Thanks all the same.

Elsewhere may be found the articles of incorporation of the Swedish Mercantile Company. The general business of the corporation will be the buying and selling of general merchandise and grain. The company expect to commence business about February 1, in the lower story of the ADVANCE building, the best location in town. The work of putting in the shelving, etc., was commenced yesterday.

The ADVANCE has heard remarks about Kentucky manners, as exemplified by loud talk, etc., at concerts and the like. Such conduct is not a fair sample of Kentucky manners. It is merely the wild exhuberance of those who are restrained at home, but came to Worthington with the idea that this is a frontier town with provincial ideas as to manners, and they could let off some of their pent-up enthusiasm and have it considered as "the style."

A call has been issued for the second annual convention of the Woman's Relief Corps, auxiliary to the Grand Army of the Republic, department of Minnesota, which will convene in George N. Morgan Post hall in Minneapolis tomorrow. Miss Hattie Smith, of Worthington, is junior vice department president, and Mrs. Eloise Brant is guard. Miss Smith and Mesdames Brant, Garlick and Thayer are expecting to be present, the two last-named as delegates from Stoddard corps.

Last Saturday the board of audit were in session for the purpose of receiving bids for the deposit of county funds for the two years succeeding February 1, 1886. The Bank of Wor thington was designated as the depositary for county funds, it having bid to pay interest at the rate of 41 per cent. per annum on average monthly balances, and to furnish necessary eastern exchange free of charge. Its bond was fixed at $10,000. The interest received by the county on deposits from February 1, 1885, to January 1, 1886, amounted to $359.17. Sheriff Miller has received a postal card offering a reward of $25 for the arrest of one Oliver E. Cook, who has remarkable number of scars on his person. The postal says he has a "scar on nail little finger left hand; scar across third joint fourth finger; dim scar on knuckle joint; nail of third finger disfigured; scar on first joint; scar on large joint of thumb; two scars on shin bone below knee; scar outside of left knee-cap; scar at base of spine; scar on right buttock; scar on right wrist; scar above left knee-cap; three scars on right knee-cap; second toe nail of right foot split; two prominent scars on top of head." PROCEEDINGS OF THE BOARD OF

AUDIT. State of Minnesota, county of Nobles, ss.: Auditor's Office, Worthington, lage in Nebles county for the year 1885, Minn., Jan. 16, 1886.—The board of as reported by Clerk of Court Bennett, audit of said county met pursuant to the total being 158 births and 39 deaths: published notice at 10 A. M.

Members present—Daniel Shell, chairnerly of this place, is in town visiting man board of county commissioners; L. B. Bennett, clerk of the district court, and E. S. Mills, county auditor. The chairman stated that the said Dewald board had been called together for the especial purpose of opening bids for deposits, and for designating a depositary of public funds of said county for two years from February 1, 1886. As only one bid had been received, an adjournment was ordered until 2 o'clock P. M., same day. The board met pursuant to adjournnent, all the members present. Bids had been received and were opened by the chairman as follows: The Bank of Worthington proposed to pay interest monthly on average bal-of transportation to Adrian. The bid of the Bank of Worthington was found to be the best for the whole amount of deposits. It was also found that said proposal would be withdrawn if accepted for only a part of said deposits.

The board came to the conclusion that eastern exchange free of charge would accommodate all portions of the county and the business generally, in a way that would be more satisfactory to the public than the proposed division of funds. It was therefore ordered: That the proposal of the said Bank of Worthington be accepted, and that said for the Vanderbilt railroads he got bank be designated as the depository of the public funds of said Nobles county when its bond, with sufficient sureties legally executed in the penal sum of $40,000, is deposited with the county treasurer of said county, subject to approval by legal authorities as required by law, said bond to be so delivered to the county treasurer on or before the 1st of February, 1886; the Bank of Worthington to be notified that their

MISS JENNIE WAGNER Is the daughter of Mr D. R. Wagner, of the firm of Messrs. D. R. Wagner & o., merchants in Water Valley, Miss. He writes from his home under date of October 10, 1885, and says:

"Our little girl, Jessie, was taken with scrofula about six years ago. She was then only six years old. We tried all the best physicians in our town, as well as those at Hot Springs and Eureka Springs, Arkansas; in Philadel-phia and New York City, besides the virtues of numerous other springs which we visited, and did for her all that affection and money could do for bout four years, and with all this we parely managed to keep her alive. She was the most afflicted child I ever saw. She had abscesses on all her joints and on her neck, and small pieces of bone worked from them for more than two years, and her elbow and hip joint stiffened. After trying, as we thought almost everything, and apparently without any permanent effect, in our lespair we concluded to try Swift's specific. Strange to say before she had inished the first bottle we saw a change for the better. Her appetite began to improve and her eyes to orighten. Soon she ceased to complain of the distressing pains which had made her life miserable for the previous years. In ten months after she began to take S. S. S. all the abscesses had healed up, and she now had grown much taller and increased in weight twenty per cent. Now, with the exception of a stiff elbow and hip, she is as well as any one. No one who knew her condition four years ago thought she would ever get over it. We attribute her recovery to Swift's Specific entirely. I have seen it tried with several others here, and always with good results."

THE SIOUX CITY JOURNAL.

ANNOUNCEMENT. ANNOUNCEMENT.

The Journal has made very substantial progress during the past year in its business of being a newspaper. The number of readers of the paper has very materially increased, and this increase in the circulation of the paper has been met by liberal additions to the facilities of the office for the prompt service of patrons. A new and taster press has been put in, and two folding machines have been added, and now the Journal press room is the best equipped for good and rapil work of any newspaper in the west outside of the larger cities. In regard to these mechanical facilities, as well as in the point of collecting and preparing the news, the Journal will continue to keep in the lead.

will continue to keep in the lead.

AS A NEWSPAPER

The Journal is better than ever before. Its telegraphic reports are unsurpassed by any western paper, and as a collector of neighborhood and western news it has no rival. Nothing to approach its column of Northwestern Items is published in any other paper, while no other paper on the Missouri river maintains so large and competent a corps of local correspondents. People in northern Iowa, northeastern Nebraska, southwestern Minnesota and southern Dakota who want the news from the territory named, with comprehensive reports of all prominent occurrences the world over, should buy the Journal. The first aim of the Journal is to give the news, to give it impartially and reliably, so that it may have the confidence of all, and be of equal value to all, as a newspaper. THE MATERIAL INTERESTS OF THE COUNTRY.

THE MATERIAL INTERESTS OF THE COUNTRIL, a wide and rapidly developing country, represented by the Journal, will continue to have its best thought and care. Its aim will be to co-operate with the people in their work of building up their towns, of wisely developing the natural advantages of their localities, of making the country richer and its people happier. The Journal is independent republican. Upon matters of public policy it will give free expression to its opinions, and seek at all times to labor for the advancement of such political measures and the choice of such men to public trust as will, in its judgment, conduce in largest degree to the prosperity, peace and moral health of society, ta the greatest security of the citizen and to the highest character of government.
