AUSTIN HIGH SCHOOL NOTES.

This is the last week of inter term. All next week vacation. Shout for joy.

We are glad that Gram is back after her illness last week.

Austin cleaned up the Pillsbury basketball team at the gym Friday evening. It was a slow wearisome game as the Pillsbury boys insisted on side bounds and lots of fouls were called without any necessity. At end of first half, game stood Pillsbury 14, Austin 3. At end of game Austin 14, Pillsbury 12. We understand that Pillsbury was a trifle wrathful when they left us Saturday. We should worry eh?

We all went thru some tests last week. Most of us were all right with no signs of small pox.

We are wondering who the brilliant student was who defined "trapeze" as a musical instrument and "whiffletree" as a species of tree.

Walter D's new song: "There's a girl in the heart of the Barrett family whose Hart was meant for me."

On the way to Brownsdale—New-say: "Peanuts, five a bag." Brownie—"Never use 'Em."

The train stopped at the G. W. Crossing for a while and rooters were nervous. Agnes: "Is this Brownsdale?" Cond. "No Ma'am." Agnes: "What is it then, a milk station?"

Cip became highly excited when he read the advertisement about "Sun-kissed lemons, etc."

Please, if Alma Root would Lily Groh?

Who said: "Green?"

Nine weeks tests. One consolation it comes only once more.

Miss Crisman was unusually happy Monday. Her pa visited her over Sunday.

Juniors are proud authors of detective stories. Great! We are all going on the force at once.

Miss Maria Sanford of Minneapolis gave a brilliant lecture on Egypt in high school hall Thursday evening under the auspices of the Art and Travel club and the senior class. The H. S. club gave some selections and Miss Alice Hayes sang.

The head of the Mankato Normal Training department visited our schools Friday and was highly pleased. He could not honestly be otherwise.

A big bunch of our high school students went to Brownsdale Friday evening to root for the basketball team. Two games were played. In the girls game the final score stood Brownsdale 19, Austin 9. In the boys game the score left off with Austin Juniors 21, Brownsdale, 12. The games were well fought. The A. H. S. boys basketball team will play Winona Thursday evening at Northfield. Winona is the champion of the east part of the district and Austin of the western part, so that the winner tomorrow evening will be the champion of the first district to take part in the grand tournament at Northfield, Friday and Saturday, 20 and 21.

All who went with the basket ball teams to Brownsdale Friday night, were royally entertained and nobody was homesome.

Marjorie was absent Friday. She is able to be back now though.

Who's who? Of course the one who blows his horn longest and loudest. We are not listening. The One and Only, so blow hard again.

Let us make it fashionable to contribute in good humor to these high school notes.

Separation threatened Suds and Bill in cooking.

Soph, at party, to senior—"if I throw you this spoon, will you catch it." Senior, gravely—"Sure, I never miss a spoon."

Fountain pens are certainly mysteries, especially when their parts disappear.

Together Jim and Suds are quite clever at composing poetry in Latin.

Suggestion to some of the domestic science pupils: It is not proper to eat with a knife but it is permissible to use an axe to get the eatable into shape.

The short course for young farmers closed Friday. It is notable that nearly all the members were residents of Maple City and vicinity. What is the matter with farmers boys in other localities?

The A. H. S. basket ball team played Albert Lea high at the gym and came out ahead with a score of 51 to 29. It was a rough game and the visitors seemed to think they were playing football, but our boys did not flinch in the midst of danger.

The school board has bought several relief maps of the Panama canal and the manual training class boys have framed them very neatly.

It is hoped that the Whittier school building will be ready for use at the beginning of the next term, March 30.

Miss Glover has been called away to Racine by the death of her brother and will not return until after vacation. Miss Florence Clark is taking her work assisted by normal pupils.

The Agricultural short course, has made a specialty this winter of farm accounts, farm machinery and practical agriculture and they have made great progress.

The seniors are deeply interested in the selection of a suitable class play.

Prof. Erickson of the state agricultural college visited our schools Friday afternoon.

Prof. Lecker will take the A. H. S. basket ball team to Northfield Thursday to play Winona and settle the supremacy for the first congressional district. We hope our boys win.

Many of the teachers who live away from Austin plan to spend next week vacation at their respective homes.

It looks good for the fortunate one who made 90 per cent or over in the last quarter's work, escape all exams this week. It surely will be a spur to others of us to be more diligent next term and earn the same relief. Nothing like it.

Why It Failed.

Visitor—"Why did your little paper fail?" Bogville Editor—"Why, Mrs. Chinn, the village gossip, had the news spread through the town before I could set up my type."

Albert Lea Plays Austin High School at Austin Wednesday

Losing by Score of 51 to 29.

The Albert Lea high school basketball team went over to Austin Wednesday evening and played the high school team of that city the same evening. The locals got an awful "beating," the score being 51 to 29.

The Albert Lea boys have nothing to say. They left Albert Lea as fit as a fiddle, fresh from the field of victory over Waseca and were confident of winning from Austin.

They say they did their best to carry back the honors but were simply outclassed at every turn.

To represent this district in the State Tournament, Austin is obliged to play Waseca as well as Albert Lea this week if Waseca is also defeated Austin will play a game with one of the teams in the eastern part of the district, probably Plainville or Winona, will be played on a neutral floor and the team that wins this game will represent this district in the tournament.

Albert Lea is out of the prize winning contest.—Albert Lea Tribune.
