

REMARKABLE BEE HIVE—A POSER.

A lady rented a house in this city, a few weeks since, (says the St. Louis American) and shortly after she moved into it saw honey bees crawling about the floor. At length she found that they came down the chimney. After having made a fire, a humming noise was heard in the flue which ran parallel with the one from her room, the fire place of which is below. Her sons examined the top of the chimney, and to their utter astonishment, they found the flue filled with honey, within a few inches of the top of the chimney. From the sound of bees below, the honey must extend to the depth of twenty feet. Whenever the family wish to enjoy a delicious repast, they have only to send up to the chimney, blow a little tobacco smoke in the flue, which drives the bees below, and with a knife cut off as much honey comb as they wish, and that of the nicest kind. The flue of the chimney in which the honey is, extends to the basement, and has never been used.

WEALTH OF THE MEXICAN CHURCHES.

Major Noah, in the New York Sun, speaking of the immense treasures the Mexican Churches contain, says:—In the cathedral of Puebla delos Angeles is a chandelier of massive gold and silver, not of ounce avoirdupois, but whole tons of weight collected under viceroys from the various tributary mines. On the right of the altar stands a carved figure of the Virgin dressed in beautiful embossed satin—executed by the nuns of the place. Around her neck is suspended a row of pearls of precious value, a coronet of pure gold encircles her brow and her waist is bound with zone of diamonds and enormous brilliants. The candlebrax are of silver and gold, too massive to be raised even by the strongest hand; and the host is one mass of splendid jewels of the richest kind. In the Mexican cathedral there is a railing of exquisite work ship, five feet in height, and two hundred feet in length, of silver, on which stands a figure of the Virgin of Remedios, with three peticosats—one of pearls, one of emeralds, and one of diamonds; the figure alone is valued at three millions of dollars. In the church of Gaudaloupe there are richer and more splendid articles; and in that of Loreto, they have figures representing the Last Supper, before whom are placed piles of gold and silver plate to represent the simplicity of that event. It is the same in all the churches and cathedrals of Mexico. The starving Leprosy kneels before a figure of the Virgin worth three millions, and yet would die of want before he would allow himself to touch one of the brilliants of her robes worth to him a fortune. About a hundred millions of dollars are thus locked up in church ornaments, while nothing is led out for public education, public improvement, and true national glory.

DISTURBANCE AND DEATH.

A letter in the Richmond Enquirer, from Charlottesville, Va., says that during the exhibition of Raymond & Co.'s Menagerie at that place on Friday evening last, and just as one of the managers had entered the cage with the lion, tiger, leopard and cougar, a number of students of the University approached near the cage, and were cautioned by one of the men attached to the menagerie to go to so, as serious consequences might ensue to the person in the cage with the wild beasts. Some words ensued between the keeper and one or more of them pressing on to the cage, when one of the latter struck the keeper twice with a cane or stick, and he struck in return with a stick, and levelled two or three persons, one of whom never afterwards spoke a word, and died that night at about 12 o'clock his name was Glover, from Alabama. Two others were seriously injured, and are now at the Monticello House. Messrs John, son and Williamson, and another, Mr. Warren, less injured. While these things were taking place, the Elephant entered the crowd throwing his proboscis about to drive the people from the ring. Cries of horror arose on all sides; some were paralyzed with fear, and could not move, or be moved by their friends. Men, laying as it were, dead on the ground, the huge Elephant driving out the people; the keeper in the lions cage men pale with fear the women shrieking children and servants crying out that the wild beasts had broken from their cages, and were upon them, and each person anxious to make his escape, presented a scene which few would desire to witness. No damage was done to any person. Except what resulted from a blow given by one of the keepers. The magistrates have committed in the jail three persons belonging to the menagerie to undergo further examination.

AMERICAN SPIRIT!

A Cork paper says:—It will be in the recollection of our readers that we announced a Pilot Schooner of 84 tons, direct from New York, having on board a messenger with official despatches, who at once proceeded to London on her arrival at Cove Harbor. As the vessel came into port with the American flag flying, a Lieutenant of her Majesty's ship Vanguard was despatched by order, we understand, of the Admiral, to require that the flag should be struck at once, and taken down. The captain of the Romer received the officer with courtesy, and, having been made acquainted with the object of his visit, the American promptly replied that so long as he had an arm to pull a trigger, no man should dare to touch the flag. This answer puzzled the British officer not a little, and he returned to the Admiral for further orders. In a short time he returned with an ample apology, saying that as the vessel was so small, he did not think she was an American vessel.

A LUCKY PENNY.

A few weeks ago a fortunate, and at the same time a remarkable circumstance, happened to a little boy named Dyson Wilson of Stainforth, near this town, (says the Doncaster Gazette.) There was a subscription opened at Hatfield, of ninety subscribers, at £1 each, for three cottages at Hatfield Woodhouse, to be drawn on a certain day. A party at Stainforth not being sufficiently rich to subscribe, clubbed a shilling each, to make up a share; and, in order to make up one of these shillings, twelve boys, Dyson Wilson among the number, paid a penny each. On the lottery being drawn, the prize fell upon the subscription lottery from Stainforth. The twenty subscribers, of a shilling each, again drew lots, and the lucky number was that for which the twelve had subscribed their penny each. This was again drawn, and young Wilson, who is only about five or six years of age, became the fortunate possessor of three cottages, worth £90, for the small consideration of one penny.

The New Tariff Bill was laid before the House of Congress on Tuesday. The bill makes but few alterations from that reported by the Secretary of the Treasury. The ad valorem principle is preserved throughout, and there are no specific duties upon any article, or any minimums. The bill is to go into operation on the 1st of December next. All Custom House officers to be sworn officers, if not so already. Goods in public store on the 22d of December, pay the duties under the new tariff. Articles not specially provided for pay a duty of 20 per cent. The Fishing Bounties are also repealed by the bill, and a drawback is allowed on foreign Salt in lieu of the Fishing Bounties now paid.

One feature is a provision that if in any year it shall not yield a revenue sufficient for the ordinary wants of the Government the President is invested with authority to levy a duty of ten per cent, on Tea and Coffee, and to announce the fact by proclamation.—Leader.

THE MORMON EXPEDITION.

At last arrives the Mormon expedition was still encamped about ten miles from Keosauqua, and constant communication was carried on between them and the Holy City. Quite a large number of wagons have gone on to join the expedition, and many that started at first have come back empty for the purpose of taking a new load. Another company is forming, proposes to start in about three weeks. It will, according to estimates, be longer than the first. The Mormons generally in the county, the Warsaw Signal says, are preparing to leave.

A European Company have purchased a boat three hundred thousand acres of land in Hamilton, Bradley, and Polk counties, Tennessee. It is intended to settle a large number of foreign emigrants on this tract of country, and direct their labors chiefly to wool growing and manufactures.

YET ANOTHER.

From the Susquehanna Register. Although the public have been often imposed upon by patent medicines yet occasionally a really useful and beneficial medicine is dispensed, neglected merely because found in bad company. I am led to these remarks by a conversation with a friend a few days since. She had been afflicted for several years with a disease of the heart which had apparently brought her near the grave one of our most skillful physicians was called who pronounced her disease incurable. An advertisement in Dr. Jayne's Expectant in the Register caught the eye of her friends and a bottle of it was immediately procured at Benly & Mitchell's in Montrose. Before she had taken it two days, there was an apparent improvement. She has not taken two bottles yet, but her health has been nearly restored. I have on personal motive for recommending this medicine, but merely state this fact hoping that it may meet the eye of some who are laboring under similar diseases that they may likewise partake of its benefits. A FRIEND TO HUMANITY. 7th mo. 5th 1840. The above Medicine are for sale at the store of JOHN R. MOYER, Bloomsburg.
