A Mississippi Tragedy.

TRUTH STRANGER THAN FICTION.

We noticed a few days ago, says the Columbus (Miss.) Scimitar, the killing of a man named Barrier by a man named Wilson, at Philadelphia, Neshoba county, Miss. Since then we have heard the particulars from a member of the Columbus bar, who has recently been near the scene of blood, and the facts make it one of the most terrible tragedies that has ever occurred in the section. It seems that young Barrier was engaged to be married to one of the most respectable and beautiful girls in the country. The day before the day set for the marriage Barrier met young Wilson in the street, and requested him to go with him to the Probate office to get his marriage license. He did so. The license was obtained and Barrier left the office. Wilson also clandestinely obtained a license to marry the same girl. The company had assembled at the time and place appointed for the celebration of the nuptials, and just as all things were ready the lady was reported very ill. Chloroform, morphine, and other opiates were administered to her, and in a few hours she was sufficiently revived, and the marriage vows were taken. None knew at the time the cause of her sudden sickness. It was afterwards ascertained that Wilson had sent her a message not to marry Barrier. The communication so much affected her that she became ghastly pale and fainted. After the ceremony, as it is the custom in that country, the new husband carried his bride to his humble home. That night the pair, after having retired to the bridal chamber, were aroused by several friends of Wilson, and one of them demanded an interview with the bride. She saw him, and in a few moments informed her husband that she intended to return to her father's house. Immediately afterwards she filed a bill of divorce, alleging that she married Barrier while under the influence of opiates.

A few days after, the Circuit Court was to meet, and on the first day of the Court a large crowd collected at the county town. Before noon the crowd was seen rushing to one point, where something unusual was transpiring. Barrier was attracted, and approached the scene of excitement, when he discovered Wilson beating with a large stick the minister, Mr. Seal, who, a few days before, had performed the marriage ceremony between himself and Miss White. As he approached Wilson turned, and accosting him, said: "Do you take up this difficulty?" Barrier replied, "I do." At this revolvers were drawn and five shots exchanged. Barrier was killed dead on the spot, and Wilson dangerously, but not mortally wounded. Thus ended the terrible tragedy of real life.

WE PASS FOR WHAT WE ARE.—A man passes for what he is worth. Very little is his curiosity concerning other people's estimate of us, and all fear for remaining unknown is not less so. If a man knows that he can do anything—knows that he can do better than any one else—he has a pledge of acknowledgment of that fact by all persons. The world is full of judgment days, and into every engagement that a man enters, into every action that he attempts, he is gauged and stamped. In every troop of boys that hoop and run in each yard and square, a new owner is well and accurately weighed in the course of a few days and stamped with his right number as if he had undergone a formal trial of his speed and temper. A stranger comes from a distant school, with a better dress, trinkets in his pockets, with airs and pretensions. An older boy says, "It's of no use, we shall find him out to-morrow."—[Ralph Waldo Emerson.]

A TIME TO WEEP.—"You are very ungrateful to complain," said the Knife to the Hedge. "Don't you know that I am slashing away at you for your good? Why, every cut I give you will toll, and when spring comes you will be so gay in green leaves, that the birds will delight to build in you."
"Sir," said the Hedge, "in the spring, when my wounds are healed, I will thank you; but at present I am too much occupied with my smart to be able to rejoice in the prospect of green leaves."

CONSTANCY.—Let our love be firm, constant, and inseparable; not coming and returning, like the tide, but descending like a never-failing river, ever running into the ocean of divine excellency, passing on in the channels of duty and a constant obedience, and never ceasing to be what it is till it comes to be what it desires to be; still being a river till it be turned into sea and vastness, even the immensity of a blessed eternity.—[Jeremy Taylor.]

GREAT IMPROVEMENT IN DENTISTRY.

The attention of the public is called to a great discovery in Dentistry.

THE GREATEST ADVANCE STEP EVER MADE IN THE ART.

The main difficulty in wearing artificial teeth is, they do not hold in their places firmly enough, and add to the annoyance of food getting under the plate while eating. I have discovered a method of so constructing the plate on which the teeth are set that they will not start or drop while eating or speaking, neither will any particles of food get under the plate, no matter what the condition of the mouth is, which is not true of any method hitherto used.

I have secured Letters Patent for the United States, England and France.

The improvement is not a material, but in the construction, which secures the atmospheric pressure on the entire plate.

I have sold the exclusive of said improvement to Dr. L. Gilman, of the Counties of Franklin, Washington, the independent, Lamoille and Grand Isle. Those wishing to avail themselves of such improvement, will call on

At an adjourned term of the Circuit Court of the United States, for the Northern District of New York, in the city of Albany, the 28th day of January, in the year of our Lord 1868.

PRESENT: The Hon. NATHAN K. HALL, Judge, JAMES H. BROWN & JOSEPH PARKER, Esq., GEO. B. BULL & JOHN M. ROCKWELL, Esq., In Equity

It is further ordered, adjudged and decreed, that a perpetual injunction be issued in this suit against the defendants, restraining them from further infringements of said Patent, No. 51,406, dated Dec. 5th, 1865, for improvements in cooking stoves, pursuant to and in accordance with the prayer of the Bill of Complaint.

Signed, A. A. LORCE, Clerk.

The above was instituted for infringement of the Patent securing the manner of fitting the ash pan in the hearth of the American Cooking Stove, and for the combination of the lashed ash pan. We have repeatedly cautioned the public against selling or using stoves with these improvements not manufactured by us. All persons now selling or using stoves with these improvements in violation of the above injunction, without license from us, will be liable to fine and imprisonment. SHEAL, PACKARD & CO. Albany, N. IMPORTANT TO STOCK GROWERS.

Blood, Beauty, Speed, Kindness and Endurance.

Those who desire to raise first-class stock, and all lovers of good horses, are respectfully informed that the Hambletonian, a trotting stallion, YOUNG DEXTER, will stand for a limited number of names the ensuing season, at the Homestead Stock Farm, Greenwich, Washington County, N. Y.; season to commence on the 1st of May and to end on the 1st of October. Young Dexter was bred at Chester, Orange County, N. Y., is four years old, by Rysdyk's Hambletonian, stands nearly 16 hands high, and is one of the best of the get of his celebrated sire, Young Dexter is a half brother to Dexter, George Wilkes, Bruno, Brunette—allied to Mountain Boy—and other well known horses. Very evidently, from his size, shape, etc., Young Dexter will not only bring fine, fine and speedy stock, but also handsome carriage and family horses as well. It is manifestly for the benefit of stock growers that they obtain not only the best and most popular blood in the country, but also that which commands the highest prices in the market, and it requires no more labor or care to raise a good colt than an inferior one. It was with this view to improve the stock of horses in Northern New York, Vermont and New Hampshire, etc., that Young Dexter was purchased by his present owner, Mr. H. C. Page, Editor of the People's Journal—the object being to benefit farmers and stock growers who are willing to undergo the care and expense necessary to the raising of good horses.

For further particulars, terms, etc., address Homestead Stock Farm, Greenwich, Washington County, N. Y. E. G. STRATTON, 215-1f Superintendent.

D. 1868, the said corporation shall cease to exist as fully and with the same effect as if said charter expired by the limitation thereof.
