STRAND CHURCH CASES SETTLED.

After a severe arraignment of both sides to the controversy by Judge Quinn in district court at Albert Lea Friday, the Hartland Lutheran church factions settled the final dispute by arbitration, ending more than two years of litigation.

The factions, who had not mingled for years, were thrown together, and bitterness was erased, some shaking hands and expressing the hope that they will be reunited soon.

The trouble began when H. J. Strand was ousted as pastor of the Central, North and South church, and his brother, T. J. Strand, was ousted as pastor of the Manchester church. The latter retains the pastorate of the Hartland church. Fifteen separate court actions were begun.

In the settlement of Friday it was agreed the T. J. Strand faction will retain the Hartland church and lot; the anti-Strand faction retains the parsonage; both factions will own the church cemetery; the Strand faction will retain the name of the church and the anti-Strand will withdraw from membership; the anti-Strand agree to dismiss all other pending suits.

Judge Quinn, in his arraignment, said the quarrels had done much to injure religion, and that if all involved should die they would be better off than to continue the fight.

MARRIAGES

JONES-ELLERMAN.
Harold A. Jones and Miss Ethel M. Ellerman were married Tuesday afternoon at 5 o'clock by Rev. W. L. Riley at his home. The bride is a nurse and has been in Austin the past year. The groom is an employee at King's restaurant and the young couple will reside in this city.

ANNUAL MEETING.
The annual-congregational meeting of the Central Presbyterian Church was held Thursday evening, March 4. Supper was served in the dining room by the Ladies' Aid. Through the kindness of the Kinsman Greenhouse the tables were decorated with red and white carnations. After supper the business meeting was held and all departments of the church gave reports. During the year 26 have been received on confession of faith, 11 by letter, 19 have been baptized including children. On account of his very efficient service the trustees increased the pastor's salary, a much deserved compliment.

SENIOR PROGRAM.

The third of the Senior programs of the Austin High School was given Wednesday evening. The attendance was larger than at previous programs.

The High School orchestra played for the first time for an out of school attraction. The music was excellent. Two original discussions were given one on "Water Power" by Arthur Anderson and one on "Aeroplanes and Airships" by George Hessler. Recitations were given by Cecil Boyington, Agnes Holleque; Martha Mork, Lottie Cafourek, Beulah Lohman, Marguerite Boody and Ruth Kearns. The debate, Resolved that the literacy test for admission of foreigners into United States is unjust, was decided in favor of the negative vote of two to one by the judges, Rev. Ten Brock, J. N. Nicholson and Otto Baudler. Dow Biswell, Vernon Fairbanks and Lewis Renwick upheld the affirmative. Sidney Helebrant, Harold Robinson and Leroy Martin the negative.

SCHOOL ENTERTAINMENT.

Three hundred and fifty of our public school children will take part in the matinee and evening entertainment at the High school assembly hall on Saturday. The admission will be 10 cents for children and 25 cents for adults. The proceeds of the entertainments will go toward paying for the phonographs for the ward buildings. The Mothers' clubs of each building have given $25 and entertainments given by the children at times will create a fund to pay the balances. The Whittier school is at present working to pay for their fine new piano.

The entertainment to be given Saturday afternoon and evening is an especially good one. We are all interested in the children of our city schools and any good cause is worthy of support. We publish the program in another column.

Receives Appointment as Postmaster.

Fred Roble, who has lived in Dakota for the past fourteen years and has been editor of the Deering (N. D.) Enterprise for seven years has received an appointment as postmaster.

Towner News-Tribune: Word has been received here of the appointment of Fred Roble as postmaster at Deering. Editor Roble is well qualified for the position and will give the patrons of the office good service.

ART AND TRAVEL CLUB.

The Art and Travel Club met Tuesday afternoon with Mrs. F. O. Hall. There were eighteen members present. The vice president, Mrs. O. L. Dornberg presided. Papers were read by Mrs. R. O. Hall on the ancient city of Carthage. Mrs. S. V. R. Hendry read Mrs. G. M. F. Rogers' paper on "The French in Tunis." Mrs. F. G. Sasse read several selections from "Freckles and Tan." Roll call was responded to by thoughts suggested by the papers as read.

An appeal to aid the Belgians, from the state president of women's clubs, was read, but no action was taken.

Costly Cottage.

"Could you be satisfied with love in a cottage, dearest?" sighed the poor young man. "Certainly I could," responded the girl, who really loved him. "But there must be a breakfast room, a music room, parquetry flooring, and a big marble fireplace in the front hall."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

Final Spelling Contest.

The final spelling contest of Lyle township will be held at Lyle Centre school house, Monday evening, March 15, 1915 at 7 o'clock. Mrs. Rice, county superintendent, will pronounce the words. Following the contest, a program will be given and a basket social held. Ladies, please all bring baskets. A cordial invitation is extended to all. Remember the date, March 15, 1915, at Lyle Centre school house.

J. L. MITCHELL PRESIDENT.

At the annual meeting of the Austin National Bank held Thursday, J. L. Mitchell, was elected president to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Charles H. Davidson, Jr. Mr. Mitchell has completed over twenty-five years of active service with this institution. P. D. Beaulieu was re-elected cashier and F. C. Wilbour was re-elected assistant cashier.

BAPTIST MISSION CIRCLE.

The Baptist Mission Circle met Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Clyde Bemis. There was a good attendance. Mrs. Fuller Mann was the leader. Two splendid papers were read, one by Mrs. J. B. Boulton and another by Mrs. Joshua Miller. Mrs. H. E. Wheeler read a paper on "The King's Business." A piano solo was rendered by Ella Bemis.

NO SUNDAY MOVIES.

The ordinance to permit Sunday shows which had passed two readings, was voted down at the City Council meeting held Friday. Roll call showed four against and three in favor of the shows being held on Sunday.

Care of Hairbrush.
Where possible it is very much better to have the hair brushed by a second person, more especially where it is long and heavy. A woman can hardly carry her arm from the scalp to the full length of the hair, and it snarls and tangles until more is pulled out than is right.

There is also a great difference in the sort of brush used. One with bristles that are too stiff will scratch the scalp, often make it very sore and so cause loosening of the hair; one with bristles that are too soft will not be of much use in reaching the skin and stimulating the growth of new hair. A brush that is not perfectly clean will cause dandruff, an oily condition and effectually prevent a healthy growth. So, much attention should be paid to not only the quality, but the cleanliness as well as to the proper setting of the bristles of the brush used daily.

There is a splendid English brush with black bristles that seems to be almost perfect. The effect is to bring about a healthy glow on the scalp, while the hair is left soft and shining after a thorough brushing. Rather high priced, a good brush of this sort will cost over $2, but lasts for years if washed properly, so the cost may be considered worth paying.

The washing of hair brushes is very simple, yet a certain course must be followed: Tepid water with a good soap, the bristles well rubbed with another brush, a comb passed through and through so the bottom of the rows may be touched; two lathers, rinsing in warm water, then in cold, and a rubbing lightly with a towel that does not leave lint. These are simple rules.

The drying should be done by laying the brushes bristles down in a dry, warm place, but not on a radiator or in a hot sun. The heat of either will loosen the bristles. Where very dusty, as after the hair has been filled with dust from a trip or high winds, a teaspoonful of ammonia may be added to the soapy water. This effectually cuts out the greasy dust.

Reason will show that by laying the brushes down on the bristles the water will run out, whereas if placed on the back it will soak into the wood and in time loosen every bristle.

A little sifted cornmeal dusted into brushes and then brushed out often takes away the daily accumulation of dirt where a hairbrush is used constantly, thus saving too many washings. The very particular woman will be utterly confounded to note the appearance of a cloth used to wipe her hairbrush while she is going through her daily application. Where the dirt comes from is a question that can never be answered, but she will be convinced that the most particular care is needed every day if she wishes her hair to be free from dirt and her toilet appointments as fastidiously neat as she thinks they should be.

Bright Eyes.
Keeping the eyes bright is by no means a difficult matter. Every woman knows the value of bright, sparkling eyes as an asset to beauty. First avoid all eye strain. One of the greatest mistakes many women make is that of putting off the wearing of glasses long after they are needed. If you need glasses use them. There is no need to wear them constantly. Keep them for work.

Don't wake in a bright light or sleep facing the window. Have your bedroom window open, but the room dark.

Every morning and night wash out your eyes with a weak solution of boric acid, mixed one teaspoonful of boric powder into six ounces of hot water and allowed to get cool. Apply this with an eye cup, and after one week's use the benefit will be felt and seen.

Beauty Hints.
Nothing restores a tired body and brain more completely than a refreshing bath and a change into fresh, clean clothing.

Get into the habit of keeping several changes of shoes and change your shoes every night when you come home. It is a great rest to tired feet.

Cold water is a splendid preventive of wrinkles, making the skin firm and smooth. The face should be washed in cold water every morning.

If those who perspire freely would use a little ammonia in the water they bathe in every day it would keep the flesh clean and sweet, doing away with any disagreeable odor.

About Wearing Veils.
A good cream applied to the face, carefully wiped off and followed with a good face powder is better than a veil over cold days. The veil becomes moist from the breath. This causes the skin to chap and roughen, and it takes several days to get the skin back to a normal condition. Repeated chapping will make the skin coarse and flord.

Massage Cream.
A massage cream may be made as follows: Take three ounces of oil of sweet almonds, an ounce of lanolin, two drams of cucumber juice, two drams of white wax, two drams of spermaceti, thirty drops of tincture of benzoin and ten drops of essential oils. Combine these and place in a glass jar.
