

The Worthington Advance.

VOLUME V.

WORTHINGTON, NOBLES COUNTY, MINNESOTA, THURSDAY, MAY 31, 1877.

NUMBER 39.

SUMMARY OF THE GENERAL NEWS.

Crazy-Horse Surrender.
The Indian chief Crazy-Horse, and his band of 600 warriors formerly surrendered to Gen. Crook, at Camp Robinson, on the 25th. All the principal men having assembled inside the agency stockade, an interval of silence ensued while the Indians arranged the order of precedence in speaking, and the counsel was then opened by Crazy-Horse, who is notably a man of few words. Seating himself on the ground in front of the General, he spoke in a low voice as follows: "You sent tobacco to my camp to invite me to come in. When the tobacco reached me I started, and kept on moving until I reached here. Ever since my arrival here my heart has been toward the fort and my eyes have been turned toward the white man's tent. In coming to this way I picked out the place where I wish to live hereafter, and I put a stake in the ground to mark the spot. There is plenty of game in that country. All these relatives of mine that are here approve my choice of place, and I would like them all to go back there with me and stay there together."

A Fine Launch.
On the morning of the 22nd, the Saratoga, a large iron steamship which was to be launched at Roach's shipyard Chester, Pa. started from its blockading moorings as expected. The launch, a wall of anguish went up and shrieks of pain rent the air. As soon as possible the dead and wounded were carried to the yard office and physicians summoned. About 1,000 men are employed at the yard, and the friends of nearly all of them rushed to enquire for them. It was found after investigation that seven were killed outright and many others injured.

Organizing a New Party.
According to previous arrangement a secret meeting was held in Washington on the 24th for the purpose of organizing a national party. About 150 persons from different States were present. Those from the North expressed themselves strongly against the course of the President and his cabinet, alleging that they retained in office men who are opposed to the principles of the Republican party, to the exclusion of its tried and true adherents. The representatives from the South declared that the President had discarded the friends in the States which elected him, and given the office to the enemies of the party. Resolutions were adopted, and the meeting was organized into a national joint body. Permanent officers were elected, with power to institute branches throughout the country, with headquarters at Washington.

Association in Louisiana.
The New Orleans Republican gives the following account of the assassination of James Law, colored, of East Feliciana: Mr. Dale, of East Feliciana, has reached New Orleans, and brought with him the coffin that was placed at his door Saturday and a bunch of Winchester rifle cartridges which were placed with it. He also relates that the crowd of bull-dozers, after threatening him, went on with the information that they would return soon and put their threats into execution. They proceeded to Jackson and rode up to the house of John Law, colored, and found him seated on his gallery with his mother. They said, "Hallo, Law, have you got back?" He rose and answered them, and was instantly shot dead. This was on Saturday night.

Mississippi Cannot Protect Her Citizens.
Gov. Stone, of Mississippi, in relation to the Kemper county massacre, states that he has done all in his power to protect the guilty men to trial by requesting Judge Hamon, the Circuit Judge, to call an extra session of his court for that purpose, and that under the laws of the State the executive has no power to do in the matter. He had gone to DeKalb as soon as he had heard of the riot, but when he arrived the rioters had dispersed, and nothing was left except to go to the scene and see Judge Hamon and ask the judicial officers to take steps to bring them to trial. The Governor thought it exceedingly doubtful if any jury in Kemper county would convict the rioters, all of whom were well known, and resided there.

The Architect to Blame.
The coroner's jury at Rockford Ill., after 13 days' work, rendered a verdict in the court house case which is fully sustained by public opinion there. They find that Henry L. Gay, the architect, through neglect to provide for the great amount of weight called for to complete the building according to his plans, is guilty of the death of the deceased; that the Board of supervisors failed to use necessary caution in examining the plans and specifications, and acted unwisely in not employing a competent architect to superintend the construction.

An Insane Frank.
As an engine belonging to the Philadelphia, Wilmington and Baltimore road was passing on the track on Washington avenue Philadelphia, during the absence of the engineer and fireman, an unknown man jumped on the engine, and started it at full speed towards the river. The front two freight cars which were attached to the engine struck the bumper at Washington street wharf with such force that the engine was thrown from the track and the cars ran into the river. The stranger, who was evidently insane, was pitched into the water by the shock and drowned.

Bank Officers Punished.
In the United States Court at Hartford, Conn. Judge Shtiman pronounced sentence on James L. Chapman, Cashier, and John C. Tracy, President of the Farmers and Mechanics' National Bank, who had pleaded guilty to deceiving the Comptroller of the Currency, and to perjury and embezzlement, by which the bank lost $250,000. Tracy was sentenced to the Hartford State Prison for six years and six months at hard labor, and Chapman to the Connecticut State Prison, at hard labor, for five years, and a nominal fine of one dollar.

Not a Knows to this Day.
The Brooklyn Eagle, "what a time Noah had it in the ark with the antediluvian ancestor of the present Kentucky mule." You don't suppose that the captain of the ark with a gorgeous cabin at his command traveled during those forty days on the boiler deck with a jakesack, do you?

C. R. Pile, last week, tied a rope around his neck, tied him to a mule and dragged him away to the woods. Nothing further is known except that his dead body was found hanging to a tree with several bullet holes in it, and the clothing burned off. At last accounts the body was still hanging.

Civil Service Reform.
EXECUTIVE MANSION, May 26.—My DEAR SIR: I have read the partial report of the commission appointed to examine the New York custom house. I concur with the commission in their recommendations. It is my wish that the collection of revenues should be free from partisan control and organized strictly on a business basis, with the same guarantees for efficiency and fidelity in the selection of chief and subordinate officers that are required by a prudent merchant. Party leaders should have no more influence in appointments than other equally respectable citizens. No assessments for political purposes on officers or subordinates should be allowed. No useless officer or employe should be retained. No officer should be required or permitted to take part in the management of political organizations, caucuses, conventions or election campaigns. Their right to vote, or to express their views on public questions, either orally or through the press, is not denied, provided it does not interfere with the discharge of their official duties. Respectfully,
(Signed) R. B. HAYES.
To Hon. John Sherman.

Another Battle with Indians.
Gen. Miles, with Companies F, H, L and G, of the 2d Cavalry, and 25 mounted men of the Fifth Infantry, attacked an Indian village on Little Muddy Creek, ninety miles from the mouth of Tongue River, surprising and routing them, and pursuing the redskins five miles over a rough country on foot. Fourteen dead Indians were counted upon the field. Four hundred and fifty ponies and horses and 54 lodges, with their entire contents were taken. The cavalry found many new agency goods, saddles, guns, officers' clothing, etc., taken from the Seventh Cavalry in the Custer fight. The band were Minneojocs, led by Lame Deer. Four privates were killed outright and eight wounded. Gen. Miles had a narrow escape from being shot by two Indians who, under cover of friendly greeting, came near shooting him just before the engagement.

Ex-President Grant in England.
Ex-President Grant arrived at Liverpool on the steamer Indiana, on the 28th. Adam Badeau, United States Consul General at London, and Vice Consul at Liverpool in Consul Fairchild's absence, with several prominent Americans, went on a tender to meet the ship. The Mayor of Liverpool, with a number of prominent citizens, received Gen. Grant at the landing stage on the return of the tender. Hearty cheers followed the tender as Grant and family left the steamer. Many members of the Common Council and a large crowd of citizens received the tender with cheers. The Mayor warmly welcomed the ex-President and extended the hospitalities of the town. Gen. Grant returned thanks, and accepted the invitation.

The Northwestern Railroad.
The forthcoming annual report of the Chicago & Northwestern railroad company for the year 1876, showing that gross earnings were $12,467,242; operating expenses $6,475,812; taxes $294,000; other expenses including interest, rental, sinking fund, United States revenue claim and capital stock, making a total of $5,509,008, and making net earnings for the stock $2,170,945. Percentage of operating expenses to earnings 51.2; against 50.7; of the preceding year.

Another Account of the Laws Murder.
The New Orleans Picayune learns from a resident of East Feliciana that Laws' mother testified before the Coroner's jury that the assassin rests on a friend or paramour of Laws' wife. A suit for divorce of Laws from his wife has been pending for several weeks, on the ground of adultery, and letters from the wife acknowledging her guilt having fallen into the hands of her husband, it is supposed she instigated the murder.

Bound to Have Some Hot Springs.
The President has issued an order preserving the Pagosa Hot Springs and one section of land surrounding them, in Colorado, as permanent public property. These springs are considered valuable for medicinal purposes, and this action is taken with a view to preventing future difficulties concerning them, such have caused trouble in the case of the Arkansas Hot Springs.

Reducing Salaries.
The board of directors of the Penn. R. Co. have decided to make a reduction of ten per cent. in the salaries of all employes, beginning at the President and continuing downward through all grades of the various departments. An exception is made in the case of laborers and trackmen, who now receive less than $1 per day.

Insurance Company's Returns.
The Residence Fire Insurance Company organized in 1873 by the leading business men of Cleveland, Ohio, with a cash capital of $300,000, has decided to retire from business, and on the 19th inst. sold all the outstanding risks composed entirely of dwellings, in the Scottish Commercial Insurance company, of Glasgow Scotland.

The United States at the Paris Exposition.
The Secretary of State, by direction of the President, has now under consideration what measures shall be recommended in the Cabinet to form the basis of a plan of representation of the United States government and people at the Paris Exposition in 1878. It is expected that $300,000 will be necessary to make a creditable display.

An Appointment Declined.
On Monday last Secretary Sherman tendered the appointment of Solicitor of the Treasury to ex-Gov. Chamberlain at the instance of the President, who also urged its acceptance. The Governor declined, however, on account of professional engagements regarded more advantageously professionally and pecuniarily.
