Among the dispatches from Geneva published in Republican newspapers regarding the Assembly of the League of Nations we find two statements which are of timely interest in view of the loose talk about scrapping the League and starting a new association of nations—a mere juggling of words to save the face of the Republican Senators who defeated the peace treaty.

We would like to know the Republicans' idea regarding the League. Just what do they want? I am sure that there would be no difficulty in satisfying the American demands, and that by making certain changes the present League would be acceptable to the United States.

That is pretty conclusive as to the ideas held by responsible leaders on the possibility of forming a new and unenlarged League, just to satisfy the campaign pledges of Senator Harding and his backers.

There are many indications that some of the Governments which came to the conference very skeptical of the possibilities are not only impressed with what the gathering has already accomplished, but are beginning to feel that, despite their skepticism, the League will occupy an important place in future world organization.

If there is any scrapping to be done Republican lies and misrepresentation will go first to the dump. The League is evidently here to stay, and unless America wishes to be an outcast among the nations it will have to take the place held open for it and which it should have taken over a year ago.

There is an apparently general realization of the fact that this League meeting is furnishing an opportunity to exchange views on international questions of profound importance, although they are not all necessarily on the agenda of the Assembly.

been made to enable consumers and dealers everywhere to safely purchase their needs, it is explained. The channels of business have been clogged by an unwillingness on the part of some manufacturers, jobbers and dealers to take a loss of materials which they have on hand and give the consumers the benefit of present values, the statement reads.

The inauguration of a price policy of ignoring former costs will have the effect of stabilizing business conditions, it is contended by the Certain-teed Products Corporation. The public now has an opportunity to get bargain prices on the various products marketed by the Certain-teed Products Corporation, the statement reads.

Similar announcements are expected on many other lines, as business generally is recognizing that there is a big demand for merchandise throughout the country, there is plenty of money in the hands of the people and business is waiting only for prices to reach a level that will justify the confidence of the buying public, according to the statement.

DR. EDWIN L. MORGAN DIES AT AGE OF 66 Washington, D. C., Nov. 26.—Dr. Edwin Lee Morgan, prominent physician, and a resident of the West End for thirty years, died Tuesday in his apartment, at the Plaza, Washington circle. Some months ago he suffered an attack of pleurisy, which resulted in heart complications and his death. He was 66 years old.

Dr. Morgan was a member of the family of famous doctors of that name, and his mother, was Mrs. Evelyn Lee Morgan, of Alexandria, a daughter of Colonel Richard Bland Lee.

Dr. Morgan was a graduate of Virginia Military Institute, and of the Medical College of Virginia, and was a member of La Fayette Lodge, No. 19, F. A. A. M., of this city. In his early days after graduation Dr. Morgan pioneered to Washington territory and served two terms as United States physician in the Colville Indian agency. He was also organizer for many years in Stevens county, Washington territory.

Returning to Washington in the early nineties, he took up practice as physician in the poor and became physician in charge of St. Ann's Orphan and Infant Asylum. He was consulting physician at the time of his death. Dr. Morgan was a member of the American Medical Association, Medical Association, D. C.; Fraternal of the Medical Society, one of the incorporators of the Literary Association, D. C.; president of the District Medical Surgical Society and of the Therapeutic Society, member of the Anthropological Society of the District of Columbia and a notable contributor to literature of medical history.

Dr. Morgan married the elder daughter of Commodore Nick Henry Van Zandt, U. S. N., whose family came to Washington with President Adams in 1800. Recently they celebrated the twenty-seventh anniversary of their wedding. All of these years have been passed at Washington circle and Dr. Morgan, until his illness began three weeks ago, was prominent in the work of the West End Citizens' Association and in the movement to win a restoration of the right of suffrage for the citizens of the District of Columbia.

The funeral service was in charge of La Fayette Lodge, No. 19, and the Episcopal service was conducted by Rev. Dr. Robert Talbot of St. Paul's Parish, of which Dr. and Mrs. Morgan are members. The services were held in the Morgan home apartment 105, the Plaza, today, at 2 p. m. After cremation the ashes will be interred in the grave of Dr. Morgan's mother, in Congressional cemetery.

Dr. Morgan was the uncle of Mrs. L. Herbert Taylor, of 618 North Washington street, Alexandria, Va.

THUGS GET $51,000 HAUL Second Similar Crime in Greater New York Nets $1,200 New York, Nov. 27.—Three armed thugs early yesterday blackjacked the night watchman of a motor taxi-cab service on East Sixty-fourth street and, after binding and blindfolding him, blew the office safe and made their escape with $51,000 in cash and promissory notes.

Price of March Wheat Down to $1.17 in Chicago. Chicago, Nov. 27.—Values in the wheat market shrank yesterday to be low $1.50 a bushel. It was the first time since peace conditions had been restored that the $1.50 level was nuzzled.

Before the momentum of rushes to sell wheat today met with any decided check, the market collapsed to $1.47 for March delivery, a fall of 8 cents a bushel, as compared with Wednesday's finish. An unusual absence of buying power was apparent, but finally European interests were reported as making purchases of cash wheat for transatlantic shipment. New reasons given for down turns in the wheat market, aside from world economic causes, were the numerous agricultural bank failures in North Dakota and weakness in foreign exchange, together with a fresh break in the price of cotton.
