THE PARTY OF CORRUPTION.
Frustrated and Expensive Labors of Democratic Legislative Committee—A Comparison Between Republican and Democratic Records.
(From New York Times.)

Very soon after the Democrats obtained possession of the house of representatives, they began a series of investigations into the expenditures of the government. They had for no many years raised a prodigious clamor over the extravagance and corruption of the Republican administration of the government.
It is quite possible some of them actually believed their own assertions.
Then, too, many of those who joined the cry of "corruption" were old Democrats who had their criminal share in the misdeeds of previous Democratic administrations, when the disbursements of the government were insignificant compared with those of later years under Republican rule. They could not believe that any party, with the opportunities enjoyed by the Republicans, could fail to reap rich harvests of plunder.

The charges and shirkings of the delegates for their respective favorites, were valiant, their tactics splendid, their management original and persistent.
This is especially true of the famous 300, a Spartan band—the Old Guard—whose names should be set in gold on velvet.
Backed by millions of men and money, their candidate, the most renowned citizen and hero of the world, or tried trials, his administration compared favorably with those of Washington and Lincoln, how could they fail? Peace, order and prosperity would be assured; the Democratic party would be cheating the government. These thirty-three investigating committees expended nearly $500,000. The exact amount is not known, but it is believed that one single Republican officer had been convicted of stealing even one dollar from the government. About a year ago Senator Windom, from his place in the Senate, had been charged with cheating the government. These thirty-
