

MOOSE HUNTING

IN THE WILDS OF NORTHERN MINNESOTA. SUCCESSFUL IN CAPTURING BIG GAME.

I suppose a good many people are anxious to know how the Sargeant and Hayfield hunters came out on their moose hunt, near Lutsen, Cook County, Minn., on the north shore of Lake Superior, so I will give a brief sketch of our hunting trip. Our party consisted of H. F. Kezar, F. C. Schwartz and Theodore Knutson of Sargeant and W. W. Springstead and Carl Glaedy of Hayfield, Minn. We left home on Nov. 5 for Duluth, landing there the same night. We found the boat had just left that morning. Rather than to wait we took a gasoline fish boat 62½ feet long. We left Duluth the morning of Nov. 7. The little boat left the dock, and passed out through the canal onto the lake. The captain made a remark, "you have certainly a nice day for the trip," so it was. The day passed and we were enjoying ourselves until about four o'clock in the afternoon, when a storm commenced, and the water began to roll, and the boat plunged and splashed through the waves. The water often rolled above the deck, and the wind blew off some of the cargo which was lost. The storm was so bad, and the waves rolled so high that it was impossible for the captain to land us at our stopping place, so it was necessary for us to go on, until finally at eleven o'clock at night the boat passed by the light house, into the harbor at Grand Marce, and tied up for the night. We all were satisfied and the writer was a sick hunter. Carl Glaedy was as scared as if he had been on the Titanic. On Saturday the 8th, we started in a much larger boat for our 20 mile trip, but it turned back until the next day. We landed on the hunting ground on Nov. 10, 100 miles up the north shore of Lake Superior and back sixteen miles in the woods. On the 11th the hunting commenced and we traveled through swamps, over hills and through wind falls and burnouts until the night of the 20th when we had four fine large moose with magnificent horns. The largest had a spread of 55¼ inches. We also got a fine large to point buck deer.

Then it was necessary to make roads to get out the game. With a cross cut saw and axes we cut trees and sawed logs and rolled them out of the way until after three days' labor we had about three miles of road through the timber. Then we ordered two teams to haul us out. It takes two days to make the trip. They charged $50 a day, our team work came to $60. We took in groceries and did our own cooking. The Black Hawk Coffee Co. of Waterloo, Iowa furnished the coffee for the party, and Lewis Trapp traveling salesman for Winston Harper Fisher Co. grocery house of Minneapolis furnished the canned fruit. We had plenty to eat and a good log cabin to sleep in. Now this is a brief imperfect account of our moose hunt, but if any of you readers don't think we earned our moose, and think it is an easy matter to get them just try and you will find out for yourself.

Yours respectfully,
H. F. KEZAR.

DEATHS

HANS C. ANDERSON.

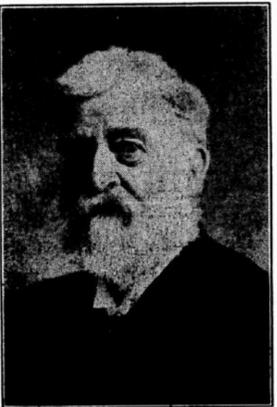

Hans Christian Anderson was born at Ostre Totten, Norway, August 18, 1838 and died at Alstead, New Hampshire, November 21, 1913. He had recently gone there from the west. He came to Dane County, Wisconsin with his parents in 1853. In 1854 they moved to Nevada township, Mower County, Minnesota where he grew to manhood. In 1864 he was married to Rachel Richardson a resident of Mower County and they resided on the homestead in Nevada until 1888 when they moved to the state of Washington. After spending ten years in that state they again returned to Minnesota and made their home at Austin where Mrs. Anderson died May 30th, 1902. There are nine children surviving, six of whom reside on the Pacific coast and three in this state. Mr. Anderson was at one time County Commissioner of Mower County and was prominent in Republican politics. A funeral was held in Six Mile Grove Lutheran church in Nevada Monday afternoon. Mr. Anderson married a second time and his widow and one son survive. She is in the State of Washington.

MRS. HULDAH A. DUTTON.

Passed away at her residence, on West Winona street, Sunday, Nov. 30, 1913, of old age and stomach trouble, Mrs. Huldah A. Dutton, aged 76 years. Huldah A. Clarke, daughter of Loyal C. and Melvina Ballou Clarke, was born at Stockholm, St. Lawrence county, N. Y., Sept. 11, 1837. On her mother's side she was of the same family as president Garfield. She was married to William P. Dearborn Oct. 25, 1858. They lived in Ontario, Can. until 1867 when they moved to Minnesota, settling in the old Beach neighborhood now known as Woodbury in Lyle township. Here Mr. Dearborn farmed it and also did carpenter work. He was an expert cabinet maker. He died Aug. 10, 1868, and the widow moved to Austin with her children in 1872. She has lived at her late residence since 1879. Four children were born to this union: Frank O. who died in 1911, Albert E. Dearborn who lived with his mother and Mrs. Harriet A. Wells of Austin, and William who died in 1874. She leaves two sisters, Mrs. Melvina Atkins of St. Louis who was with her during her last illness and Mrs. J. T. Davis of Orient, S. D. Also six brothers, Francis Clarke of Bridgeport, Conn., Marvin of Almont, Iowa, Loren A. of Austin, Almon B. of Minneapolis, Wallace of Waukon, Iowa, and William. Mrs. Dearborn was again married at Racine, Wis. cousin to Willard L. Dutton. He died in February, 1904. Mrs. Dutton was a consistent member of the M. E. church, uniting early in life and was a faithful attendant until old age and disease prevented her from going. She had been in failing health for some years and was confined to her bed for about six months. She was glad to depart to go to her Maker. May she rest in peace. Funeral services, conducted by Rev. J. F. Stout, D. D., were held at the late residence yesterday afternoon. Interment at Oakwood.

DR. P. B. PECK.

Dr. P. B. Peck died Sunday in St. Paul. We have no particulars. The body was taken to Alden, Iowa yesterday for interment beside his wife. He was married to Sarah R. Utley at Texas, Courtland county, N. Y. Feb. 28, 1856. They came to Austin in 1882 from Alden, Iowa and he was a dentist here for years. They celebrated their golden wedding here Feb. 28, 1906. Mrs. Peck died Dec. 25, 1906 and is buried at Alden, Iowa. One son Ernest survives. Mr. Peck of late years lived away from Austin

FRANK FRANEK.

Frank Franek, aged 46 years died at seven o'clock Monday morning Dec. 1, 1913 of tuberculosis at his home on Division street. He was born in Bohemia in 1867. He came to Austin about five years ago and had worked for Cutter the tailor. He leaves a wife and two children. Funeral will be held at two o'clock this afternoon at the house under the auspices of the Bohemian society.

MRS. REBECCA YATES-THOMPSON.

Mrs. Rebecca Thompson, aged 69 years died in the hospital at Duluth, Thursday, Nov. 27, 1913 after a long illness. She had been in failing health for several years and was in the hospital at Austin two or three years ago. Rebecca Sargent was the daughter of the late James T. Sargent. She was born in New York state, where her father was a contractor, Jan. 3, 1844. She came with her folks to Austin in the spring of 1857 and lived for many years on their spring farm east of Austin, now the city spring farm. She was married to Jerry B. Yates Jan. 28, 1860. He was a prominent merchant and real estate man in Austin where they lived for years. Subsequently they lived on their 240 acre farm south of Lansing village. Mr. Yates died Jan. 20, 1891. Mrs. Yates later married Mr. Thompson of Cleveland, Ohio. For the past few years she lived part of the time with her only son Jimmie in Minneapolis. Three children were born to her, Emma and Myrtle Yates who died in childhood and James now living in Fargo. The body was brought to Austin for interment in the Yates lot at Oakwood. Funeral service was conducted by Rev. C. D. Belden. Deceased leaves one brother Millard H. Sargent of Lansing.

MARRIAGES

DIEDRICH-SUNDBY.

At the residence of the officiating clergyman in this city, Wednesday afternoon, Nov. 26, 1913, Frank Diedrich, recently of Chicago, and Miss Ellen C., daughter of A. E. Sundby of Red Wing, were united in marriage, Rev. C. D. Belden officiating. They were unattended. The bride's dress was of white net over lawn. They have gone to housekeeping on West Lyndale avenue in Austin. The groom is an expert ball player and played with the Grand Forks team the past season. He will work in the Hormel packing house this winter. The bride completed her education in the Central high school at Red Wing and is gifted in the department of domestic science. We join in best wishes.

KOCH-OLSON.

Tuesday afternoon, Nov. 25, 1913, at 10 o'clock at the Lutheran parsonage in Adams village, Rev. Myhre performed the ceremony uniting for life's journey Miss Tena Olson of Adams and Fred Koch of Austin. A few intimate friends and relatives of the contracting parties witnessed the ceremony. The bride is an estimable young lady, is a daughter of Mrs. Mary Olson and has a large circle of friends in Adams and vicinity. The groom has made his home for several months in Austin, where he is employed. Everyone will extend congratulations and best wishes to them. Mr. and Mrs. Koch left on the noon train for Freeport, Ill., where they will visit relatives of the groom.

LIGHTLEY-CRANDALL.

At the residence of the bride's parents southwest of Austin, at high noon, Thanksgiving Day, Thursday, Nov. 27, 1913, Roy M. Lightley and Miss Crandall were united in marriage, Rev. C. D. Belden officiating. Miss Ethel R. Lightley was bridesmaid and Alfred Bradford groomsmen. The wedding march was played by Miss Irene Craig. The bride's gown was of white crepe de chene trimmed in lace and bead trimmings. The decorations were in ferns and chrysanthemums. Just relatives and a few intimate friends were present. After hearty congratulations, the company partook of a splendid four course turkey dinner. Mrs. Clifford Crandall and Mrs. L. M. Crandall assisting in serving. Mr. and Mrs. Lightley took the afternoon train to St. Paul for a brief trip and will be at home on their fine place a half mile south of the fair grounds after Dec. 10. The bride is the youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George W. Crandall and has been reared in this vicinity. She completed her education at the Austin high school and is accomplished in the arts of successful housekeeping. The groom is a son of the late Henry W. Lightley and is one of our progressive and successful young farmers. We wish for them abundant joy and prosperity.
