We are very sorry to lose Dr. E. R. Young from this city. Although he has been here but a few months he has made many friends and was building up a good practice. The sudden death of his brother-in-law, Dr. More of Northwood, and the serious condition of his sister compel him to move to Northwood to resume his practice there and take up Dr. More's work. He is packing up to move this week. We hope that he may return here some time to reside again.

The county superintendents over the state are in receipt of a circular from the state superintendent advising them that he has plans and specifications drawn for a rural school house by an expert architect for free loan to school boards. The circular says: All the specifications and drawings are complete in every detail, providing for the best material and school officers can receive bids upon the type written specifications of the architect, loaned by the department without expense of alteration. Or they can make copies of them making minor changes that may be desirable. These drawings will be loaned free of charge to any school board in the state contemplating the construction of a new school house this year, upon application to the superintendent.

Insist Upon Having Royal.

Royal Baking Powder is in the stock of probably every dealer in groceries in the state. If not, the grocer will add to the reputation of his store by keeping it.

Royal Baking Powder itself, and the packages which contain it, comply with all the food laws and every other law of the State, and if any dealer attempts to hinder its sale he does so for the purpose of palming off upon the customer a cheap and inferior substitute.

Consumers requiring pure and healthful baking powder, free from alum, should call for Royal. The authorities certify this brand of greatest value, highest in strength, pure and wholesome.
