign a written pledge, never again to scan its pages.

No trace of the robbers of the $32,000 in cash and checks stolen yesterday from the Adams Express company's office at Oil City, Pa., has been found.

WITHOUT COSE. "I am here to file my expense account in connection with the congressional nomination in my district," said Charles O. Carlin, Wednesday afternoon, while standing in the lobby of the Capitol. "I came here last night, and today I placed the document in the hands of the secretary of the commonwealth. It may seem strange that a nomination for Congress could be gotten as cheaply, but I had no opposition and the committee just said to me that it was all right, and that I could stay right where I was and so the nomination did not cost me even a two-cent stamp, and as I had come to Richmond, I did not mail the certificate to that effect."—(Richmond Journal.

ENTERTAINMENT. The entertainment to be given tonight by Mt. Vernon Chapter, D. A. R., in the Young Peoples building, promises to be a success in every particular and should be well patronized, as its object, a public drinking fountain, should appeal to and interest every good citizen. The musical programme is excellent, and Miss Jean Wilson, who promises her choicest recitations, has a reputation which places her in the front rank of artists. Miss Janet E. Richards says: "I consider Miss Wilson one of the most talented recitationists I have ever heard. Her rendition of character sketches are particularly natural and attractive."

Weather Probabilities. For this section showers tonight. Saturday partly cloudy; light to moderate southerly winds.

A FUNILE VIGIL. The many people in the city and vicinity who were watching eagerly for the comet to pass yesterday were greatly disappointed when a cloud bank obscured the celestial wanderer as the god sank behind the western hills.

About forty minutes before old Sol passed out of view, however, no little excitement was caused among people in different sections of the city who saw or imagined they saw, a spectrum emanating from the sun, which was believed to have been caused by the comet's tail.

According to some persons, it was whirling about the orb as the "spinning jennies" used by boys on Fourth of July nights. The moon, they say, also changed color, and while a few people were positive that they saw the contour of the face of the moon supposed to be in the path, they were not so sure that the earth's attendant is composed entirely of green cheese.

Tonight the Naval Observatory astronomers will look for the comet near the western horizon according to the old schedule, notwithstanding their surprise when they had a fine view of the tail yesterday morning in the east.

RIVER NOTES. The steamer Westmoreland of the Maryland, Delaware and Virginia Railway Company was docked at Skinner's upper yard, Baltimore, yesterday, for repairs.
