

DUNNELL'S ANSWER.

Hon. M. H. Dunnell has replied to the proposition for a new convention and declines to accept it. He concludes his letter as follows: "I might as fairly nominated, my dissonor would be achieved if I should yield to the demands of more prominent enemies, or submit to any proposition which the Wasca convention assigned me. I appeal, therefore, from the few to the many. To the forum of the people I will go. Their love of fair play I have tested in the past, and will do so again. They, and they alone, shall pass upon my party rights and my conduct. Their verdict in November will be my triumph and that of my friends. It will be their triumph."

This is just as we expected and predicted from the first. We had no ground in these propositions and our counter-propositions, rejoinders and surrejoinders, and in submitting the matter directly to the people. This is as it should be. When politicians cannot untie the knots which they have tied, let them cut them with the sword of the ballot.

The National Liberal League, whatever that may be is to hold a convention in Chicago next month for the purpose of nominating a Presidential ticket. Wonder when the soap-bubbles will come to the front with a national ticket—St. Paul Globe.

Here is a daily newspaper, speaking for some of the great political parties of the State, which does not know what the Liberal League is. And we question whether there are a half dozen editors of daily papers in the country who have any intelligent notion of the purposes or the extent of the League, so blinded are men by their partisan interests.

There are about two hundred Liberal Leagues in the United States. Their principal objects are to secure the complete separation of church and State; the secularization of the public schools; the taxation of church property; the involubility of the mails and the repeal of the infamous Comstock law; and, in short, to establish in the United States free thought, free speech and a free press. To say that we enjoy this freedom now is a lie of the Republicans and the churches. The Liberal League proposes to do battle until this liberty exists in fact as well as in theory.

At present, the Liberals are divided. Some, like Col. Ingersoll, are pronounced Republicans, while others, like D. M. Bennett, who was the victim of the "blood-hound" Comstock, are actively at work for the Democratic ticket.

Whichever party can satisfy the Liberals that its policy is best calculated to secure full political, civil and religious liberty, will secure the bulk of the Liberal League vote.

A THIRD PARTY. The New York Evening Post intimates that leading politicians, both Republican and Democratic, are well aware that a new party is forming beneath the ribs of both the old organizations—a party that will divide the bulk of the Liberal League vote.

It is some gain at least to have the bare fact recognized by such papers as the N. Y. Post and the St. Paul Pioneer Press, and to know that the third party now organized under the name of the Greenback Labor Reform party is not regularly allied to as a party of "idiots." Two years ago the ADVANCE proclaimed the need of a third party and saw in the then National party the nucleus around which, it hoped, the true men or both the old parties, South as well as North, would rally, and thus heal over the old sores of the war and stop the everlasting feud between the old parties. For it seemed then and still seems, that the bulk of the Southern people will never submit to be ruled by the old Republican party, nor will the bulk of the Northern people ever be content to bring into power the old Democratic party. Our hope, therefore, was that a third party would arise in time to elect its President in 1880, as we frequently said in the ADVANCE of several years ago. But we see little hope of the success of the third party in the present campaign, though there is a bare possibility that Gen. Weaver's hope of throwing the election into the House may be realized in that it might fall to his lot to be the next President. However, the disintegration spoken of by the Post will certainly go on at a rapid rate after the election, if it does not before, and the third party, based upon the needs of the people at large, as distinguished from the aristocratic classes and their aristocratic needs, will be the party of the future.

From a general reading and posting upon political matters we are pretty well satisfied of the following facts: 1. That tens of thousands of Republican voters are sick of the Republican party and are afraid to trust the old Democratic party. 2. That they fear the old Democratic party, backed by a "solid South," a great many prefer it to the Republican party with which they have heretofore voted.

3. That the Greenback Labor Reform party does not quite meet their wishes although they see that it is tending in the right direction and is as pure and as bold in demanding reform as was the Republican party during its early years.

4. That the Republican party, by a settled policy, is now and has long been, the party of the capitalist, the monopolist, the speculator, the social and political aristocrat, the church or religious bigot, and the enemy of free thought and free speech except in the direction of its politic or religious policy.

MIRACULOUS CURES.

A Worthington Lady visits Paul Caster's Institute—Her Remarkable Experience—Wonderful Cures—'Mighty Good Devil.' Among the personal items in our last issue we announced that Mrs. Soule, wife of Postmaster M. B. Soule, had returned from an extended visit to the health institutions very much improved in health. Learning that Mrs. Soule had visited the famous institution of Paul Caster, at Ottumwa, Iowa, concerning whose miraculous cures we have heard so much, we interviewed Mrs. S. on the subject and received the consent of both herself and husband to publish the facts which we give below, the comments being of course our own: Mrs. Soule had been afflicted for some months with a complication of diseases mainly of a nature peculiar to her sex. She had been under the treatment of St. Paul and Worthington physicians of the "regular" drug school, but found herself steadily declining. She finally determined to place her case in the hands of a Chicago physician, but, as she had heard much of the wonderful cures of Dr. Caster, concluded that she would stop at his Institute on the way and interview him. Mrs. S. confesses that she had the ordinary prejudice against "spirit doctors," which exists in "society" and which we long since discovered was due to the bigotry of the churches and the "regular" doctors and to the persistent ignorance and "respectability" of their followers.

Accordingly, Mrs. S. started at Ottumwa and interviewed the famous Doctor. She found him ignorant as to even ordinary branches of education but mighty and wise as to the work in hand. He has amassed a fortune from his practice and has about his institute wagon loads of crutches, etc., left by the cripples and diseased people whom he has healed and sent out "leaping and shouting and praising God," as the scriptures express it.

As to the modes operandi of effecting the cures, Dr. Caster knows nothing. He simply knows that he is a "healing medium," or has the "gift of healing" and that his cures are wrought by a band of spirits, or "Angels," as he calls them, who impress him as to what he is to do, and often communicate with him intelligently, by superior methods. In short, Dr. Caster is one of those dreadful "Spiritualists" who are revolutionizing the learning and the religion of the world, undermining the churches and "respectable" society and who, if we are to believe the frightened clergy, will destroy the race, hand us all over to the "Devil" and leave this planet a howling wilderness, if they are allowed to go on.

But to the cures of the dreadful Doctor. Mrs. S. had been afflicted with a throat disease which manifested itself in a constant cough which no "regular" remedies could reach. At the first interview, the old Doctor patted her throat a few times and made a few of his wizzards pass over it, when the cough of the lady had not to the day returned. We suppose the Doctor has in his "hone year" as he calls the place where he keeps the cast of crutches of his patients.

The second interview was still more wonderful in its results. This was in the evening and in the parlor in the presence of a number of ladies and gentlemen. Mrs. Soule was in great pain, as she had been constantly for months, the pain extending up and down over one side of the body. Dr. Caster was some distance from her, across the parlor, when the lady who sat next to her said: "Doctor, can you relieve the lady next to me of her pain?" The Doctor raised his hands, and said: "Will the Good Angels relieve the lady of her pain?" Instantly Mrs. Soule felt something manipulating her side, while internally there was a fluttering among the tissues and a sense of something being separated and torn away. The pain went with it, whatever it was, and she was instantly relieved.

These two interviews induced Mrs. S. to remain under the doctor's care, and she is now at home with a new lease of life, virtually cured of an affliction which the drug doctors could not reach and which they doubtless still aggravate by their drugs and their ignorance.

We have not space even to allude to all the wonderful cures effected through the "works of the devil" who is doing a beneficent and blessed race. The Dr. no doubt makes the same appeal that Christ made, viz: "believe me for the work's sake," but the "respectable" ignoramus of a modern Pharisee makes the same reply that his ancient progenitor made, viz: "he does it through Beelzebub." However, we learn that the Doctor is inclined to be amused at this "Devil" theory and merely replies, "mighty good Devil!"

One or two remarkable cures and we must close: A lady of Ottumwa, the wife of a resident physician, had her hip out of joint and the "regular" doctors not "set" it. She had been in this condition for several years. Her husband finally took her to Caster to get relief from some other difficulty, and said "of course, we do not expect you can do anything for the hip." The dreadful old Doctor received the lady of the minor difficulty and then said, "Let's see about this hip." He then passed his hand over the hip, when the hip bone went back into the socket with a snap like a pistol. The lady's husband threw up his hat and began to cheer for joy. This attracted a crowd on the outside. Dr. Caster then said, "Now, take your crutch on your shoulder and march up down and back." The lady did so, the crowd outside cheering as she passed through.

A resident carpenter of Ottumwa cut his leg with an adze. This resulted in a sore which became so malignant that the "regulars" decided to amputate the limb. The carpenter, the day before the one set for the amputation, called on Caster. The Doctor touched the man's leg in a number of places with the end of his index finger and wherever he touched it a sore broke out instantly. He then passed his hand over the original sore which healed at once and in fifteen minutes was cured of healthy skin. The man went out with a girl, who had been struck by lightning, was paralyzed, and was left so filled with electricity that her friends could not touch her without the use of insulating gloves. She was brought to Caster, when a few passes drew away the surplus "lightning" and the girl got up and walked.

These are only a few cases which we publish for the benefit of "science." We are not paid for this mention of Caster's Institute. Send for circulars and then go and see for yourself, if you want to. We charge you nothing for this information, but remember that those who "do not believe shall be—"

COUNTY NEWS.

LISMORE. At the recent election, the first held in our new town of Lismore, the following officers were elected: Supervisors—Thos. McLean, Chairman; Geo. O. Beirns, Martin Boyle, Justice—Thos. O. White, Hugh McGee, Constables—Wm. Welch, Michael Brown, Assessor—Rufus Lynch, Treasurer—Geo. Legros, Clerk—Dennis Murphy.

SEWARD. Harvest is still in progress. Most of the grain is cut but only a small portion stacked. Work is stopped for the present on account of rain. A large part of the grain is unbound and lying on the ground and if the rain should continue long will be spoiled. Flax is rusting. We hear that some pieces will not be cut on this account. We think we could be well threshed from the number of new machines coming into this section.

WILLMONT. Who ever saw better harvest weather. Farmers in this part of the world are all through their harvest except flax. Stacking is now in full blast. We did not hear of any serious accident happening in this section through harvest.

Tom Hefty, son of Dav. Hefty came up from Stillwater last week to help his father harvest. When Moses fasted 40 days he saw the Lord; Christ the devil, and Tanner is yet to be heard from. Perhaps melons.

How can a man expect that our friend Jake in this hot weather should not be quick tempered, but I hope if cold weather sets in, he will cool down.

LEOTA. Harvesting is about done in this place. The prospect for a good yield of wheat is good. Oats are not as promising being struck by the rust before they were completely filled.

School in Dist. No. 63 closed on the 6th. Although in some of the soreheads find fault as usual, the best judges pronounce it to have been a complete success.

Jesse Lambert will soon return to his place in this town. Welcome back, Jesse.

James Hackett has the lumber on the ground for a new house.

Widow Keys has traded her short horn cattle for a span of mules, and also bought a maw with which she is doing some first class work among her neighbors.

Our veteran pioneer, I. L. Bellows, will take the premium this fall on onions, having about one fourth of an acre and looking fine.

Snipe shooting is the order of the day at present. It will do to call them prairie chickens soon.

DUNDEE. The showers of Saturday night and Sunday did no material injury to crops. Wheat and oats in immediate vicinity are all stacked. Farmers are reporting a better yield of wheat than they anticipated.

J. R. Egan arrived from Delavan, Wis., last Wednesday night to look over his land and interests in this vicinity. Mr. E. is connected with "old John Robinson's Menagerie" and will take the morning train for Chattanooga, Tenn., to intercept the show at that place. "He's a gentleman every inch of him," and will stake a lot of money in this county another year.

F. H. Moon Esq., has gone to Missions. Mrs. Moon, No. 1 has recently obtained a divorce, while Mrs. Moon, No. 2 will join her husband in the land of "Missery" shortly.

J. Clark put his horses in the barn Saturday noon and gave them a big feed of new oats. Saturday night he planted one horse and a big feed of oats in the same spot of ground and thinks he won't have to stand around with a lot of coal tar to keep the grasshoppers off when they come up.

SOUNDER. AIRLIE. Mrs. Pixley is visiting friends in LaCrosse.

Mr. Doll is building a store. For the benefit of some, I will state that Airle and DeForest are one and the same. The former is the P. O. name, and the latter the R. R. name. The elevator will be in charge of parties from LaCrosse. A depot will be built this fall. Train from east arrives at 8:47 p. m. From west 4:02 a. m. Distance from Worthington 10 miles.

RUSHMORE. Robert Seney and lady, brother of A. G. Seney, spent a few days at Rushmore last week. Mr. Seney intends to invest some capital in stock at this place.

Mrs. and Miss Banta, of N. Y. City, are visiting W. A. Turner.

A. F. Horst will buy flax this season. Highest price paid.

Two of Mr. Allen's children ate some bread containing arsenic (for mice) last Saturday. One of them was very sick but both have recovered.

We heard the other day of some lads that were playing on the house top, one of them while exploring the hidden mysteries of the chimney lost his balance and went head foremost down the chimney and made his exit through the pipe hole—what next?

A. G. Seney has gone to Minneapolis. 'Tis rumored that Dr. Wemple and mother think of locating in our village. Mr. Horst's little daughter Mabel has been quite ill but is now convalescing.

ADRIAN. Harvest about over and some are threshing.

Mr. Grace came up from St. Paul last week to help his folks thresh.

Geo. H. Carr has had his store painted, grained and calmsided.

Another elevator is going up in Adrian we learn.

A new stock of bureaus and washstands at the furniture store.

There is a good deal of sickness among children. Mr. Latz has purchased a horse and lot of Rev. P. E. Knapp's "Desecrated Prayers" at the furniture store. Come and see them and laugh yourself fat. Mrs. Baltiff is quite sick we learn. R. Jones is finishing up his store inside.

WESTSIDE.

Farmers doing cutting wheat, though some that is very heavy is left. They are now stacking the loose grain. There is a good deal of flax yet standing. It won't hurt as there are weeds enough to hold it up till snow flies. Now say that weeds ain't worth something to the farmer when he is in a great hurry.

Mr. Grace is the owner of section 16 in this town. He has about 250 acres of wheat and 60 of corn. The best in the town and harvested in good time. If there is any wheat that will yield 25 bushels to the acre this is the piece. It was cleared from weeds. Mr. Grace is the best grainer in the west. It is 60 feet long and 40 wide. And the best farm house in all this country. They are now stacking their wheat and stacking at the same time. He has no more to get hands. He sends to St. Paul as he wants them.

The Rock county farm finished cutting Tuesday. They had 100 acres near the Drake station Saturday morning. They put 12 binders in the field and at 4 o'clock it was all in the shock. That is business. Their wheat is going to R. S.

Kendall's Spavin Cure. The Most Successful Ever Theoretically as well as in its effects and most reliable. Proof follows: From Rev. P. M. Granger, Presiding Elder of the St. Albans District.

St. Albans, Vt., Jan. 20, 1899. Dr. J. B. Kendall & Co., Gents: In reply to your letter I will say that my experience with Kendall's Spavin Cure has been very satisfactory indeed. Three or four years ago I purchased a bottle of your ointment, and with it cured a horse of a very bad spavin. Last season my team of four horses was afflicted with the same disease. I have used your ointment on four horses and in each case it has cured them. I have owned the horse since that time. It is now four months to the day that I have used your ointment on the horse and it is entirely well. I have used no other medicine. It is a new thing here, but it does do it. It is the best I have ever used. I will be very glad to see you.

CHAS. E. PARKER. KENDALL'S SPAVIN CURE. Office: St. Marshall, Western Dist. of Mich., 121 1/2 Michigan Ave., Detroit, Mich. B. J. Kendall & Co., Gents: In reply to your letter I will say that my experience with Kendall's Spavin Cure has been very satisfactory indeed. Three or four years ago I purchased a bottle of your ointment, and with it cured a horse of a very bad spavin. Last season my team of four horses was afflicted with the same disease. I have used your ointment on four horses and in each case it has cured them. I have owned the horse since that time. It is now four months to the day that I have used your ointment on the horse and it is entirely well. I have used no other medicine. It is a new thing here, but it does do it. It is the best I have ever used. I will be very glad to see you.

JOHN PARKER. STAMENING MADE UNDER THE WAGON COVER. TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN.—I have treated a 10th Kendall's Spavin Cure, a horse spavin of a large size, and completely cured it. I have used your ointment on four horses and in each case it has cured them. I have owned the horse since that time. It is now four months to the day that I have used your ointment on the horse and it is entirely well. I have used no other medicine. It is a new thing here, but it does do it. It is the best I have ever used. I will be very glad to see you.
