Banker Dayton returned yesterday from a business trip to Minneapolis. Jeweler Frank Day was called to Minneapolis on Monday by the death of his mother.

The rumor that Geo. Morton was dead is denied. We are glad to hear that he is recovering.

Mrs. Chas. Wilson, of Minneapolis, is visiting her morther, Mrs. Dean, and sister, Mrs. C. W. Smith.

The exchange business of the Bank of Worthington with its correspondents at St. Paul and New York aggregated $1,015,712.98 for the year 1887.

Commander Lange goes to Adrian today to install officers of Nathaniel Lyon Post.

The measels and mumps are still running. In some families there was not enough measies to go around and they had to break out with the mumps. Real Estate transfers for December foot up $63,131, as shown by statement published elsewhere. Pretty good showing for a cold and rough month.

R. A. Firth has missed but two days in five years in distributing milk. This isn't such a "blizzard" country after all.

John Mock our rubicund and Democratic Wilmont correspondent, was in town yesterday.

The ADVANCE is a news-paper as well as the official paper of the County. Last week in a single column, there were eight townships reported and 60 to 70 different items. Condensed news and point is what the ADVANCE gives.

On Monday we ordered a sack of flour at Sud. McLean's and came in ahead again. He informed us that we got the first sack of flour sold in town from the Worthington Mills. Now if we can have the first ride on the new railroad, we shall score one more. This probably all comes from having got into Worthington on the first passenger train that ever ran into the town,

April 29, 1872. By reference to the Commissioner proceedings elsewhere published, it will be seen that the ADVANCE has again been duly named by resolution as the official paper of the county. This is as it should be for many reasons. The ADVANCE office and files is the only place on earth where a complete history and a complete record of official and other doings of Nobles county can be had.

The friends and school-mates of Lizzie McMillan, in Worthington will be trip. Tickets good to return on or bepleased to read the following item from Cowles (Neb.) Herald:
