She spoke afternoon and evening and gave facts as to the economic, educational, social and religious conditions of Argentine republic, which depicted the true condition of our sister continent. Why does Great Britain buy its oatmeal of us?

Certainly it seems like carrying coals to Newcastle to speak of exporting oatmeal to Scotland and yet, every year the Quaker Oats Company sends hundreds of thousands of cases of Quaker Oats to Great Britain and Europe.

The reason is simple; while the English and Scotch have for centuries eaten oatmeal in quantities and with a regularity that has made them the most rugged physically, and active mentally of all people, the American has been eating oatmeal and trying all the time to improve the methods of manufacture so that he might get that desirable foreign trade.

However, he has succeeded would become a glance at the expert reports on Quaker Oats. This brand is recognized as without a rival in clearness and delicious flavor.

SPLENDID WORK OUTLINED FOR Y. W. C. A. IN MOWER COUNTY.

In this commercial age the interest of the public has been centered largely about our large cities, but now the pendulum has begun to swing ruralward. The majority of prominent men in public life today came from the country. This may account for the new interest everywhere manifested in the problems of the rural communities. The Cecil Rhodes will make it possible for the poorest boy in America to go through Oxford. Another man has been responsible for the founding of the Carnegie libraries which dot this land of ours. The state educational department has been so firm in its belief in the people of the rural sections that it has secured special appropriations for the development of enter the villages with any sort of improvement measures but it pays. Over 55 per cent of our population lives in towns less than 8,000 and in the country. Inconvenient traveling facilities make definite and specific work difficult but their remoteness from larger centers of activity create a tremendous demand.

In consideration of the need and the possibilities, the Young Women's Christian Association, always eager to meet the needs of women, has organized a department of extension work which carries the work of the association into the small village or to the school district where a few scattered young women may want the work. In the smaller towns, the boys scatter after they leave school but a large majority of the girls remain. There is often a little of opportunity for these young women unless some organized effort makes it. Such is the purpose of the Mower County Y. W. C. A. in its local work. It proposes to give the young women of the rural districts opportunity for physical development through the work of Miss Leah Crane of Austin, whose equipment is unquestioned. The minimum fee of $1 in addition to the membership fee of $1 a course of ten lessons may be had which will greatly help one to combat against the white plague and other diseases capable of being warded off. Courses of practical instruction in domestic science, home art and home nursing have been provided through our extension department of the state university. Courses in social culture, Bible study and embroidery will be developed by the county secretary as the work advances. All of these classes, with the exception of the physical training are given for the membership fee, $1. This fee is made small in order that every girl who has ambition may take advantage of the work offered.

The membership fee of $1 will not sustain the work. In order that this plan may be put into operation men and women who have large visions and most give of their interest and of their means. It is a work for everyone, the one who enjoys the benefits directly and the one who enlarges his nature through avenues of helpfulness. A work which proposes to furnish clean social life, strong cultural elements, as well as splendid educational values to say nothing of the Christian influence of its executive must needs command respect and support.

The Mower County Y. W. C. A. has its branches in Brownsdale, Dexter, Grand Meadow, Le Roy and Anstin and we hope soon to add to this list.

The organization of the County Board of Directors will be held in the Y. W. C. A. rooms in Austin on Wednesday, April 20, at 10 o'clock a. m. The newly elected board will convene at the same place at 2 o'clock p. m. to work out definite plans for the county development. The work will be presented this spring in a way to prove its value and the organization of each branch will be perfected. At the meeting April 20 the board will officially call the county secretary who will give her entire time to Mower County. The physical training classes have started in two places and the domestic science teacher has begun instruction in each branch. When the work is well under way prominent men in the religious world will be secured for addresses in each place. Many large possibilities for vital helpfulness open up through the aid of the world wide organization of the Y. W. C. A. Miss Helen F. Barnes, one of the national secretaries from New York, has been in Mower county for several days and will return for the county organization April 20. Anyone who may be interested in the work of the association is invited to the organization meeting. Those who live in towns that have not yet been organized are very welcome to come. See program elsewhere.

MAY BE HELD IN ST. PAUL

Next Meeting of National Conservation Congress.

The National Conservation congress may assemble some time this summer or early fall in St. Paul. If it does former President Roosevelt will deliver his promised address to the delegates there.

This was the statement made by Governor Eberhart when it was learned that his private secretary, Ralph W. Wheelock, is trying to arrange at Washington for the meeting to be held at St. Paul. Mr. Wheelock was given the power by Governor Eberhart to make all arrangements possible and secure the congress for Minnesota.

"We want the congress," said Governor Eberhart, "and we shall bend every effort to secure it. It is logical that the state which took the lead in starting a campaign for state conservation of resources should be the first to entertain the national body."

Minnesota Democrats Will Meet in One of Twin Cities.

The Democratic state central committee held a brief meeting at the Merchants' hotel at St. Paul, but neither time nor place for holding the state convention of the party was set. St. Paul and Minneapolis are both eager bidders for the meeting and the Commercial clubs of the two cities have extended invitations to the Democrats and offered them a meeting place.

In view of the length of time which will elapse before the state convention is held it was thought wiser to postpone action on time and place for a month or two. As a result the power of making the choice of a meeting place and fixing a date was delegated to a committee of five to be appointed by the chairman, who will be a member ex-officio.

DEMOCRATS OF MINNESOTA

Six Hundred Attend Jefferson Day Banquet at St. Paul.

The overthrow of the Republican party in the lower house of congress and in the White House was the topic of the Democrats of Minnesota at the Jefferson day dinner held at the St. Paul Auditorium. State politics were mentioned only incidentally and city politics not at all. The dinner was attended by nearly 600 people from different parts of the state.

Martin J. Wade of Iowa and Governor Burke of North Dakota were the principal speakers, taking the place of Congressman Foss of Massachusetts, John Lind and Representative W. S. Hammond.

SHOOTING WAS ACCIDENTAL

Former Mayor of a Minnesota Town Badly Wounded.

Charles Olson, former mayor of Aurora, was found in his home in that place, unconscious from a bullet wound in his breast. He was taken to a Duluth hospital, where it was said there is a chance for life. It was at first believed Mr. Olson had attempted suicide, but the authorities said it was probably accidental. Mr. Olson was alone in his room at the time of the shooting. He had a small caliber rifle in his hands. The bullet passed just above his heart, coming out at the left shoulder.

SHERIFF RAIDS LODGEROOM

Alleged to Have Found Intoxicants and Gambling Outfit.

Armed with two search and seizure warrants Sheriff Peter Ronde of Kandiyohi county and his deputies entered the lodgerooms of the Willmar chapter of the Eagles, arrested William C. Kemp on the double charge of maintaining an unlicensed drinking place and gambling rooms and confiscated, among other things, a poker table and 200 chips, 21 decks of playing cards, 10 quart bottles of whiskey and 83 quart bottles of beer, together with beer and whisky glasses and other supplies.

EDITOR IS BADLY BURNED

Used Gasoline or Kerosene to Start Fire.

R. B. Russell, editor of the Hayfield Guard, was taken to Rochester in a most pitiable condition for medical attention and fears are entertained that he will not recover. Mr. Russell's body is one mass of burns and is the result of an attempt to start a fire in his office with either gasoline or kerosene.

While pouring the oil on the fire the can slipped into the stove and exploded and his entire body was engulfed in the flames.

TWO MINERS ARE SUFFOCATED

Meet Death in a Pit Near Bovey, This State.

Victor Maki and Rudolph Mistivich, miners, were suffocated in the top pit of the Canisteo mine near Bovey.

The two miners were sent into the test pit after samples of ore. Several hours afterwards, searching parties were sent after them. After their work the bodies were recovered.

Heroin Medicine Proves Fatal.

Jesse Dahl died at the St. T. B. Keller farm near Copenhagen, Iowa, of a poison contained in a bottle of heroin medicine. The bottle had a lock like whisky.

ABOUT THE STATE

News of Especial Interest to Minnesota Readers.

SALOONS ORDERED TO CLOSE

Notice Given to Large Number in Northern Minnesota.

Saloons in all of Mahanomen county and in sections of Beltrami, Cass, Clay, Crow Wing, Otter Tail and Wadena counties have been notified by William E. Johnson, chief special officer in the government-Indian service, to close their doors by May 11.

The order issued by Special Agent Johnson affects about seventy towns, a majority of them in territory not hitherto affected by the government order. It is the most drastic of the orders issued since the special agent of the government began the campaign to enforce the provisions of old Indian treaties in the northern country and to prevent the sale of liquor to Indians.

Accompanying the order is another order prohibiting the sale of "spirituous liquors" in sections of Norman, Polk and Red Lake counties. The saloons in these districts will be allowed to sell beer and malt, but not whisky.

In an order issued Nov. 8 Mr. Johnson closed the saloons in Becker and Hubbard counties and in sections of Itasca, Norman, Polk and Clearwater counties. In the most recent order these districts are included with the other sections as proscribed territory.

In the order closing the saloons, sixty-two railroad stations are named as within the proscribed territory. Exceptions to the general order are made in four cases. In Backus one saloon will be allowed to operate, in Cass Lake three saloons, in Detroit two saloons and in Walker two.

PRISON POET IS RELEASED

John Carter Pardoned From Stillwater Penitentiary.

John Carter, prison poet, who has been released from Stillwater penitentiary and who owes his release to the national recognition he has gained by his poetic contributions to magazines, will not continue to write poetry. In his cell at Stillwater just before his release he characterized poetry writing as a "pleasant diversion" and said he would seek a future in music or in newspaper work.

After a long session, at which petitions for Carter's release came from all sections of the United States and England, the state pardon board decided to commute Carter's sentence and to release him at once and unconditionally. He has served five years and six months of a ten-year sentence. He was convicted of stealing $26 and a watch from a railroad station at Karlstad and was sentenced to ten years in prison. During his term in prison he has contributed to many of the leading magazines of the country and many magazine editors, including the editor of the Century magazine, appealed to the board in his behalf. In addition to writing poetry Carter has learned to play the clarinet. He is a fine pianist.

BAD FIRE IN PRISON CITY

Property Valued at Sixty Thousand Dollars Destroyed.

For several hours the city of Stillwater seemed due to destruction by fire which started, it is supposed, from a locomotive spark dropping on the roof of a large warehouse, the property of the Northwest Thresher company. The total loss will amount to $60,000.

The high wind fanned the increasing flames and carried embers and blazing fagots close to the state prison, destroying three dwellings.

Company K of the Minnesota national guard, located at Stillwater, was called out lest the prison become ignited and the prisoners liberated.

Lifting the flaming debris over the bluff which overlooks the prison the high wind carried firebrands into the residence district, where they set fire to three houses and a barn. The buildings were entirely destroyed. Five other buildings were damaged, but hundreds were saved by the presence of mind of women and children, who soaked carpets and bed clothing in water and spread them on the porches and roofs to quench incipient flames.

MAY CONTINUE IN BUSINESS

Minnesota Supreme Court Decides Trading Stamp Case.

The state supreme court, in a decision written by Justice Lewis, holds that the Sperry & Hutchinson Trading Stamp company has the right to conduct business in Minnesota.

The opinion says that the issue and redemption of trading stamps, as carried on by this company, is not attended by sufficient elements of chance or uncertainty to justify the restrictions of the Minnesota act.

The case was brought in the supreme court on a writ of quo warranto, the company deploring, pleading that the trading stamp act is a violation of the state constitution and of the fourteenth amendment to the United States Constitution.

WESTERN CANADA

What Governor Deneen, of Illinois, Says About It:

Governor Deneen, of Illinois, owns a section of land in Saskatchewan, Canada. He has said in an interview:

"As an American I am delighted to see the remarkable progress of Western Canada. Our people are flocking across the country in thousands, and I have not yet met one who has not admitted he has made a mistake. There is scarcely a community in the Middle West that is not represented in Saskatchewan, and that has not a representative in the Middle West."
