"Resolved, That the board of directors does hereby approve of the position taken by its executive officers in a demand for further wage increase from certain classes of its employees and is of the opinion that such position should be firmly maintained."

Washington, July 15.—No request for intervention in the Pennsylvania Railroad trouble will, its employees had been received to mid-day by Chairman Knapp of the I. C. C. or Commissioner Neill, of the Bureau of Labor, government mediators. They were ready to respond promptly to any call that might be made and do their utmost to prevent a strike. The mediators, however, are not allowed to tender their services and may act only when a request is made by both sides of a controversy.

Experiments With Live Swallows. Rome, July 15.—Anti-vivisectionists have seized upon a letter written by Pope Pius to Abbe Benetti, parish priest of Terrasi, who has been experimenting with live swallows.

Father Benetti has invented an aeroplane with adjustable wings, identical to those of swallows. In explaining principle of his discovery, Father Benetti said he had studied the flight of swallows, and admitted having cut the wings of several live swallows and fitted them with mechanical wings with which they flew. The priest added that the birds were martyrs to science. He said he had to test his invention, and had not the money to build models and was therefore bound to use the birds.

Pope Pius instructed the Bishop of Spoleto to warn the priest that further experiments with live birds would lead to severe discipline. At the same time the evidence showed that a colored girl named Edine Smith, who lives in Thorn's house, had caused the dog to bite a small white boy named Christopher Curtin, whose mother was complainant in the case. Thorn was dismissed, but an officer was directed to bring the girl before the Police Court tomorrow morning. The animal is of the bulldog species.

When Binga attempted to stop him, Goldsmith slashed the banker with the razor and grabbing $300 in bills, ran into the street and jumped onto a street car. The Ideal Drink

For warm weather is the one that thoroughly quenches the thirst and at the same time produces a beneficial effect upon the system.

In satisfying your thirst be careful to use a beverage that will benefit and not a detriment to your health. Most summer drinks are a burden upon the stomach—sweet, sickening and manifestly unfit for use.

PORTNER'S HOFBRAU BEER

Is a beverage that not only satisfies the thirst better than any other, but does you a world of good. It is a digestive agent and a strengthening food.
