THE TRANSCRIPT

OFFICIAL PAPER OF THE COUNTY.

LOCAL MATTERS.

ARE your chimneys clean?

ALMOST every day Main street presents the appearance of a circus day. SEE splendid cut of Hopkins & Fernald's on second page. 42-1

The Universalist Sunday School gave a concert, on Sabbath evening, which was largely attended.

A REDUCTION of about fifteen per cent. on freights has been announced by the Southern Minnesota Railroad.

The Austin club dance is held each alternate Friday night, and fine times are had by all who participate.

We learn that Rev. J. T. Graves has been re-elected by the Congregational Society of this place.

WE notice W. W. Noble, G. G. Clemmer's gentlemanly clerk, again on the streets, after several weeks illness.

MOWER county paid $17,203.55 into the State treasury. Only eleven counties exceed her in this respect.

OUR worthy Senator made us a friendly call Saturday last. Mr. Page has been ailing somewhat of late, and looks a trifle "thin."

THE Progressive Age is the name of a new daily paper which reaches us from McGregor, Iowa. All it needs is a "right peep" man at its head.

"CORPUSES" of the genus sus are not numerous on our streets these days. Prices range from $3.85 and $4.00 per hundred pounds.

WE would simply remind taxpayers that after the first of February a five per cent. penalty will be added to all unpaid taxes.

FARMERS tell us that winter wheat is suffering for the want of more snow to protect it from the frosts and winds. Give us more snow.

THE down train for Milwaukee, when near Owatonna, Monday, ran off the track. No damage incurred, but a few hours delay in the mail.

W. H. CHANDLER, our Crandall across the way, and a capital tenor, was unanimously chosen chorister of the Baptist Church, Sunday evening. A good selection.

A SERIES of union prayer meetings was held at the Presbyterian Church last week. A general attendance was had, and much interest manifested by those who participated.

W. B. NIXON, said to reside at Le Roy, was arrested on a charge of stealing wheat from a Mr. Vandervort, of Spring Valley. He is now in custody awaiting trial.

THE University of Minnesota, and the Philadelphia Public Ledger, have our thanks for almanacs for 1872.—They are very valuable for occasional reference.

OUR citizens are beginning to find out that Austin must have a town hall—or go without one. We hope the stock company talked of last week will meet with success.

THE pedestrian Weston has not been engaged to walk before an Austin audience. He is now "doing" Iowa in the shape of lectures, and a mile walk thrown in. Suppose you do.

MR. W. BROWN informs us that his singing school is in a healthy condition. As a vocal teacher, Mr. Brown ranks with the generality of musical professors.

ALL persons desirous of organizing a debating society, will please meet at the law office of Greenman & Hawkins next Saturday evening, at 7 o'clock, sharp.

G. B. HAYES has, after several futile attempts, gone down east to Boston. After two or three months sojourn in the "Hub," he will return to Austin.

CHARLES LAMB, of Grand Meadow, who has been on trial at St. Paul for some weeks past, is out on the same bail as before the trial. The jury failing to agree. A new trial will be held.

REV. MR. WAKEFIELD, returns from his visit to the east this week, and will preach in the Court House next Sunday morning at ten and a half o'clock. A full house should be given him.

ED. ENGLE, a young man employed as a brakeman in the yard at this place, had his hand severely squeezed, last Sunday afternoon, while coupling cars. No bones were broken, however, and he will soon be able to resume work.

A MASQUERADE BALL will be given at Old Folks' Hall to-morrow evening. A glance at the several committees is enough to convince any one that a jovial time may be expected by all who attend.

HUNTLEY & BREY have added a new feature to their cigar factory. It is a contrivance for pressing cigars, which gives them a better finish than can be given them by hand. Lovers of the weed should give them a trial.

COLD weather appears not to interfere with the workmen at the eating house. We happened over that way one day, recently—and it was cold enough to freeze any common man—and found laborers working on the exterior of the building, regardless of the extreme cold weather. They are similar to Grant in the "push" business.

NO TRAIN for nearly a week from Mason City.

That road is not fenced as the law provides it should be, and a small gang of wild fids the track with hard and almost impenetrable snow.

HOPKINS & FERNALD tells our citizens, by poster, that they have received another large invoice of parlor games, and are disposing of them at the lowest rates. Persons fond of such games as a pastime, should call on H & F.

THE La Crosse Land Dealer for January is on our table, sporting a new head, and otherwise improved. We would like to say something of that nice New Year's Greeting, but the TRANSCRIPT is not classed as a "country paper," so will "keep mum."

SEVENTEEN loads of wood were counted on Main street at one time. Saturday last. Prices ranged from four dollars to five and a half per cord. Farmers should be able to keep from grumbling about hard times so long as wood brings the above figures.

A LADY's gold belt pin was found a few days ago and left with us. Whoever has lost such a piece of decorative furniture will please call, pay for this notice, and take it away. Our life is in jeopardy with so much gold about our person.

VALENTINE'S day is rapidly approaching, when cupid can play with heavier artillery on the hearts of those who seem inclined to accept his visits. Cupid, with his assistant, I. Year, may make sad havoc with some of their victims.

THAT new patent spring on the post office door is a contrivance which does the job of the squeaking of an ungreased pulley. Friend Meigs feels happy now, as he is in no danger of having a few pounds of iron descend on that respected cranium of his.

MR. P. C. CUMMINS, of Oakland, had just time enough, last Saturday, to chat with us a few moments. The Good Templar organization of that neighborhood is in a prosperous condition, and steadily increasing in strength, which is encouraging. Mr. Cummins reports that neighborhood rather quiet.

OUR friend Lafayette French, of the law firm of Crandall & French, of this place, was recently appointed Court Commissioner by Judge N. M. Donaldson, vice E. O. Wheeler resigned. "Fay" will do his duty if any one can, and we are pleased to see him gradually rising in his profession.

WE have seen it. We have gazed at it, and actually touched it. It is the pen said to be mightier than the sword, and is on exhibition at the First National Bank. The originator of the said instrument undoubtedly had some Cardiff giant in view, as it is about the size of the giant used in his more youthful days. Joseph Gillott has no claim on this pen.

WE learn that a small boy named Arthur Lester, living on the East Side, had his leg broken one day last week, by falling from a horse. This is the second time the limb has been broken within six months, and in the same place. He stands the seige like a little Major, and will soon be able to associate again with his play-fellows.

THE members of the Grand Army of the Republic who attended the Grand Encampment recently held in St. Paul, delegates from the Post in this city, speak in glowing terms of their gathering and are confident that a number of the efforts being made by them to benefit the soldiers' widows and orphans of our State will be successful. They speak very highly of the treatment and "feasting" that they received while in St. Paul.

AN accession of about forty families will soon be made to Austin, as it is the intention of employees on the Burlington, Cedar Rapids & Minnesota road to remove their families to this place. As a consequence of this arrangement, several new residences will be erected on the East Side as soon as the weather will permit. There is no use of further talking, as Austin will surely increase largely during the present year.

THE enterprising furniture firm of this city, Messrs. Hopkins & Fernald, this week give the readers of the TRANSCRIPT an advertisement worth looking at. It is an exterior representation of their building, and a good one at that. The constant changes going on inside will not admit of a stereotype, but they invite you to call and see how it is yourself. They can furnish anything in their line, from a nice tasseled to the choicest set of parlor furniture ever brought to Austin. Call on them.

FRIEND ROOT, of Grand Meadow, made us a pleasant call yesterday.—From him we learned that the school imbroglio in that township, which has been rather exciting for some time past, has been settled, the superintendent informing the unruly boy's parent that his son must abide by the rules of the school or cease attendance. The school pursues the same course it has since its beginning and the pupil is more reticent than was his former wont.

It is rumored that the B. C. R. & M. R. will soon commence the erection of a round-house and machine shops at this place. One night last week seven M. & St. P. Ry. engines were compelled to be exposed during a severe storm, the round-house being too small to shelter them. Now, if the Southern Minnesota Railroad concludes to make Austin their crossing, a new depot building must be erected, or the present one enlarged to accommodate freight and passengers. Next summer will be a lively one for mechanics, if all that is talked of now is carried into execution.

MR. GODFREY LEEFFLER is agent for an edition of the latest illustrated Polyglot Bible, which is a rare beauty, both in workmanship and general contents.

It is printed from entirely new sets of electrotype plates and is embellished with 224 choice engravings synonymous of Biblical scenes; Bible-lyrics, the harmony of the Gospel, the apocrypha, a chronological index of the years and times from Adam to Christ, place for family portraits, marriages, births, deaths and genealogical tablets are found in its pages. Truly it is a wonder of beauty and excellence, and should find a place in every household. Prices range from $8 to $15, for English print, and from $10 to $17 for the German edition.

SE'D us the news. Yes, send us anything that will interest our readers. For instance, if a worthy rib finds some chap whom she admires more than she does her leigh lord, and forsakes the said leigh lord, let us know all about it, the why, the wherefore, the everything. Should your horse be an enterprising turn of mind and plays sad havoc with a sleigh to which he is attached, or in your attempts to dig a well a mammoth task, hoof, or leg is unearched, or if, perchance, the fossil remains of a Cardiff Giant is struck with a spade, just send us a small piece as an assurance of the fact. If you should be employed rolling logs, and one of them becomes unmanageable, rolls over you, crushes your devoted head, or otherwise injures you, please be kind enough to send us all particulars.

In conclusion, we would again ask our friends residing in different portions of the county, to send us news.

THE Norway Oats mania is on the subside of the question. A few farmers in this county were made victims by the agent of D. Ramsdell & Co. The manner in which farmers are inveigled into this scheme is thus: An agent calls and produces specimens of the Norway Oats, and says he wants five dollars per bushel for this valuable cereal; is never particular about money, preferring the signature of the purchaser to a note purporting to run three years before due, and promises to take all the oats raised by paying the farmer fifty cents per bushel. The proposition in itself seems free from trickery, and the unsuspecting farmer is made an easy victim, and attaches his signature to what looks to him as a note having three years to run before maturity.

Well, the grain was harvested, and soon ready for delivery to D. Ramsdell & Co., but the gentlemanly agent fails to put in an appearance, and, ere long some banking house informs him that a note left in their possession for settlement has matured, and an immediate settlement is desired. Further investigation reveals the fact that the note signed was made six months instead of three years, as he had supposed.—He becomes desperate, pays it, and vows eternal vengeance on all agents who happen round his premises. We hardly think our farmers will be caught in the same trap again, and caution all lightning-rod and oat men to give Mower county a very wide berth, as we will not vouch that their exit from the county will be a very pleasant one.

From Le Roy. Editor Mower County Transcript. Sir:—The New England dinner you so kindly noticed, was given by the ladies of the Presbyterian Society last Thursday evening, and proved an enjoyable affair. This was certainly true of the efforts being made by them to benefit the soldiers' widows and orphans of our State will be successful. They speak very highly of the treatment and "feasting" that they received while in St. Paul.

Mr. William Field contributed a little to the entertainment by reading a poem at the table, prepared by his father, Mr. D. S. Field, for the occasion. He being the last arrival from New England, was just the man to thus pleasantly surprise us. An account of the supper would be incomplete without the poem. The author kindly consenting I submit it in full.

After supper its author lined it in Parvian and it was sung to Old Hundred:

Song of New England: here we meet, And with good cheer each other greet, With cheerful hearts we meet and dine, Without the aid of beer or wine. We've left New England's hills behind For Minnesota's healthful clime; Those dear old hills we once loved best, And had a wondering world ahead.

There comes from that land word of fame, Made sacred by a poet's name, Where Burns, once touched his tuneful lyre, And had a wondering world ahead.

We care not from what lands ye came, We welcome all, and all the same, And hope to have a pleasant time, While you sit down with us to dine.

On tables loaded now it seems, With yankee brown bread, pork and beans, With doughnuts, such as made by mother, By twisting one around the other.

Free for all, and all mind you well, We want a dollar for beer left, That bill, which every Sabbath day, Will summon you to church, to pray.

Or if to release you're inclined By letters to improve the mind, Through all the village streets resound, The new New Store, next door south of Austin, Friend Root, is completed, and was opened on Saturday, October 28th, with an almost entirely new stock of goods, making much the largest and finest assortment of Boots and Shoes ever offered to the people of Southern Minnesota.

With a larger and much more convenient Store, and greatly reduced expenses, Mr. T. is confident of meeting the wishes of his customers, both as to quality and price of goods. Leather and Shoemakers' Findings, Bindings, &c., as usual.

Have Received a Mammoth Stock of Goods.

AUSTIN & RICHARDSON

MAIN AND MILL STREETS, AUSTIN, MINN.

Nothing pleases us more than to know that our schools are well provided over.

We learn by the papers that Mr. A. A. Harwood, of this county, has been elected Secretary of the Senate, and Mr. M. W. Scribner as Enrolling Clerk. Both good men, and undoubtedly make good officers. We like to see good men on office.

A PROTRACTED meeting is being held at Pleasant Valley under the management of Rev. W. H. Soule. We understand that considerable interest is being manifested, and that success will follow.

SOME speculation is going on in our midst as to whether we can have the Davenport & St. Paul road run through our town. The price of land has not advanced much over the rumor.

Literary Notices.

THE February Polo, edited by George Lowell Austin, has reached us, and is even more attractive than ever. It contains thirty columns of reading matter, comprising the continuation of the new serial, "The Sweet Bye and Bye"; an amusing sketch, "Trials of a Musical Housekeeper"; an interesting account of Rosini's "Stabat Mater"; fearless Editorials, fresh items, and spicy minor-chords, besides a host of other literary attractions. The number also contains nine pages of vocal, sacred, and instrumental music: "In her cradle baby's sleeping," song, by James A. Harney, (author of "Little Foot, Steady"); "Hail thou my cause," sacred quartet, by J. P. Weston; and "Far from home," grand March, by E. Mack—alone worth in sheet form $1.50; and three admirable portraits—of Madame Patey, Edwin Booth, and Josephine Heine. A beautiful four-dollar engraving, entitled "Far from Home," is given to every subscriber. One dollar a year. White, Smith & Perry, Publishers, 298 and 300 Washington St., Boston. Specimen copies free.

The attention of our readers is called to the card telling the arrival and departure of mails from the Austin post office, together with the principal offices on the several roads leading from this place. All the mails, excepting the Nevada stage route, which arrives and departs each Friday, are carried by rail, arriving and departing daily. Mail is received from six directions at about the same hour, which keeps the P. M. and his able assistant rather busy for three or four hours each day, when a subside is enjoyed until the public schools close, when the office is again filled with numerous urbane desirous of knowing whether or not pa has got the mail; or perhaps some rosy-checked lass almost knows that there is a letter in the office from her absent Charley. But when she discovers none for her how romantically that dainty little Grecian nose is elevated, and those handsome lips are—

Never mind about the conclusion of that sentence, as we want to tell our readers some facts about the immense money order business transacted at this office. Commencing with the beginning of the quarter ending December 30th, we see that during the month of October money orders were issued to the amount of $1,664.40. November was not so good for this business, there being only $1,411.83 issued in money orders. During December, the last month in the quarter, orders were issued to the amount of $1,933.78. The number of orders issued during the quarter were 353. A few orders have been issued on Great Britain.

The amount of orders received and paid during the same quarter is as follows: October, $1,267.01; November, $1,267.34; December, $1,511.24. Thus we see that during the quarter the amount disbursed in money orders received $4,145.59, while the 253 orders issued received $4,010.03. Subtracting this latter amount from $4,145.59 we see that the disbursements exceed the receipts by $135.56.

Age does not appear to make an order valueless, as one was received at this post office about two years ago, from New Orleans, and intended for a then resident of Austin. After remaining in this office for over a year and a half, it was finally sent to headquarters, at Washington, as it had become worthless according to the law in such case made and provided. In the meantime the person whom the order was made payable to, presented his application, and received payment, the Department having instructed the postmaster so to do.

This system has done away, to a great extent, with the dangers of expressing, and even registering letters.

By letter to improve the mind, Through all the village streets resound, The new New Store, next door south of Austin, Friend Root, is completed, and was opened on Saturday, October 28th, with an almost entirely new stock of goods, making much the largest and finest assortment of Boots and Shoes ever offered to the people of Southern Minnesota.
