

The Unwelcome Pest

Fly-Time's coming

A few short weeks of uncertain Weather

Then flies by the million.

Why not get those screens ordered and have them in place before the flies arrive with their feet laden with disease? You cannot afford to take the chance to say nothing of the comfort by having them shut out of your home.

The Transcript

AUSTIN, WEDNESDAY, May 6, 1914.

—Mrs. John S. Crandell and three children of Aberdeen, S. D. came last evening to visit Mr. Crandell's mother, Mrs. C. D. Belden.

—A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Will A. Furlong at Assiniboia, April 28.

—A down pour of rain came Sunday afternoon about 3:30 drenching all who were out. Many were caught at the base ball park. There was plenty of warning of the coming storm so that all might have escaped by staying indoors.

—Mrs. Ida Ferris Waterman spoke on Woman's Suffrage in Minnesota Saturday at the suffragist rally at the home of Mrs. Harry Keyser.

—We have received the program of a violin recital given by Miss Ruth M. O'Reilly, pupil of Mt. Joseph Conservatory, Dubuque, Iowa, Tuesday evening, April 28. She was assisted by Miss Agnes V. Reding, soprano of Austin, and Miss Ethel F. McDermott, accompanist.

—Last evening the officers of the Lady Maccabees were installed with appropriate ceremony followed by a banquet.

—See G. D. Detweiler for house moving, house raising and mason work. N. W. phone, 503-J, Austin. 23m

—The Austin Park board held their monthly meeting Monday evening at the city recorder's office. The parks are getting in shape and the tender plants will be put out about May 25.

—St. Augustine's Reading circle met with Mrs. Henry Weber Thursday afternoon. Decker, leader. Subject: Mines of Minnesota. Reading from Stoddard by Mrs. E. H. Smith. Miss Amy Snyder returned Wednesday from Des Moines where she was trimmer in a millinery store.

—A. W. Blum had an operation for appendicitis at St. Olaf hospital Monday.

—State Art exhibit at the armory Saturday, May 23 to Monday, June 1.

—The paving craze has been started already for this year and we hope our city council will sit down hard on all minority petitions. We paved enough last year so that we can hold up entirely for the next year or two. Our city taxes are getting ruinously high. A petition for paving on south Kenwood from Oakland avenue to Padden avenue at Kenwood Park place is before the council now to be acted on May 22 and only about 500 feet of frontage has petitioned favorably for it.

—The Anstin Dairy Co. pays cash for poultry and eggs. Bring them in and get the highest market price. Phone 61. H. P. SMITH Mgr. E. 233 Mill St. 6-6m

WEDDINGS

VANE-TEMPEST—FRENCH.

The wedding of Miss Inez French, younger daughter of Mrs. Lafayette French of this city, to Mr. Arthur W. Vane-Tempest of Jerome, Arizona, will take place this, Wednesday, evening, May 6, 1914, at the Episcopal church at Prescott, Ariz. The bride to be, left Austin Saturday for Prescott. Her wedding dress is white chiffon over white messaline. They will reside at Jerome, Ariz. where the groom is a mining engineer in charge of the Arizona Electric Power company's plant. The bride has been reared in Austin and has a large circle of friends who wish her abounding joy. She completed her education at the Austin high school and took special vocal training later. She is a fine singer. She is a member of the U. T. D. club. The groom is a graduate of Eaton college, England, and also of an English electrical school and is an expert. We wish them a large share of life's choice gifts.

HIGBY—PESHAK.

The wedding of Miss Laura A. Peshak of this city to Mr. Charles P. Higby of Boise, Idaho, took place Thursday evening, April 30, 1914, Rev. J. F. Stout, D. D. officiating. About fifteen relatives were present. The decorations were in pink and white. After the ceremony a bountiful luncheon was served. The wedding gifts were fine. The bride has lived here for the past three years, coming with her folks from Osage. She was west in Idaho on a claim of her own when she became acquainted with Mr. Higby. Mr. and Mrs. Higby will reside at Boise, Idaho. Guests present at the wedding from away were Catherine Peshak of Northwood, Iva Machcock of Albert Lea and Leona Peshak of Marshalltown.

AUSTIN HIGH SCHOOL NOTES.

We wonder if Nels is still as crazy over Baby doll shoes as she always was.

They say that the scenery up the river is perfectly grand. For more information ask D. G.

The seniors were greatly disappointed Tuesday morning when they came to school and found a mummy hung on the wall and dressed in their class colors. Everybody thought it a pretty good joke except Miss P. Guess she sort of sided in with the seniors.

Winnie says that Cutlie is fairly good at dancing but when it comes to paddling a canoe he's—well, he's just got to learn, don't you know?

Harch sure is some pumper. She ought to be on the stage.

Beaver and Stimp sure know how to trip things over on Bunch.

If C. is not at 611 North First, he's generally at 209 West Bridge.

Prof. Wm. Porten was at his post again Friday after an illness of a day or two.

The school annual will be out about May 23. Rich, rare and racy.

Prof. W. L. French was out to Centennial school Monday afternoon and had seven sign up on the acre corn state contest. Every district in the county ought to get busy over this proposition.

The alfalfa demonstrations on the school farm are proving very valuable. The present showing is fine. Seeding of small grains is finished.

The Domestic science class will serve luncheon Friday evening for the Board of Education and their wives in the D. S. building previous to the regular monthly school meeting.

The Webster School Mothers' club has purchased a fine Columbia graphophone for use in the school.

The inner curbing on high school lawn is being pulled out and the lawn leveled and much improved.

The order of exercises for A. H. S. commencement season is practically completed and will be as follows: Friday, May 15, Junior-Senior reception at A. H. S. hall with program. Friday evening, May 22, Class Play, probably at Princess theatre. Sunday evening, May 24, baccalaureate sermon by Dr. J. F. Stout at M. E. church. Union service Monday evening, May 25, Class Day exercises by the seniors in A. H. S. hall. Wednesday evening, May 27, regular graduating exercises at M. E. church. No speaker from away. Thursday evening, May 28, Junior H. S. graduating program at one of the theatres.

The cast of characters for the Class Play "The School Mistress" to be given at Princess theatre Friday evening, May 22 is finally assigned.

The juniors are very proud of their president who has the honor of being the author of a story which was accepted by The Youth's Companion.

Wonder why Bessie is so sleepy in the morning. She says she goes to bed early too.

Winfield would suggest that the teachers get "the spring fever."

Fran says this world is full of "misunderstandings."

Lucile is certainly "True" blue eh?

"It" certainly is lovely—thank you, Nels.

We are wondering if the faculty have run out of substance for entertainment. We have had none for a week.

We are again alone and the extra rows of seats are gone. This is especially appreciated by our "Plump" ones as hitherto they have sided not unblushingly to their seats.

We are indeed afraid "Chappy" will be "pickled" yet.

It is said that practice makes perfect that being the case—the class play cast are on the road to perfection.

Various ones found special attractions in slips on Monday.

Hardy in Osage, from a fair one: "Oh Harry do you know what two bits and five simoleons means? I heard a swell fellow say it and it sounded so romantic?" "Nop!"

What is the specific gravity of two tons of brick—going down?

WELLESLEY HONORS.

The Minneapolis Journal has the following from Wellesley college regarding Miss Florence Crane of Austin, who is a student there:

"We are all very proud of our clever Minnesota girls. At chapel this week a long list of the girls who attained scholarship was read. Scholarships are of two kinds and are awarded to only juniors and seniors who have acquired a very high standard of work. The Durant scholarship is the highest, the Wellesley scholarship is next. Four Minnesota girls were among the honored ones. Florence Crane of Austin, Minn.; Florence Cottrell and Dorothy Roberts of Minneapolis were given Durant scholarship. Linda McLain of Minneapolis was awarded the Wellesley scholarship."

MOWER CO. LADY LEAVES MEXICO.

Miss Dora Gladen, a former Grand Meadow girl, has been in Mexico for the last four years and has been employed in the missionary schools conducted in the city of Mexico and in some of the provincial cities. Miss Gladen went to school at Grand Meadow and taught in our schools for several years. She moved with her family to Grand Forks and afterwards went to Mexico to take up work there.

The Minneapolis Journal says: "Miss Dora Gladen, former secretary of the Y. W. C. A., has escaped from the interior of Mexico and is aboard one of the rescue ships in the harbor of Vera Cruz, according to messages received here. Miss Gladen has been in Mexico four years, most of the time being spent in the capital city. She was there when the revolution against Madero was at its height, and when Huerta seized the government. At the time of the recent outbreak, Miss Gladen was at a small town in the interior, but she was one of the first to escape getting out before the extent of the American operations had become generally known to the Mexican populace."

STATE ART EXHIBIT AT AUSTIN.

Director Maurice I. Flagg of the State Art Commission says, "that when the exhibit is assembled and hung in the armory at Austin it will be the equal of any fine art exhibition to be found west of New York city." There will be art objects ranging from pictures of the most beautiful kind to the various handicrafts being carried on by hundreds of women in the home. There will be an opportunity for all the people in Austin and the surrounding country to see this exhibit under expert guidance. The committees who have the exhibit in hand are planning to have lectures, talks and demonstrations concerning various phases of the exhibit and there will be no reason why any person in Austin cannot become thoroughly familiar and informed as to the true merit and value of art objects. The exhibit will be at the armory in Austin May 23 to June 1.

Y. W. C. A. NOTES.

Twenty-five attended vespers Sunday in spite of the heavy rain coming at four o'clock. The program was carried out as planned. The various phases of Young Women's Christian association work was given by different ones as follows:

- Ethel Wald—Religion.
- Alice Corneveaux—Education.
- Beulah Lohmen—Occupation.
- Ethel Page—Shelter.
- Grace Glover—Protection.

Items were read from the association monthly by Marjory Dornberg, Ethel Tryzink and Louise Johnson. A duett was sung by Irene Craig and Ruth Craig and Mary Crisman whistled a solo. The hostesses Isabel Avery, Madge Murphy and Joy Mahack assisted by Miss Marie Page served cocoa and cakes during the social hour.

Mrs. W. H. Albertson and Miss Florence Britton went to Brownsdale Monday evening, to meet with the "First Aid" Class. The examination comes May 22. The women are putting in some hard study getting ready for it. An extra class session will be held Friday of this week.

Tickets for the Annual Banquet are now on sale, 35c for all except Camp Fire Girls, their tickets are 25c.

This is the one opportunity of the year for the public to learn of the real work that's being done, for that reason men as well as women are urged to be present. It isn't just the supper we wish to have you partake of but plan to stay for the program, which will be well worth your time. Buy your tickets early that the women who serve may know how many to prepare for. Details of program to be announced later.
