

WEDNESDAY, FEB 21, 1866.

The towns are in good condition, and the weather looks quite Spring like, at present writing, (Tuesday morning). We predict an early Spring.

The editor of this paper is desirous of leasing a dwelling suitable for a family of six or eight persons, for which a good rent will be paid, in advance, or quarterly payments.

Those of our friends and patrons having advertising and job-work will do well to call upon the editors of this paper. We do work cheap, neat and with dispatch.

On Sunday last two more persons were baptized by Rev. J. P. Tassin, at this place. Through the services of Mr. Tassin, an interesting meeting has been continued in the Baptist church, with encouraging results.

Having hurriedly written out the Court proceedings of February term, for last week, there were some omissions, important among which was the report of the Grand Jury. We publish it this week.

The ice is getting ready to move out of the Susquehanna. For the last few days it became pretty soft. There is a large quantity of thick, heavy ice, in the river, and should it break up and move off rapidly would do considerable damage to bridges.

Expatriating for their party is the sole cut and amount about nine out of ten of the bogus Republican legislators—State and Federal. If ever there was a party led by rotten, shameless, and moral and political rascals, the present "loyal" party is that party.

We understand Petitions are circulating, praying for the erection of a County Poor House. It seems to us that this step ought to meet with favor. No one would secretly argue but what it would be the cheapest and best way of keeping our poor. But, this is for the people to decide whether they will have it or not, and not us.

Who supports the President in Congress? The Democratic members. For evidence look at the vote on the Freedmen's Bill and the President's veto message. What press sustains the President? The Democratic press. For evidence read the opposition made through them to the Freedmen's Bill, and look on the President's veto. The Abolition party are stabbing the President in the back!

The editor of town talks plainly to his patrons on the subject of the new organ. The Democratic press is not in the least alarmed about the starting of an Andrus Johnson paper, or any other kind of paper. The Republican may have to look up to the new paper as many anticipate. The more news and general information disseminated among the people the more intelligent they become! Then, of course, according to Republican teaching they will vote right. The worst effort made on Columbia county for political purposes, by the enemy, was in 1864, when those troops were brought here to put down and intimidate Democrats. How much did that lesson our vote or our majority? Not one, save those whom they dragged off to Fort Mifflin! Those men got no vote, but severe treatment, and sneers and jeers by Republicans as they passed through this town. These things are all yet fresh in the minds of the people and especially the people up "Fishingcreek" the section of our county which Thomas Dunn delighted in calling the "Fishingcreek Confederacy."

Our Copperhead contemporaries have pretended to endorse President Johnson. Why is it that they do not publish the Freedmen's Bureau bill which the President advocates and which the Republicans have carried by an almost unanimous vote—all the Democrats opposed it—through both Houses of Congress. They not only do not say a word in its support but oppose it with more than usual acrimony—Columbia County Republicans.

The above squib is characteristic of the man who edits the Republican. When he penned the above, to him no doubt a sharp bit, he knew as much of Andrus Johnson's views, upon the Freedmen's Bureau Bill, as he does upon some other subject. The fact that the President has vetoed the Freedmen's Bureau Bill is the best evidence we can produce that Thomas Dunn of the Republican, is not in support of the President as much as he would have his readers believe. We may look, but we fear in vain, for the veto message of the President in the next Republican. We shall surely ask him why he does not publish it, if it does not appear in a reasonable length of time. We were with the President on this bill when we denounced it as most injurious measure, dangerous and ruinous to the country, and to day have the satisfaction of reading his very able message on that bill.

Where did you stand, Mr. Republican, when you asked us why we did not publish the Freedmen's Bureau Bill, which you alleged passed both Houses "by almost a unanimous vote," of your own party, and which the President was advocating? When you stated that the President was giving this bill his support in conjunction with your Republican friends in Congress you were either ignorant of what you were writing or disposed to most maliciously deceive your readers. You will not fail to tell your dearest friends that you were with the President on this bill when you told them he was giving his support. In the face of all this evidence that you were misrepresenting the President, who supports him the Republican Democratic press of the county? Let us have no more about copperheads opposing the President, especially from Thomas Dunn!
