Daring Robbery.

Harry M. Anderson and John and Thomas Morrison, brothers, three highly respected young men of Winchester, were arrested about midnight June 6th by officers Neville and McCarty on the charge of having robbed Charles Cooper, an aged resident of Hampshire county, W. Va. The crime alleged against them was committed about dark on May 29th. The scene of the robbery is in a lonely part of the mountains, about thirty miles west of Winchester. About dusk on that evening Poland Keller, who lives with Mr. Cooper, was summoned to the front door by knock, and upon answering the summons was confronted by three masked men, one of whom leveled a revolver against his breast and demanded to know where Cooper's money was hid. The old man was reported to have a large sum of money hidden in the house. Keller's wife, hearing the noise, came down stairs, and another of the robbers pointed a revolver at her. Then compelling Keller to take a lighted lamp in each hand the robbers ransacked the house. Two $100 bills were found in an old chest, and going to the bed where Cooper lay helpless, they secured $137 more. Warning the occupants of the house that any outcry meant death, the robbers retreated to the woods nearby, where they got into a vehicle and rode off in the direction of Capon Bridge. A man, who knows Anderson, one of the men arrested, says he passed him, with two companions, near the scene of the crime shortly before it was committed. An empty whiskey bottle, found where the robbers were encamped, was identified as having been sold to Anderson. The Morrison brothers were identified by Keller on street in the immense crowd attending the Confederate memorial exercises, as men who, he claims, had taken part in the robbery. The prisoners made an unsuccessful attempt to secure bail, and will be given a preliminary hearing on the 16th. They will be taken to Ronney, W. Va., for trial. All three men belong to reputable families, and have hitherto borne excellent reputations. They are brick-masons by trade.

I was seriously afflicted with a cough for several years, and last fall had a more severe cough than ever before. I have used many remedies without receiving much relief, and being recommended to try a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, by a friend, who, knowing me to be a poor widow, gave it to me. I tried it and with the most gratifying results. The first bottle relieved me very much and the second bottle has absolutely cured me. I have not had as good health for twenty years. Respectfully, Mrs. Mary A. Beard, Clarendon, Ark. Sold by W. Richardson, druggist.

Briefs.
Under the rating of salaries of postmasters of the Presidential class by First Assistant Postmaster General Heath the salary of postmaster McCormick of this place has been increased $100, and from the first of next July to the 30th of June, 1900, his pay will be $1300. For several years the business of the Berryville office has been nearing that point, and Mr. McCormick was fortunate enough to make it cross the line. Under the schedule of salaries fixed by Congress, an office to entitle the custodian to a $1200 salary must make its gross receipts amount to $2400. Then, to be entitled to an extra $100, the gross receipts must reach $2700. The receipts of the Berryville office have exceeded $2600 for the past two or three years.

New Silks, Ribbons, Embroideries and Laces by S. L. Palmbaum & Co.
At the June term of our county court, which commenced on Tuesday of last week, Judge Moore's time was chiefly occupied by qualifying the newly elected county and district officers for the positions to which they were chosen. There were five county officers and six officers for each of the districts, making in all twenty-nine officers to qualify. Their terms of office will not begin until the first day of July. The officer required to give the heaviest bond is that of county treasurer. Mr. Bradford, who was chosen the second time to fill this important office, was bonded by a guarantee company.

Novelties in Spring and Summer Dress Goods and Trimmings received by S. L. Palmbaum & Co.
The torrid wave that visited us last week brought the hottest weather ever experienced here so early in June. On Wednesday and Thursday the mercury went to within 4 and 2 degrees of 100. Friday thunder showers began to make their appearance, and on Saturday very heavy rains fell, after which the weather became much cooler, and that night and Sunday night a blanket was not out of place on one's bed. Sunday and Monday the weather continued cloudy, with occasional light showers falling.

New Gloves, Parasols, Underwear and Hosiery, at S. L. Palmbaum & Co's.
The attention of those who teach in our public schools, or are seeking positions of that character, is called to the notice of County Superintendent Massey, who publishes in our advertising columns the date of holding and the places where our summer Normal will be held. Our County Superintendent urges teachers to attend. The teachers will doubtless be much profited by attending these institutes, as they are training schools of the highest type.

Washington correspondent of Alexandria Gazette: "Col. U. L. Boyce, of Clarke county, Va., had his patent for consuming smoke attached to one of the furnaces at the Treasury Department, and practical as well as scientific engineers who witnessed its operation say it is a great success not only in consuming smoke but in saving coal."

New Lace Curtains and Dotted Swisses at S. L. Palmbaum & Co's.

A horse driven by Mr. Hugh McCormick, of this place, who had as a companion Mr. Hunton Carey, of Richmond, ran off on Sunday night, and rushing against the door of Miss Katie Russell's storeroom broke it open. The horse became frightened at the shafts dropping on his heels. Mr. McCormick was thrown out of the buggy and received some bruises from the fall.

Charlestown Advocate: While driving from her home in the edge of Clarke county to the postoffice at Summit Point, the horse driven by Mrs. C. R. Hardesty became frightened and turning suddenly upset the buggy, throwing Mrs. Hardesty out, bruising her severely.
Judge Lovell, of the Front Royal Sentinel, is stated by that paper to be steadily improving and is able to walk about without assistance. He will shortly visit his daughter, Mrs. M. J. Jeffries, in Fauquier county. The friends of the Judge are glad to hear of his improvement.

Ladies' Shirt Waists and Skirts received by S. L. Palmbaum.

The merchants of Luray have agreed to close their respective stores during the summer months at 7:30 p. m., except on Saturday. The merchants of Berryville ought to enter into a like agreement during the same season.

Died May 24th, 1899, at the residence of his parents, situated near the Old Chapel, Ernest Levi, son of J. B. and Bettie Levi, aged 12 years. The deceased was the eldest child of his bereaved parents.

Briefs.
The Agricultural Department has issued its June crop report, in which it says preliminary reports of the spring wheat acreage indicate a reduction of about 470,000 acres, or 2.5 per cent, and the average condition on June 1st was 91.4 per cent, as compared with 100.9 same date last year. The average condition of winter wheat is 67.3, as compared with 90.8 at the corresponding date last year. The acreage of winter wheat killed, says the report, having been eliminated, the present averages relate strictly to the acreage still under cultivation.

At the Diocesan Council of the Episcopalians of West Va., which was held in Huntington last week, Bishop Peterkin, in his report, expressed a desire that the council would select a bishop coadjutor to aid him in his official duties. The council decided to meet the views of the Bishop on this subject, but passed a resolution directing him to call the council together again within the next five months to make a selection. Among those mentioned for the position is Rev. Dr. Scollay Moore, of Parkersburg, who is a son of Judge S. J. C. Moore, of this place.

Charlestown Advocate: Mr. John Shewbridge, who farms one of the farms of Mr. R. O. Allen in Clarke county, met with a very serious accident last Saturday, which in all probability will cost him the loss of his left eye. He was making a wire fence. In cutting a piece of wire from the coil one end flew from the pliers and struck him in the eye. Mr. Shewbridge is under the treatment of Dr. McGuire, of Winchester, and we hope he will be able to save the eye.

While Messrs. Howard and George Levi were driving out of Millwood last Friday one of the front wheels gathered up a copperhead snake and pitched it into the buggy near the occupants feet. The sudden appearance of the snake created consternation in the breasts of the Messrs. Levi, and they immediately leaped from the vehicle. The horse taking fright ran off and completely demolished the buggy. The snake is supposed to have escaped unharmed.

The price of wheat has not materially changed within the past week, and No. 2 red is quoted in Baltimore at 76 1/2 cents per bushel. The June crop report was regarded in Chicago as bullish, and prices went up, but heavy selling of last year's crop and large receipts in the Northwest broke prices. The visible supply is 27,617,000 bushels, an increase for the week of 1,432,000 bushels.

A little daughter of J. M. Jordan, a section hand on the N. & W. R. R., was bitten by a dog as she stepped out of the vehicle in which she rode into Front Royal with her father. The wound inflicted was quite severe. Mr. Jordan grabbed the dog, and with the assistance of a friend held him until he killed the animal with a penknife. The dog was claimed as the property of two colored boys.

Shepherdstown Register: "When a man marries his trouble begins." The eighty-year-old bride groom, Mr. Thomas E. Woodward, of Summit Point, who recently took to himself a wife, got dizzy and fell from a wagon a few days ago, dislocating his shoulder and severely cutting his head.

Mrs. Thomas, relict of the late Col. Keefer Thomas, of "Araby," Md., and mother of Col. S. S. Thomas of this county, died at the latter's home last Sunday morning at the advanced age of 80 years. Her body left here on Monday morning for interment in Mt. Olivet Cemetery, Frederick, Md.

We understand that Mrs. V. Parrshall, of this place, recently sold a tract of 100 acres of land, situated in Fayette county, Pa., for $16,000. The land held valuable deposits.

Polk Miller at White Post.
Polk Miller, of Richmond, the greatest living delineator of the old time negro and a celebrated banjoiist, will give one of his inimitable entertainments at White Post on Thursday night, June 22nd. His entertainment is "an evening with story and song." Come one—come all.

Mrs. W. C. Lauck, wife of Editor Lauck of the Luray News, and sister, Miss Hattie Grayson, were guests of Mrs. J. E. Ogden last week. Editor Lauck passed through town Friday on his way to Loudoun county.

Smith-Howell.
A pretty wedding took place last Wednesday evening at 8:30 o'clock at the Baptist church, in this place, the contracting parties being Miss Laura V. Howell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James F. Howell, of this place, and Mr. Newton F. Smith, of Myerstown, W. Va.
The ceremony was performed by Rev. Julian Broadus, pastor of the church, and was witnessed by a number of friends and relatives of the happy couple. The bride wore a gown of light green covert cloth, trimmed with mousseline de soie and white taffeta. The ushers were Messrs. Laurence Howell and William Jones, of this place, and Charles Risler and Charles Yates, of Jefferson county.

The bride moved up the aisle, leaning on the arm of the groom and preceded by the ushers. Miss Courtney Howell, sister of the bride, presided at the organ and rendered Lohregren's wedding march as the bridal party entered the church and Mendelssohn's march as they retired.
A reception was tendered the bridal party at the home of the bride's parents after the ceremony. The bride received a number of useful presents.
Mr. and Mrs. Smith will reside in Myerstown, where Mr. Smith is in business.

June Sixth at Winchester.
The exercises attending the unveiling of the monument erected in Stone-wall Cemetery, Winchester, to the memory of the South Carolinians buried there, was witnessed, it is estimated, by about 10,000 people. Capt. Wm. P. Carter, of this county, was chief marshal of the procession composed of representatives of Confederate camps from Berryville, Martinsburg, Charlestown, and Winchester, and of the fire companies of Winchester, which paraded through the principal streets of the city, and then marched to the cemetery where the unveiling ceremonies were carried out. Miss Marguerite Trenholm pulled the string that brought into view the monument. Addresses were made by Capt. J. W. Capers and Gen. Leroy F. Youmans, both of South Carolina, and a beautiful poem was read by Dr. Henry H. Clarkson, of Haymarket, Va., who is a son of the Palmetto State.

Both addresses were highly spoken of by those who heard them. The monument is a plain shaft, and to the efforts of the wife of Judge Wm. M. Atkinson is due the erection of this monument. The inscriptions are: On the north side—"In memory of the 149 Confederate dead of South Carolina." On the south side—"Lord God of Hosts be with us yet, lest we forget." On the east side—"Though Lost it be to men, it lives with God again." On the west side is a medalion of the Palmetto State. Mr. Chas. B. Rous, the liberal hearted merchant of New York, contributed one half of the monument fund.

School Closing Exercises.
The closing of the session of 1898-99 of the Misses Gold's school was observed last Wednesday evening in the grounds adjoining the school house. A large crowd, which, including the scholars, numbered about one hundred, was present and was composed largely of boys and girls, to whom invitations were extended by the scholars. Croquet, lawn tennis, the daisy hunt and rose ring games and other diversions were indulged in during the course of the afternoon. The Misses Gold managed the affair very successfully and displayed much tact and knowledge of how to make the young ones enjoy themselves, and that all passed a delightful evening 'was attested by the three ringing and vigorous cheers the boys—and girls—gave each of the teachers at the conclusion of the entertainment. Cooling refreshments were served, and partaken of with much pleasure, as the evening was a warm one.

The Misses Gold have been very successful with their school during the past session and have given their patrons much satisfaction with the thoroughness with which they have instructed the scholars.
The same young ladies will conduct the school next year, assisted by Miss Rose McDonald, daughter of the late Col. Marshall McDonald, who has been connected with the Norfolk College for young ladies, and comes very highly recommended.

Clay Hill Academy.
The commencement exercises of the Clay Hill Academy, near Millwood, of which Prof. W. H. Whiting is principal, were held last Friday evening in the presence of a large number of citizens residing in the county. Capt. Wm. Page Carter delivered an address to the scholars, in which he dwelt mostly on the causes of the civil war. Prof. Whiting also made a few remarks in commendation of the scholars and their fidelity to their studies.

The first prize awarded was a scholarship at either Washington and Lee University, Hampden-Sidney College or Clay Hill Academy, which was won by W. C. W. Renshaw, of this county. The second prize, a scholarship to either of the two remaining places was won by Robert Renshaw.
Lecture at Court House.
Hon. Robert T. Barton, of Winchester, will deliver an address at the court house, Berryville, Va., on Friday evening, June 16, at 8 o'clock. His subject will be "Jefferson Davis," and he appears at the invitation of the Daughters of the Confederacy, who are endeavoring to raise funds for the benefit of the monument to be erected in honor of Clarke county's heroic dead. Mr. Barton is too well known as an entertaining speaker to require from us any encouraging words as to the intellectual treat that will be offered the public. An admission fee of 10 cents will be charged in aid of the fund above mentioned, and before the lecture the Daughters will serve refreshments for the same worthy object.

It SAVES THE CHILDREN.—Chamberlain's Cough Remedy has saved the lives of thousands of croupy children. It is also without an equal for colds and whooping cough.

Robbed the Grave.
A startling incident, of which Mr. John Oliver, of Philadelphia, was the subject, is narrated by him as follows: "I was in most dreadful condition. My skin was almost yellow, eyes sunken, tongue coated, pain continually in back and sides, no appetite—gradually growing weaker day by day. Three physicians had given me up. Fortunately, a friend advised trying 'Electric Bitters' and to my great joy and surprise, the first bottle made a decided improvement. I continued their use for three weeks and am now a well man. I know they saved my life, and robbed the grave of another victim." No one should fail to try them. Only 50 cents, guaranteed, at C. Blencoe's drug store.

Will of Ex-Gov. Holliday.
The will of ex-Gov. Fred W. M. Holliday, who died May 29th, was admitted to probate June 7th, by Judge Thomas W. Harrison in the Circuit Court. Governor Holliday bequeathes all his property, both real and personal, to his sister, Mrs. Margaret Duncan Mason, of Charlestown, W. Va. He names her in the will as executrix to serve without security. Shortly before his death Governor Holliday arranged for the presentation of his miscellaneous library to the University of Virginia. The library is one of the finest private libraries in the State. It contains over 8000 volumes. His fine law library was given to Mr. Frank McCormick, son of Mr. Thomas McCormick, of this county, whose sister was Governor Holliday's first wife. Governor Holliday also made provision before his death for his three old servants. The personal estate, which consists principally in United States bonds, is valued at about $100,000 and his real estate at $50,000.

Special Election for Water Bonds.
The town council of Berryville has ordered a special election to be held on Thursday, the 29th inst., to take the sense of the people as to whether or not the town shall issue bonds to the extent of $25,000 for the purpose of constructing and owning a water system. If the voters of the town elect to assume the responsibility for this needed improvement, the council will ask the next Legislature to ratify the people's verdict. The Legislature already has empowered the town to issue bonds for $15,000, but this sum will not quite, according to estimates by competent engineers, complete the system already begun. Besides the town, to become complete owner of the system, has to buy the title to the franchise and work already completed, held at $6,000, to become the sole owner of the plant. We shall have more to say on this subject next week.
